Dear Dr. Bader:

I found your letter of 6 September on returning from some lecturing (on Einstein) in Europe. Thank you for your kind words about my writings.

You are quite right: In my long career, finding funding for my research has usually been not difficult. This time is the first where, despite much work, the various foundations have been negative (with the exception of the Russell Sage Foundation). Like you, I am indeed curious why this should be so, and I have some hypotheses—even while we continue the hunt!

First, there seems to be a general reluctance to deal with the topic of refugees or immigrants. Currently, we appear to be going through a phase (again) when the American public harbors a certain amount of distrust toward newcomers, and that may reach into the foundations, each of which has its list of main interests, but none include specifically ours.

Second, the agencies that do focus on humanitarian help have a strong preference for immediate help: giving goods and services to newcomers, rather than sponsoring more “theoretical” activities. It is hard to quarrel with this preference these days when there is so much misery around, but we would point out that a more theoretical and reasoned approach promises to lead to large practical improvements in the medium term and long run.

Third, the refugees from National Socialist persecution we studied were certainly a unique group in many respects. Their collective socioeconomic success was phenomenal, as we can now document. Some funding agencies may therefore not see the relevance of our historical case study for the current problems of refugees and immigrants, who collectively are likely to face worse outcomes. Again, we keep arguing that a comparison between the more and the less successful newcomer groups—which we have made in our study—would be enlightening today, enhancing the knowledge of what factors help and what factors hinder the successful integration of young newcomers.

Doubtless there may be other factors leading to resistance. But we are continuing to pursue every level. As my father used to say in the face of difficulty: "Und dennoch."

With kind regards,

To: KTA Midwest Chapter Members:

Anita Grosz forwarded the letter below and suggested that it be sent to our KTA Midwest members for consideration. The project seems a worthy one, and perhaps some of you can find the time and inclination to participate. Since the school in question is located in the Midwest, we are the obvious first choice for trying to help the students of the Indian Valley High School at Gnadenhutten, Ohio.

Regards,

Joseph Haberer

Dear Friend,

Greetings! My name is Heather J. Weaver and I am a high school English teacher in Gnadenhutten, Ohio, U.S.A. For the second year, I am teaching a Literature of the Holocaust course here at Indian valley High School.

As part of this class, I would like to have my students participate in a Jewish pen-pal project. This will be the third time I have used this project with my students. We have virtually no Jewish population in our area, and I find that my students benefit from getting to know someone who would have been (and perhaps was) targeted under the Nazi regime. This project adds a human element to our studies that would be lacking otherwise. Students participating in this project in the past were overwhelmingly positive in their responses, and many said it was the best thing we did all year!

Project Details:

Duration: approximately 18 weeks: November 7 - March 20

Project Overview: Students (juniors and seniors) will be paired with a Jewish participant (eighteen years of age or older). Pen-pals will correspond at least once every two weeks for 17 weeks. Topics of conversation may include, but are not limited to Jewish history, culture, and beliefs; the Holocaust; and individual hobbies and interests.

I will need 45 participants to be able to run this project.

If you are interested in helping with this project by corresponding one of my students, please write to me at

Dear Dr. Heindl,

I am happy to know from your letter of January 20th that you have finally arranged for the publication of the book.

Your resume of my life contains many mistakes, and not just that Queen's University is in the US.

Please delete the unimportant details of my degrees received in 1946, 1947 and 1949. Under separate cover I am sending you my CV where I have noted the important facts in red.

Please also send me what you have written about Prof. Leonard Parker. I will ask him to check those details.

I understand that each of us will receive one copy of the book. Please do not go to the trouble of mailing them, but leave them with Dr. Robert Rosner. We plan to be in Vienna this coming June.

With all good wishes I remain

Yours sincerely,
Alfred Bader

Betrifft: Verlagsvertrag „Peter Lang“ vom 15.12.1999

Wien, 20. Jänner 2000

[Aut. Im Mail an fehlende Dinge erinnern!]

Liebe Mitautorin, lieber Mitautor!

Ich darf Sie/Euch darüber informieren, daß Mitte Dezember eine vertragliche Vereinbarung mit Peter Lang geschlossen wurde, die vorbehaltlich des Eingangs einer Förderungszusage durch das BMWV/Einzelpublikationen in Höhe von öS 30.000,- in Kraft tritt. Der entsprechende Bescheid des BMWV wird für etwa Ende Februar erwartet.

An Grundkonditionen wurden im Vertrag vereinbart:

Auflage: 200 Stück, broschürt, Format 16 x 23 cm

Bruttoendpreis bei einem Umfang von 300 S.: öS 623,- (variabel nach dem tatsächlichen Umfang; Bezugsmöglichkeit über den Herausgeber mit 30% Ermäßigung)

je 1 Freixemplar pro Autor

Autorenhonorar: ab Verkaufsexemplar 51-100: 10%, ab 101: 15% vom Bruttoendpreis

Möglichkeit zum Bezug von Autorenexemplaren zum Preis von öS 105,56 (Preis variabel nach dem tatsächlichen Umfang), die vor der Drucklegung zu bestellen sind.

Sollte bis 15.2.2000 keine gegenteilige Nachricht eintreffen, so betrachte ich den Vertrag als vom jeweiligen Adressaten in der bestehenden Form akzeptiert. Auf Wunsch ist auch gerne eine Kopie des Gesamtvertrages erhältlich.

Die Option Peter Lang hat sich insofern als die günstigste Lösung angeboten, als sie eine rasche und sichere Publikationsmöglichkeit bietet, während bei anderen Verlagen bei annähernd gleichen Konditionen zumindest höhere Fördersummen beantragt worden wären – was einen Unsicherheitsfaktor für die Veröffentlichung insgesamt bedeutet hätte – und überdies weitere Verzögerungen zu befürchten waren. Angesichts der Tatsache, daß einige Beiträge bereits im Herbst 1998 (!) vorhanden waren, ist mir das nicht mehr vertretbar erschienen (im übrigen sind derzeit immer noch 2 Beiträge ausständig, die aber, wenn sie nicht rechtzeitig eintreffen, nicht mehr berücksichtigt werden!).

Im Fall der Förderungszusage durch das BMWV soll das druckfertige Manuskript im März beim Verlag abgegeben werden, sodaß das Buch zwischen Ende April und Anfang Juni erscheinen wird. – Aufgrund verschiedener Anregungen bzw. Kritiken wurde auch der Titel des Buches auf „Wissenschaft und Forschung in Österreich ... [Untertitel]“ geändert, um es ein wenig „zeitgemäßer“ präsentieren zu können.

Was die erwähnten Autorenexemplare betrifft, so sind diese vor Drucklegung zu bestellen und bei Erscheinen des Buches zu bezahlen. Ich ersuche daher, mir allfällige Bestellwünsche bis 29.2.2000 zu übermitteln. Nach der Rückmeldung über die tatsächlich zugeteilte Anzahl (derzeit sind noch keine Obergrenzen für die Gesamtanzahl der Autorenexemplare bekannt, es ist jedoch möglich, daß die jeweiligen Wünsche ein wenig eingeschränkt werden müssen) wäre der anfallende Betrag dann vor Erscheinen des Buches auf mein Konto zu überweisen. Termin und Konto Nr. werden zusammen mit dem „Abschlußbericht“ bekanntgegeben.

Ergänzend möchte ich noch bemerken, daß für den beabsichtigten dritten Band (immer noch) eine etwas kommerziellere Orientierung angestrebt wird, die sich diesmal bereits im Grundkonzept bemerkbar machen wird.

In diesem Sinn verbleibe ich bis auf weiteres mit bestem Dank für die Zusammenarbeit

mit herzlichen Grüßen

Gerhard Heindl e.h.

Dear Al:

I have just returned from a visit to Oberlin College -- occasioned by the 50th Reunion of my Class of 1948. It was an excellent opportunity to visit the campus, renew old acquaintances, and to become better acquainted with the new administration.

The current President is Dr. Nancy Dye, a historian from the University of Wisconsin via Vassar. She is quite impressive, and the college seems to be thriving under her leadership.

I took the occasion to visit the Allen Art Museum's gallery on 17th Century Dutch Masters, and was pleased to view a painting entitled "Mother and Child in an Interior" by Quiren Gerritsz Van Brekelenkain -- listed as a gift of Dr. Alfred Bader in honor of Prof. Wolfgang Stechow. A wonderful tribute to an excellent professor and one of the people that have made Oberlin a very special place!

On returning to St. Louis, I happened to be seated at a dinner next to a lovely lady named Roma Wittcoff. Somehow in our conversation, your name came up, and she especially wanted me to send you her greetings -- the warmth of her reaction told me a lot about her relationship and high regard for you. So, twice in a week, I had occasion to think of Al Bader, hence this note.

I hope all is well with you and Isabel -- I'm sure that your various interests are keeping you as busy as always!

Best personal regards -- from both me, and Roma.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr Bader,

I hope you are well. I have just received the cheque from the JDC for the extra $10,000 for the Dnepopetrovsk orphanage. I thank you once again on behalf of the Orphanage for your generous donation.

As it happens we met up yesterday with the directors of the Odessa orphanage, who proved to be very noble people. It seems as if Ohr Sameyach who operate the orphanage is withdrawing a huge chunk of their contributions due to other international commitments. The two rabbis we met have had to learn how to become fundraisers overnight, I must say it is so refreshing to meet people who are actually on the ground doing the work which they are fundraising for.

At the moment they have plans to expand the orphanage to take in children under 4 years old, who are known to be living in the markets and streets of Odessa.

If you are interested in finding out more about their plans please let me know and I will be happy to provide you with further information. Hope to see you very soon. Please let me know when you are planning on paying us a visit.

Best wishes for you and your family

Kind regards

Fleur Hassan

Ich kann Ihnen mitteilen, daß der Förderungsantrag für das Buchprojekt "Wissenschaft und Forschung in Österreich" endlich vom Bundesministerium für Wissenschaft und Forschung behandelt und auch genehmigt wurde - allerdings mit einem kleinen Abschlag bei der Fördersumme (öS 25.000,- statt 30.000,-) - sodaß wir, sollten keine zusätzlichen Mittel mehr lukriert werden können, auf das (an sich aber ohnedies zu vernachlässigende) Autorenhonorar verzichten werden müssen. Ich persönlich bedauere das umso mehr, als ich zu Beginn der Arbeiten sogar von einem Beitrag der Wiener MA 18 ausgegangen bin und wir inzwischen froh sein müssen, daß die Publikation überhaupt noch in der geplanten Form zustandekommt. Es wird zwar noch versucht, den Restbetrag zu erhalten, ich sehe persönlich dafür jedoch wenig Chancen.

Da infolge der verspäteten Bearbeitung des Förderungsantrages ein Erscheinen vor dem Sommer nun nicht mehr möglich ist, wird das Buch - vorbehaltlich technischer Verzögerungen - Ende August/Anfang September die Druckerei verlassen. Eine Präsentation mit Unterstützung des Verlages ist etwa zu Beginn des WS 00/01 vorgesehen. Ort und genauer Termin werden im September bekanntgegeben.

Ich darf in diesem Zusammenhang, nachdem bisher nur 3 entsprechende Rückmeldungen eingegangen sind, auch an die Bestellung allfälliger Autorenexemplare erinnern (siehe letztes Rundschreiben, 1 Stück zum Preis von öS 106,-). Aufgrund der Verrechnung durch den Verlag bereits bei Drucklegung ist es dabei nötig, die allfällig bestellten Exemplare bis spätestens Ende Juni im voraus zu bezahlen. Die Verrechnung erfolgt von mir als Herausgeber mit dem Verlag, weshalb ich alle Besteller ersuche, die entsprechenden Beträge bis 30.6.2000 auf Konto Nr. 345-67712 bei der ERSTE BANK, lautend auf meinen Namen, einzuzahlen. Ich werde mich bemühen, jeden von Ihnen, der eine Bestellung aufgegeben hat, Anfang Juni in dieser Sache noch separat anzuschreiben.

Abschließend bedanke ich mich für Ihre Geduld mit der Produktion und hoffe, daß dem Projekt zumindest eine problemlose technische Realisierung beschieden sein wird.

Lieber Autor, liebe Autorin!

Nachdem mich die von der Druckerei gelieferten Bücher erst Ende November erreicht haben, ist ein Präsentationstermin vor Weihnachten - unter Rücksichtnahme auf die verschiedenen Weihnachtsfeiern sowie auch meine eigene Termingebahrung - nicht mehr möglich gewesen.

Im Einvernehmen mit dem Verlag wurde daher eine Präsentation des Buches nach dem Jahreswechsel, und zwar nach Möglichkeit am Beginn des SS 2001, vereinbart. Die genauen Präsentationsdaten werden etwa Anfang/Mitte Februar folgen! Wer inzwischen seine Autoren- bzw. Freixemplare beheben möchte, kann das nach Vereinbarung tun. Ich muß jedoch einschränken, daß ein Teil der Bücher einen Transportschaden erlitten hatte und die Ersatzlieferung noch nicht eingetroffen ist, sodaß unter Umständen nicht alle Wünsche ad hoc erledigt werden können.

Immerhin ist das Buch aber nun endlich erschienen (Peter Lang, 2000) und im Handel erhältlich. Auch können die Beiträge jetzt bei der Literar-Mechana gemeldet werden. - Die Meldefrist für die Verrechnung 2001 endet am 31.1.!

In diesem Sinn bedanke ich mich für die lange strapazierte Geduld und wünsche viel Freude an dem Buch!

Mit den besten Wünschen für das Neue Jahr und herzlichen Grüßen!

Gerhard Heindl.

Sehr geehrter Herr Doktor Bader, herzlichen Dank für Ihre Zustimmung zur Aufnahme in unser Projekt. Ihre Autobiographie, die ich bis jetzt leider nur durch die Rezension kenne, hat mich sehr beeindruckt. Ich werde sie mir über Deuticke besorgen. Lebensgeschichten von Menschen unseres Jahrhunderts gehen über das Autobiographische hinaus; sie sind mehr denn je mit dem Schicksal einer ganzen Generation verbunden.

Aufgrund Ihres regen Interesses an wissenschaftlichen und künstlerischen Äußerungen erlaube ich mir, Ihnen unseren letzten Projektbericht zu schicken, damit Sie sich ein Bild über Aumaß und Intention unserer Arbeit machen können.

In unserer konsumorientierten Welt, in der auch menschliche Beziehungen dem Markttrend unterliegen, ist Ihre Geschichte ein ermutigendes Gegenbeispiel.

Liebe Grüße und Wünsche

Dear Aldred --

Thanks for your most recent e-mail. Sorry I didn't get back to you sooner, but we did fully investigate the "shipped not billed" issue you had mentioned, including having a conversation with the individual who runs the Rare Chemicals library there in Milwaukee. The only item we could find was one (1) shipment for $1,000. This item was subsequently discovered and billed -- and we received payment from the customer. If you are aware of others, please let me have customer names, dates, types of material and/or any other details you might be able to furnish -- and we'll do our best to track them down.

Though I'm heading to Milwaukee for a quick in-and-out-on-the-same-day trip late this week, I'm not sure when next I'll be in Milwaukee for an overnight. But I haven't forgotten your offer or my pledge to spend an evening with you and your bride. I'll try to give you as much advanced notice as possible.

Thanks again for your comments.

Mike

Dear Dr Bader,

I hope you had a lovely trip to London. I would like to thank you for sending me that newsletter, I can now see how popular and indispensable Nita is.

I was wondering how your meeting with Bradpiece went and what conclusions you drew out of the whole thing. I spoke to the other two Rabbis from Odessa who send us a letter making sure Ohr Sameyach did not receive bad PR from their reduced contributions to the orphanage. No doubt they showed you the letter.

I can still confirm that all the elements in my letter are true however Ohr Sameyach did not like how it sounded.

I would like to know your thoughts and look forward to seeing you on your next trip to England.

Kind regards

Fleur Hassan

Dear Dr Bader,

I hope you are well, it is curious how my email and your letter crossed on the very same subject.

I am happy to pass on all the information I have with regards to the Ohr Sameyach Odessa orphanage, although I do not feel I can make a judgement on what you might consider a right wing organisation.

Ohr Sameyach is a religious organisation but according to their literature, as well as discussions I have had with the Rabbis there, it is an apolitical one. As I understand, they are mainly an educational organisation. They run Yeshivas in Israel however, the Yeshivas are Zionist Yeshivas and do encourage military service. In England, Ohr Sameyach runs a learning exchange, which attracts a varied group of people. Having been there myself, I can tell you that they seem to have no agenda other than the promotion of Torah Study.

With regards to the Orphanage itself and the way it is run, I know that the children they take in are Jewish, and that is the prerequisite to enter the orphanage. Most of the children have not been Brit Milad but they are given the opportunity to do so, although it is certainly not compulsory. The children are educated in secular as well as Jewish studies, and they are also given the option to make Aliyah. However, this is only if they show an interest, which is true of only some of the children there. I am pleased to enclose a list, supplied to me by the directors of the Orphanage, of the children from the orphanage and the Jewish schools who have chosen to live in Israel.

The directors of the Orphanage who I have spoken to, one being the Chief Rabbi of Odessa, Rabbi Bakst, made it very clear that they are not missionaries and that their brief is merely to provide these needy children with a home. Once in the Home they can adopt the religious stance of their choice although they are provided with a Jewish education.

In the last few months there have been changes in the bureaucracy of the Orphanage. To date it is called the Ohr Sameyach Orphanage because Ohr Sameyach was funding more than 60% of their total budget. Rabbi Bradpiece, being one of Ohr Sameyach's fundraisers, has been collecting money to make up their 60%+ commitment to the Orphanages budget.

This year Ohr Sameyach have decided that due to other international commitments they will reduce their contribution to 25% of the total budget i.e. their commitment has decreased by almost 40%. This has left the Odessa Orphanage with no other option but to fundraise themselves. The two Rabbis we met, Rabbi Bakst and Rabbi Kruskal who would normally be teaching at the orphanage or at the Jewish School in Odessa, have had to become fundraisers overnight.

I have been informed by Rabbi Bakst that the Joint have always sent your contribution directly to the orphanage and not through Ohr Sameyach. I assume that the letter sent to you by Rabbi Bradpiece was a PR exercise to ensure that your yearly contribution was still intact and perhaps that it came through Ohr Sameyach as part of the 25% they are still financing. Alternatively, as they had up till last year been responsible for the Orphanage's donor care, it could just be a courtesy call.

Please do not doubt for one second the significance of your gift. It went straight to the Orphanage and was put to very good use. It is a very generous contribution and I dare say a much needed one, particularly now that the Ohr Sameyach patronage has been scaled down. Rabbi Bakst knew your name well as one of the Orphanage's generous supporters.

I quite agree with your objections to supporting an organisations whose principles go against your own. However, I do not believe there is reason for concern. Firstly, they have reassured me that they are an apolitical organisation, and I can confirm that from the meeting I had with the two Rabbis they seemed anything but right wing, religious yes, but not right wing. Secondly, as you point out in your letter, there is no one else there to fulfil the needs of these children. Thirdly, if despite the information above, you are still uncomfortable with Ohr Sameyach, there is some consolation in the fact that as their financial commitment has dramatically decreased, I am sure so has their influence.

Lastly, let me clarify that the Dnepopetrovsk orphanage is not run by Ohr Sameyach but by the Jewish Community of Dnepopetrovsk.

I hope I have answered your questions, if there is anything else I have omitted please let me know and I shall try to do find out more detail for you. Meanwhile I shall leave you with the names and addresses of the two Rabbis from Odessa whom, as I mentioned in my e-mail, I found to be very noble and honest

Dear Dr Bader,

I really enjoyed your message, I agree with your depiction of the Ohr Sameyach style. They have a huge network of loyal followers, such as your ex pupil, who they call upon for such circumstances. It is certainly not the way you or I do things as it is a little calculating. I am glad you saw them for what they are.

I must reiterate that if you ever meet the two rabbis who actually work in the orphanages in Odessa, it will be a very positive experience as their neshamas, and the good they are doing shines through. They are not salesmen or fundraisers and I suppose that is why I like them.

I am very happy that you are making another generous contribution to the orphanages, as it is certainly needed.

Please keep me updated on your sons tour of the orphanages and on his impressions. It will be interesting to compare our opinions.

I very much look forward to meeting with you again when you are next in England.

Wishing you and your family a happy pesach,

Kind regards

Fleur Hassan

ENDOWMENT

Historians of Netherlandish Art, founded in 1983, is a remarkable success story. With approximately 700 members from 22 countries, it has strong participation from professors, museum professionals, art and book dealers, art publishers, students and collectors. Embracing the study of Netherlandish and other Northern European art and architecture from the late Middle Ages through the eighteenth century, HNA encourages examination of the cultural interchange that existed between the Low Countries and its neighbouring regions, especially France and the German-speaking lands to the east. Recognized as the major conduit for international communication about the field, HNA's Newsletter, directories, conferences, and annual meetings have become models for similar societies.

As a response to the outstanding success of the organisation, as well as to growing interest in the discipline as a whole, HNA established, in 1998, the HNA Endowment. Supported and directed by HNA members, the goal of the Endowment is to help offset the costly enterprise of recording, reassessing, and refining the history of Netherlandish art.

The HNA Endowment provides HNA membership with small but important grants. Using income generated from a financial base formed through membership contributions and support from institutions, the HNA Endowment helps to underwrite projects which enhance quality scholarship in the field, such as subvention for publications, research/travel grants, HNA conference assistance funding. To support such projects, the HNA Endowment seeks your assistance. Please consider a contribution to the Endowment which matches your membership dues, or a gift within a "Patron" category listed on the reverse. Your donation will be a significant gesture towards sustaining scholarship in Northern art, and a much-appreciated way to celebrate the remarkable success of HNA.

In true Netherlandish fashion, "Patrons" will be recognized in the following categories:

Jan Six Society ($1 to $49)

John the Magnanimous Society ($50 to $99)

Mary of Burgundy Society ($100 to $249)

Chancellor Rolin Society ($250 to $499)

Philip the Good Society ($500 to $999)

Constantijn Huygens Society ($500 to $999)

Earl of Arundel Society ($1,000 to $2,499)

Pottekijker Society ($2,500 to $4,999)

HNA Presidents' Society ($1,000 and above)

or the chance to name a society after the patron of your choice!

_____ (Society)

Please send your check in US $, payable to Historians of Netherlandish Art Endowment, to:

Dear Dr. Bader,

I am most grateful for your message. I received the good news from you as I was packing up to get back to Cambridge from our cabin on Cape Cod. In the meantime, our son Thomas also read your Autobiography and was quite moved by it.

I hope you will like to see the two books I am sending you with my compliments. The older one is a revised version of one of my first books on the history of science. The other is the youngest--this year's hatchling.

With every good wish,
Gerald Holton

Dear Professor Holton,

Thank you for your gracious e-mail of August 23rd.

I hope you are enjoying yourself in Spain.

I was very disappointed when Professor Herschbach told me that getting the first pickle out of the jar did not lead to many other pickles being removed easily. Unfortunately I am not at all good about fundraising and do not know of any foundations or donors that might help. But if you come close to reaching your goal, then I would happily increase my donation from $50,000 to say, $60,000 or $70,000. It just seems very important to me that your book will be published.

With all good wishes I remain

Yours sincerely,
Alfred Bader

Dear Mr. Hutter,
many thanks for your letter. We are proud of the possibility to award the Memorial Prize in Hebrew and Jewish Studies to outstanding students.

I am sorry that I can't tell you at the moment who will liaise with you, because the stuff is on holiday until the beginning of September. I'll appoint someone as soon as possible and then I'll contact you.

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr. Heckscher:

Mrs. Heckscher will probably say to you, on reading this letter, that this fellow, Bader, suffers from diarrhea of letters.

However, Professor Edward Timms' comments about Lt. Vogel are so interesting that I wanted to share them with you right away.

Also, a - to me - important question: When will your memoirs be published and where?

By a stroke of good luck, I have found a most competent, caring literary agent in London, Mr. Jeffrey Simmons, and if perchance you should not yet have an agent, I would be very happy to put you in touch with him.

With all good wishes, I remain,

Dear Dr. Heckscher:

I so enjoyed reading your letter of August 31.

I also hear badly and have to use a hearing aid in my right ear. I usually miss most when I am in a group of people but have no problem when talking to one person alone.

Unfortunately our schedule for this autumn is exceedingly busy with lectures in Canada, Spain, Scotland and England. But we always come to New York for the old masters sales at Christie's and Sotheby's mid-January and definitely plan then to take a train to Princeton to visit with you.

RE: Employment question

Dear Steve:

Alfred has located another potential candidate for our part-time secretarial position. This woman wants to be paid as an independent contractor. Alfred's son, Daniel, and Daniel's office manager have cautioned Alfred on the possible liabilities (as well as advantages) of this sort of arrangement.

If we are going to pay her an hourly wage (or a weekly wage based on a prescribed number of hours), can we still classify her as an independent contractor? And should we have her sign an agreement stating that she has requested this status and that she assumes responsibility for any and all taxes due? (If so, do you have appropriate language for that?)

She's coming in this afternoon at 2:30 for a second interview with me, and we'd like to be able to discuss this with her then.

Dear Magister Hofmann:

My good friend, Dr. Robert Rosner, has given me your letter of June 5th and that impressive 1914 book about the Sperlgymnasium and the 1933-34 report.

Please accept my sincere thanks for your thoughtfulness.

It seemed to me that the 1914 book is of such importance that it should stay in Vienna, and I left it with Dr. Rosner. The 1934 report I have taken along. Unfortunately, it was published in the year just before I entered the Sperlgymnasium, but I noted that a good friend, one of the world's most famous chemists, Professor Carl Josef Djerassi, is listed in the first grade, and I have sent Professor Djerassi copies of the relevant pages.

You might be interested in my autobiography, which deals extensively with my four years in the Sperlgymnasium. A German review on this book is enclosed, and if the school's library might want to acquire it, it is available from the antiquariat, Deuticke.

I come to Vienna once a year, usually in June, and it would give me great pleasure if I could meet you personally next year.

With best personal regards, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Sehr geehrter Herr Dr. Rosner !

Mit großem Interesse habe ich Ihren geschätzten Brief vom 21. Mai gelesen.

Da zum Zeitpunkt des Vortrages des Herrn Dr. Bader die mündlichen Reifeprüfungen stattfinden, ist es mir mit großer Wahrscheinlichkeit nicht möglich, die Veranstaltung zu besuchen.

Ich ersuche Sie - sofern es Ihnen möglich ist - Herrn Dr. Bader die der Post beiliegenden Broschüren zu übergeben.

Es handelt sich um eine Festschrift aus dem Jahr 1914 und um jenen Jahresbericht, der zuletzt in Druck ging, bevor rassistische Ideen die Macht ergriffen.

Dear Professor Rappoport:

Our good friend, your cousin Professor Amos Rapoport, has kindly sent me your letter of March 7th.

I was at the Loschmidt Symposium in Vienna last June and enclose part of the program.

I have just read your very interesting article on stamps in the april issue of The Chemical Intelligencer. Oddly, the stamp editor refused - for reasons I don't know - to write about the Loschmidt stamp, and Professor Hargittai asked me to write a brief article about that stamp. I enclose a copy.

I have written extensively about Loschmidt, so, for instance, in chapter 16 of my autobiography, which I hope you can find in your library.

With all good wishes, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Hatton:

Thank you so much for your fascinating letter of April 23rd.

I knew Arthur McKay well, and as you know, he had his good points and his bad points. His good points were his enthusiasm for chemistry; his bad was that when under the influence of alcohol, he did many things he would regret later. You probably know why he was dismissed from Queen's and from Monsanto.

I had heard rumors that he became a drifter in California, then moved to Australia and has died. But I have no confirmation of any of that, and hope that at least the last is mistaken. Do let me know if you discover that he is alive; I would, of course, like to contact him.

As you will have realized from my autobiography, we were not happy with Chalk River supplying Aldrich with heavy water, but entirely satisfied with Ontario Hydro.

We plan to be in Kingston and then in Ottawa at the end of October. You can always contact us via Isabel's sister, Marion Dick, whose telephone number is 613/225-7909. We would love to be able to meet you personally.

With best wishes, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Dr. A. Bader,

Dear Dr. Bader:

I purchased your book "Adventures of a Chemist Collector" in a Kingston book store for three reasons:

I was very impressed with your generous contribution to Queen's University and thought to myself that you and your wife were remarkable human beings and I would like to know more about you. My husband Bill started out his career as a technician at DRCL (Defence Research Chemical Laboratories) and I met him there in Ottawa. He is a chemist and I am a collector.

Imagine my surprize to find a picture of Dr. McKay and then to check the index and find he was one of your mentors. He was definitely "the" mentor to Bill and played an important part in our lives. Dr. McKay hired Bill in 1949 when Bill graduated from Danforth Technical School in Toronto (Grade 12) at the age of 17. Bill is et al on many papers Dr. McKay published. We still have copies of a few papers around here somewhere. One of Bill's treasured memories was when G.F. Wright visited Dr. McKay's laboratory and Dr. McKay pointed to Bill and said he had the best assistant beating out all of Wright's graduates. I started work at DRCL in 1952 and started typing the longest word I had ever seen - "methylnitrosanitroguanidine". In August 1953 Bill and I were married with Dr. and Mrs. McKay in attendance.

Dr. McKay left for Monsanto in the fall of 1953 and within a year called Bill and offered him employment at $310.00 per month. Off we went to Montreal into a basement apartment knowing we had made it. Bill got his B.Sc. at night school (Sir George Williams University) while working full time and above. Monsanto offered him production jobs and he became Plant Manager in 1962.

Bill joined Ontario Hydro to commission their new heavy water plant and be production manager in 1969. It was a very successful start-up with great production. In 1975 Atomic Energy of Canada purchased a run-down plant (CGE) in Cape Breton and offered Bill the opportunity to get it successfully producing heavy water. In 1980 he was made Executive Vice President of the Chemical Company (heavy water) with complete control over production, sales, etc. so imagine his surprize on reading in your book that you were purchasing heavy water from Chalk River (the research arm of AECL). However, it's a long time ago now. He eventually became Executive Vice President of the Radiochemical Co. (which later became privatized into two companies (Nordion and Theatronics). He was also a V.P. at Candu. Bill retired in 1987. He requested to be in Research (That was the one aspect of AECL that he didn't get an opportunity - perhaps it is just as well!) He asked that AECL help set up a small laboratory for a cheaper way of producing heavy water at our retirement home in Seeley's Bay and that too was denied.

A friend when asked how Bill was after leaving AECL said he was "the happiest man I know". It's true, we have a little corner of heaven here on a bay of the Rideau Canal.

We lost touch with Dr. McKay in the 1970's. Bill saw him in Toronto and Chicago. He wrote asking Bill for a reference (what a heartache asking his former dishwasher of testtubes for a reference). He was in New South Wales in Australia. Bill is still trying to find him via the Internet if he is still with us.

We will certainly let you know if we are successful in locating him. We have many stories - all with love, respect and thanks.

Thanks to your book for bringing back so many happy memories.

Kindest regards.

Dear Dr. Bader:

I am writing to add my congratulations to you for being the next recipient of the Parsons Award. That was a very nice article Ernie Carpenter wrote for Chemical and Engineering News.

I had intended to write to you last fall, after the ACS meeting. When I thanked you for your 25th anniversary SEED lecture, I meant it, even though the challenge of your remarks was not yet fully digested. I was moved by your discomfort with the word 'disadvantaged'. Your ability to examine and articulate the depth of your feeling enabled me to recall my own initially negative reaction to the term. I had suppressed that reaction, to get on with the work of SEED, and it was a pleasure to be able to recover and re-evaluate it.

For me, the most important thing you said was that, through SEED, the students "will stop being disadvantaged." Your phrase resonated with a conviction which has grown on me in recent years, that the psychology of victimization is very destructive. It helps make people feel powerless, stifles their constructive energies and makes them vulnerable to the dangerous influences of demagogues.

It is hard to know, but I think that many students I have talked to about participating in Project SEED have flinched at thinking of themselves as 'disadvantaged.' I thought I could see similar responses in the talks by former SEED students at the symposium. It seemed that they, who personally had stopped being disadvantaged, were having some difficulty trying to wear the label.

Your remarks suggested to me that it is time for the Society to reconsider the name of the program. The letters of the acronym begin enough words that 'SEED' would not have to be abandoned. It would be interesting to see what those most directly affected - the 4000 former SEED participants - would suggest.

Again, I offer my congratulations on the Parsons Award. We have all benefited from your wisdom in many ways.

Sincerely,

Edwin T. Harper

Dear Dr. Harrison:

When I spoke to Dr. Bader yesterday afternoon, he suggested I send you the enclosed. It is taken from the inaugural lecture given by Prof. Tadeus Reichstein at the E.T.H. Zürich on February 21, 1931 entitled "The Meaning of Alchemy." A copy of this lecture is available at Aldrich as its number Z22319-0 if still in stock.

Dr. Bader will check further when he returns from England after Christmas, as he has many books on the subject of alchemy.

TO: Alfred & Isabel

DATE: December 6, 1993

11/30 Last memo (11/29) had info re St. George. Here is what I have re purchase from Jernow, taken from the book: No. 1361, Mocking of Jesus (Does that equate to doubting Thomas?), Italian c. 1610, $1800.

Spent almost two hours with MK this afternoon going over the S-A chapter. Have my work cut out for me tomorrow.

12/1 Took me the better part of the day to incorporate MK's suggestions into your chapter. Of course, what with alterations made after you sent him the draft it was not an easy task. Now I am waiting to see what he thinks. He has suggested many deletions.

Two checks today: Sweo's November payment and $189 (payable to you) from Pam Stratton for the Taylor etching she sold in November.

12/2 It started raining last evening so most of the snow is gone this morning. Sunny so far today. The humidifiers are humming, and I alternate between turning heat on and off, depending upon the characteristics of the day.

12/3 Well, the orthopedist says it is arthritis. Mother will be taking something for five days which he hopes will move her "back" a couple of years--she was better two years ago. It's worth a try. We'll see!

12/6 A stack of mail from the house again today, but nothing urgent. Cold and windy day today, a little rain earlier, but now the sidewalks are dry, but it's still windy. We are not supposed to get anything but snow flurries and cold temperatures this week.

Had a call this morning from Dr. William Harrison in Idaho Falls, Idaho. He is studying history of mineralogy and need list of symbols used by ancient alchemists. He called Aldrich and was not successful there--do you know where he might find such a list? (telephone 208 526 1970, address 5430 Kolob Drive, Idaho Falls, Idaho 83401)

Charles Munch would like you to call him; he missed you the last time he called. He might bring some paintings to Milwaukee about the 16th, but would like to talk to you before then. The date is uncertain because of weather conditions. 608 583 2431.

Dr. and Mrs. Mel Henkin

Tarzana, CA 91356

Dear Faith and Mel:

We so look forward to seeing you next Saturday, April 1st.

Linda and Daniel are arriving about 2 hours before we will, they on Midwest Express and we on Northwest, and we have found that there is a frequent shuttle arranged for, I believe, by the American Chemical Society, which takes passengers from the Los Angeles Airport to the various hotels in Anaheim for just $10 per person. That makes life easier.

We should be at our hotel, the Holiday Inn Maingate near Disneyland, by mid-Saturday afternoon, and we could then go to the formal dinner together.

Could you perhaps leave a message at our hotel because it would be so nice if we could get together earlier that afternoon.

On Sunday, April the 2nd, we have a real problem explained in the enclosed letter from Mr. Rudolph Joseph. He is a knowledgeable collector of paintings and drawings, a German Jew, even more ancient than we, namely around 92. We have written to him to say that we simply could not undertake to rent a car to come from Anaheim to Santa Barbara and back and yet it is clear from his letter that he would love to see us. He has written a most interesting autobiography and has been involved in a great many things, not just works of art, but also the theater, in Germany in the 1920's!

Would you consider coming from Anaheim to Montecito with us and then come back to Anaheim late that Sunday evening?

On Monday morning, April the 3rd, the president of a chemical company, Spectrum, plans to pick us up for breakfast at 9:00 a.m., but we plan to be back from that late in the morning and have kept Monday afternoon completely free in case you might like to spend it with us.

At 6:30 that Monday evening, another president of a scientific company will have us picked up for dinner, but Tuesday is relatively free except that we have another formal dinner in the evening at which I am to present a Bader Award.

Sometime between Monday and Tuesday, we would like to look at the chemical exhibits, one of them from Aldrich, but in the last few weeks we have seen so many exhibits, in Nashville and New Orleans, that the less time we spend on that, the happier we will be.

And, of course, the more time we can spend with you, the happier we will be also.

Fond regards from Isabel and me, as always,

AB/cw

Dear Helmut,

Thank you so much for your most interesting Newsletter #6 just received.

Isabel and I wish that we could attend the Reunion on Saturday, but sadly we cannot.

Of course all of us remember May 12th sixty years ago, and that is also the 76th anniversary of my father's death.

We are sorry that we missed you in London, but as you know we had to fly to Glasgow for an honorary doctorate. As McLain's magazine put it in their latest issue, the honorary doctorates we have received go into the thousands. My next one is from Brno which will be given on June 12th. As my friends say: there is no conceit in Bader's family, it is all in him.

With all good wishes from house to house I remain

Yours sincerely,
Alfred Bader
