Mr. E. C. Beer, Archivist,
The Douglas Library,
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ontario.

My dear Mr. Beer:-

I was delighted to read in your letter of March 31st that you would be interested in having a copy of one of the obituary notices of my grandfather, Rev. Anthony Joseph O'Loughlin, and realize that finally there was something that I could actually do besides saying "Thank you" to express my appreciation for all you and Mr. Gundy have been doing for me.

It so happens that our local community hospital has a Xerox Duplicating Machine that they rent from the Xerox Company under a contract that requires them to pay not only a basic monthly rental but also a monthly fee of  $4\frac{1}{2}\phi$  a copy for a minimum of 800 copies and, as their normal routine copy work usually falls somewhat short of the 800 copy minimum, they are more than glad to make copies for  $5\phi$  per copy for outsiders like me whenever their machine is not in use.

So, after getting your letter I took out of my scrapbook not only the pages that carried the old original obituary notices but also some with clippings relating to events earlier in his life and in the lives of his family with the thought that you might like to have them in your reference files.

The sheets I have marked as No. 1 and No. 2 carry all five of the obituary notices I have which, incidently, I have checked very carefully and believe are accurate except for the notations I have made in pencil.

The copy of the clipping from the Kingston paper of Feb. 22, 1873 headed "Presentation" and shown on Sheet No. 2 is probably accurate.

I included the sheet marked as No 3 because I thought you might also like to have information about Rev. Anthony Joseph O'Loughlin's wife, Rebecca Myles O'Loughlin (my Grandmother) - which also seems to be accurate.

The most interesting of the miscellaneous clipping shown on Sheet No. 4, I think is the copy up in the upper right hand corner of a Billhead of "A. & B. O'Loughlin, Cabinet Makers" of 12 Nelson Street, Limerick, Ireland. The "A. O'Loughlin" on the Billhead was the Rev. A.J.O'L before he came over to Canada in 1847 and before he became "The Reverend". The "B. O'Loughlin" was his brother, Bryan Stewart O'Loughlin who was the one of the three O'L brothers "elected" to stay in Ireland to take care of their elderly Mother, Rebecca Stewart O'Loughlin, when Anthony Joseph and the third brother, Michael Terence, came to the New World.

Sheet No. 5 carries not only the clipping describing the Concert given in Beaufort's Dining Hall in the Kingston Grand Trunk Depot at which my father, Michael O'Loughlin, and my Aunt, Annie O'Loughlin, sang but also clippings that have to do with A.J.O'L becoming Librarian for the Kingston

Public Schools but also a writeup of an event at the old Wellington Street Public School with information about my aunt, Miss Annie O'Loughlin, and other individuals then connected with the school in which you may sometime be interested.

The sheets marked No's 6 and 7 may not be of too much interest to you but it was so easy to get copies made that I am sending them along anyway.

On Sheet No 6, the longhand note in the upper left hand corner was written by Rev. A. J. O'L himself, - in the third person - where he described himself as "Pa" and is interesting partly because it is an example of his wit and humor as, for example, in saying "It will be found among his papers when he is gone".

The clipping below it describes the meeting for which the Essay was written and, although not adding anything to information about A.J.O'L, may contain other information you could use.

The clipping on the right hand side may be of little interest to you because it has to do only with equipment and furnishings given to the Church in Manotick in Carleton County near Ottawa in memory of him after his death. It just happened to be on this page.

Sheet No. 7 shows the article that appeared in the Kingston paper describing the little chapel that was erected in the Village of Yarker, Ontario, as a Memorial to Rev. Anthony Joseph O'Loughlin by his children, other relatives and friends and which, incidently, is still there but having great difficulty in surviving.

Two possible sources of yet uncovered information that I have so far been unsuccessful in obtaining, are copies of obituary notices that must have appeared in the New York, Winnipeg and Montreal papers - and possibly the Kingston papers - following the deaths of my uncle, Robert Stuart O'Loughlin, on July 4, 1911 in New York - and my Father, Mac Roy O'Loughlin, on Jan. 30, 1917 also in New York. One of the things I was planning on asking Mrs. Farnsworth to do was to look in issues of the Kingston papers for a few days following those dates to see if she could find anything because death notices of all members of my family who were born in Canada were always put in the New York papers with the request "Montreal, Winnipeg and Kingston Papers please copy". I do not want you or Mr. Gundy to take the time to look because I am not sure that it would be worth your while but if I succeed in obtaining the services of another Agent, perhaps I will ask him or her to look.

The information I am hoping I could obtain from an obituary of my Uncle, Robert Stuart O'Loughlin, is when and, if possible, under exactly what circumstances he came down to New York about 1874 and whether he actually returned to study in attendance at classes at Queen's to obtain his Master's Degree of Arts in 1874 nine whole years after he obtained his Bachelor's Degree in Arts in 1865, - or if it might have been awarded for work he did elsewhere. Mr. Jean I. Royce, Registrar of the University wrote me last October that the University records did not show whether he actually came back to study for his Master's; they only showed the years in which each of the two degrees had been awarded. Can you suggest any other source for such information?

My main interest in obtaining a copy of my Father's obituary is the hope that it might give me information on exactly when he went from Kingston to Montreal as a young man to make his fortune. As I said in my last letter, the clipping on sheet No. 5 about the Concert in Beaufort's Dining Hall shows that it must at least have been after January 27, 1873.

But I will stop writing about information I am still seeking because I do not want you or Mr. Gundy to think that I would like either of you to look up any more information for me, - you have already done more than enough.

Thanking you again for all you have done and for giving me the opportunity to do something for you, I am

Gratefully yours,

Robert L. Loughlin

P.S. I just discovered that Xerox Sheet No. 5 accidentally became slightly crumpled but, as it is still legible and would delay this letter until next week if I waited to get a new copy - and as it does not carry very important information, I am sending it along. I will get another copy made the next time I go over to the Hospital.

Mr. E. C. Beer, Archivist,
The Douglas Library,
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ontario, Canada.

My dear Mr. Beer:-

I want you to know how much I appreciate your keeping me in mind and taking the trouble to send me the copy of the letter of my grandfather, Anthony Joseph O'Loughlin, that came with your letter of the 25th in this morning's mail. With all the letters I have written to you and Mr. Gundy and all the questions I have asked, I can understand how the name "O'Loughlin" would look familiar whenever you ran across it in any old papers but it is more than kind of you to stop and write to me as you did about this letter and the pamphlet with Anthony O'Loughlin's speech.

The letter is extremely interesting to me not only because it is, as you say, an excellent example of his handwriting when he was 32 years old but even more so because it is the very first authentic indication I have had that he had moved to Kingston from Montreal sometime before August 1849. Mr. Paul Gauthier, Supt. of the Archives Division of the Montreal City Clerk's Dept. looked in Montreal City Directories as far back as 1846 and found him listed in the 1846-1847 Directory as "O'Loughlin, Anthony Joseph, Carpenter, Prince Street near Wellington" and in the 1847-1848 Directory as "O'Loughlin, Antoine (the French Spelling of Anthony), Cabinetmaker, St. Constant Street". Mr. Gauthier found no listing for him in the Montreal Directory for 1848-1849.

Although I assumed that that meant he moved from Montreal to Kingston sometime between 1847 and 1849, I could not pin it down with any degree of accuracy first, because I didn't know as of what date the listings closed for the Montreal Directories and second, because the first Kingston Directory, according to the article in the Whig-Standard by Deane Van Louven described in my letter to you of February, was not published until 1855. The letter you sent me at least shows that he was living on August 2, 1849 with his wife and the two children they had at that time in the house on Queen Street which he was renting from Mr. T. V. Butler of Montreal Street.

This is also the first indication that he lived temporarily in rented quarters on arriving from Montreal because all the various bits of information I've gathered to date have indicated only the houses he and the family both owned and lived in as follows:

- About 1849 - House then designated as #21 Barrie Street
(Understood to have since been changed to
#303 Barrie Street)
- About 1850 - House then designated as #96 Barrie Street
(Understood to have since been changed to
#302 Barrie Street)
- About 1862 - House then (and now) designated as #101
Queen Street - still standing.

About 1865 - House then (and now) designated as #50 Rideau Street - believed to be still standing.

In 1872 - probably sometime early in the summer, Anthony Joseph O'Loughlin, who had been ordained a Priest in the Anglican Church of Canada in 1868 and was now incumbent in the Anglican Church in the Parish of North Gower, Carleton County, Ontario, sold his house on Rideau Street and moved his wife and their three youngest daughters from Kingston, to North Gower. Their Oldest child, Annie, stayed on as a Teacher in Kingston. Their oldest son, Robert Stewart, stayed on in Kingston to continue his studies at Queen's University for his Masters Degree in Arts and their two youngest sons, John Myles and Michael (my father who probably then went by the name of "Mac Roy") stayed on in Kingston working in Stacy's Bookstore and Yarker's Hardware Store respectively.

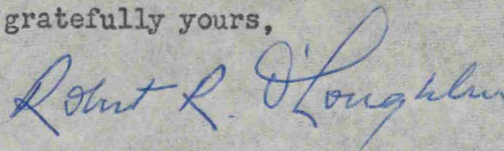

While I think of it, answering your question about my grandfather's death, I have authentic information that he died September 17, 1884 in his 68th year in North Gower, Ontario and have several obituaries about him. If, by any chance, you are interested in having one for your reference files, I should be more than glad to have a copy made.

Incidentally, one thing that might help me narrow down the probable time at which my father left Kingston "to make his fortune in the big city of Montreal" would be to learn whether there was a restaurant in the Grand Trunk Depot at Kingston in 1873 called "Beaufort's Dining Hall". I have a clipping from an old newspaper marked by someone in ink as "Jan'y 28th 1873" describing in glowing terms, a concert given there for the benefit of "St. Paul's Sunday School" at which my father (described as "Mr. Michael O'Loughlin") and my aunt, Miss Annie O'Loughlin, sang solos and "rapturous encores". If Beaufort's Dining Hall was in the Kingston Grand Trunk Depot in 1873, it would at least show that my father did not leave Kingston for Montreal until after January 27th of that year.

Again I want to thank you for all you have done for me and offer to send you Xerox copies of anything you think I might have that you would also like to have.

Wishing you and Mr. Gundy the best of everything and great success and satisfaction in your work, I am

Most gratefully yours,

Robert R. O'Loughlin

Mr. E. Charles Beer, Archivist,
The Douglas Library,
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ontario.

My dear Mr. Beer:-

Last January, when I wrote to see if you could recommend some University Student to act as my Research Agent in looking up information in Kingston for me, you replied that there was noone right then but, later, there might be someone of the Library's summer part-time staff or a student taking summer courses, who would be willing to undertake some researching for me.

I suspect that your part-time summer staff probably doesn't begin work until after the first of next month and that the summer students probably don't start their courses until after that but it occurred to me that, if I reminded you now, you might be able to keep your eyes open for a possibility when they do start coming in.

To enable you to give any prospect an idea of what I have in mind, I would say that there are two specific bits of information I would like to have as a starter, with more to follow if both parties are satisfied.

1) First, I would like to find out if there are any records anywhere in Queen's University that would show anything about my uncle, the late ROBERT STUART O'LOUGHLIN obtaining his MA at Queen's in 1874, after graduating from Queen's College nine whole years before with BA Degree in 1865. What I would like to know specifically is whether he actually returned to Queen's and attended classes to earn the MA or if, as I understand it is sometimes done, he was awarded his MA for work done "in absentia". I obtained the University record of his Undergraduate work as follows:

FACULTY OF ARTS      1862-1864

- Age at Entrance - 14 years
- Place of Birth - Montreal, P.Q.
- Denomination - Church of England
- Preparatory School - Grammar School
- Father's Occupation - Sec'y to the Board of School Trustees
- Intended Profession - Minister in the Church of England
- Courses taken:    1862 - Classics, Mathmatics
- 1863 - 2nd Yr. Classics, 2nd Yr. Mathmatics
- 1st Yr. Physics, Natural History

(2)

1864 - 3rd Yr. Classics, 2nd Yr. Physics, Philosophy.

Guardian's Name - Anthony O'Loughlin, Barrie Street, Kingston

Watkins Foundation - L20

" L10

Degrees - B.A. 1865

M.A. 1874

I have authentic information that he was a teacher in a country grammar school in Wardsville, Ontario, from Sept. 1865 through June 1867 and that he was employed by William Myles, Coal and Wood Merchant, in Toronto, Ontario, from sometime in 1867 until sometime in 1870 or 1871. I have no information on his whereabouts from sometime in 1871 until he was awarded his M.A. Degree by Queen's, probably in June 1874, after which he went to New York to accept a position with the Butterick Publishing Co.

That would make it appear that he returned from Toronto to Kingston about 1871 and soon thereafter re-entered Queen's to take graduate work leading to a Master's Degree, but I would like to know that definitely, if at all possible. The offices in the University that I wrote to said they did not know of the existence of any such records.

2) The next specific <sup>father's</sup> bit of information I would like to obtain is a complete copy of my Baptismal Record in the Register of St. James Church for the year 1853 which I have been told is in the Vaults of the Synod of the Diocese of Ontario, in Kingston, in the care of Rev. Canon A. J. Anderson. I have written several times to Canon Anderson asking for either the information or his recommendation of someone to act as my Agent in looking it up but, up to the present time, he has apparently been too preoccupied to try to help me out. (My father was born 19av 24, 1853 and probably baptized one to three months later)

The reason I say I would like a "complete" copy of my father's baptismal record is that I am anxious to find out definitely first, whether I am correct in understanding that he was baptized as "Michael O'Loughlin", second, whether he was given the middle name "Roy" when baptized and third, who might have been his "sponsors" or others mentioned in the record from whom he might have himself adopted the name "Roy" as a middle name.

Names, as you know, are very important items in writing biographies and tracing ancestries and I am particularly interested in trying to determine the source of the name "Roy" because I have not found it among the names of any of my father's ancestors - and it is the middle name he gave me.

ND. If you should find someone who would be willing to tackle at least these two jobs with the possibility of more similar ones later on, be sure to have it understood that I would first have to obtain Rev. Canon Anderson's approval and permission before he or she could look at the Synod records. Also, it should be understood that I am willing to pay the same $1.25 an hour that I agreed on with Mr. Farnsworth (or slightly more if necessary) and would follow the practice of sending allotments of $5.00 each to work against and depend on the Agent to advise me what each was exhausted.

Thanking you in advance for any help you can give me along these lines, I am

The same Robert R. O'Loughlin

August 14th, 1964

Dear Mr. O'Loughlin;

In July, Mr. C. Beer asked if I would be interested in doing some research into the information that you requested. As a History major at Queen's and also currently trying to trace my own family background both in Canada and in England, I was very interested in the possibility of being a "detective" for someone else.

My own course here during summer school has, unfortunately, kept my research at little more than a minimum; not of course that I would not have preferred to spend my time on the research rather than in studying! I am enclosing what I have found.

The Synod Office in Kingston was able to find your father's baptism certificate and the Registrar, at my request, has made a legal copy of all the information that they have. As you will certainly see, the spelling of the sir name is different from the other spellings that have appeared in your own research. So far I have not been able to obtain a satisfactory explanation as to the reason why, other than that the name may have been written down solely from its sound and never checked for the spelling.

In an earlier letter, you were asking about the date affixed to a newspaper clipping describing a concert given by your father and your aunt. The date of January 28th, 1873 is correct according to page 2 of the Daily News of Kingston that we have in the Library.

There are some gaps in the newspaper files in the Douglas Library, and the only information I could find on either your uncle's or your father's obituary was on your father's in the New York Times. The obituary first appeared in the issue of Wednesday, January 31st, 1917 on page 11 and reads as follows:

O'Loughlin - On Tuesday morning, January 30, 1917, at St. Luke's Hospital, in the City of New York, after a short illness, MacRoy O'Loughlin, in his 64th year. Funeral services at St. Luke's Church, 141st St. and Convent Av., on Friday morning, February 2 at 11 o'clock. Please omit flowers. Interment private. Winnipeg, Kingston, and Montreal papers please copy.

In all three notices of the obituary, your father's name of Mac Roy was printed as one word - MacRoy.

The cost of having the copy of your father's baptism certificate made was $1.50, which I have already sent to Mr. Johnston. I trust that the five hours of research that I have spent on obtaining this information will be of some value to you.

I am returning your letter of June 26th to Mr. Beer, so that perhaps he can obtain another student to continue the research. I am leaving Queen's for further studies at McGill University and will therefore be unable to complete a most enjoyable undertaking.

May I wish you all the best in your project.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. W.D. Johnston,
Registrar,
Synod Office,
87 Clarence St.,
Kingston, Ontario

Dear Sir:

I am writing to request an authentic copy of a baptismal record which I believe is on file at the Synod Office. Mr. C. Beer at the Douglas Library has turned over to me a request he received concerning the geneological record of a gentleman born in the Kingston area.

In connection with this record, I have been given the following:

Parish - St. James Church
Name - Michael O'Loughlin
Date of Birth - March 24th, 1853
Date of Baptism - one to three months later

Mr. O'Loughlin's son wishes to determine his father's complete name, as there is a question arising over a second Christian name, as well as to learn who his "sponsors" or godparents were.

I would be willing to visit the Synod Office if this is felt necessary and will defray any costs that may arise in the acquisition of this copy.

Yours sincerely,

(Gwendolyn Paice,
59 West St., Kingston, Ontario)

from Queen's "College" with honors at the age of seventeen and I have written Prof. Stuart Ryan to see if he can have someone look up any old records about him. (I thought he might be very much interested in finding out about one of his "illustrious" ancestors)

When I started to write this I didn't intend asking you for any more information because you have already been so kind in helping me in my search and I hope I am not imposing.

Again thanking you for what you have already done and wishing you the best of success, I am

Gratefully yours,

A. J. O'Loughlin
relocated in 1847

June 7, 1963.

Dear Mr. O'Loughlin,

Mr. Gundy has asked me to send on to you the fruit of our investigations regarding members of the O'Loughlin family, in reply to your letter of June 3. On the accompanying sheets you will find information gleaned from directories of the period, school board minute books, Queen's University calendars and E. E. Horsey's unpublished history of Kingston, to which I'll add a few comments.

Re St. James' Church - Horsey's account has it that for some time prior to 1844 the congregation met in a building owned by Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin. This would move ~~xxxxxx~~ back the known date at which your grandfather settled in Kingston. Apparently Horsey drew his information from a special historical supplement to the British Whig of Kingston, published in December 1836, in which it is stated regarding St. James' Church that "the little body of worshippers ... removed to the shop of the late Rev. A.J. O'Loughlin, on the corner of Brock and Barrie streets" (no date given but prior to 1844). The church erected in 1846 still stands on Union street just west of Barrie, and is marked on the map of which you have a copy.

Re directories - the 1851-52 directory is the earliest we have listing Kingston residents and there are many gaps in the collection (for instance, we have none for 1872-1882). You'll notice the mis-spelling of your grandfather's name. With regard to his charge at Sydenham, this as you may know is a village about 15 miles north of Kingston on Loughborough Lake.

Re school board - the reference to Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin's "new sphere" (in the board's resolution of 29 Dec. 1863) seems to indicate that your grandfather was ordained at about this time. Catarqui School was on Rideau street (marked Grove on your map) but is not there today; Wellington Street School was rebuilt in 1874 and is no longer a public school; a new site and building were found for Williamsville School in 1875. With regard to Miss O'Loughlin's two letters of resignation, apparently the first didn't take effect - you'll note that it was followed by a substantial increase in salary !

Re Wardsville - this is a village about 30 miles west of London, Ont., in the Township of Mosa, Middlesex County. An 1869 directory gives the population as 800 - but doesn't list R. S. O'Loughlin.

I'm not sure whether you possess your grandfather's obituary notice - if not, we might locate it here if you could supply the date of his death. Finally, I would recommend you to apply to Canon A. J. Anderson, Synod Office, Diocese of Ontario, 87 Clarence street, Kingston, for further information regarding Rev. A. J. O'loughlin which may be in the Synod archives. Yours sincerely,
E.C. Beer/archiv

DEATH OF A CLERGYMAN

Rev. A. O'Loughlin Passes Away After a Brief Illness—He was an Old Mason.

On Wednesday there died at his residence in North Gower, a man full of years and of good work—the Revd. Anthony O'Loughlin. The deceased, though of very vigorous constitution, has been failing rapidly for a month past, giving rise to gloomy forebodings. And though dreaded, the final announcement is a very sad one. The deceased was warm in the affections of his family, secure in the good will of a host of friends, and most useful in his energetic devotion to church work, and such it is painful indeed to part with.

The deceased came to Kingston over forty years ago and entered into the cabinet trade. He was, however, inclined to literary and ministerial work and part of his time for ten years was occupied with the duties of secretary of the school board, and with evangelical preaching and exhortations. He filled the secretaryship for nearly ten years, and then chose a purely ministerial vocation, being ordained in Kingston in December, 1863, by the Lord Bishop of Ontario, and licensed for the mission of Finch. Thence he was shortly afterwards appointed, at his own desire, to Loughboro and Storrington mission, this being near his old home. In 1873 he was made incumbent of North Gower and Wellington, and here he laboured zealously and most acceptably. Among his accomplishments there, besides the building up of large congregations in poor and scattered settlements, were the erecting of a stone church in North Gower, costing $6,000; building of a church at Manctick; and the repairing of a church at Kars or Wellington, all being embraced in his circuit. His work in supplying these congregations with their spiritual needs was great, but he never shrank from duty. He was a fluent and earnest speaker and altogether of marked ability.

The deceased was an enthusiastic mason, having been a member of a lodge in Limerick, Ireland. He joined Ancient St. John's, Kingston, in 1852, and was made a life member of it upon leaving Kingston. When Catarqui Lodge was formed he took an active part in it, and became worshipful master.

A LAMENTED DEATH.

Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin's Career—The End of a Successful Life.

It is with deep regret that we note the death of the Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin, Episcopal incumbent of North Gower, which sad event occurred at the parsonage, North Gower, on Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock, after a prolonged attack of gastric fever. Deceased was a warm hearted and genial Irishman, an eloquent and witty speaker, a zealous and effective Christian minister, and by his death the Diocese of Ontario loses one of its most gifted and successful labourers. Coming to Kingston over forty years ago, he was a resident of this city for nearly thirty years, during which time his sunny nature drew to him many staunch friends, who looked with pleasure for his annually recurring visits to Synod, to hear the music of his ineradicable rich Irish accent.

When he came here first, fresh from Limerick, Ireland, he engaged in business as a cabinet maker, which he followed until his appointment as Secretary of the Public School Board and Librarian on the first of March, 1855. This position he held until the 29th of December, 1863. During the year 1858 he was a member of the city corporation as alderman for Rideau Ward, which was also represented by Ald. John Loan and Councillors T. L. Snook and W. Robinson. On the first of October, 1863, he was appointed head master of Johnston street school, and taught there until the end of the year. On the 20th of December, 1863, he was ordained a deacon by the Lord Bishop of Ontario and licensed to the mission of Finch, in the County of Stormont. On the 20th of May 1868 he was ordained priest and licensed to the mission of Loughborough in this county. In September 1872 he was licensed to North Gower where he has since laboured with marked ability and success. He was an orangeman and an enthusiastic mason, having been a member of L. O. L. No. 834, of Ancient St. John's Lodge, No. 3, A. F. & A. M., and of Catarqui Lodge, No. 92. He was a charter member of Catarqui Lodge, and was its first Senior Warden. He was installed Worshipful Master at Carleton Island at a Masonic picnic on St. John's Day, 24th of June, 1859, but retired from the lodge in April, 1863.

The funeral service was held in Trinity church, North Gower, at 10 a.m., this morning, the sermon being preached by the Rev. J. J. Bogert of Ottawa.

Laid at Rest
North Gower, Sept. 18, 1884.
—All that was mortal of the late Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin, Episcopal minister here, was today consigned to the last resting place. Throughout the township all denominations entertained the highest esteem for the deceased, and consequently the cortege of mourning friends that paid their last respects to the memory of the deceased by following the remains to the grave today was the longest that has been seen in the township. About fifteen years ago the Rev. Mr. O'Loughlin began his labors of ministering to the spiritual needs of the small Church of England congregation here. At that time there were no more than forty members of the church in this vicinity. Today three hundred monuments, to the sleep of the dead that will ever perpetuate the memory of the deceased are erected in the front parts of the township and the number of parishioners is very large. The deceased labored unceasingly day after day in the Lord's vineyard. He established and presided over churches at North Gower, Wellington and Manotick, and in different pulpits all over the township. Deceased leaves a family of four daughters and three sons. Two of the sons live in Winnipeg and one in New York. All the daughters are married. Wm. Beamer, an alderman of the city council, and another son, James, of Rat Portage. The attendance at the funeral of the deceased throughout the township of Carleton deeply regretted the loss. Requiescat in pace.

Presentation.

It is well known that when the Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin was promoted from Loughboro by the Bishop of Ontario to the parish of North Gower, he left the former mission with the deepest regret of his parishioners. He had labored amongst them zealously and faithfully for seven years, and became at last to be held in uncommonly affectionate regard. He besides had been successful in his labors and had largely increased the congregation, and therefore in his departure they felt a severe loss. His leave-taking, from the urgency of the new pastoral charge being assumed in Gower at once, was short, and the people of Loughboro and Portland were not able to make a public expression of their feelings towards him. But they have not neglected, nevertheless, to prepare a testimonial worthy of the object. The subscriptions came in voluntarily, and a handsome sloop, as a result, was despatched to the Reverend gentleman, accompanied with a suitable address, signed by Mr. Jas. Cooke, of Harrowsmith, on behalf of the congregation. To Mr. Cooke, who took the initiative, is much credit due. He was assisted by subscriptions from members of other churches. The address fully expressed feelings of respect and esteem, and many wishes of future prosperity. In acknowledging the present the reverend gentleman expresses high appreciation of the kind regard shewn, rendered peculiarly pleasing by the circumstances with which it is invested. While it is a most complimentary expression he esteems it as only a continuance of the kindness and friendship he has constantly experienced in his old parish—and which he can look back to with a feeling akin to emotion. The presentation gives pleasure here to many friends of the reverend gentleman. Feb. 22nd 1873 Kingston

ENTERED INTO REST.

At North Gower on Sep. 17th, the Rev. Anthony J. O'Loughlin passed away from the scene of his earthly labour into the rest of Paradise. He has been long known in the Diocese as a loyal churchman, an eloquent preacher, and a zealous priest. His labours in the mission of North Gower have been indefatigable, and he leaves behind him an enduring memorial, in the beautiful church erected through his exertions, as well as in the affections of his people. His death forcibly recalls our Saviour's words, "Be ye therefore ready also; for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not."

Death of Mrs. O'Loughlin.

The demise of Rebecca Myles, relict of the late Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin, on Sunday last, was not at all unlooked for. She had formerly been the subject of two paralytic strokes and by these was left materially affected physically. This, together with the illness which she experienced over a week previous to her death, gave friends an intimation that her life's work was almost at an end. The deceased was a native of Limerick, Ireland, where she was born in 1818. At the age of 27 she was married and shortly after came to Montreal, residing there two years. Kingston was their next home until Mr. O'Loughlin was appointed to North Gower parish some twenty years ago. They continued to reside in the latter village until the death of Mr. O'Loughlin, which occurred in Sept., 1884. The children left to mourn her loss are Mrs. Albert and Mrs. James Craig, North Gower; Mrs. Dr. Scoville, Rat Portage; Mrs. Beaman with whom the mother resided; Robert and M.R. O'Loughlin of New York city, and John O'Loughlin, Winnipeg, Man.

Mulock preached in the morning, and the Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin preached a very eloquent sermon in the evening. At the Congregational Church, in the absence of the Rev. K. M. Fenwick at Ottawa, the Rev. Professor Mackerras preached in the morning, and the Rev. Professor Mowat in the evening. In the afternoon the Victoria Music Hall was well filled to hear the temperance lecture of Neil Dow.

On Sunday, 14th inst., the Lord Bishop of Ontario preached at the opening of a new Church at Sunbury, in the mission of the Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin. The building is a substantial one, of stone, capable of accommodating 150 persons. The Holy Communion was afterwards celebrated. The Church was completely filled on the occasion. June 1858

We are happy to announce that the Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Church, realized by the Lecture held on Monday evening last, in the High School Room, almost thirty dollars clear of all expenses. The subject, "Revelation and its evidence," was most ably handled by the Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin, and from the moment he commenced until the close of the lecture, which occupied fully an hour and a quarter in its delivery, every eye was attentively fixed upon him, and every ear listened with wrapt attention. The interesting facts brought out, originality of thought and fluent diction of the Rev. Lecturer have established for him a fame in Iroquois and its vicinity which will at any time make him a favorite.

KINGSTON.—A meeting of the St. James Parochial Branch of the Church Society, was held in St. James' Church on the 12th instant—the Rev. R. V. Rogers in the chair. The meeting was opened in the usual way, with prayer and singing. The report of the doings of this branch of the Society was read by the chairman, which was most pleasing and encouraging. The usual quarterly collections had been made, and a debt of about six hundred dollars on the church paid off by members of the congregation alone. As the report is shortly to be published, we merely now insert the resolutions, which were severally spoken to by the movers and seconders, and received the support of the audience.

Moved by Captain Innes, seconded by the Rev. John Mulock and Feb 9 1862

Resolved—That the report now read be adopted, printed, and circulated under the direction of the committee, and that the Incumbent of the Church, the Churchwardens, and Vestry, be such committee, with power to add to their number.

Moved by Rev. F. Dobbs, seconded by Rev. A. Stewart, and supported by Rev. Chas. Ruttan, and

Resolved—That certain signs both in the Church and in the world intimate to the humble prayerful inquiry of the believer in revelation as to the particular period in the Church's history "that the day of the Lord draweth nigh," and therefore urge to redoubled diligence in doing the will of God.

Moved by Mr. O' Loughlin, seconded by Mr. G. W. Yarker,

Whereas the work of missions is a labour of love, and every work of love must be from the heart, not grudgingly nor of necessity; and whereas the Church Society is the treasury of the Church whence must come the chief sustenance of her missions: Therefore Resolved—That this Society, in its constitution and in its working should be such as to commend itself to the conscience of every class of thought among the sincere and honest members of the United Church. And resolved further—That the clergy do specially invite the intelligent, active, and zealous co-operation of the laity as necessary to the welfare of this Society and that of our beloved Church.

CONCERT AT THE GRAND TRUNK DEPOT —
 There was a good attendance last evening at the concert given in Beaufort's dining hall, Grand Trunk Depot, in aid of the St. Paul's Sunday School at that place. Several persons were present from the city. The first vocal selection on the programme was a piece entitled "You've been a friend to me," by Mr Michael O'Loughlin, which was rendered with good taste, and received a rapturous encore. Mr John Massie read an extract from "Handy Andy," which of course produced hours of laughter. Mr R. Burns and Mr McLaren also gave humorous readings—the latter's being "A bachelor's description of a baby." They were both well received. Miss Annie O'Loughlin sang "You'll soon forget Kathleen," which was encored, and to which she replied in the romantic ballad "Tapping at the Garden Gate." Miss Gillard sang with much feeling, and was loudly applauded. An encore was demanded but she did not respond. Mr Bassett sang "Then you'll remember me." It was likewise applauded. Mr Doward sang "I will stand by my friend." It was rendered in his own peculiar style, and called for an encore. The little Misses Christie gave a quartette, "Jennie put the kettle on;" it was the gem of the evening. The eldest Miss Christie also read a tale, with correct emphasis and excellent pronunciation. Mr W. Keeley sang in character "Beautiful Boy." He was enthusiastically encored, and gave "I'm a twin." Mr J. Macdonald, alias "Boliver," gave the serio-comic song, "It's naughty but it's nice," which took with such effect that he was recalled, and sang in splendid voice, "Wait for the turn of the tide." Mr Spriggs conducted the concert; Mr Doward played the accompaniments with his accustomed ability. On the whole the concert was a success.

VI. KINGSTON PUBLIC SCHOOL LIBRARY.

The new books ordered by the Board of School Trustees for the city public school library, from the Department of Public Instruction, Toronto, have arrived, and are now being classified and numbered, preparatory to being put in circulation, by Mr O'Loughlin. These new volumes will prove a valuable acquisition. They comprise a rich selection of poetry, a goodly number of volumes of travels and adventures in foreign lands, historical, biographical and miscellaneous works of general interest and lasting merit. We may state an important fact in connection with this public institution, and one which shows the advisability of the late removal. Since the establishment of the library in the old Bacon Office, the issues of books have largely increased, and the reading portion of the community are reaping the benefit.—Kingston News.

Rose, and regret at her leaving them. A presentation was decided upon, and carried out with a hearty spirit; nothing was too liberal to be done for the occasion. The scholars in the other three departments caught the inspiration, and remembering how good their teachers were to them, and how well they, too, would like to express their feelings of esteem and liking at this, the happiest of all seasons—Christmas, resolved on similar presentations to Mr. Metcalf, Principal of the Male Department, to Miss O'Loughlin, late assistant in the Male Department, and now filling Miss Rose's place as Principal of the Girls' Department, and to Miss Barclay, who supplies the post of Miss O'Loughlin. A "social" was also prepared, and yesterday afternoon the joint affairs came off. The children in the junior male and female departments made their presentations first. There were present Mr. B. M. Britton, Chairman of the School Board; Prof. Dupuis, Inspector; Mr. Allen, Trustee; Mr. Armstrong, Secretary, and several ladies and gentlemen feeling an interest in the school. Master Harry Dale read a very complimentary address to Miss O'Loughlin from her late scholars, thanking her for the great care and pains taken to advance them in their studies, as well as her kindness to all, which they will remember with grateful recollections. Then Master Albert Town presented at the proper time a splendid work-box. Miss Lizzie Knox now came forward and read an appropriate and pleasing address to their late devoted teacher, Miss Barclay, thanking her deeply for the interest she had taken in their proficiency; asking the acceptance at the hands of Miss Annie Newton of an elegant work-box and handkerchief case as a small token of esteem and gratitude, with a wish for a Merry Christmas and a happy new year. The children took great delight in the ceremony. Then the children in the senior departments assembled, and in a very affectionate address, Miss Lilly Conley presented a very elegant and costly desk, and an accompanying ornament, Miss Susan Davis assisting. The scholars expressed their sincere regret at Miss Rose's removal, and conveyed heartfelt thanks for the extreme kindness which she had at all times shewn to them, as well as for her untiring zeal in the progress of the studies. The present was given as a small evidence of that affection which they will ever cherish for her. They united in wishing Miss Rose every success in her new sphere, and added a touching adieu. Miss Rose gratefully replied, as Misses McLoughlin and Barclay had done before her. Then Master Thomas McCammon, assisted by Master Thomas Moore, asked Mr. Metcalf's acceptance of a very fine writing desk. The pupils expressed their respectful affection for their Principal, and thanked him gratefully for his kind, faithful and efficient discharge of his arduous duty. They wished him the best reward for his generous labors, and added the compliments of the season. The prolonged applause which greeted the presentation from the boys was the best answer to the charge of harshness to his pupils preferred against Mr. Metcalf; a suitable reply was given.

Refreshments of the most tempting kind were then served to the scholars and visitors, and were relished, as we can hear personal testimony. The teachers were indefatigable in their efforts to see that no child was neglected, and the "grown up children" were alike the objects of careful attention.

Afterward Prof. Dupuis and Mr. Britton made very pleasing addresses to the children, hoping as they liked their teachers so well they would continue to show it by constant application to their studies, and obedience to the rules. Mr. McEves and his children, who are scholars, sang three of their songs, two of which were in response to hearty encore. After spending a very pleasant time the pupils were dismissed. As for the testimonials we may add a word or two, that we think they were deserved, and serve the recipients right.

Wellington Street School.

PRESENTATIONS
Dec 1872

Yesterday afternoon a very pleasing affair came off in Wellington Street Public School, creditable to the scholars, and very complimentary to their instructors. Miss Rose, the efficient Head Teacher of the Female Department, was lately promoted to the charge of Johnson Street High School as the lady most fitted to succeed such an excellent teacher as Miss Simpson was. That Miss Rose will fill the post to the perfect acceptance of the School Board and the public there is not a question, as she has the qualities of making all her scholars love her, and give their minds cheerfully to their work and her instructions. Therefore on her removal from the Wellington Street School to Johnson Street School a few days ago her pupils, inspired by a genuine affection for their teacher, sought a means of showing their esteem for Miss

DIOCESE OF ONTARIO.

YOUNG MEN'S CHURCH OF ENGLAND ASSOCIATION.—This Association, held its fifth public meeting on Tuesday evening week in the schoolroom attached to the Cathedral, Kingston. The meeting had been announced for seven o'clock, but long before that hour every seat was occupied, and soon after the aisles of the room were densely crowded with persons who could not obtain seats. The meeting was opened with prayer—a selection from the Liturgy, being read by the Rev. T. H. M. Bartlett. The President, Rev. J. A. Maloch, occupied the chair, having on his right the Lord Bishop of Ontario, who was surrounded by no less than twelve of the clergy of his Diocese, some of them having travelled many miles to be present. In his introductory remarks the President, on behalf of the Association, gave a right loyal welcome to the Bishop, who is also their patron, the members concurring heartily by frequent applause. The chairman then briefly alluded to the doings of the Association, which was now in active communion with similar Associations of the Church in other parts of the Province. The first paper of the Evening was read by Mr. Sawyer on, "The Beard." The second paper was read by Capt. Innes, on "Peter the Great." The essayist, in well chosen language, followed the varied footsteps of Peter's life, and traced the hand of God in overruling many mistakes for good. The third paper was read by Mr. May, on "When to write Essays," which was listened to with peculiar interest by the young men who are looking forward in their turn to write for the Association. The essays ended, the President rose and called the officers of the Association forward. The officers being assembled in front of the dais, all other members in all parts of the room rose, and in this quiet and courteous way gave their hearty assent to the affectionate words of an Address to the Patron of the Society.

After reading his reply to the Address the Bishop addressed the audience. He congratulated the Association on its flattering prospects, and the increasing interest felt in it, as unmistakably evidenced by the large number present. He was glad the Association combined religious with literary improvement, which he hoped would go on together. It was a lamentable fact that many young men, from various causes, neglected the privileges of their Church; and he therefore hoped that this Association might be the means of gathering many in, from the spirit of inquiry it would instil among young men—an inquiry the Church never shrank from, but eagerly courted. He was also glad of the progress the Association was making, but noticed what he thought a great want to its efficiency—a library. He promised his attention to the matter when he should be in England, and secure such contributions as would form the nucleus of a Diocesan library, to which the young men should have access. The bi-centenary of the Prayer Book which they were about to commemorate, the young men would find a most interesting subject, the study of which would couple along with it the study of the whole history of the British Empire. The Bishop concluded by remarking that the public papers had called him a young Bishop—he would further prove that his sympathies were with the young, and his heart and soul with this Association.—The thanks of the Association are due to Dr. Meadows and his large and efficient choir, who sang several select pieces of sacred music. The meeting broke up a little before ten o'clock, the Bishop pronouncing the benediction.—Communicated.

MANOTICK

A handsome set of Communion Vessels was recently dedicated for use in the service of God in St. John's Church, Manotick, as a memorial of the Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin, rector of the parish from 1870 to 1884. This memorial is the result of the contributions of some of his parishioners within the parish and without, and of their descendants.

The chalice which is massive in weight has an hexagonal base on the segments of which are medallions of quatrefoil design bearing respectively in relief a decorated cross, the symbols of the four Evangelists, and the Pelican. The knob is inlaid in blue enamel on its six facets with the letters S. D. N. I. C. (Sanguis Domini Nostri Iesu Christi) and a Greek cross. Between these facets are decorations of a conventional kind with trefoils and quatrefoils. The bowl is perfectly plain burnished, the rest of the chalice being left dull. The paten is plain with the following inscription on the under side: "To the Glory of God and in Memory of Anthony Joseph O'Loughlin, priest. Rector of this parish 1870-1884. The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day." The credence paten is similar to the paten but larger and raised upon four silver balls. The cruets are of glass, with silver tops surmounted with Greek crosses.

The service of dedication was followed by the Holy Eucharist, the Reverend J. F. Gorman, rector of St. John's Church, Ottawa—who was rector of Manotick shortly after Mr. O'Loughlin—being Epistoller and preacher.

Mr. O'Loughlin was a priest whose sound teaching and indefatigable labour left an impress upon the lives and memories of his people which not only survived himself, but which has affected the generations which followed in the parish. "There were giants in those days,"—the parish over which he presided consisted of what is now the parishes of Manotick, North Gower, and Metcalfe, yet it was all magnificently worked; and in the beautiful stone church in North Gower he reared to himself a lasting monument of his energy and his refusal to be daunted by difficulties. The church in Manotick was also part of his work. He was buried in St. John's cemetery at Kars. May all those who follow him in the parish, "so follow his good example that they with him may be partakers of God's everlasting kingdom."

NEW CHURCH AT YARKER.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1896.

NEW CHURCH AT YARKER.

A Pleasing and Suitable Edifice Built as a Memorial and Fully Paid For.

The pretty village of Yarker was the scene of an event on Dominion Day which will long be remembered, when St. Anthony's church was consecrated by the new Bishop of Ottawa, acting for the Archbishop of Ontario, who was too ill to perform the office. The other visiting clergymen were:—Rev. Euston P. Smith, Dean of Ontario; Rural Dean Carey and Rev. Mr. Coleman, Curate of St. James' Church, Kingston; Rev. Mr. Serson, Tamworth; Rev. Mr. Jarvis, Napanee; Rev. Mr. Debb Odessa, Rural Dean Barker, Bath; Rev. Mr. Bace, Sydenham; Rev. Mr. Moody, of Jamaica, and Rev. Mr. Woodcock, rector of the parish, Camden east.

The service was a very impressive one. After the consecration ceremonies eleven candidates were confirmed and the Holy Communion celebrated.

The church was erected by the family and friends of the late Rev. Anthony J. O'Loughlin who was for many years pastor at North Gower. He was a faithful and well beloved worker and was a pioneer in the mission fields of Canada. The font was given by the congregation of North Gower, his last parish. The bell and nearly all of the furnishings were given by friends of the O'Loughlin family in New York. The members of the church in Yarker should be commended for the admirable way in which they have applied the means entrusted to them, for without doubt St. Anthony's is one of the handsomest churches of its size in Canada.

The village of Yarker was called after the late George Measley Yarker, of Leyburn England, who died at Kingston. He was a large owner of property at Sydenham near Yarker. Mr. George Wheatley Yarker, of Toronto, is his eldest son, and an old friend of the late Rev. Anthony J. O'Loughlin to whose memory the church was erected. Mr. Yarker states that the Rev. gentleman, first and long as a layman and afterwards as a clergyman of the Church of England, was one of the most eloquent and stirring speakers of the pure Irish type in Canada. Mr. G. W. Yarker on the christening of the village some thirty years ago presented it with a valuable public bell.

After the service the visiting clergy were entertained at dinner by the Yarker congregation. The health of the Queen, the visiting clergymen, the Bishop of Ottawa, the Archbishop of Ontario, the O'Loughlin family, and the whole clergy were proposed. Rev. Dean Carey as Captain for the Archbishop of Ontario responded for him; the Bishop of Ottawa responded for himself; Rev. Dean Smith for the clergymen, and Mr. O'Loughlin of New York for the O'Loughlin family.

The church is a handsome structure of red pressed brick, designed by a well known Toronto architect. It is built in the shape of a cross, the vestry and choir forming the arms of it. All the appointments are complete and costly, the altar-rail, the lectern and the prayer desk being of solid brass, while the alms basin and communion silver are as fine as those which one could find in a cathedral. The grounds surrounding the church are tastefully laid out and are a fitting home for such a gem. On the south side of the Nave were erected two mural tablets, one to the late Rev. A. J. O'Loughlin and the other to his brother Bryan O'Loughlin of Ireland. The whole cost was about five thousand dollars and it is a touching tribute to a dear father and friend, and the clergy of the diocese are very thankful to the O'Loughlin family for their unadorned liberality.
