We went through Kingston, crossed the LaSalle Causeway, and keeping to the right on Barriefield hill, we followed the river road east. The waters of the St. Lawrence were blue and sparkling in the bright sunlight, were sometimes lost to view and then through the trees glimpses would be caught, only to be lost again as we sped along. Gananoque, a busy little town, was passed, Lansdown, Mallorytown, Escott also. The road was very bad in some places owing to road work being done. Brockville is a clean prosperous looking place, fine roads and beautiful residences. The run to Prescott was delightful with the river in full view all the way. Points of interest passed were Barbara Browloand Hick's monument, the old Windmill battle ground and the old fort. We stopped for lunch on the Ottawa road. Spencerville was the first village. Kempville was next, it is quite a large place, a number of large public buildings. North Gower a small place, and Manotic considerably larger were passed next. We left the Highway on account of repair work and went in to Ottawa on the Hogsback way. and reached Britannia about 4 p.m. We shall have to sleep in a tent while here. Edson, Eva Smith and Miss Boreham also occupy it.

29. Very cool. Ida was in to business until noon. Some water sports were

- 31. The last day of the old year once more. For me it has been a year of anxiety and worry over financial matters, yet I have had many joys and privileges for which I thank God. A very serious drought has prevailed since the latter part of the summer. Many people have been put to great inconvenience for lack of water. The unemployment situation is very bad the world over. Farmers in the west are suffering because of not getting sale for their wheat.

So far we have had but little very cold weather. There is a little snow at present, enough for sleighing on the side roads. And so good-bye old year.

The liquor question is one which at present seems almost hopeless. The wets are doing all in their power to kill prohibition in the United States. Why must such an evil be tolerated in any country? Hard times has not affected its sale in Canada. It prospers and the brewers are getting richer at the expense of the poor. Government Control is so entrenched that its overthrow seems improbable for years to come. But surely will can not prevail over righteousness.

- Went to the city in the afternoon, called at Han's. Beautiful day, was over to Cooke's to see all their Christmas presents.
- 31. Once more it is the last day of the old year. Financially it has been the worst one yet. There were good crops in Ontario, part of the West suffered from drought. We have had more rain this fall than for two or three years. The unemployment situation is bad. Relief work is being carried on all over. The city is feeding people. Perhaps this depression will be the means of cultivating a better feeling between poor and the wealthy. Once more I say good-bye to the old year, and pray that the coming of the new may bring better things.

August 1952

- Aug. 1. Very warm and dry. The room is all done but the curtains, have to buy new ones.
 - 2. Doing some sewing on my new dress, had to change it some.
 - No Sunday School during August. As the Anglican church is being re-decorated the congregation is worshiping with us. Mr. Winter preached again. In the afternoon I went with Donalds for a long auto ride. We went to Sydenham, then turned east and drove for miles. Part of it was over roads I had never been on before, and it was lovely. The houses were scattered, very few in some places. We had glimpses of lovely little lakes and summer cottages. We saw many signs hung out "Frogs and worms for sale". And so at last we reached Westport which is quite a pretty place. But on we went, soon we were seeing more cultivated fields with some very fine corn crops, and fields of grain up in stooks, and as we neared Perth some very fine homes. The town of Perth is quite a size, there are very nice public buildings and stores. Here we struck No. 7 Highway which is a splendid road. Soon we reached Silver Lake, there was a very large crowd there, it has a good bathing beach. There was a plane there which took off on the water and gradually soared high in the sky.

The fee for a ride was $3.00. Farther west on the highway we stopped to see some wild animals in enclosures: a pair of deer and their family of two, a beaver, a monkey, three peacocks, 2 cub bears. This is not far from Sharbot Lake, when we reached there I felt we were on the home stretch. We reached home about 7 p.m. It was a delightful trip, the weather was perfect.

- Have not done very much today. It has been so dry here but this afternoon it started to rain and it has come down in torrents this evening, with some thunder. Thanks be to the great Giver of all. Donnie left this morning for the R.K.Y. camp at Eagle Lake, Parham, and Jean left for the girls' camp at Grippin Lake. Donald, Stella and the other kiddies went along. DIARY OF TRESSA KISH

January 1957

Jan. 1. As usual I had Donald and family here all day. Mr. Kelly went away. We had goose for dinner, it was good. What does the new year hold for me? It rests largely in my own hands, with God's help. I shall be true to Him. Rested up today. W.A. meeting was held at the Parsonage. Not a very large turnout. 3. 4. In the afternoon I went to the city with Stella, did not do much shopping. Very nice day. Did some cleaning up and some cooking. 5. Went to S.S. and church and staid in for the rest of the day. 6. More snow. The fields are pretty well covered but the roads are bare. 7. Jean went in to the hospital on Saturday to have her tonsils removed. Corrected:- she went on Sunday afternoon. I have neglected writing in my diary for so long that I think the best 31. way is to leave this page clear and if I think of anything later, jot it down. Very cold weather. [no additions to page]
