Dear Louis:

I so appreciated your thoughtful letter of November 6th.

Isabel and I are just leaving on our long trip to the major old master auctions in England and Holland, and we much look forward to seeing you and your wife after our return on the 26th of December.

Of course, every author and prospective author appreciates the kind comments which you made, and I really look forward to discussing them with you when next we meet.

A great deal has been published about my dismissal from Sigma-Aldrich, and I enclose two papers from the leading chemical magazines in the United States and Britain. You may be particularly amused by the letter written to Chemistry in Britain from two of England's ablest organic chemists.

Also, I received hundreds of letters, faxes and phone calls and didn't really know how many friends I had around the world, until I was dismissed. Perhaps the most instructive is a letter written by an old friend who has known Tom Cori and me for years. That letter, copy enclosed, probably gives the real reason for my dismissal.

Of course, there have been silver linings: had I not been dismissed I would probably not have purchased the Rembrandt which I sold to the Rijksmuseum, nor would I have had the funds for that beautiful castle in England, Herstmonceux, which now belongs to Queen's University. As you will see from the enclosed document from Harvard signed by another Nobel laureate, E. J. Corey, chemists around the world still do appreciate me and I try to help wherever I can.

Dear Dr. Bader,

I am sure you have now concluded a successful Tour. Meeting you & Isabel was truly memorable. How could such nice people, such interesting people, & such intelligent people, be as friendly and open as you are?

The portion of The Biography I read was very interesting. I became interested in each of the individuals you described. However, why not give more descriptions of each personality with individual traits. You must have had interesting experiences which could be descriptive in an anecdotal sense.

A Nestlé Company

I hope my stating the above is not like stomping on land mines. Having written two multi-volume sets, I hope you, like me, appreciate comments from those who take the time to read what we write.

The article concerning your company is incredible. There must be a hidden agenda. Listen closely they will make comments, to justify their actions, which may be libelous. The downside to this is that, it seems, you are a public figure in Milwaukee and a defamation suit would be difficult.

Most importantly, I think your collection is wonderful. It is more than I ever imagined. Please, let me see it again.

I am presently in Orlando for a meeting of the United States Maccabiah Committee. This conference ends 11-6-93. I will be back in Chicago 11-7-93.

I know you leave 11-11-83 and return 12-26-83. If you have changed plans please let me know. If your plans remain, let us stay in touch and meet after the first of '84.

Thank you for your time.
Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein:

As I explained to Mrs. Goldstein by telephone on Sunday, you sometime meet people whom you like a great deal and really to hope to get to know better. But then, a great deal of overwork makes that difficult or impossible. Such, I think, happened between you and me.

Enclosed please find my autobiography, which was published in London last year and which has had some good reviews, mainly in scientific journals.

In any case, Isabel and I very much hope that you will visit us again and that we will really get to know each other.

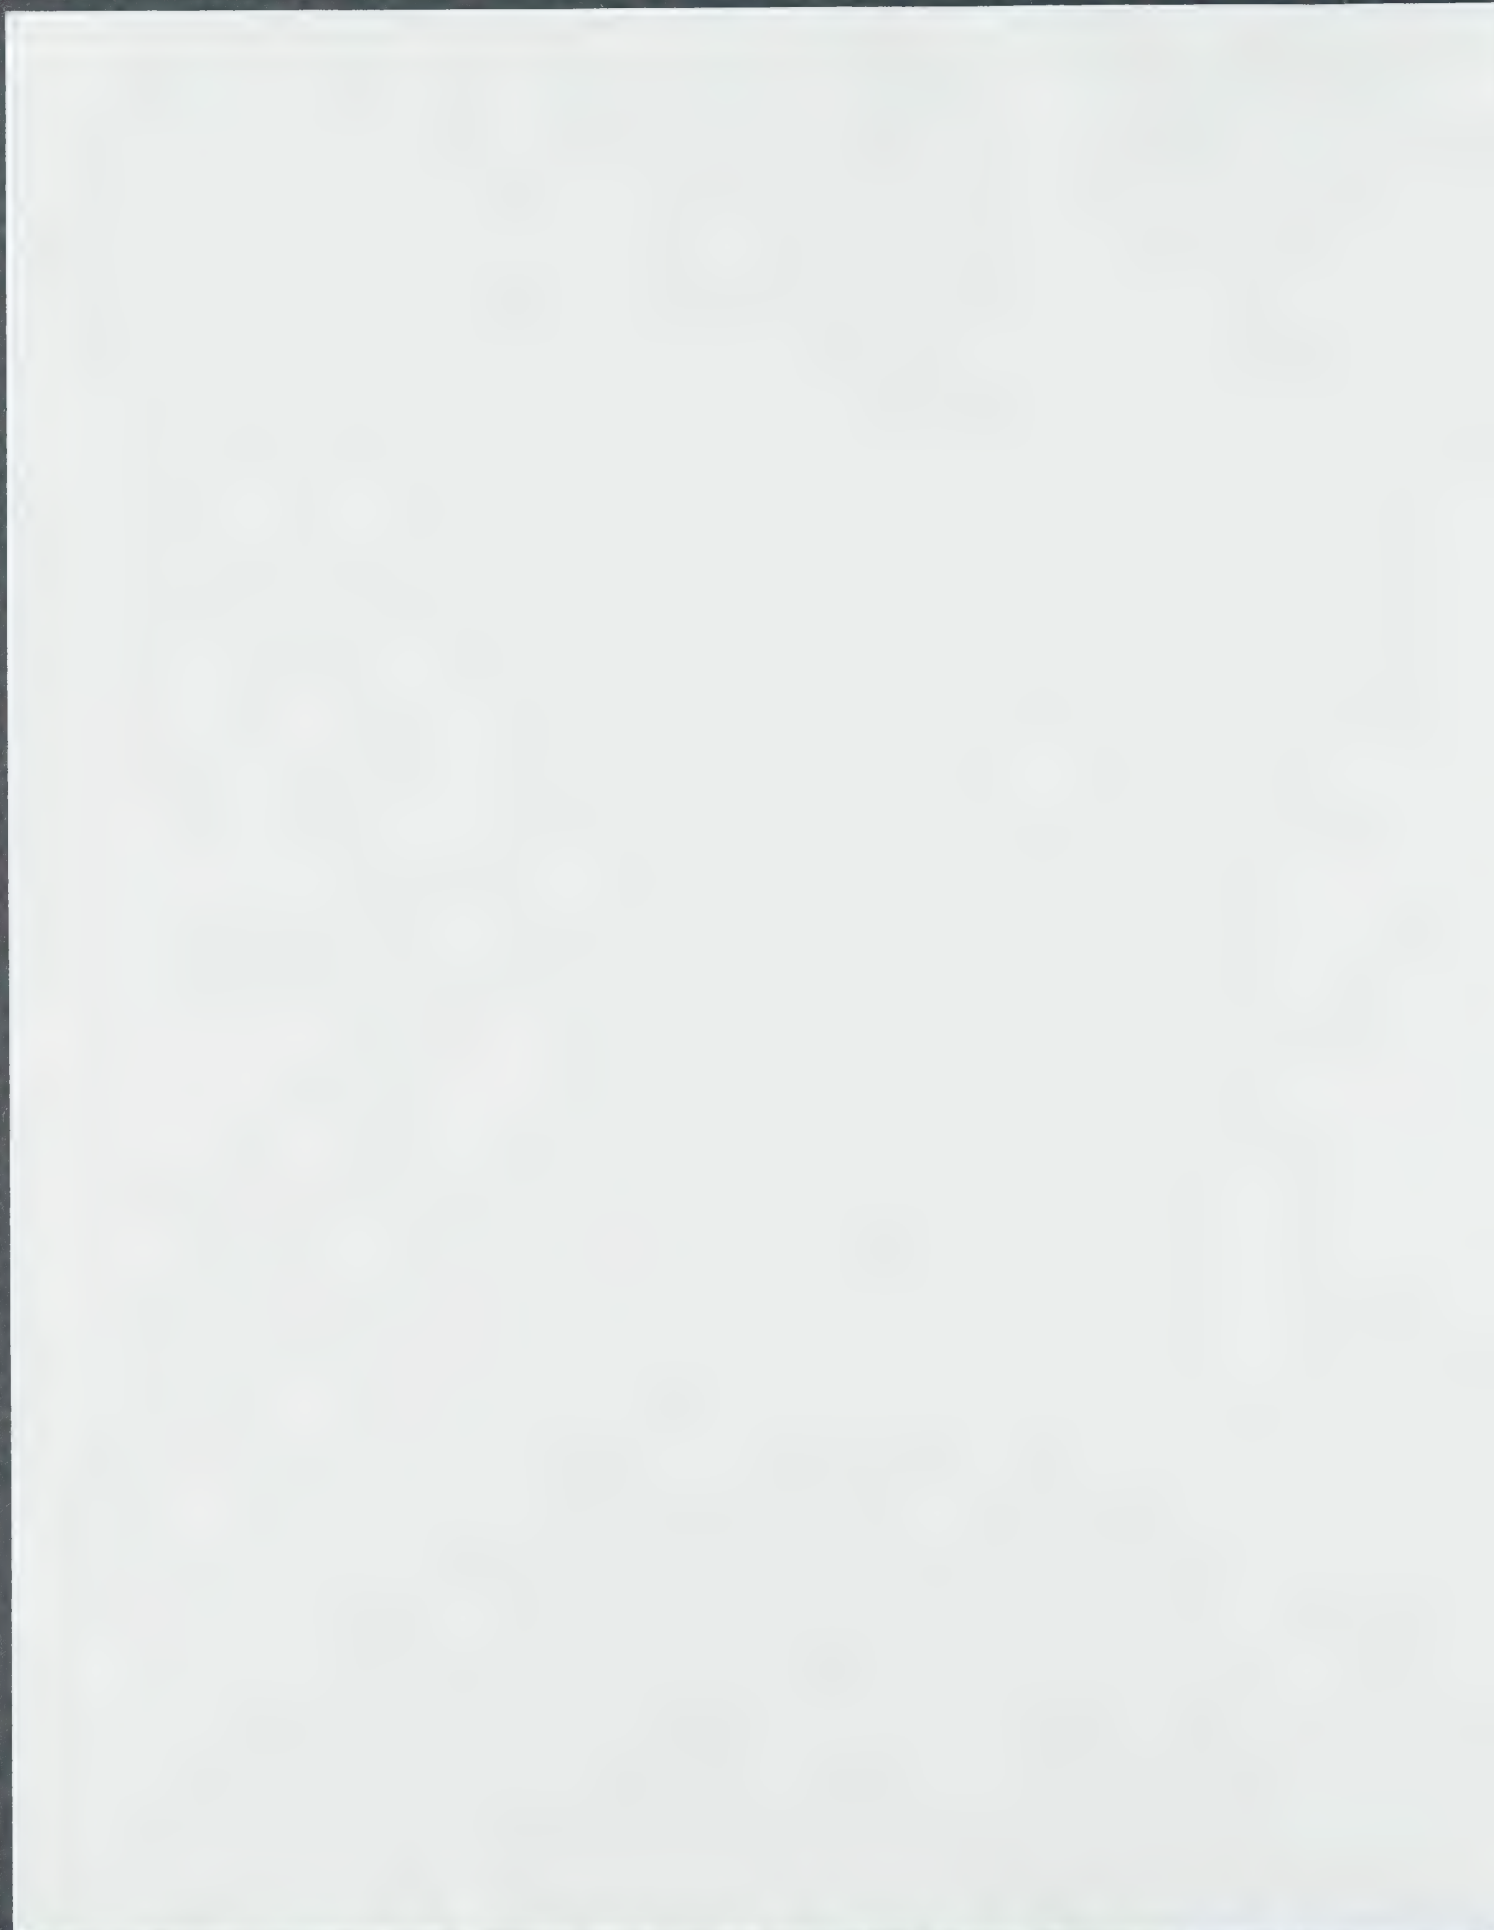

With all good wishes, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Louis:

I had much hoped that you and your wife might come to Milwaukee to look at paintings, but the weather has been so horrible.

Isabel and I will be in Florida the first two weeks in February, but after that time I do hope that you will come; I have many new works to show you.

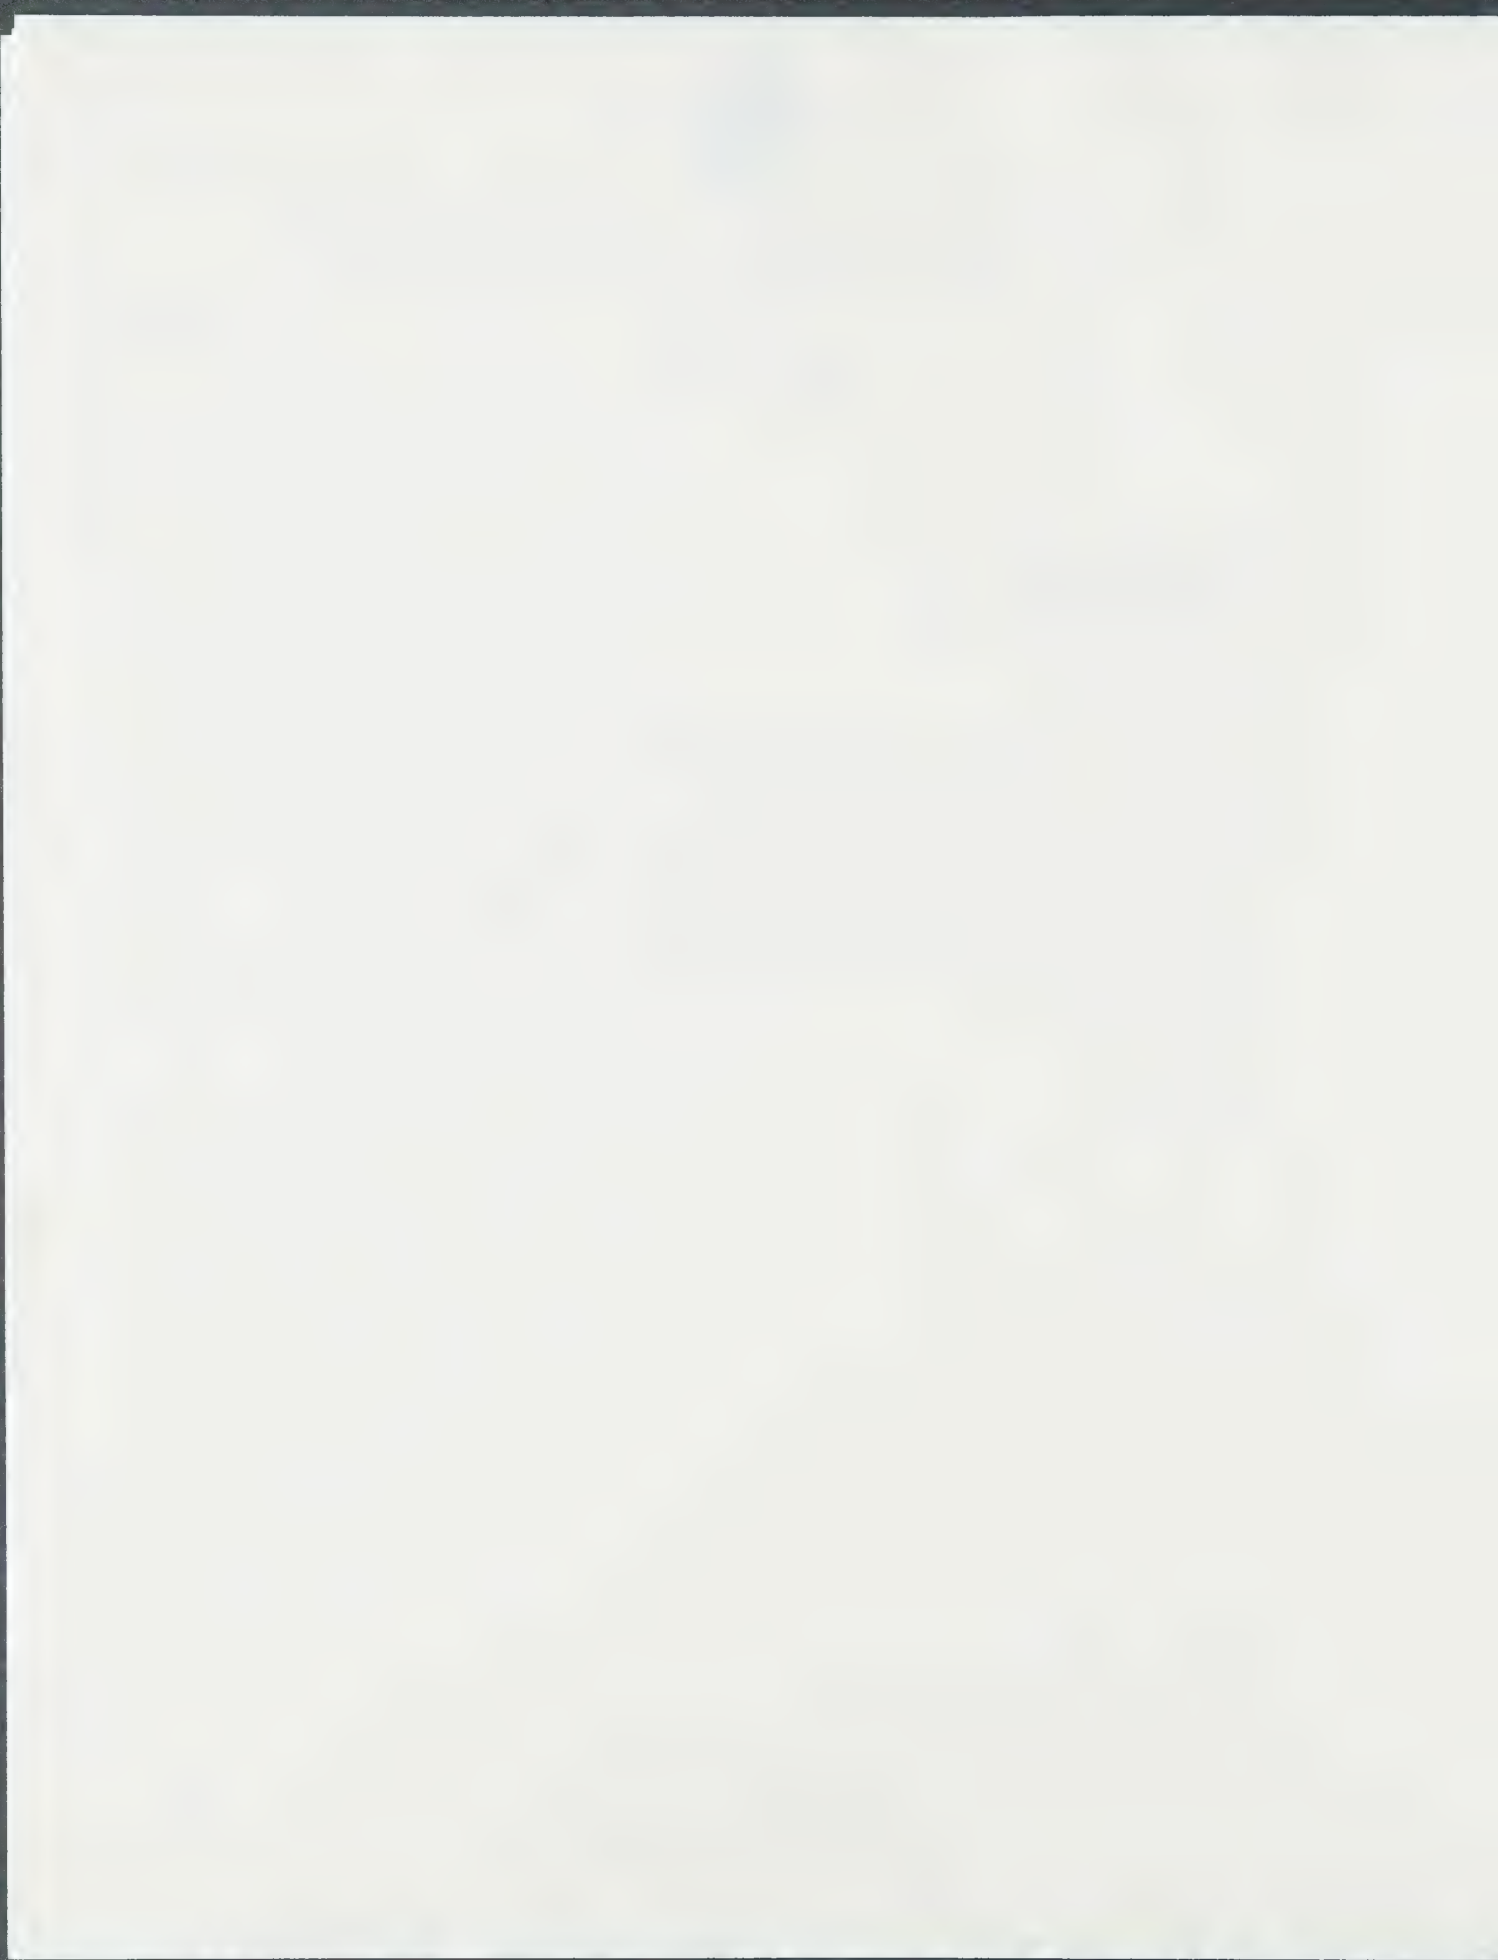

The enclosure will tell you a little bit about our recent doings.

Best wishes.

Dear Louis:

You must have realized how very much Isabel and I enjoyed meeting you yesterday.

The best restorers I know in the area are Frank Zuccari, who is the Chief Conservator at the Art Institute of Chicago, and Charles Munch and Jane Furchgott, who work together at S10093A Bear Valley Road, Lone Rock, WI 53556, telephone 608 583 2431.

Zuccari will only do relatively simple work at his home and does it well. Munch and Furchgott do all sorts of work and do it very well. Both are painters and both know a great deal about art history, as well as about the intrinsic quality of paintings. You might enjoy inviting them to the house to look at your Flinck.

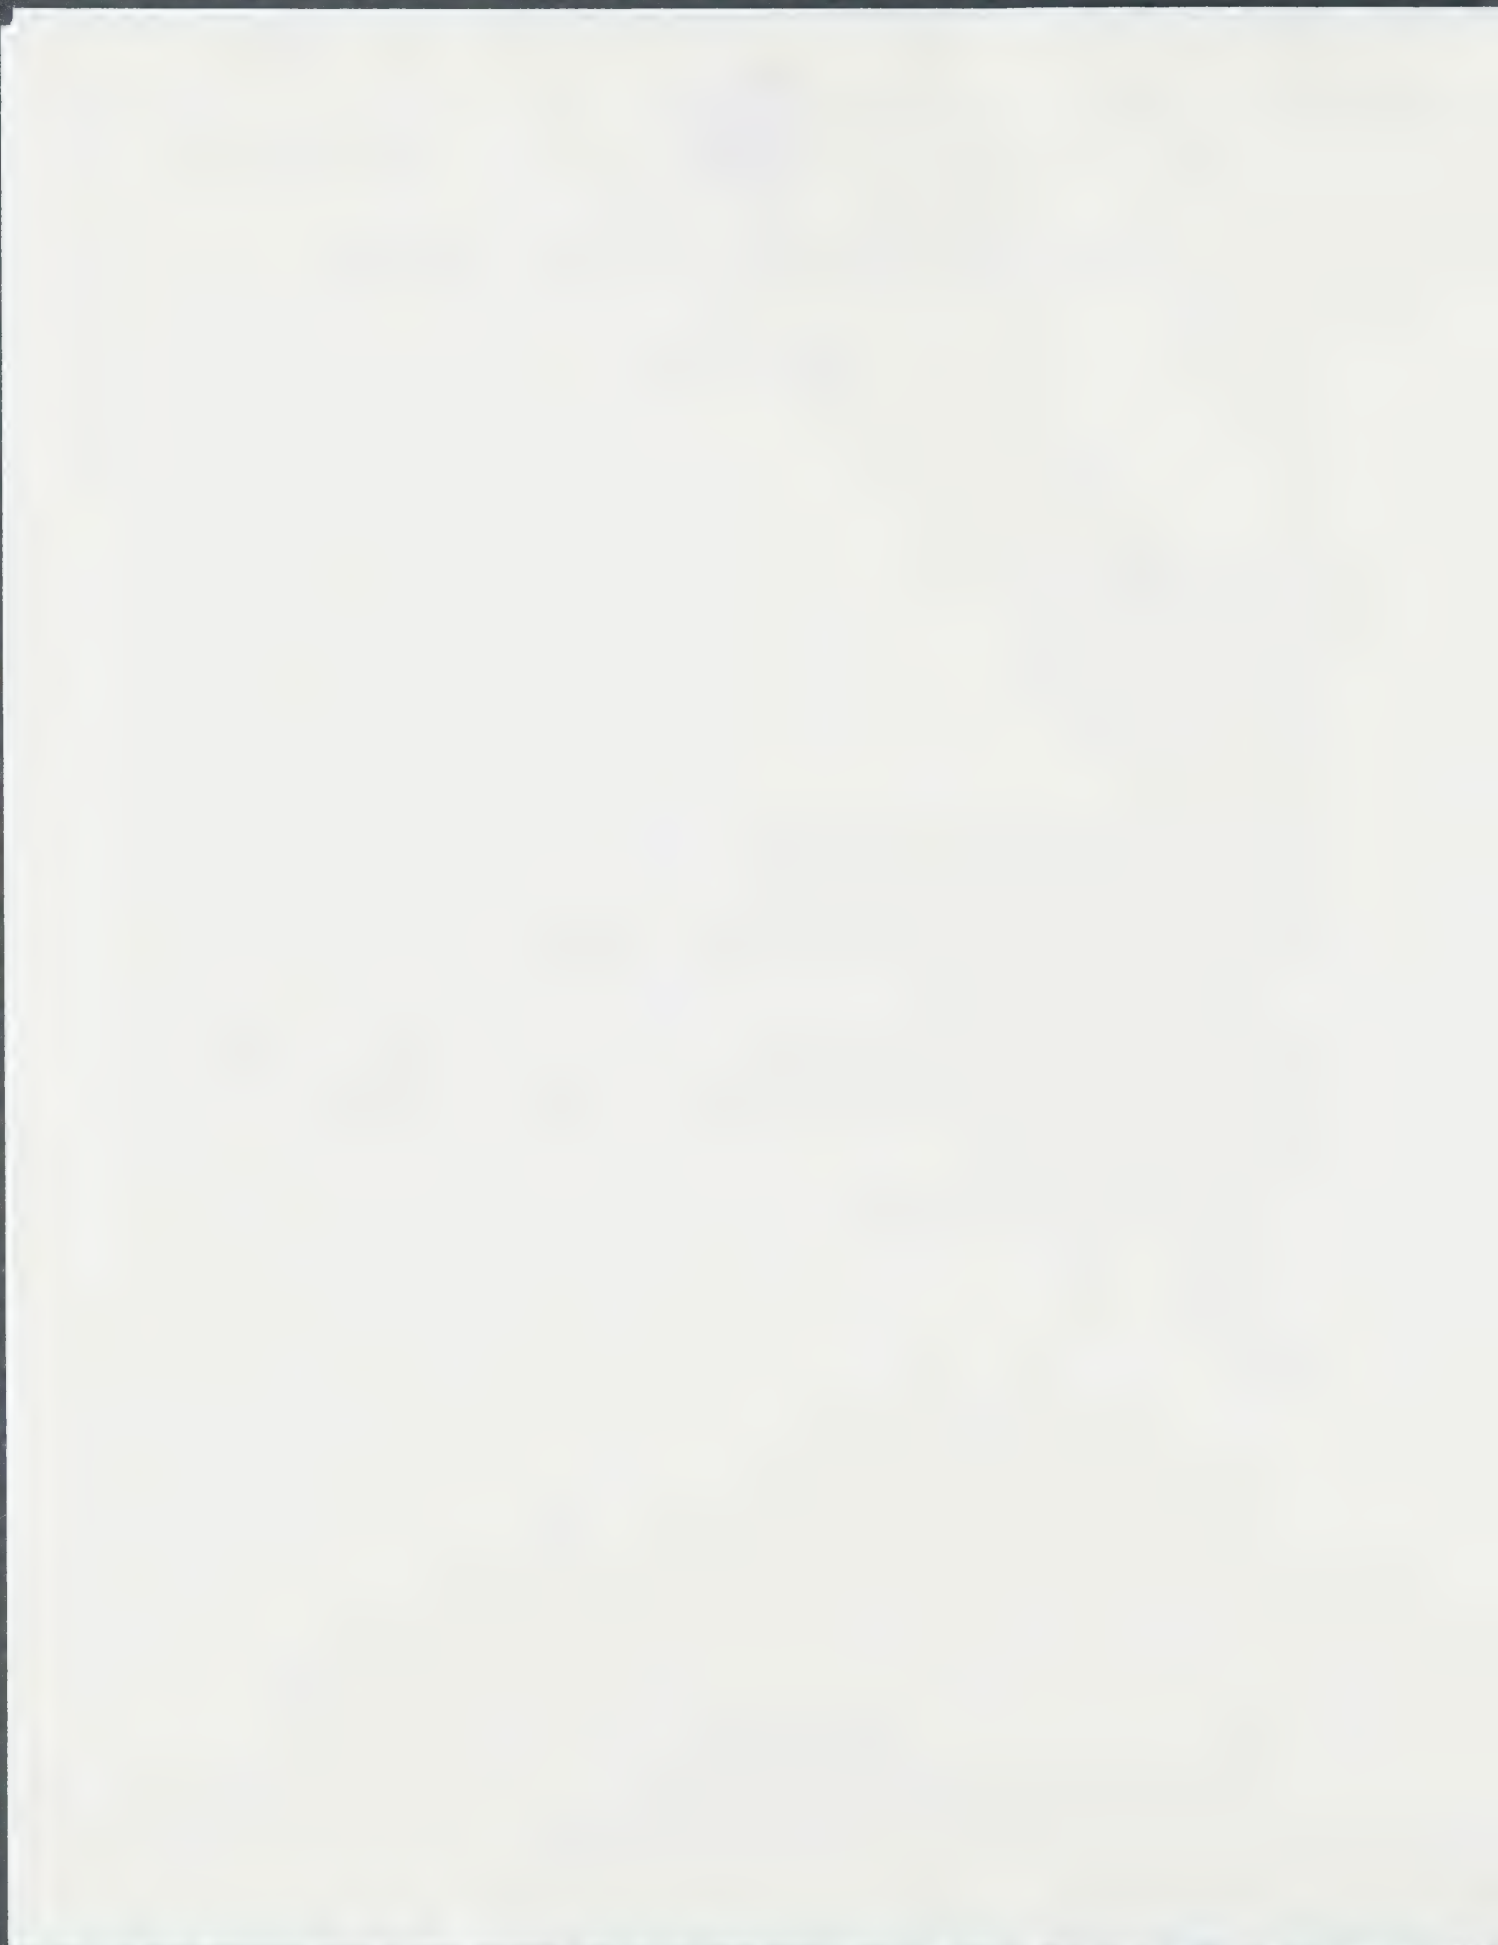

We much look forward to seeing you soon.

Best wishes.
