Dr. Elizabeth Nelson
Royal Society of Arts
8 John Adam Street
London WC2N 6EZ, England

Dear Dr. Nelson:

Please don't mind that the enclosed questionnaire, as well as my check for the RSA Appeal are coming to you so late, but I travel a good deal and your communication simply got buried on my desk.

As you will see from the questionnaire, only a very few of the questions are applicable to me. I receive your monthly journal and read it quite regularly, but I must confess that I have never even visited the house on John Adam Street, although I promise to do so when next I am in London, this coming November.

I am the Chairman of a chemical company with three operations in England, and my wife and I own a small house in Sussex, which makes for a convenient pied-a-terre while we are in Britain.

I am very interested in art history, particularly in 17th century Dutch paintings of the Bible. Last year, I presented a lecture at the National Gallery entitled "The Bible through Dutch Eyes," and I have published fairly extensively on the subject. One British university, the University of Sussex, has given me an honorary Doctor of the University, and I am not sure whether that was mainly for my work in chemistry or art history.

In any case, I very much look forward to learning about the RSA when I visit the Society's house in November.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

Alfred Bader

DR ALFRED R BADER 0003759

We are keen to keep the information we hold on Fellows as accurate as possible, in order that our service can be improved and Fellows kept informed of activities of special interest to them. Such information is for internal use only. As Life Fellows do not receive the annual subscription notice we are especially reliant on them to let us know if they change address, name etc, we cannot know of these changes if you do not tell us! To this end, we would be most grateful if you would fill in this brief questionnaire and return it to us.
(It would greatly help if you would use BLOCK CAPITALS in filling in this form).

1. Please indicate any changes necessary in your name, address, and designation as currently shown in our literature. (The label on the Journal envelope is the most obvious example).

8. The RSA raises about £1 million annually from commercial sponsors or trusts. This money is vital to the development of its programme. Fellows are often very helpful in advising on whom to approach within their company or providing a point of contact in some other way. If you might be willing to offer such advice, we would be most grateful if you would indicate here.

- (a) My organisation may be a potential sponsor. I could offer _____ informal advice.
- (b) I have experience of raising sponsorship which _____ I am able to share
- (c) I cannot help at this time. _____

9. Is there any other service the RSA should provide?

Date Sept 7 93 Signature John A. Ryan

Thank you. We will use this information to improve and develop RSA services. If you have any enquiries please contact Carole MacPherson Records Administrator on 071 930 5115 extension 243.
