for school. No children for lunch — You will help me make it for long — Mary Dawson & us!

They love to think you'll be coming — Macey will add her plans.

This is put straight factual — no fables!

It will be wonderful to see you. So much love O.

Darling Auntie,
As Baz doesn't know anything & has some really good days with tea on lawn etc. It really might alarm her to have you stay elsewhere perhaps.

Sat. June 17th - Chesterfield

Sooor dear — This is about your visit — The important thing is to make as little trouble here — all round of course.

For you to stay outside the home would be a very undesirable thing indeed.

You will come the day after Mary leaves & go into the little sad room by bathroom & you & I can escape several meals in a.m. very easily — I do, as I tend to E's needs — have my bath after they're left together.

It will be good your coming when planned as far as one can see now Precious Aunt. It seems important to not tell her anything now - because of Buz's particular making up of positive thoughts & ~~watch~~ refusal to resign herself to things - (though Heaven helps us, I would want to know.)

So much love
Must go now Bless you always us.

Darlingest Auntie,

I know how you must be feeling precious one. Under the terribly sad circumstances things, things could be also worse
- First she doesn't know & this seems better as she has a good deal of enjoyment during the day.
- The weather has been glorious & she has been lying out in the sun & enjoyed the children coming back for school & playing there.
- Praise be also for marvellous drug that calms a restless pain & gives a feeling of euphoria.
- Thank goodness also for Mother & Inge & all the other people of the household who seem to be coping & getting on well terrible & they were tickled pink! Poor dear old Mrs. Grundy died that night. I spent a lot of time w her in the hospital as she faded very quickly after getting pneumonia - She was a dear thing & did so much for us - especially all she did when I was in hospital, looking after the family at home. I shall miss her coming in.

We've been having a rather nice Bible Study Group after Ch. on Sunday nights during Lent. Several people have come and we've been trying to find out what the Bible says about the Holy Spirit - following the development from Old to New Testament. We did ~~the~~ that wonderful bit from Galatians Ch. V - which is much best read in the New English Version - for it uses "Lower Nature" instead of "Flesh" - which gives much more the right meaning I think. We had quite a discussion on Loving Your Neighbor - & what it means to "love yourself" -

Granny Cleasby is very well and enjoying being here. She has a marvellous chair which has a spring in the seat which helps her up & down so she is far more independent. While John was home she did "school" with him which he enjoyed enormously. She wants me to send her love to you. Janet is very good at helping her & often puts her to bed instead of me, which lessens the load - Janet is nice. One feels so sad for her in her life - but she seems to be facing it all very well & Charlotte is sweet & the kids love her. Except when she upsets all their games!! John is specially good to her. So much love darling. We'll love seeing you in July - haven't have - 130334.

Darlingest Aunt Alice.

Happy Easter! We've had No Winter so I expect we will probably have snow again after Easter up at Howgill when we are just getting ready for Spring. Anne asked today if we could have a pet lamb! Ha! Imagine the fat sheep later at the Veavage! We are going to bring a friend of Anne's up to Howgill with us after Easter. This should keep her happy.
Ingram & I are dashing up to Sidbergh tomorrow for a days County! Mad eh! But the big 10 mile run by the School takes place tomorrow and Jamie Cairdner is taking part. The Cairdners are off to Canada this summer & Jamie is Ingram's Godson - So he thought we'd go & see it.
Rather fun - but too much driving really.

Darling Such lovely historical books you have sent the Children. What a nice series - Really It is a lovely present. Tom has spent quite a time reading them - He has been quite unwell & bad 'flu & aches - but he is better now and started school today for 3 days until term ends! Sarah wrapped up a small Shaky headed toy turtle in a basket today - like a baby! - She took it to school & evidently the boys & girls that The turtle had laid 3 eggs! They were most interested! She really is Comic & Learning at a terrific rate. She wants to know & doesn't seem to feel pushed into it - which puts some people off Learning I think!! She takes everything in her stride.

What a lark to be going to Mexico again.
It will be fun going with Mary & Paul. What a lovely Trio! It means M. will have someone to energetically explore with when you have had enough, and so you won't feel you HAVE to keep going all the time but can have a rest occasionally! Oh wish Mom could have gone too. She is having a rather beasty time I think - not feeling really well for quite a long time. I'm hoping to hear how the op. has gone - Not v. pleasant, but makes one feel much better later I gather. I hope she will take it easy and get really well very soon. I hate her not feeling fit. I hope the Calgary exhibition goes well.

Anne & about 10 of her class mates organized a 'Sale' for Save the Children Fund. I said I would let them have it here and let people have tea & a bun for 1/- for the Cause; So the Diningroom was made into stalls for goods to be sold - tea served off the counter ^{in big room}. It was held on ^{St. Patrick's Day} Good Friday after school. Quite a few mothers & kids came & they made £10 - + which was really

Dear ones, Pat + Audrey.
So much love to you all - blessings

Dear Ones at the Vicarage -

Buzzy + Ingram - what lovely things we found on our pillow Friday night when we got back from Montreal. The tray is just the size we need for passing coffee + drinks → Sounds very as if we do nothing else! Really lovely!! + the cork + wood pot holder is wonderful - we've never seen one like it Audrey has it sitting on some Tunisian tiles we got at EXPO.

So many thanks also for the children's books with which they are charmed - Stevie is very keen to be read to + is learning a little to read himself - but he is just ready for the longer than "one-sitting-kind" of book so Dr. Doolittle's just grand for him

We read several chapters up on the train - they brought the books in their Expo Cases to Montreal. The Owl book was one of my favourites - since John + my old books have become permanent Island "library" now it is so nice to have a copy of it here.

EXPO was SPLENDID - quite a new world of sensations! So little ballyho - so little cheapness - things so well thought out - i.e. placing + design of the pavilions and the design of the whole area to make use of water - everywhere there are canals or lakes + of course the St. Lawrence itself rushing past. It's all multi-dimensional - and although the national pavilions tend to show the beauties of their country + all the Progress - the Canadian Theme Pavilions show in an overwhelming way the Problems + Progress - the Pain + Pleasure - Poor + wealthy - It's a great achievement - sometimes too overpowering - to make one almost weep with multi-sensations. It's sometimes a vision of what
