Dear Sir:

The passing of George Russell has set many thoughts stirring in the minds of those to whom the spirit of AE was an inspiration.

I do not know that the enclosed is really a tribute - fit to lay at the feet of such a poet-artist-seer.

If it be unworthy please put it in your waste paper basket.

The thoughts are mainly his own -
from a prose book I read over a year ago, and have not the title nor the means of finding it as I am really far away from my home - with no library, no typewriter - and no English stamps.

Sincerely Yours,
A. W. Longfellow.

Mystic Music

["Mystic music was born in me"... AE.]

Mystic music was born in me,
Music of mountain and river and sea,
Of earth and air, of turf and care,
Of life, toil, vision, eternity;

Of space and time and timeless void,
Music no discords have destroyed —
In silence alone I catch the tone
Of mystic harmonies unallayed.

up the ladder of sound I climb —
A Jacob's ladder — to Truth sublime.
On holy ground, the Logos found,
The Master Singer, the Muse divine!
