Dear Judith,

To Dr. Boris CardA
Fax 613 533 6822

Please don't mind that I have taken so long to respond to your e-mail of March 20th regarding my manuscript.

3 pages

I think that I would prefer that this be published as a "for-by" book in which case it would be great if we could have an Introduction by the Principal.

I am sorry to note that the requirements are so stringent for the McGill/Queen's Press to consider this now. The eighteen chapters are practically completed, though I am still working on two chapters, the one on How not to Deaccession Paintings and the second discussing the Josef Loschmidt Chair at the Masaryk University in Brno, in my last chapter. Thus, I cannot yet give the Press the final manuscript, though it is certain that it will not differ substantially from what I have already sent.

Next week I will prepare a list of photographs, stating in each case whether it should be in color or in black/white.

When I submitted the manuscript for my first book to Weidenfeld & Nicolson, they quoted a modest price but then I received refunds as they sold the book.

Dr. Kastel has been most helpful in publishing a shortened version of one chapter in the Queen's Quarterly just being printed. I plan to discuss these problems with him shortly.

Subject: Update from McGill Queen's re: your manuscript

Good morning again, Alfred,

I met last week with Don Akenson, the editor of McGill Queen's University Press, and left with him the draft manuscript and cds.

Yesterday I heard back from Don, who proposes two paths for your consideration:

1) The book would be published as a "for-by" book. That is, the title page will say, "published for _____ (perhaps the Agnes Etherington Art Centre?? ) by MQUP. In this case, a) an introduction by the Principal would be appropriate, and b) the manuscript would not be held to the same standard of peer review as other (academic) publications. It would, of course, be advertised in the MQUP catalogues, and review copies would be sent out.

OR

2) The book would be published as a "regular" book. If you choose this path, the manuscript would be sent to two expert peer reviewers. You would revise the manuscript, taking into account their comments. After that, the manuscript would be submitted to the MQUP Publications Review Committee for their consideration and approval. Don tells me that, if you were to select this path, an introduction by the Principal would not be appropriate.

Alfred, in either case, it will be important to get for you a sense of the cost, and for this, Don requires two copies of the final manuscript, prepared in accordance with their style sheet, a copy of which I will fax to you shortly. The pages of the manuscript have to be numbered seriatim and they need a list of the illustrations to be enclosed. This should be a list of figures running seriatim, and they will need clear photocopies of the items and the specifications, such as whether or not they are in colour, and so on.

Alfred, once you have had a chance to review and consider these options, please be in touch and I will be happy to assist in the dealings with MQUP.

Take best care,

Judith

Dear Alfred,

Thank you for your return fax of yesterday.

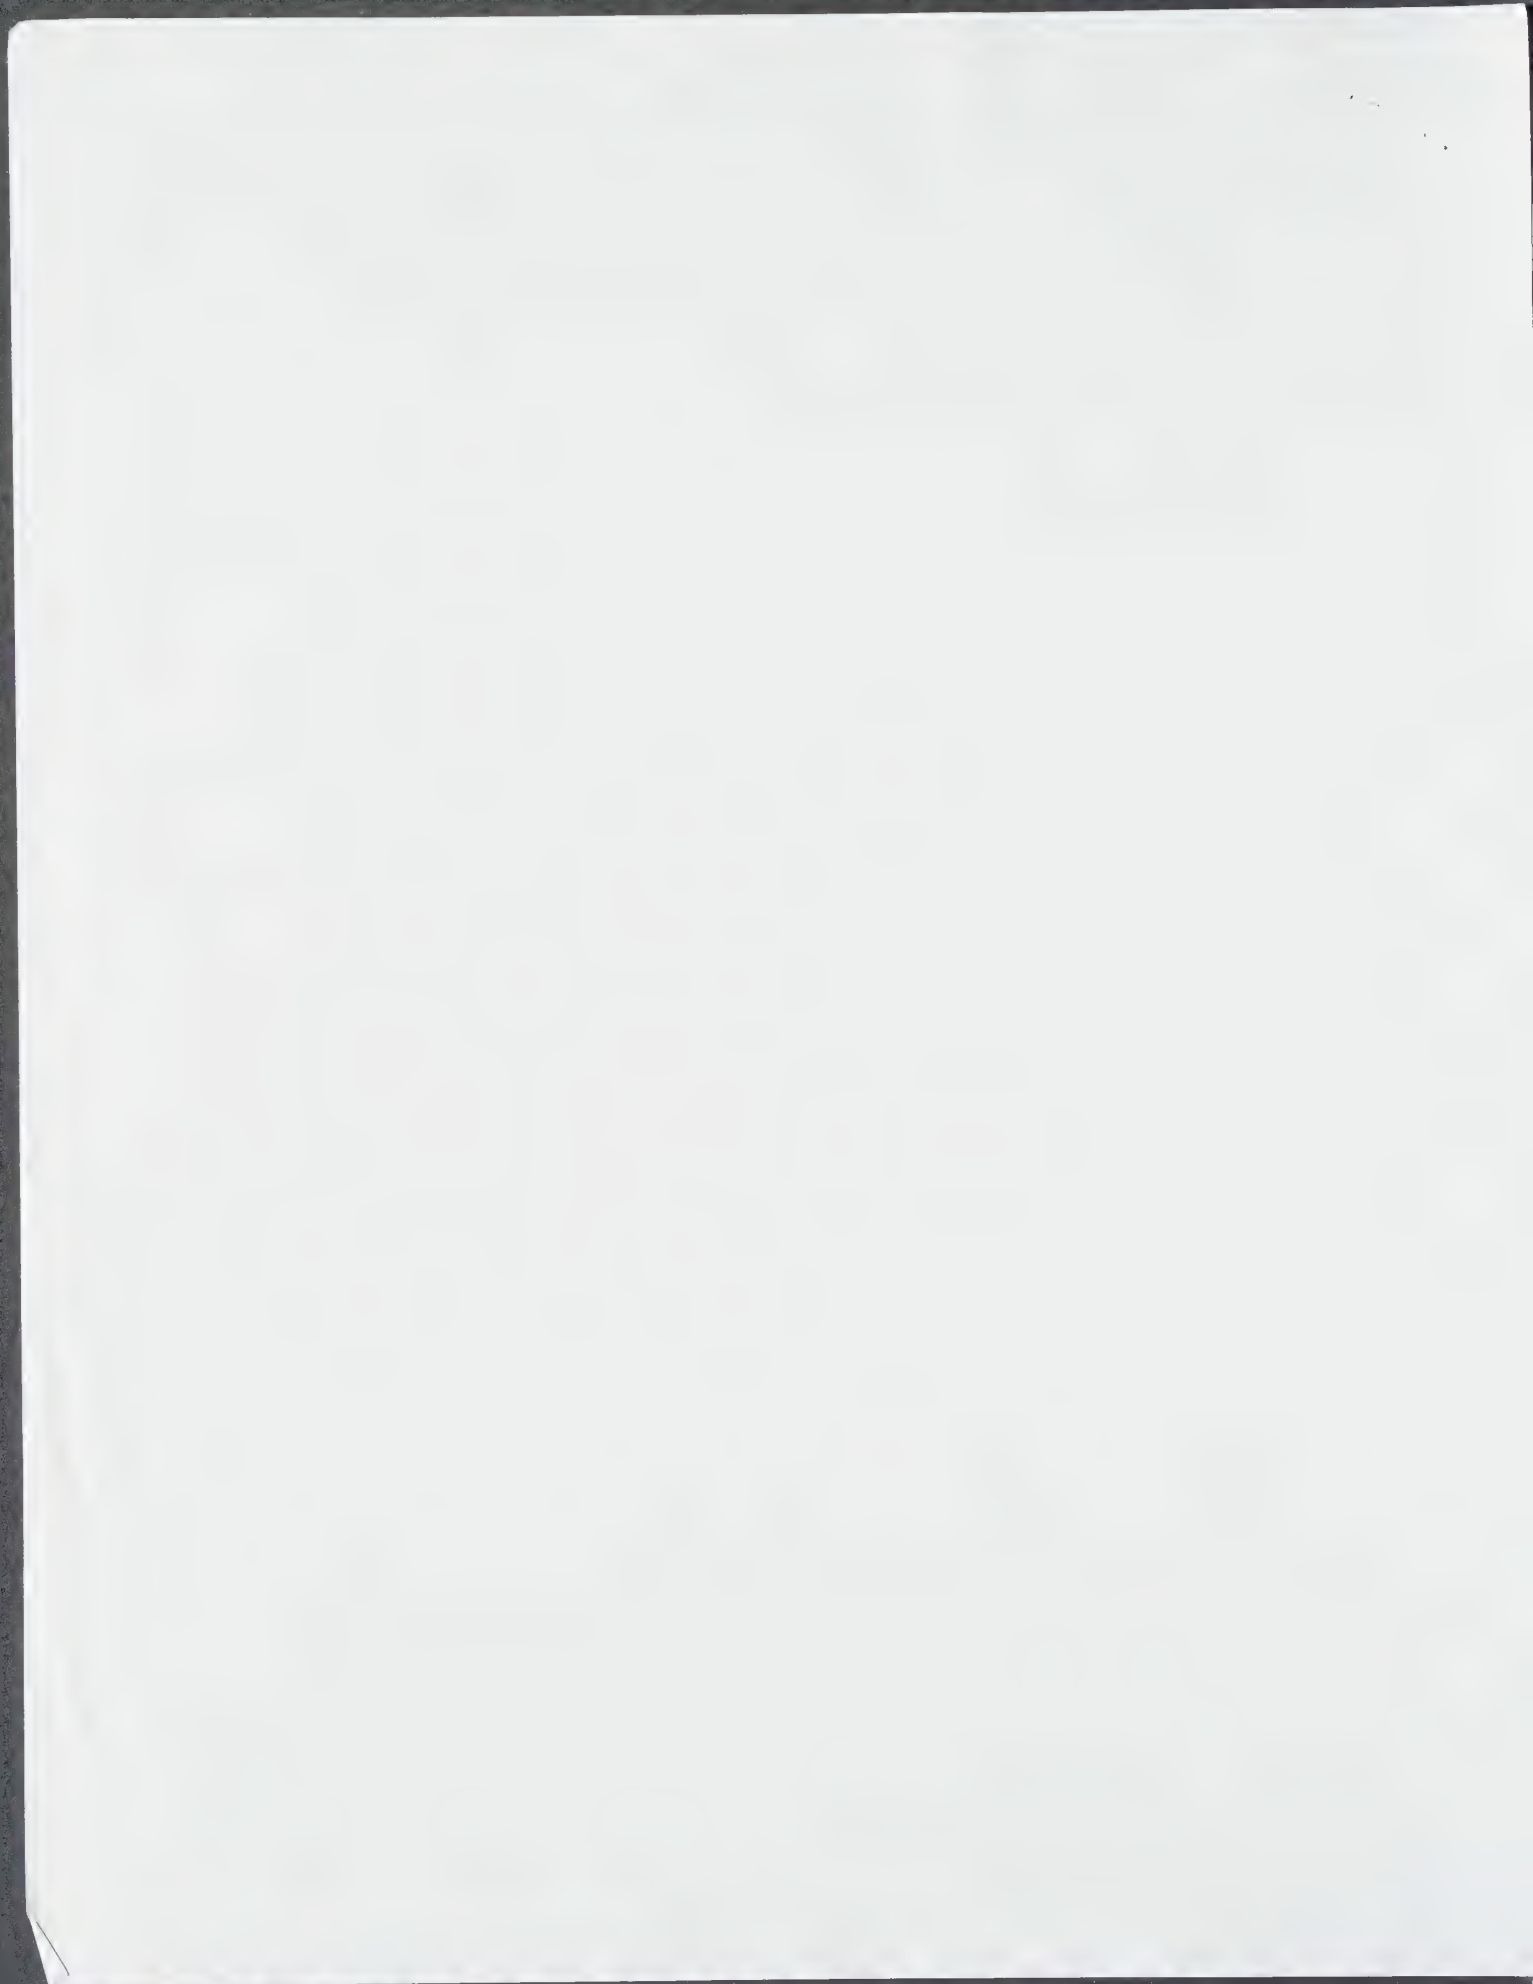

I'm glad you and Isabel will be able to have dinner with Bob and me. We're thinking that it might be simplest to eat at your hotel. Let's plan to meet in the lobby at 6pm, and then go to the restaurant. I'll look after reservations.

I'm glad I can join you in the van – please don't worry about needing to work – I'll no doubt have things to do as well.

Thanks also for agreeing to meet with Jack Chiang. I believe that several people have had a similar experience with the Whig's "creative" reporting – I appreciate your being such a good sport. Maybe he will be the exception that proves the rule –

While I'm on the subject, I know you are a football fan, but I did want to make sure you knew that the AEAC is doing a repeat performance in the Bader gallery of the informal seminars that they did, where David de Witt and Sebastian Schutze speak about different paintings. It's being held in the Bader Gallery on Saturday afternoon, as part of our new Education Programming – to give an alternative to folks who don't care to watch the game. The timing is 2 to 4pm. Please let me know if this changes your thinking with respect to the football. Of course, you could do both!

Tim Fort from Drama would be happy to meet with Isabel on Friday morning. Her books are here, in good hands, and Tim can let her know where they are being used. We'll look after the receipting at the Advancement Business Office. I'm also working with Gordon Smith in Music to find some time for a get-together, and I'll let you know how I make out.

I'm sorry that you won't be at the Grant Hall dinner, and that Daniel won't be at the Board meeting (neither will I, since my term is over --) however I hope we will make next weekend full enough for the entire fall!

Take best care,

Judith

Dear Judith,

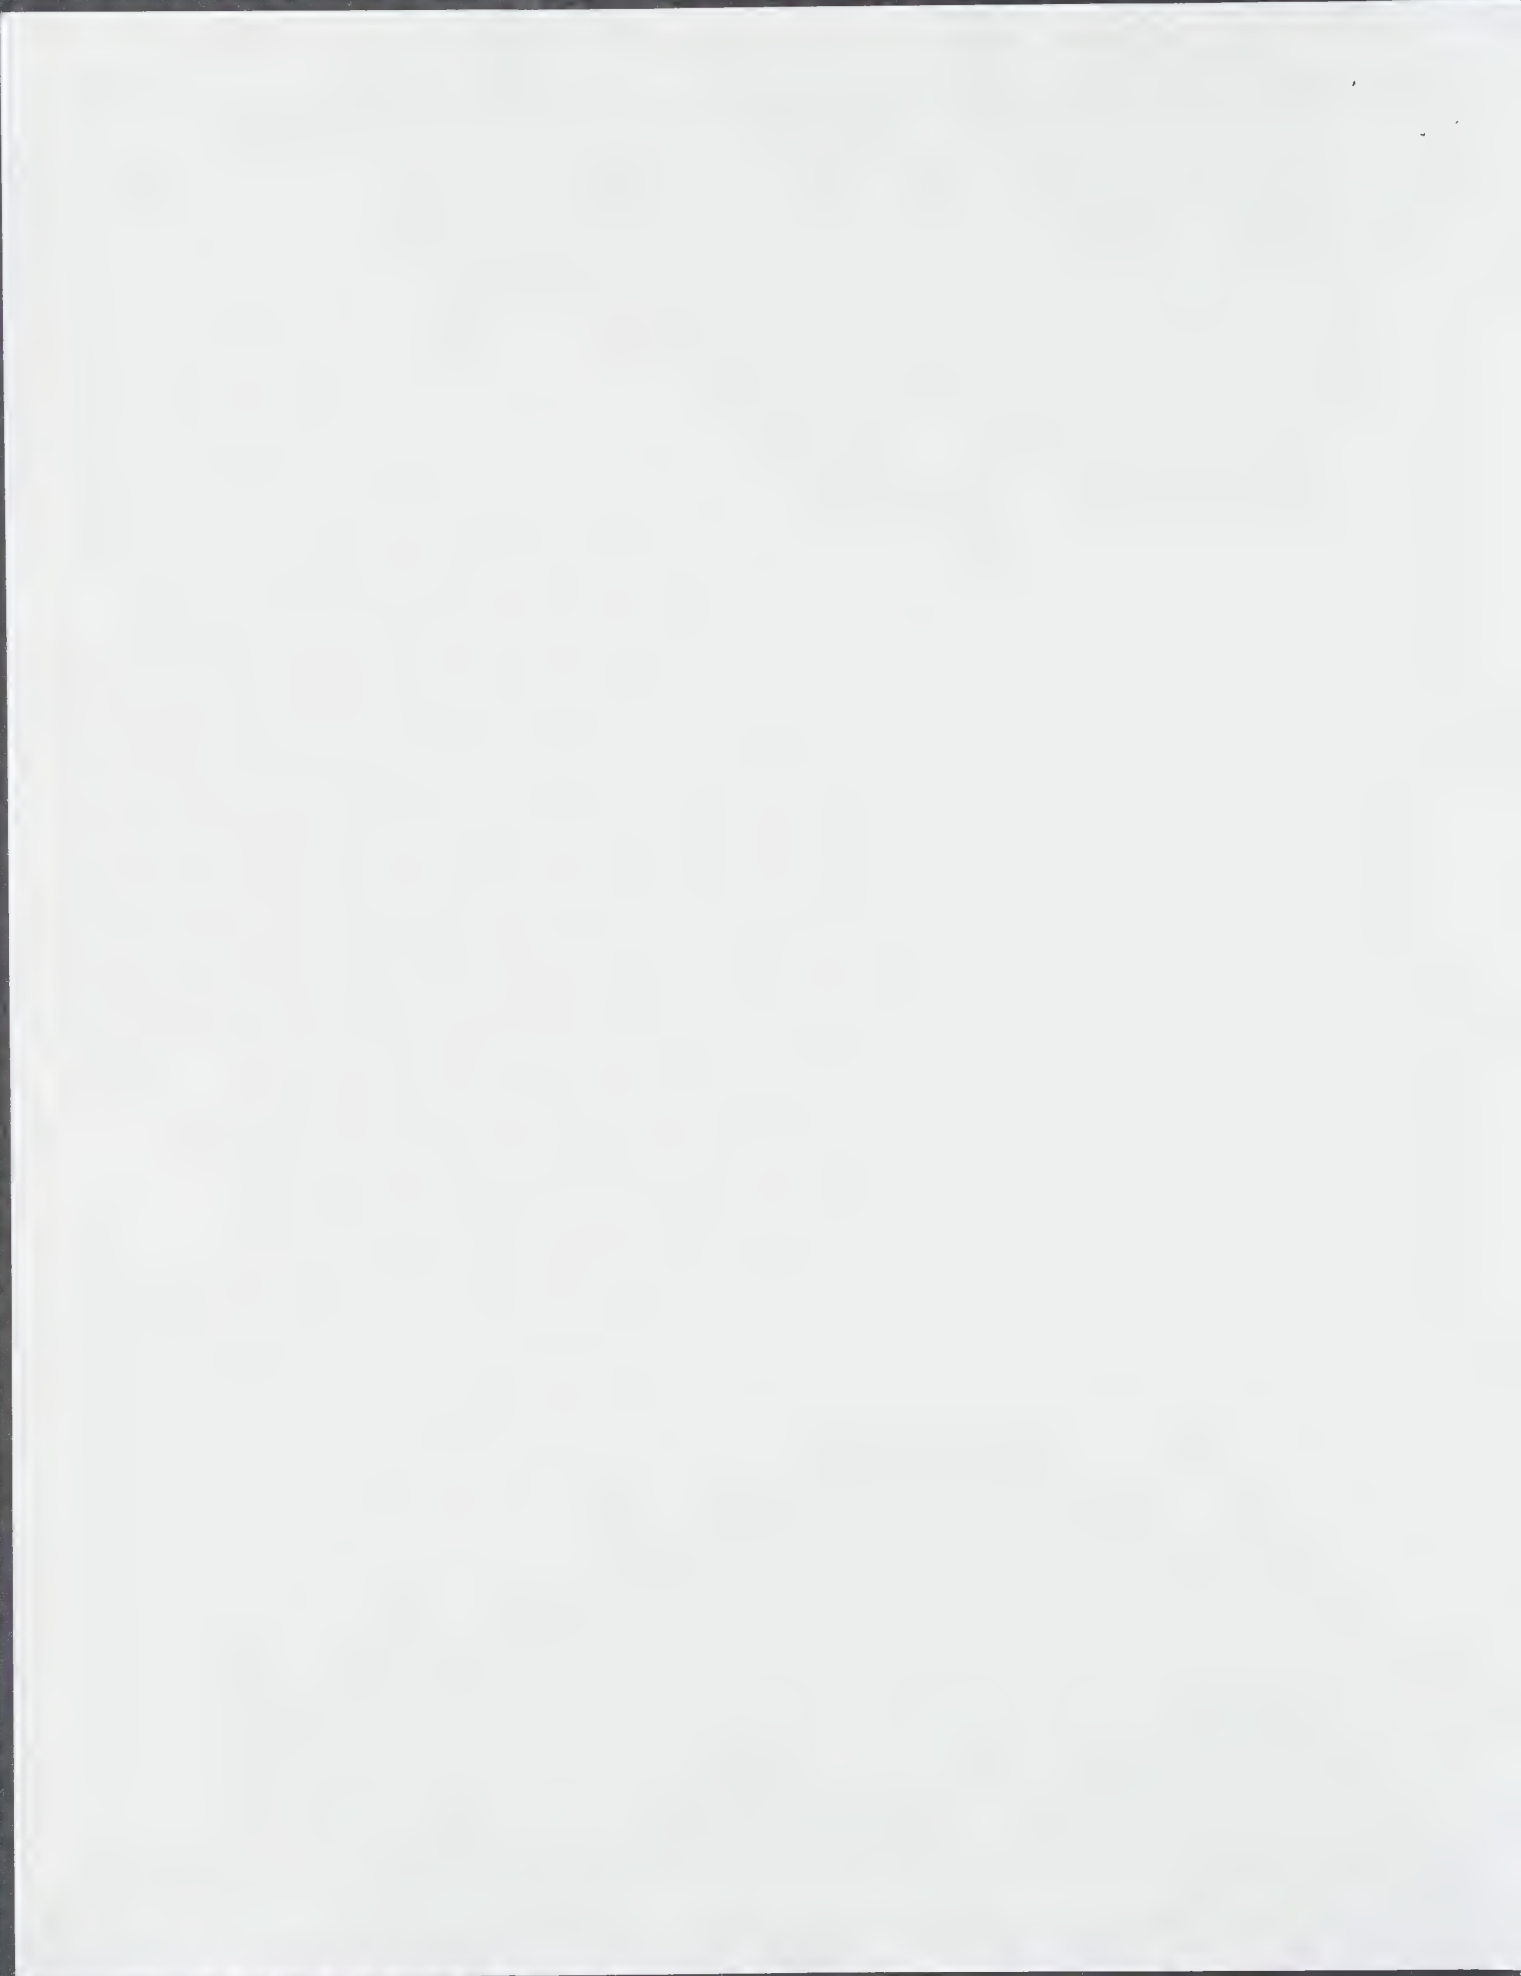

Thank you for your long fax of yesterday, received this morning.

Let me answer your questions first:

1. It would be great if we could have dinner with you and Bob Silverman at 6 PM on Wednesday evening. Between our arrival at the hotel and 6 PM we want to go quickly to Victoria University to meet with Dr. Brandeis and with Ruth Clark, Isabel's old friend.
2. Of course it will be great to have you join us in the shuttle van from Toronto to Kingston. I may have to spend a little time proofreading some entries David de Witt will just have sent me, but most of the time I'll be able to talk to you.
3. I will be happy to talk to the reporter from the Kingston Whig Standard. I will tell you, but not him, that I have never been interviewed by the Kingston Whig Standard, and then have the report published correctly.
4. It would be nice if we were invited for dinner by art historians on Thursday evening.
5. On Friday morning Isabel would like to spend some time with the folks at Drama and/or Music while I am in Chemistry. Of course I very much want to talk to Victor Snieckus and always like to say hello to David Wardlaw, though I don't think I have much to discuss with him.

We are leaving Toronto on Sunday at 8:25 PM, Midwest Express flight 2297.

Unfortunately we cannot attend the Grant Hall dinner this year. Getting from Milwaukee to Kingston is not easy unless Daniel flies and sadly he will not be able to come to the Board of Trustees meeting on September 30th.

We have been invited to come to special festivities at the Agnes after the Holiday Inn Science '45 dinner on Friday evening. Mrs. Koven has told us that we would be welcome even if we came at 10 PM, but of course usually 9:30 is my bedtime.

Rosetta Elkin, Queen's B.A. '46 and the mother of Rabbi Daniel Elkin, is coming to visit and stay with her son, arriving on the Thursday evening. She is 90, in very good spirits, and is working on a biography of her father, Martin Wolff, not unknown to civil engineering at Queen's. Naturally I would like to spend some time with her other than at synagogue on Saturday morning. I will suggest to Rabbi Elkin that 4 PM on Friday might be a good time.

Last December Isabel gave a good many fine books on costume and drama to Eugene Svoboda, the librarian at the Castle, asking him to have these shipped to Queen's. He misunderstood and the boxes were still with him this last May. Then Isabel reminded him that these were a follow up of a previous shipment that ended up at the Stauffer Library with special stickers, and Eugene arranged to ship them in July. The books are not without value and Isabel would really like to have a valuation, hoping of course that they arrived safely in Kingston and are appreciated.

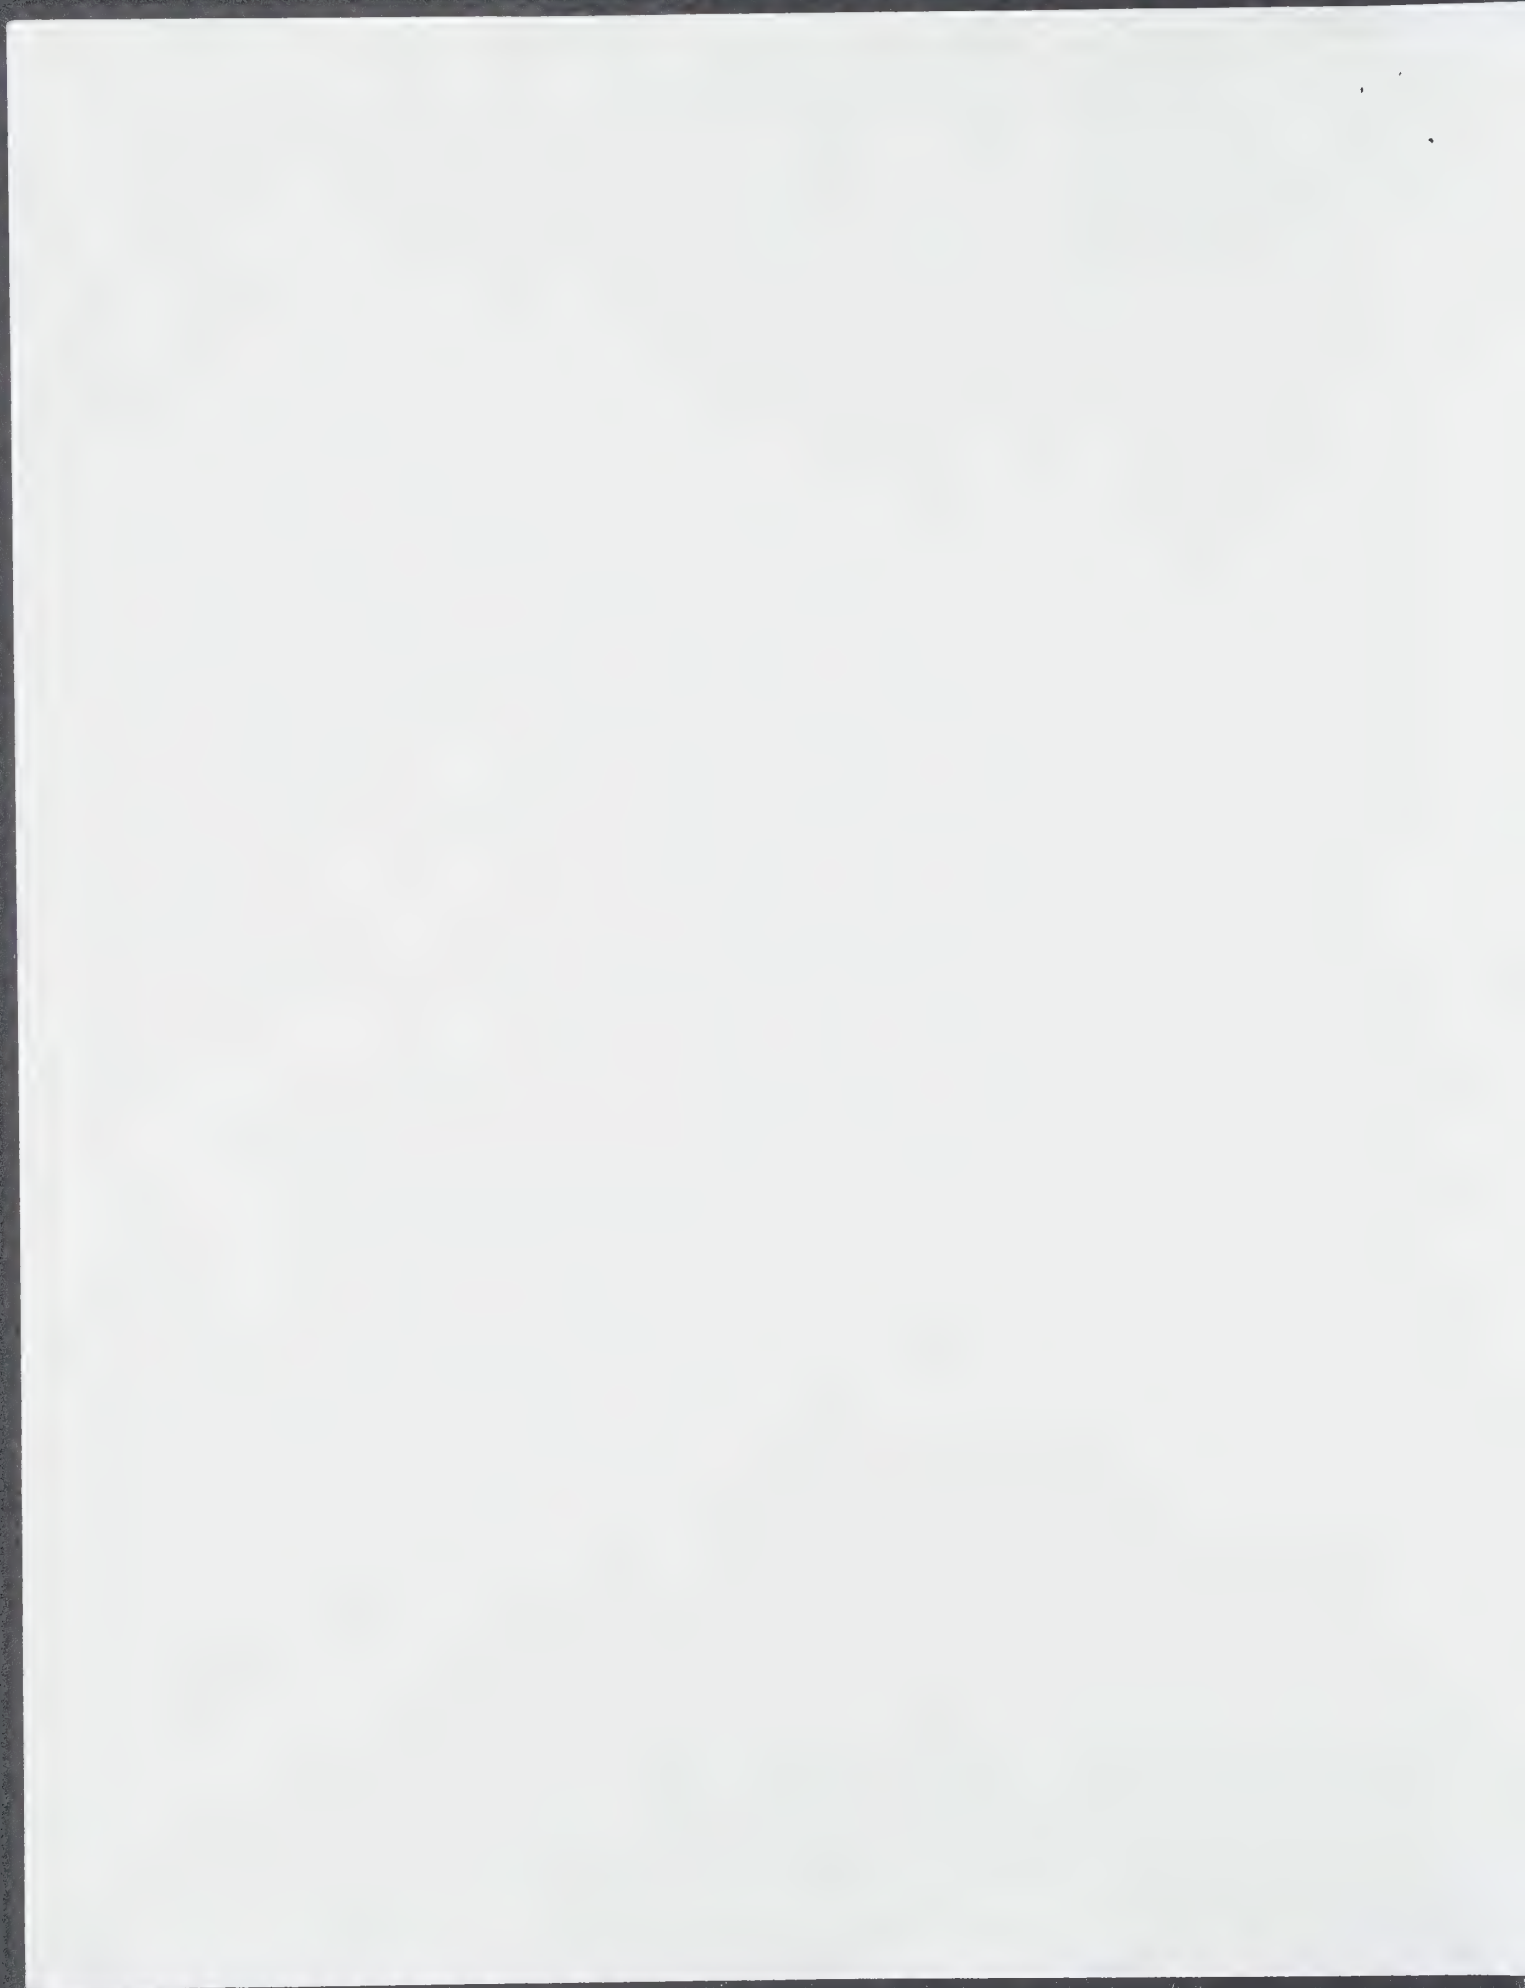

Isabel and I certainly look forward to seeing you in Toronto and remain with fond regards

Yours sincerely,

Alfred Bader

Dear Alfred,

I had been working on your schedule when your fax arrived, and so have a new draft ready for you to look at. I'll have to confirm a few things, but this will give you an idea.

I've tried to keep it less hectic – not easy to do, as you know!

A few questions for you to think about also –

- Would you be available to have dinner with Bob Silverman and me on Wednesday evening? We could either eat at your hotel, or somewhere else close.
- Would you mind my going with you in the Shuttle Van from Toronto to Kingston, after your talk on Thursday morning? Please don't worry if you'd rather not; it's easy to find a way back with colleagues, but I thought it would give us a chance to catch up a little.
- A reporter and noted photographer from the Kingston Whig Standard, Jack Chiang, would like to interview you, and wondered whether he might have a few minutes of your time at the football game on Saturday afternoon, if you're planning to attend. He'd like to talk about Homecoming with you. Would you be agreeable to that?

- The evening of Thursday, September 22, might be a nice time to have supper with friends – I've asked David McTavish if he's available and we could build a nice group of art people. Very unfortunately, I must be at the Annual Alumni Assembly's Board meeting, which is going to be a supper meeting, so I wouldn't be able to join you. But I'd be happy to set something up
- Would Isabel like to spend some time with either the drama or the music folks, perhaps while you're with Chemistry?
- Would you mind sending me your flight number for the way back, so I can give it to the Professional Shuttle folks?

I have arranged a meeting with Principal Hitchcock, who can update you on the land acquisition and Herstmonceux.

Alfred, thank you for getting back to me, and I apologize for the slew of questions –

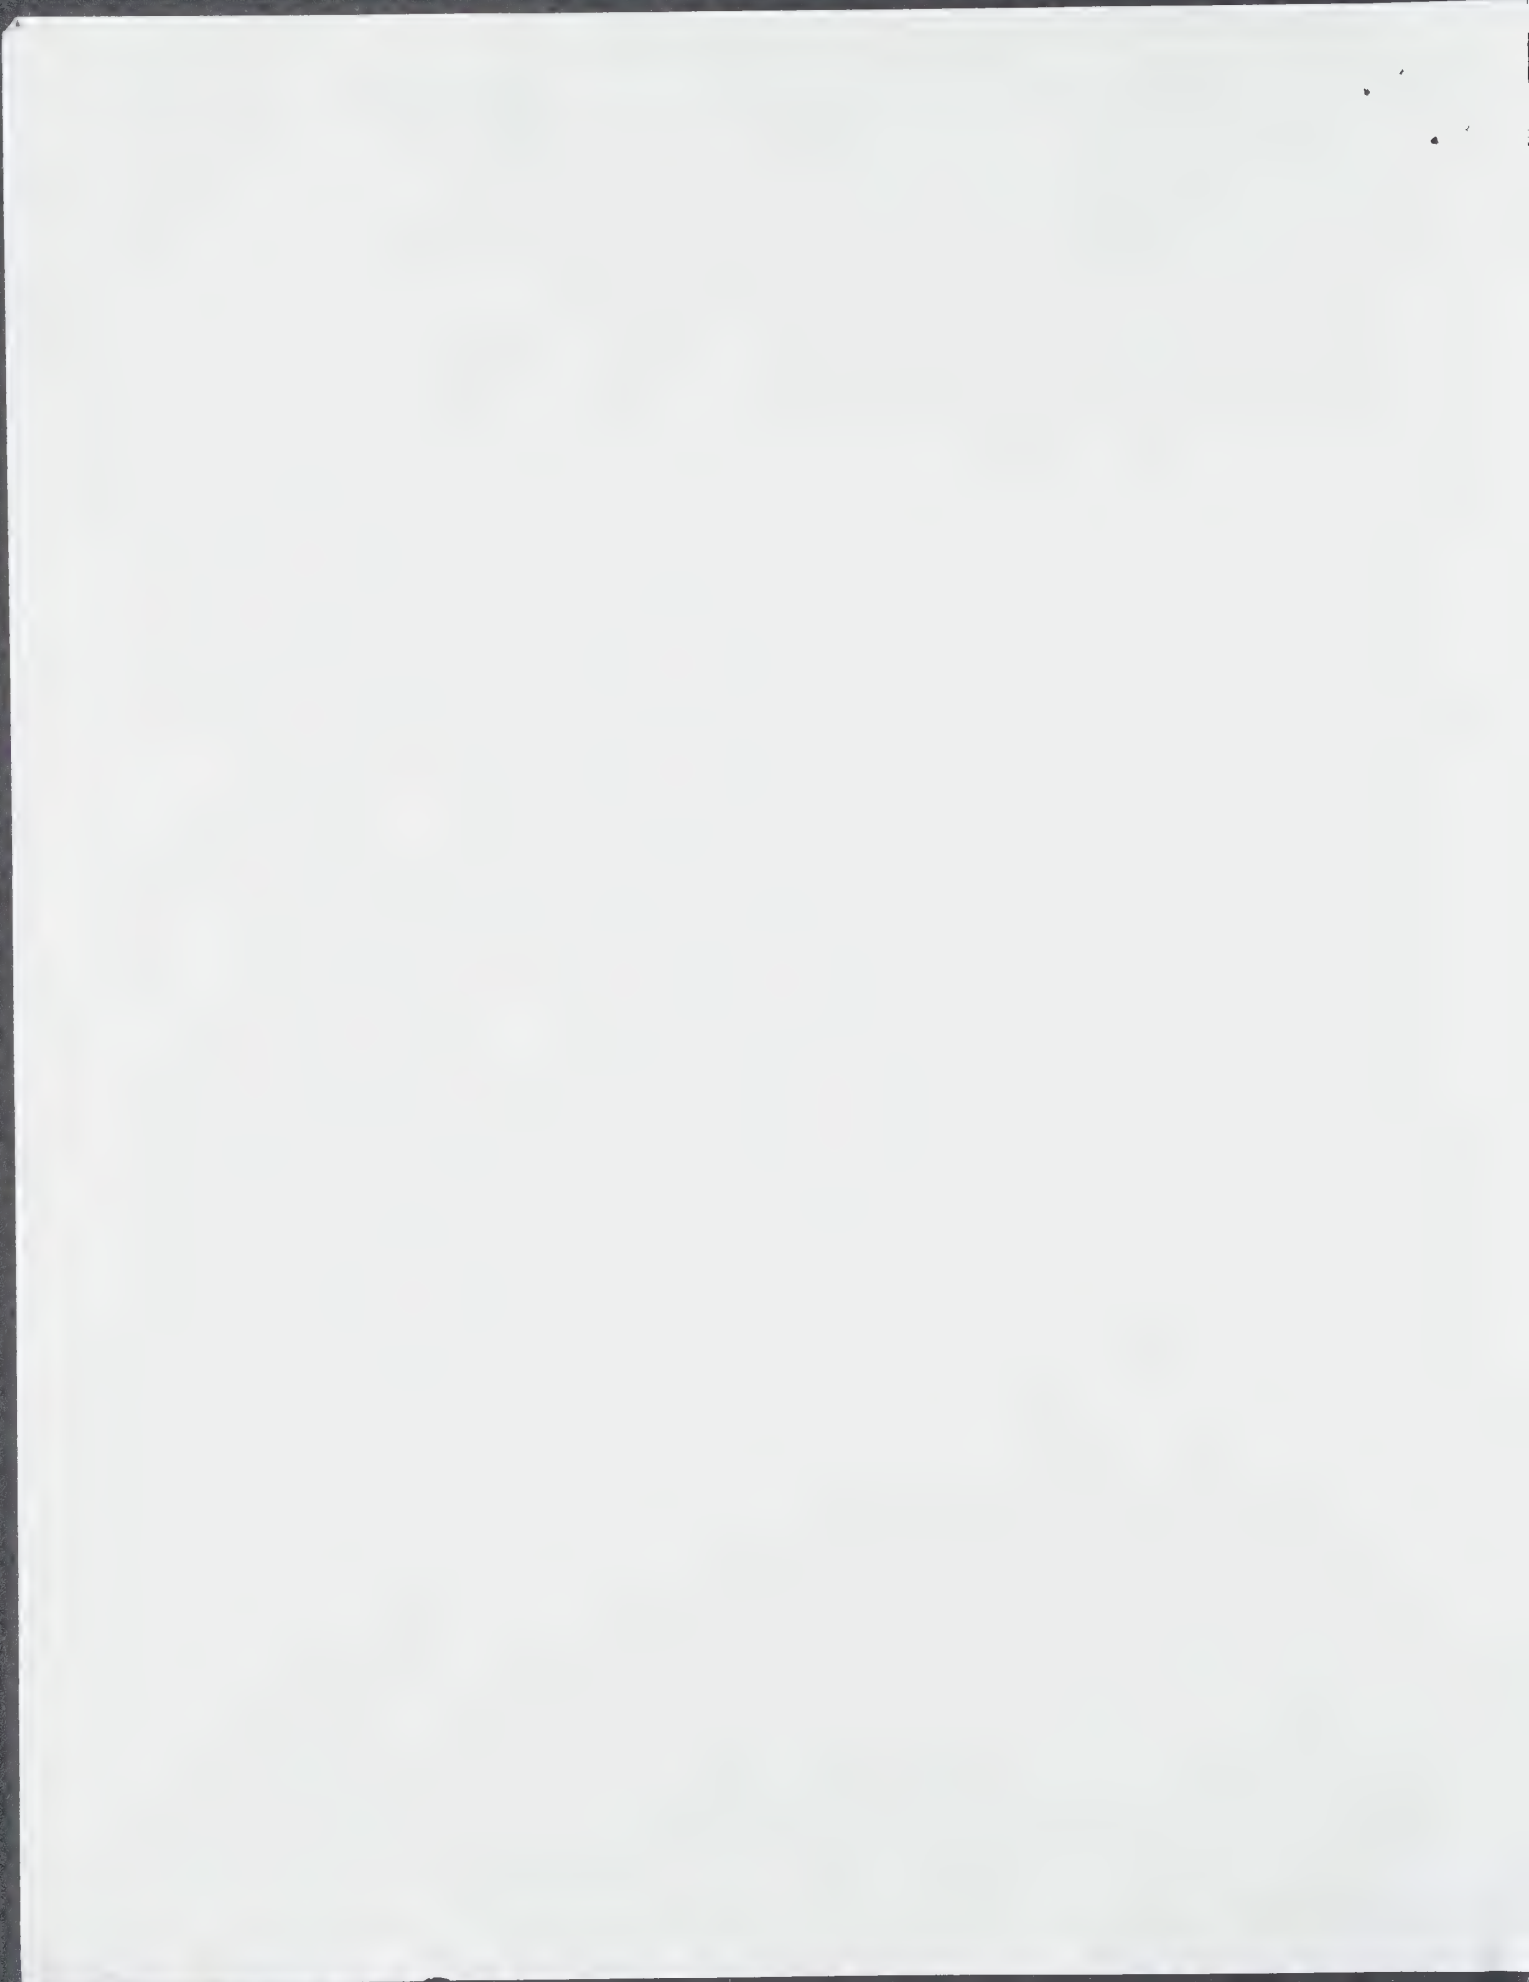

We can also clear up the arrangements for Professor Schutze's work when you get here.

Take best care,

Judith

PS I haven't thought to ask whether you are planning to attend the Grant Hall dinner this year? It's again scheduled over the Board weekend Oct. 1.

Dear Judith,

We are getting ready for the reunion weekend at the end of the month.

I understand that when we arrive in Toronto by Midwest Express 2293 at 2:30 PM we are to take a cab to the King Edward Hotel at 37 King Street East where Nikki has booked a room, conf. #112540956.

The next morning after my talk we will be picked up from the hotel and taken to the Donald Gordon Centre.

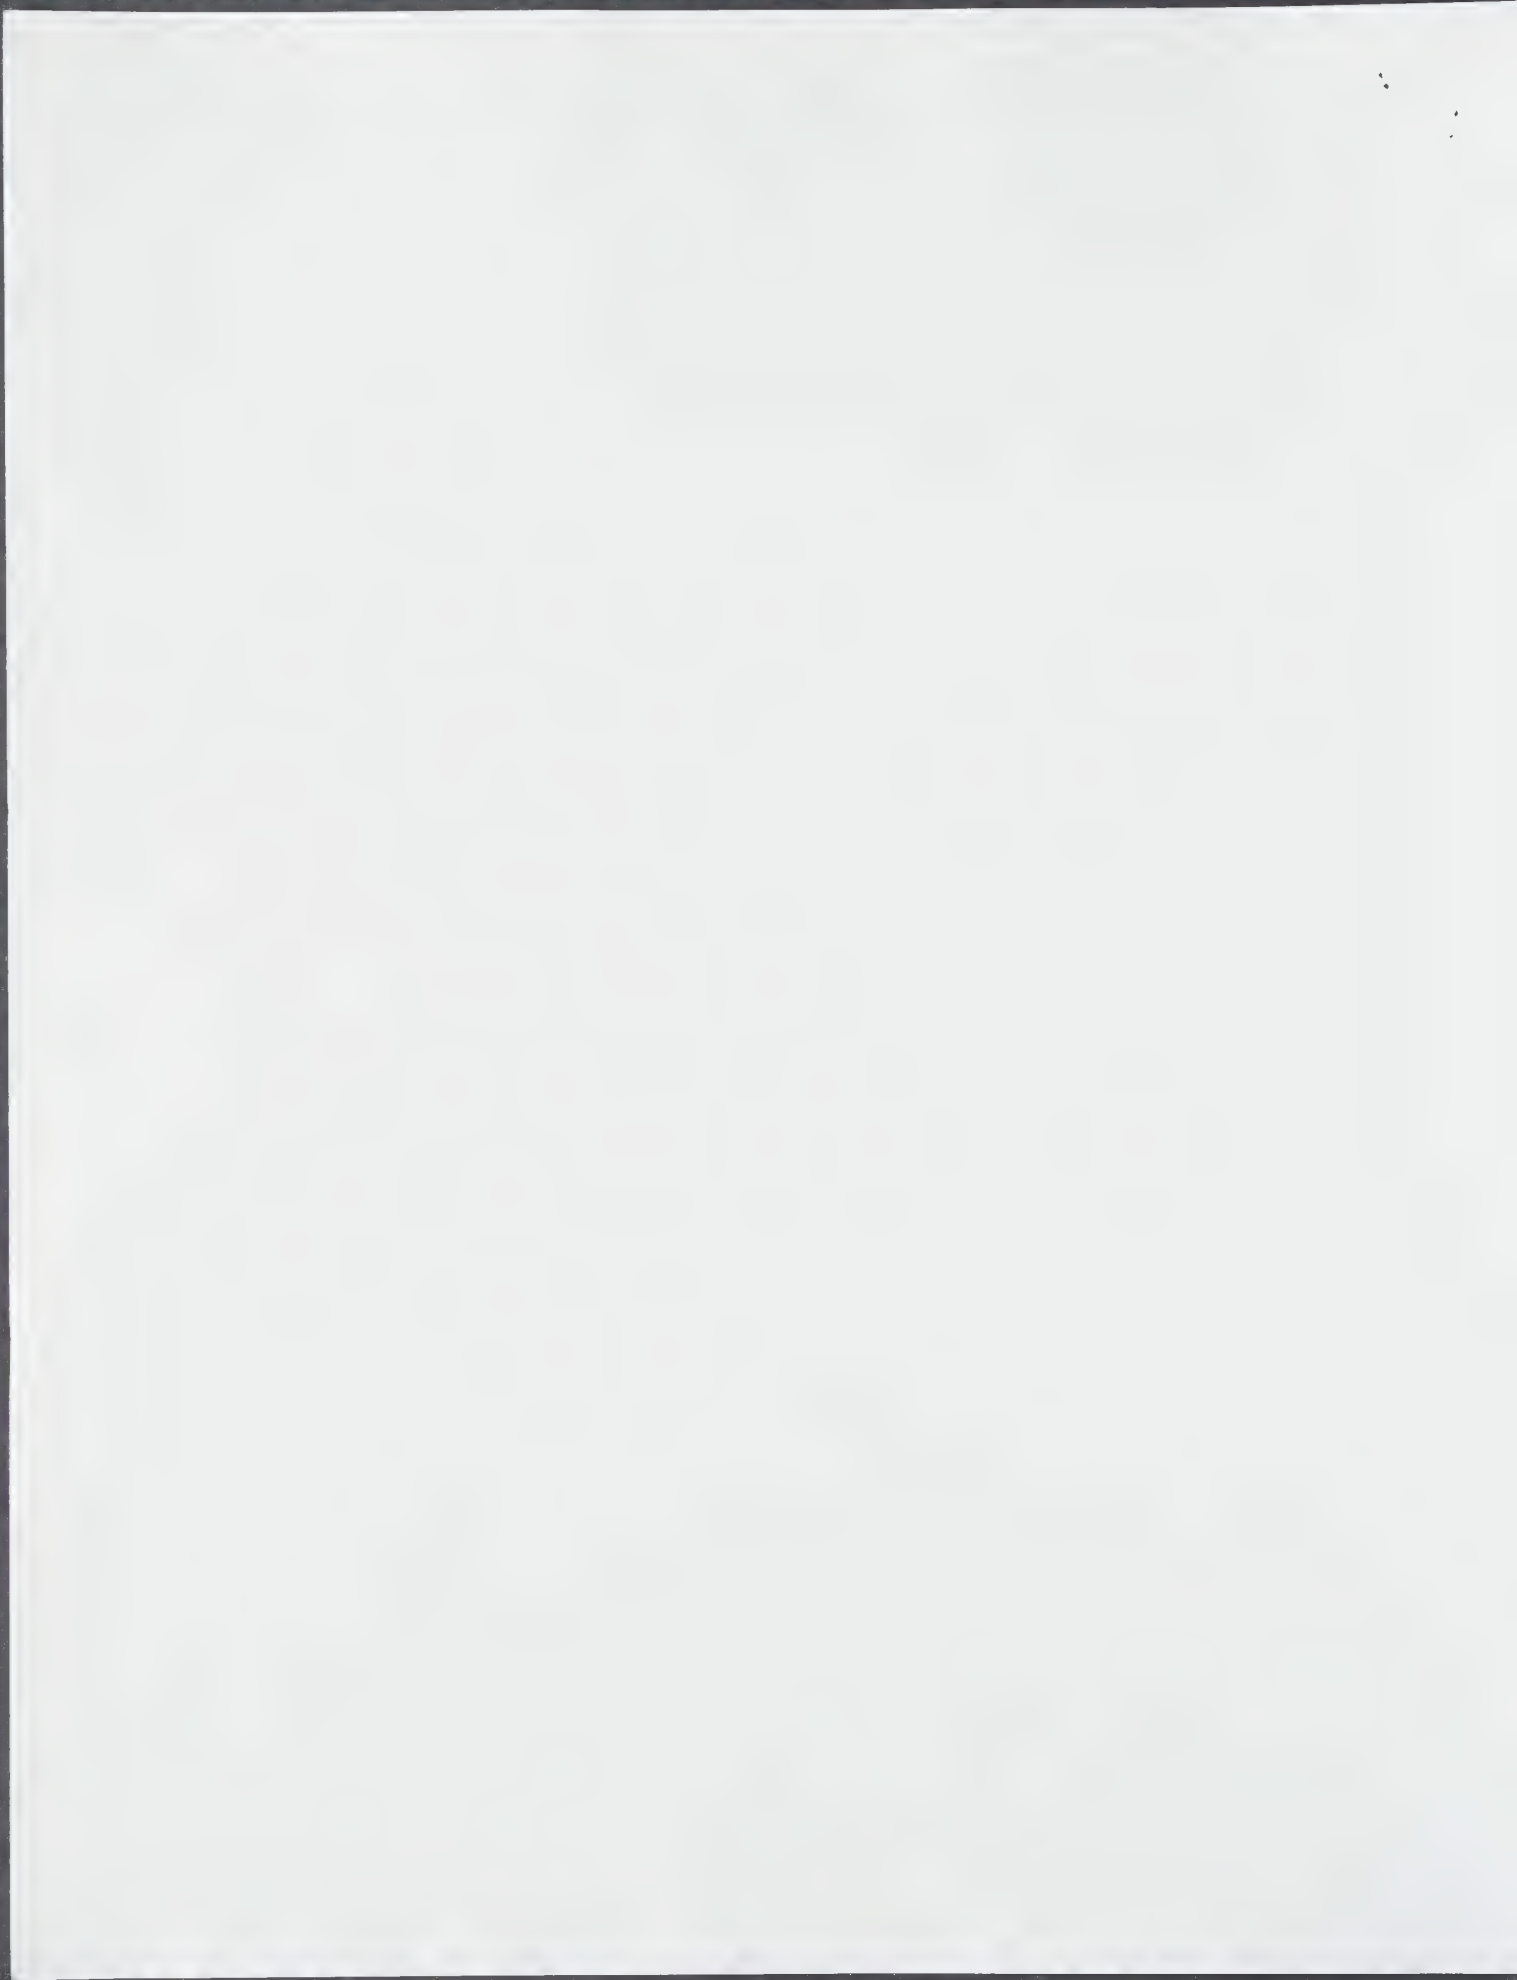

On Friday evening there is a class dinner, Science '45, at the Holiday Inn. On Saturday evening we are invited to a reception with the Chancellor at 6 PM followed by a dinner with the Principal and the Chancellor at Ban Righ Hall.

This will give us time on Thursday afternoon and Friday to talk to the many people we would like to meet.

We have arranged to spend a few hours with David de Witt after the alumni breakfast on Sunday morning, and we can stay in Kingston until we are picked up and taken to the Toronto airport where we have to be at about 7 PM to catch an 8:25 PM flight.

On Thursday and Friday I would like to visit with Janet Brooke, Barbara Klempan, David McTavish, Sebastian Schütze, the Dean of the Law School, Victor Snieckus and others whom you will think of.

I have promised to pay C $15,000 for Professor Schütze's associate in Rome for a period of five years. Now, however, I would like to give Queen's the outstanding balance for the entire three years simply because I am getting older and do not want my estate to be burdened with that obligation.

Professor Schütze is doing a wonderful job, is now the Chairman of the department and will, I hope, stay with us for longer than three years. But should he leave before then, the remaining money would merely be transferred to our Abeyance Fund.

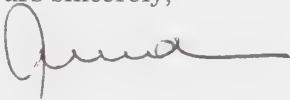

Most important, have you received the valuation of the land from the City of Kingston?

Have you heard from Herstmonceux about the David Smith dormitory?

No doubt you will think of other matters to discuss.

With best wishes I remain

Yours sincerely,

Dear Alfred,

As promised, I've been in touch with Janet Brooke about your beautiful Lievens painting and its appraisal.

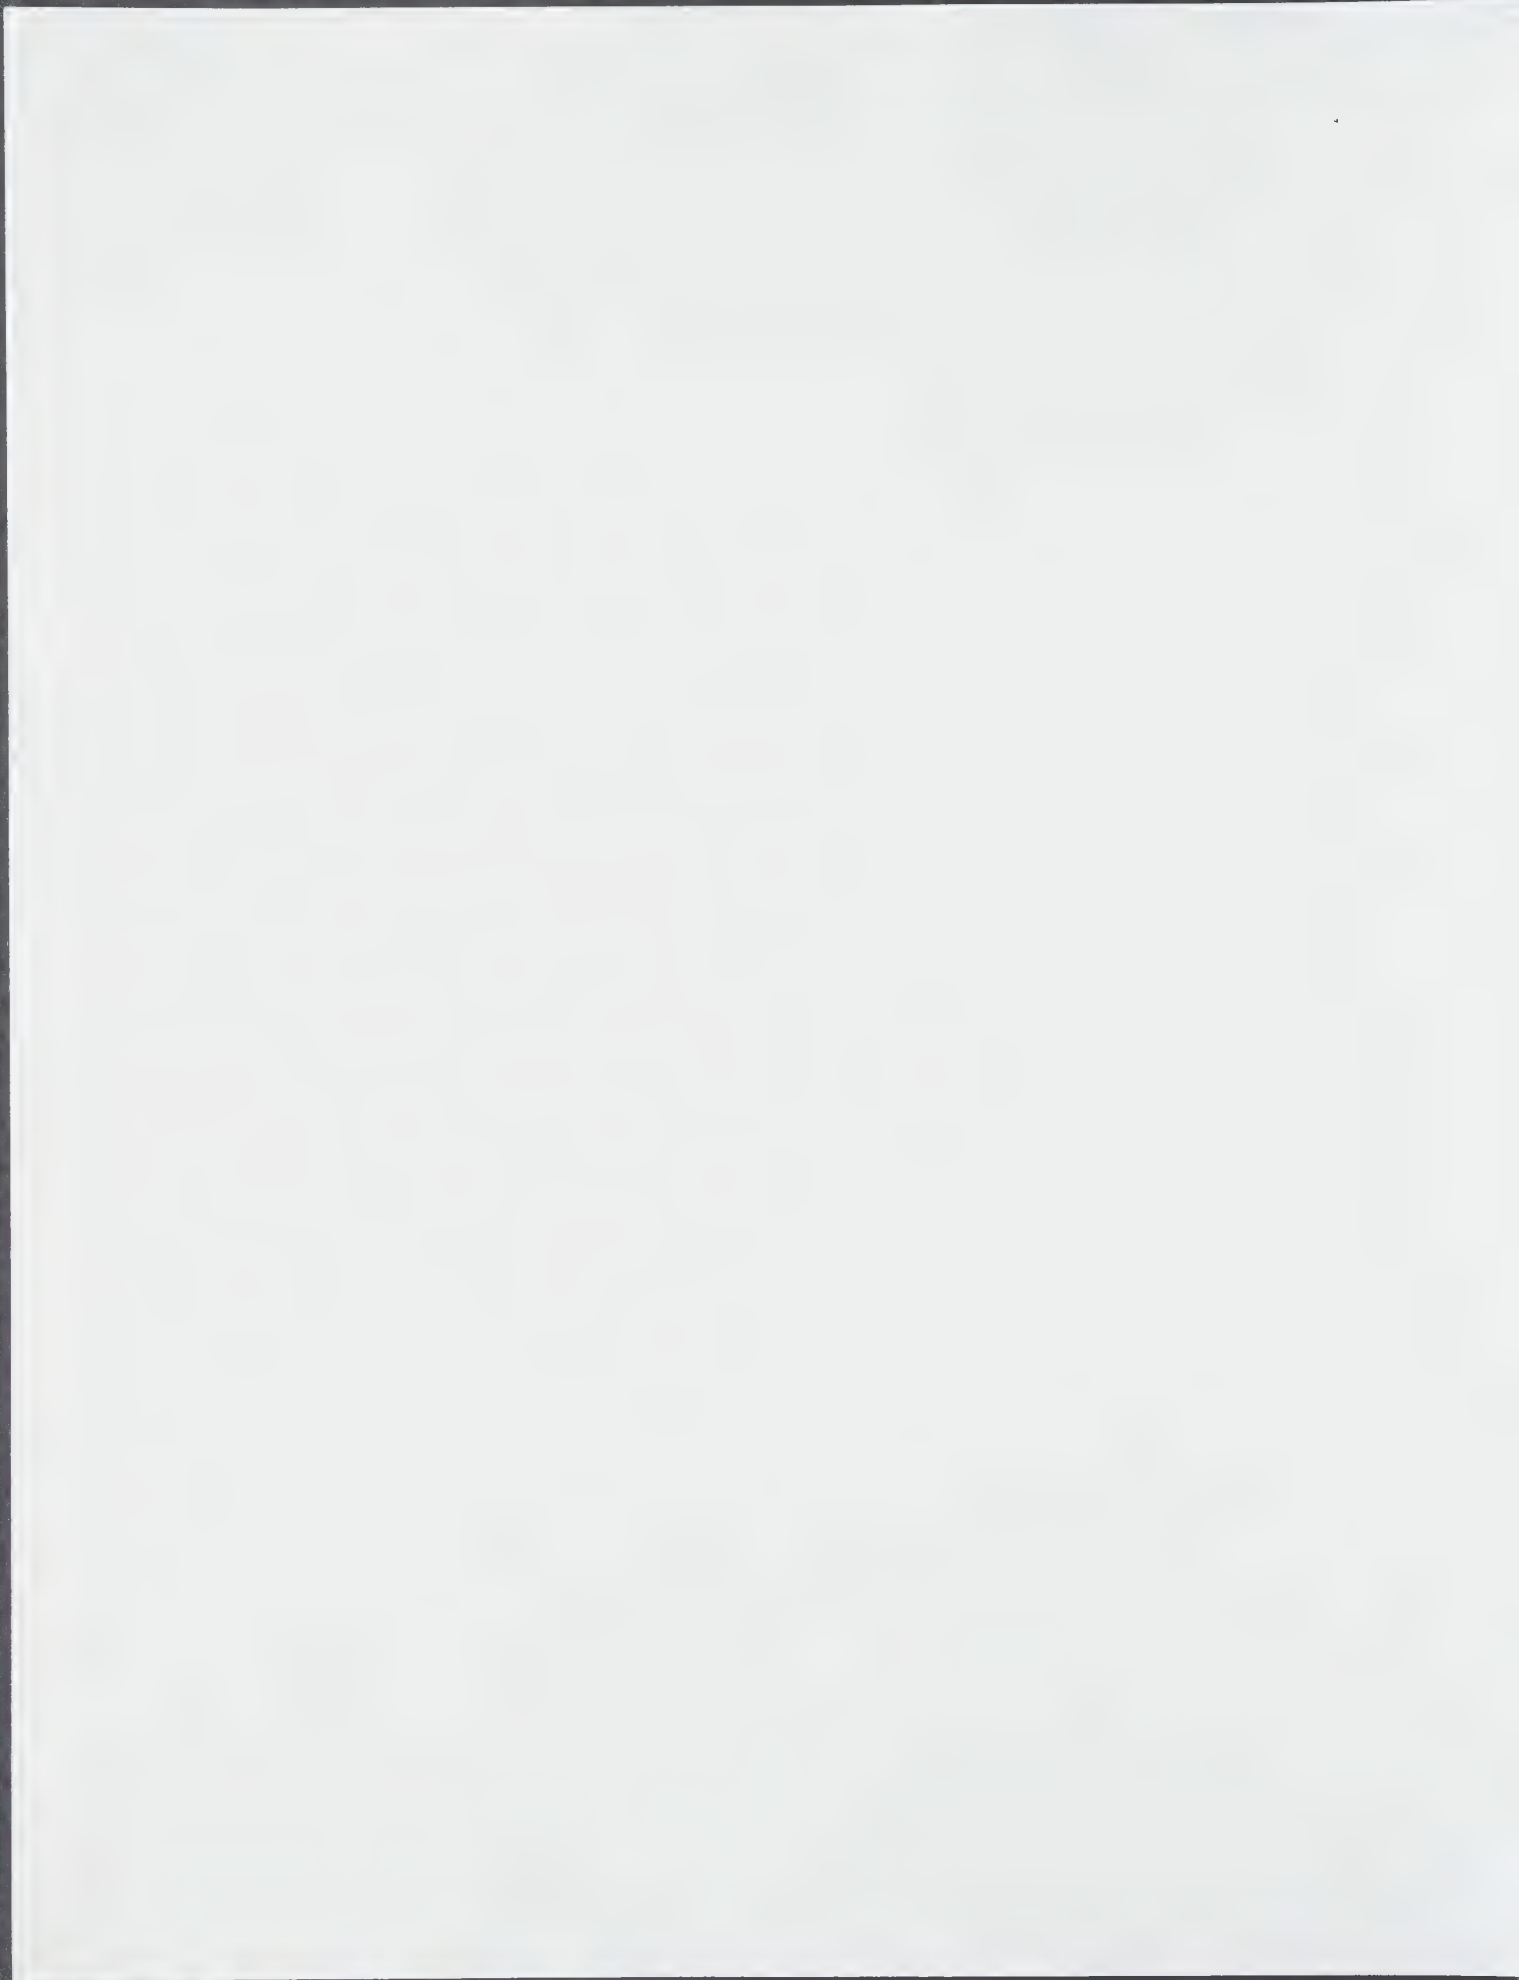

In talking to Janet, I learned that her financial officer prepared some information about the Bader Curator account over the summer, and I wanted to share it with you now in hopes that we could discuss further over Homecoming weekend.

Here is a summary of the report:

Currently, there is a total of $67,022.66 in the account, which includes Dr. Bader's additional $5,000 (US) cheque intended for David's travel.

Salary/benefit expenses for 2005-06 are projected to be $68,840.40, reflecting David's annual wage increase and move up the Queen's salary grid. In addition, there are David's telephone requirements ($1,200) and office supplies ($600). These expenses together total $70,640.40.

Since we have $67,022.66 in the account, we will be left with a projected shortfall of $3,617.74, and no funds for travel or research.

Alfred, I recall Janet mentioning during our lunch at the AEAC last year that exchange rates and David's salary increases were putting a lot of pressure on the Curator account; would you like me to arrange a meeting with Janet during your Homecoming visit so that you and she can talk?

Just let me know your preference, and I'll set it up.

Dear Judith,

Thank you for your fax of today.

By all means let's meet with Janet Brooke to discuss all sorts of matters including the Bader Curator account. I do not think that I will have to remind her that David does considerably more than just work for the Bader collection. In fact, during the first several months as Bader Curator he spent most of his time working for the mannerist drawings exhibition.

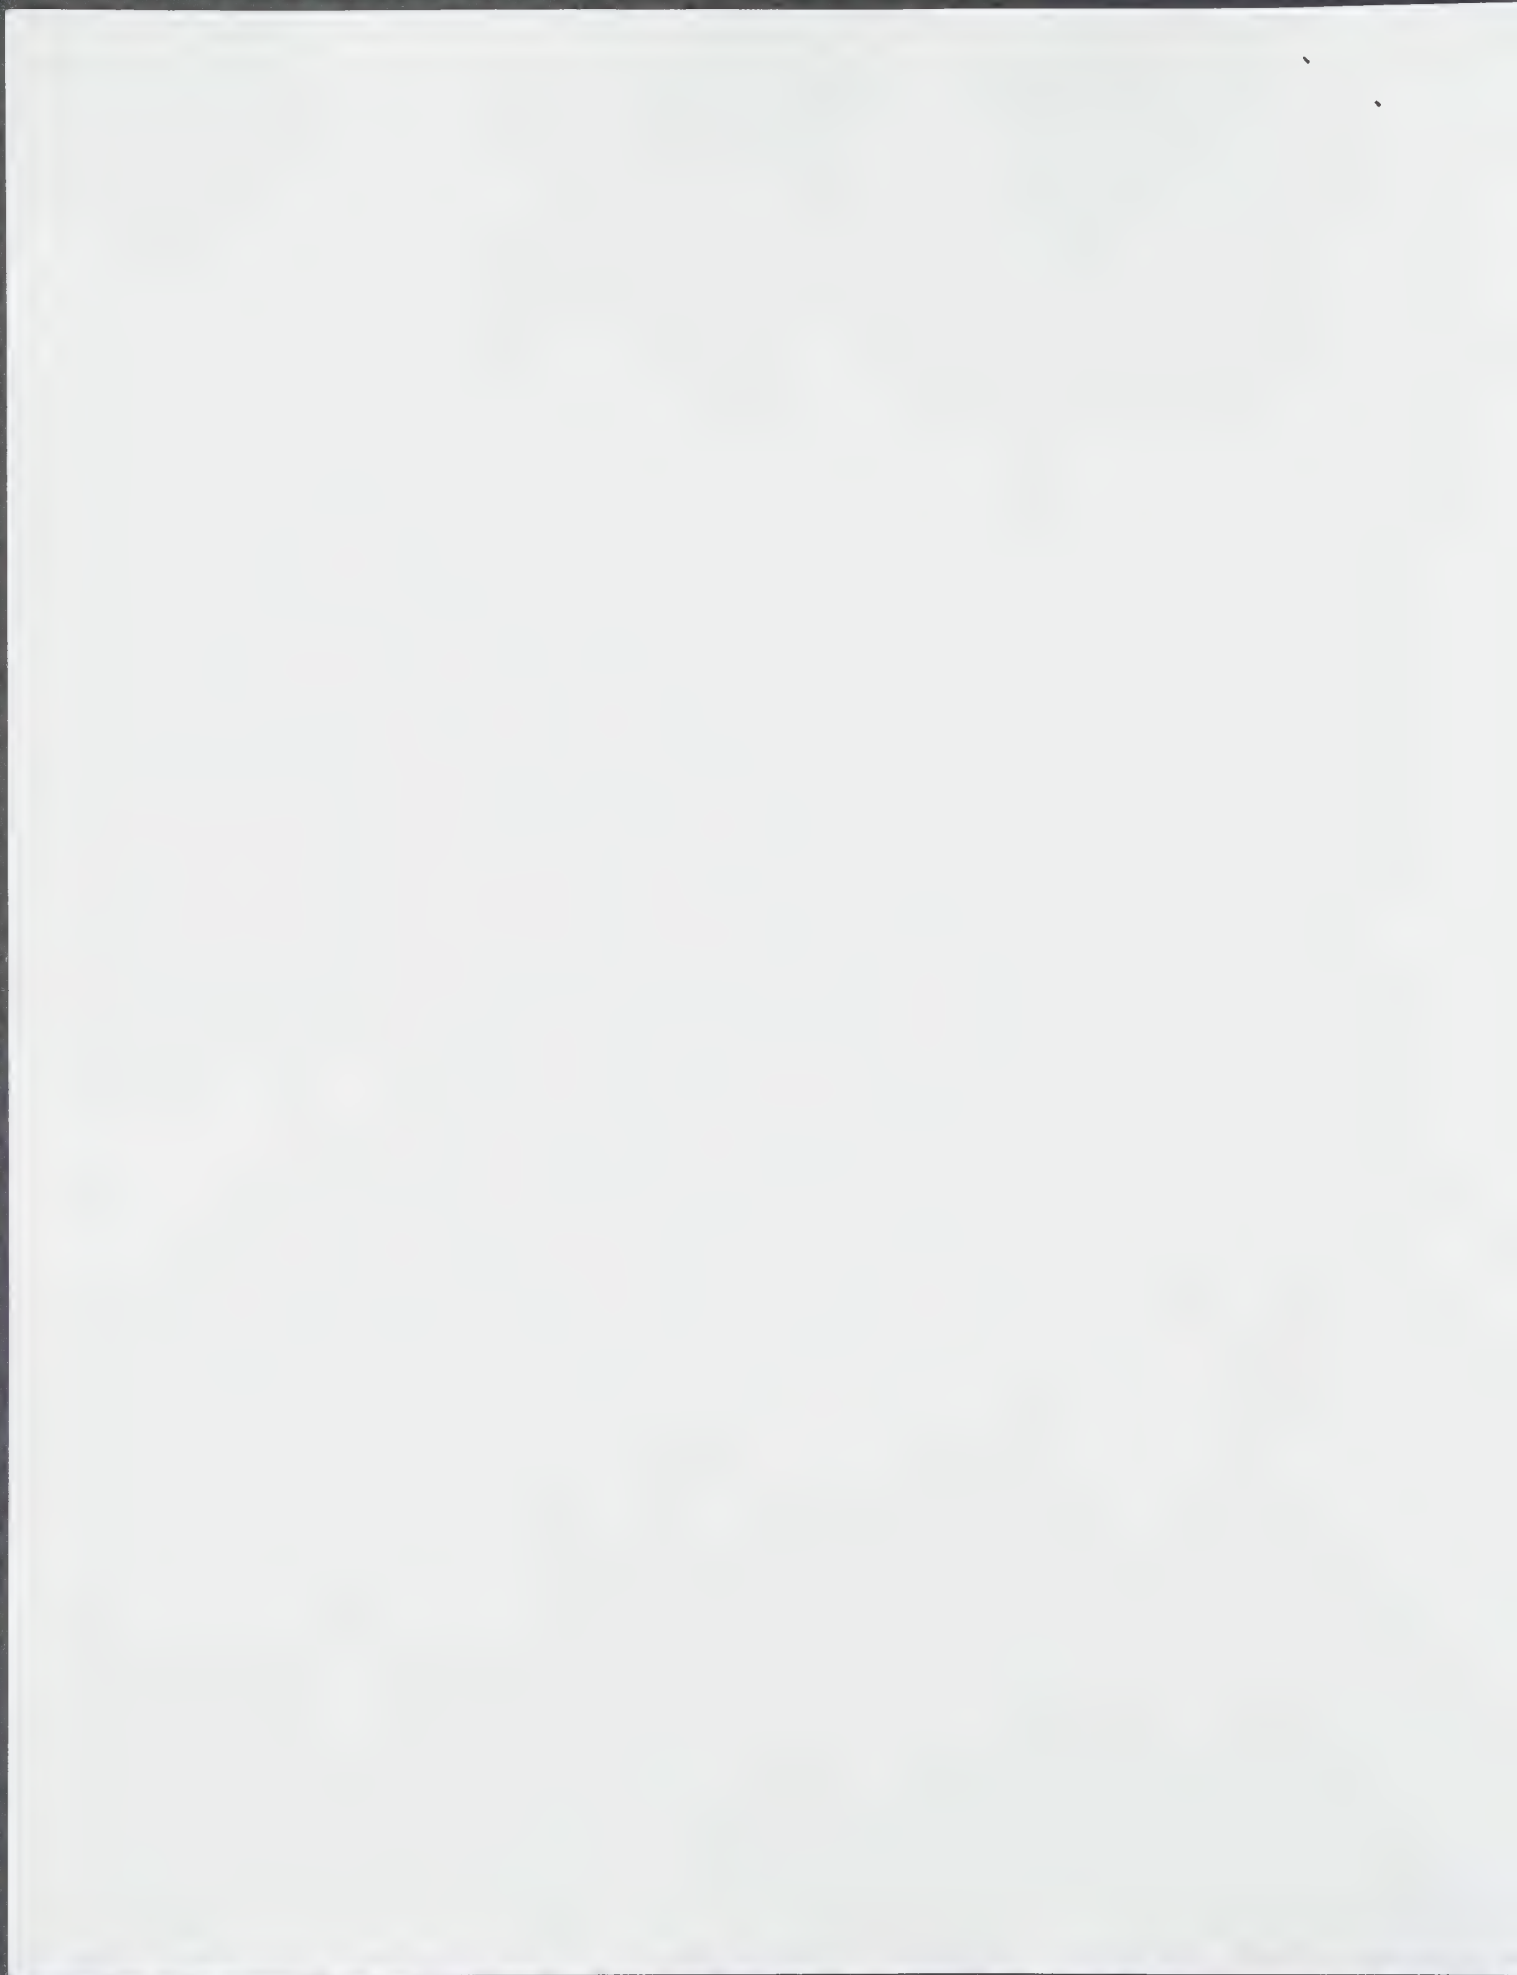

David is very competent and I am happy that his salary has been increased.

August 22, 2005

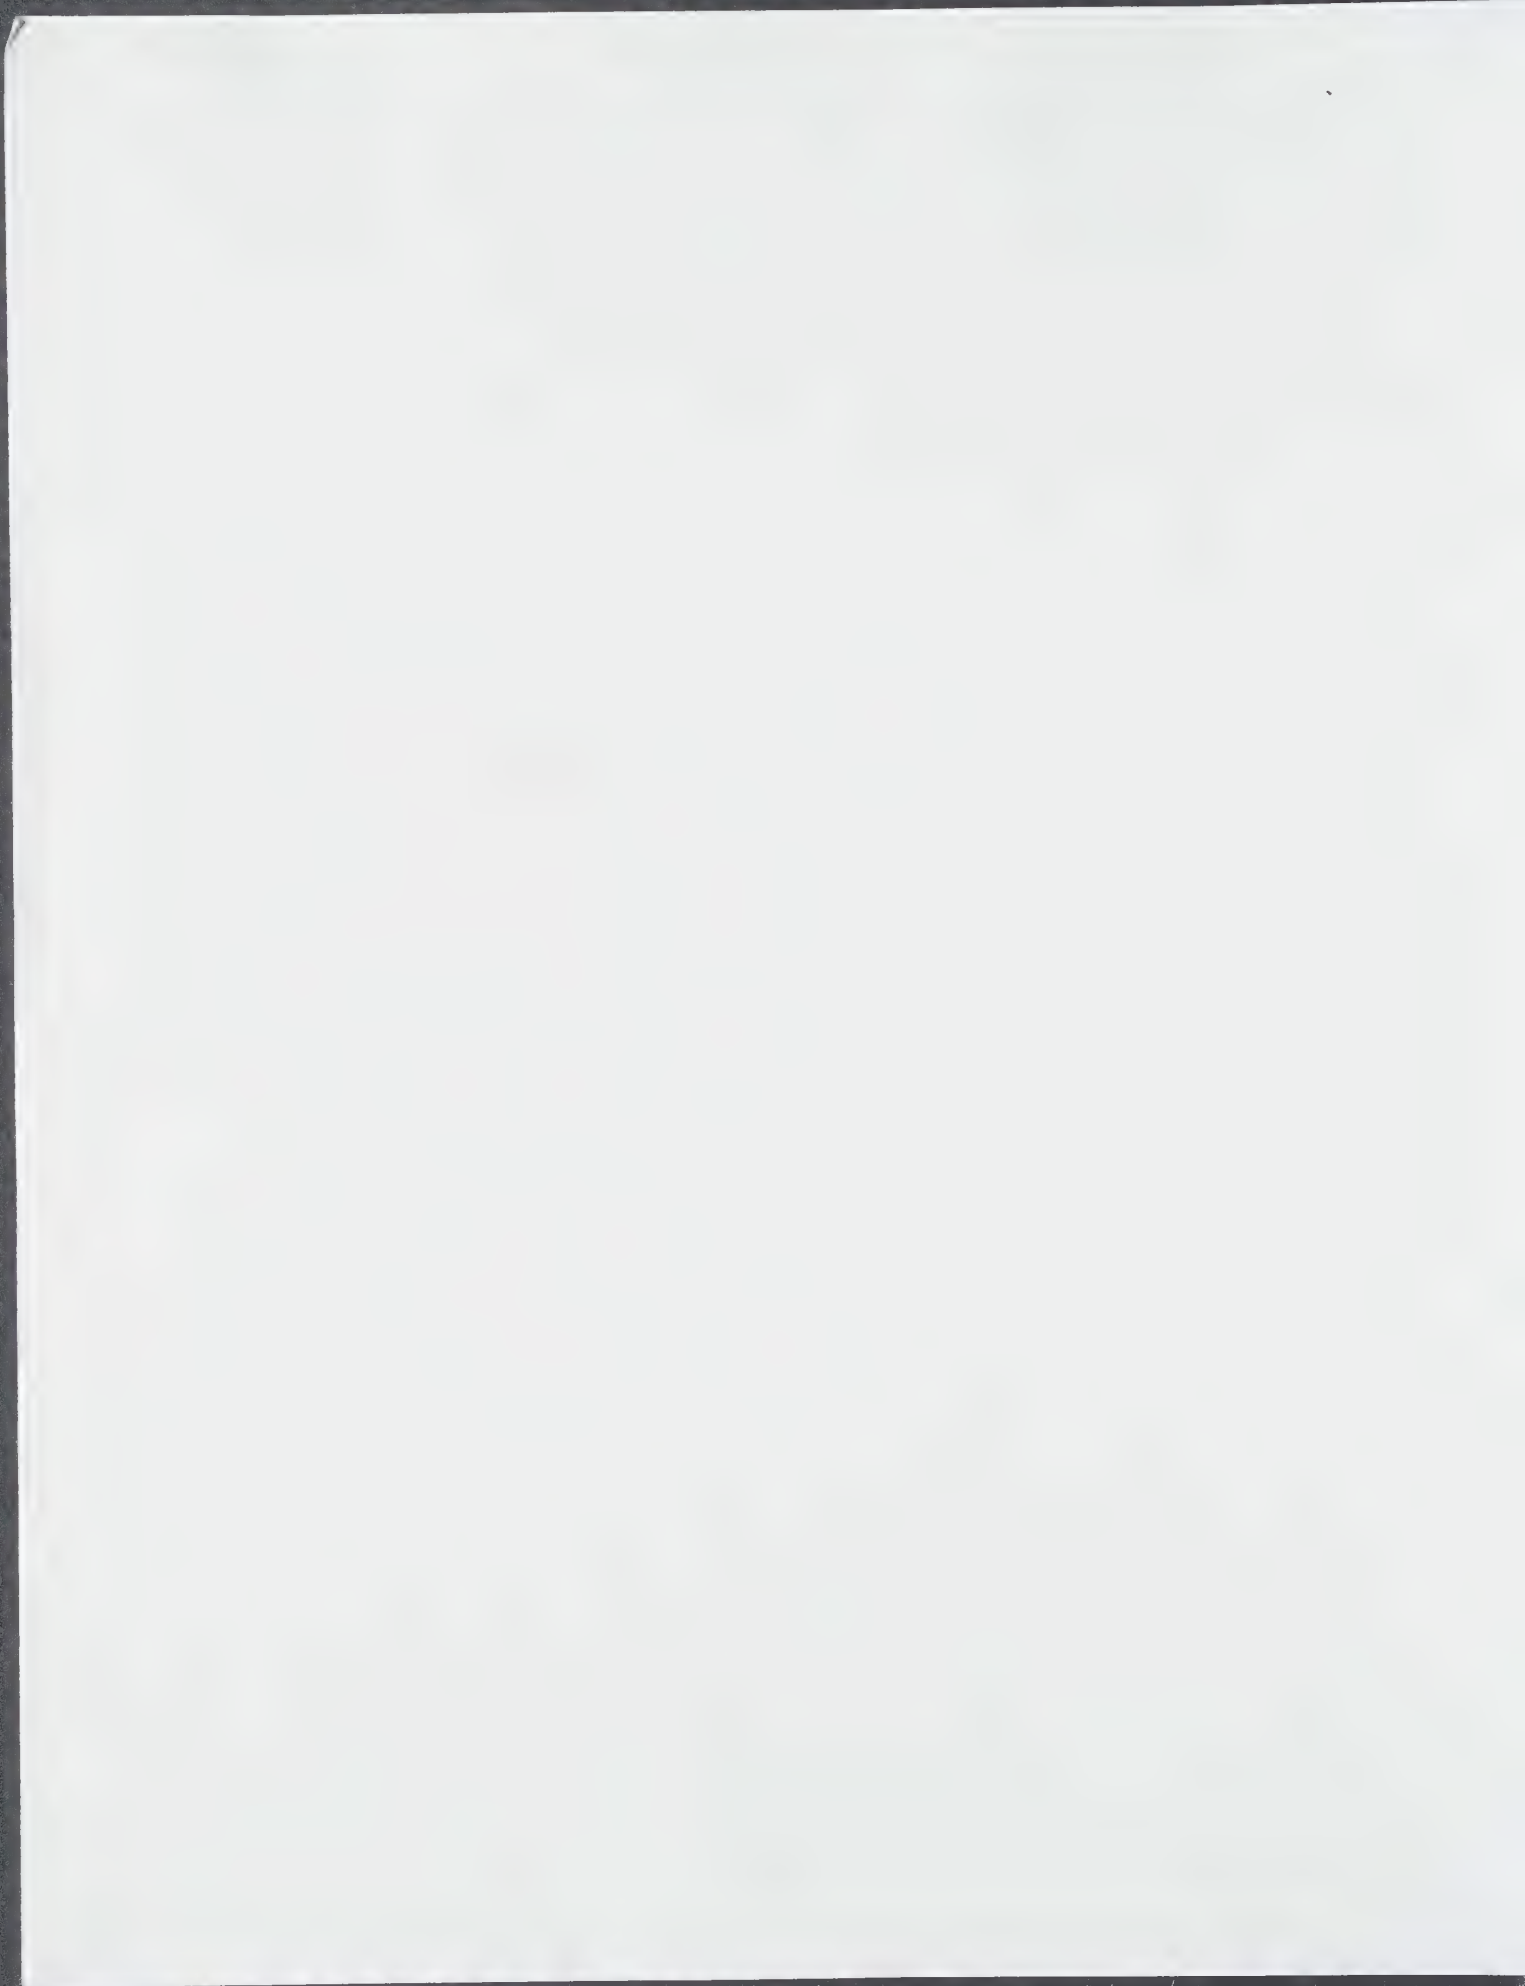

Dear Alfred,

Thank you for your faxes. I am sorry I had already left for vacation when your first fax arrived, but I'm back in the office now. We had a wonderful time with family, at the place we go to each summer that is very close to Algonquin Park – good food, a beautiful lake for swimming, and lots of sunshine this year!

First, some very good news ~ a room has become available at the Donald Gordon Centre for you and Isabel over Homecoming weekend. The confirmation number is 086978, for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. We will ensure that the car that picks you and Isabel up after the breakfast in Toronto takes you directly to the Centre.

In your fax you mention you'd like to talk about the Abeyance Account and the ISC deficits with the financial folks; I'll be sure to set that up, along with a meeting of Bill Flanagan, who will, I know, be very appreciative of the opportunity to meet with you.

Still with the ISC, thank you so much for your confirmation of support for a residence building near Bader Hall. This must be very welcome news to Sandy and David and will no doubt be a great help in attracting more faculty to the castle. I will make sure that the finance folks are aware that the 750,000 pounds will be a separate gift, not taken from the Abeyance Account. Meantime, we can keep our fingers crossed that Sigma Aldrich reaches 65 again before too long!

Your idea to link the building with David Smith's name will I'm sure receive widespread support.

Linda Kemp is on vacation just now, but I've left a message with her to let her know I'm happy to collect thank you letters and deliver them to you in a bunch.

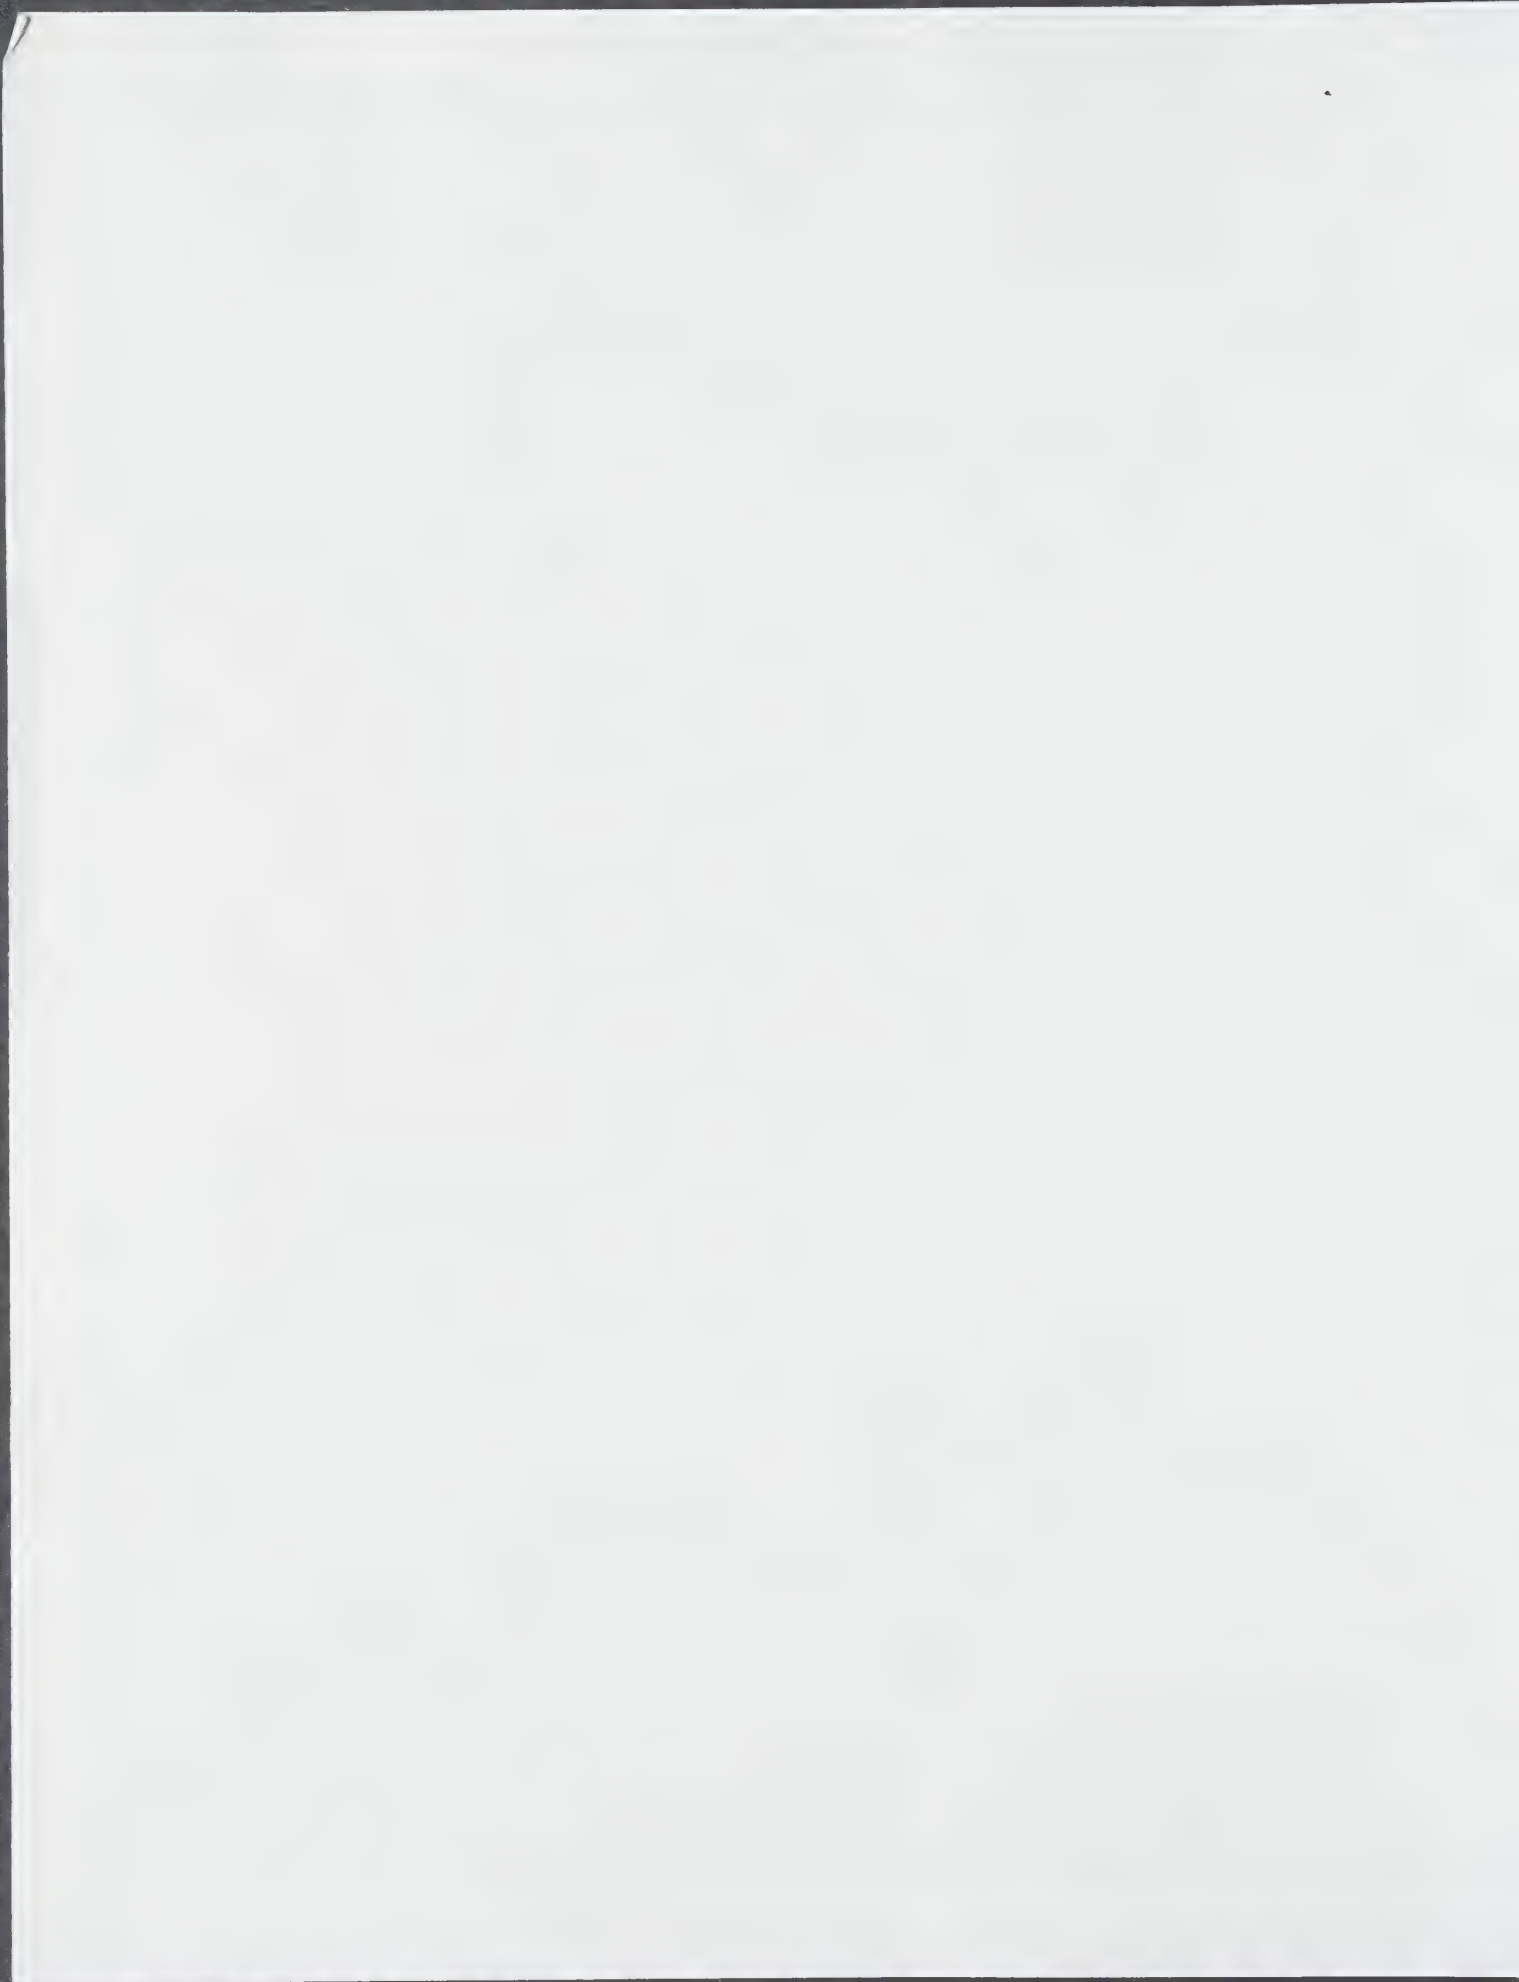

I'll also touch base with Janet Brooke about the Lievens appraisal.

Finally, I'm happy to be in touch with Sue Read and arrange to send her the photos she needs for A Canadian in Love. I am very much looking forward to seeing the film!

Take best care, and my love to Isabel,

Judith Brown

FAX #: 1-613-533-6777

Dear Judith,

You would not believe how piled high my desk is and of course last weekend we wanted to spend three days entirely with David and Franziska de Witt. That explains my being so slow in answering your fax of August 5th.

I just do not understand the progression of the decline of the ISC deficits taken from the Abeyance account. Could we discuss this briefly with the financial people when we come to Queen's at the end of September?

I will follow Janet Brooke's recommendations about next year's appraisal costs. In the meantime, I have received the Art Dealers Association of America's appraisal for the Lievens now at Queen's at $6.5 million.

I have had an order in with my stockbroker, Baird, to sell initially 10,000 shares of Sigma-Aldrich when it reaches 65, but it did this only very briefly, just before I put in the order. Now I would just like to be patient and hope that it will reach 65 soon.

While at the ISC we discussed with David Bevan and Sandy Montgomery our wish to help with a building for the residence of academics close to Bader Hall. We promised to pay £750,000 which Sandy estimated to be the cost.

I would like to confirm this promise and also that this sum would be paid for us separately and not taken out of the abeyance account, for obvious reasons.

I think that the new building should somehow be connected with David Smith, who is really responsible for the purchase of the castle. We will have to consider whether it should be the David Smith dormitories or the David Smith house, whichever sounds best.

I will be happy to meet Bill Flanagan during our visit, though you know how busy we will be. We will plan the details a few days before our trip.

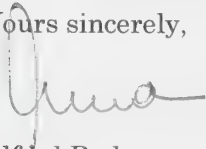

Could you please have us picked up from where I am talking in Toronto that Thursday morning and then taken to Queen's, hopefully to the Donald Gordon Centre. That will give us another half day in Kingston.

I hope that Linda Kemp will not be offended by my letter to her, copy attached. That wonderful mentor of mine, Dr. O'Neill, would certainly have been offended by such waste of money.

Please smile.

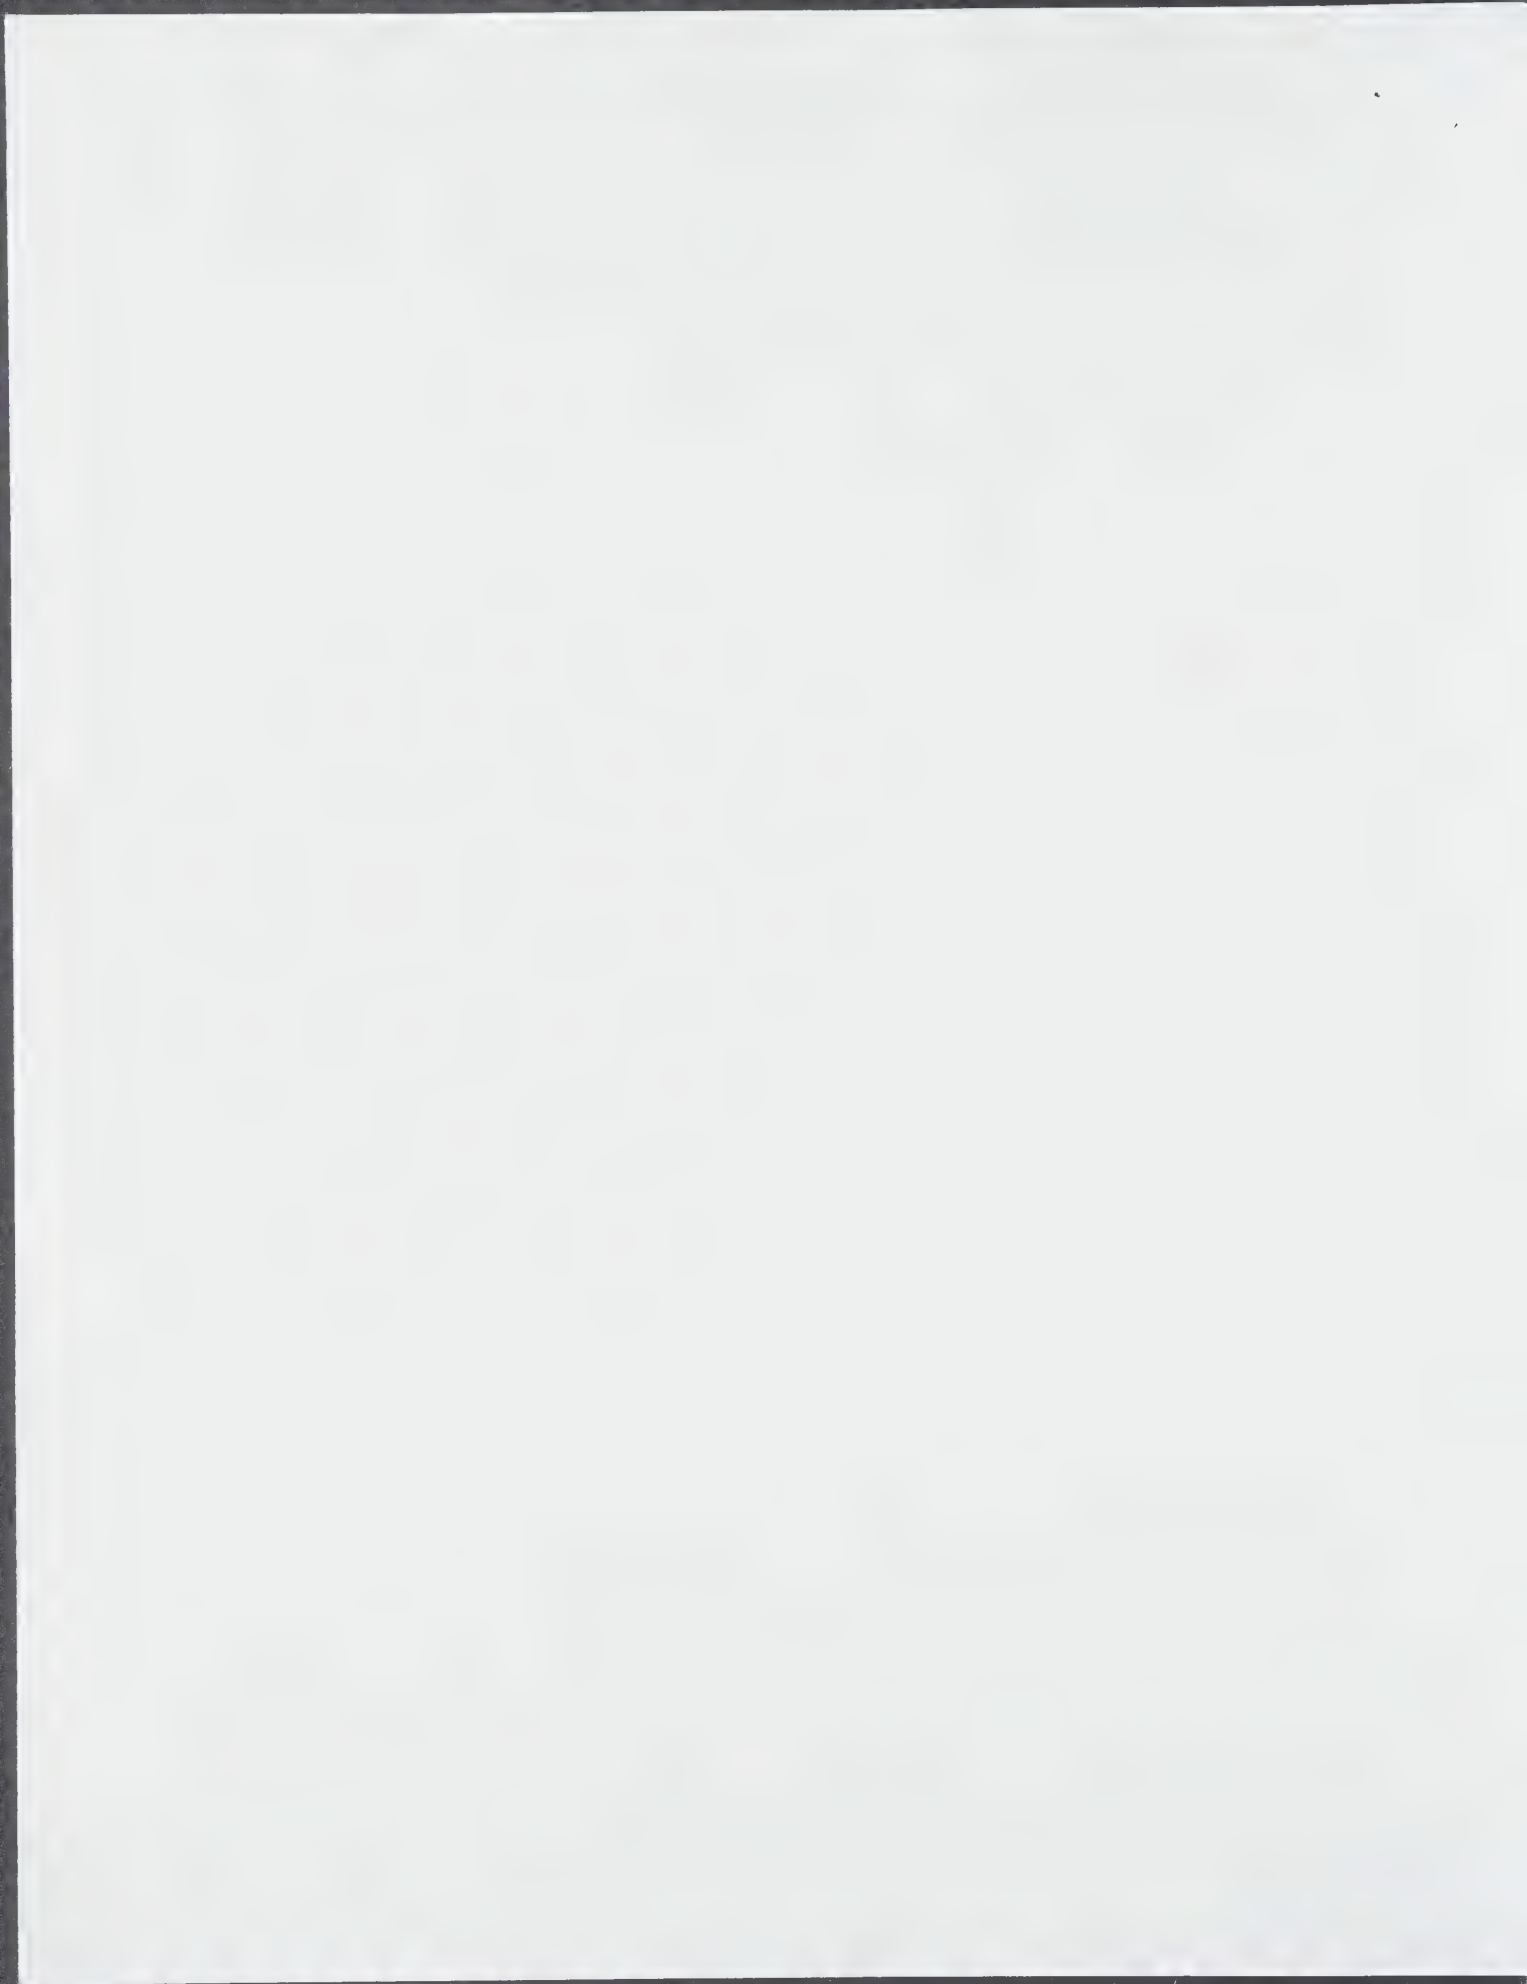

With fond regards as always I remain

Yours sincerely,

Dear Ms. Kemp,

I still remember one day in 1944 waiting in the office of Dr. William McNeill, the Vice President and Treasurer of Queen's University, who had been most helpful to me. There I heard him really lighting into one of his associates who had paid a penny more per roll of toilet paper just purchased. How could he waste the University's money like that, Dr. McNeill asked.

I shudder to think what he would say about the numerous thank you letters you send to Isabel and me, copy of one enclosed. Each one costs the University $1.45, as again you will see from the enclosed.

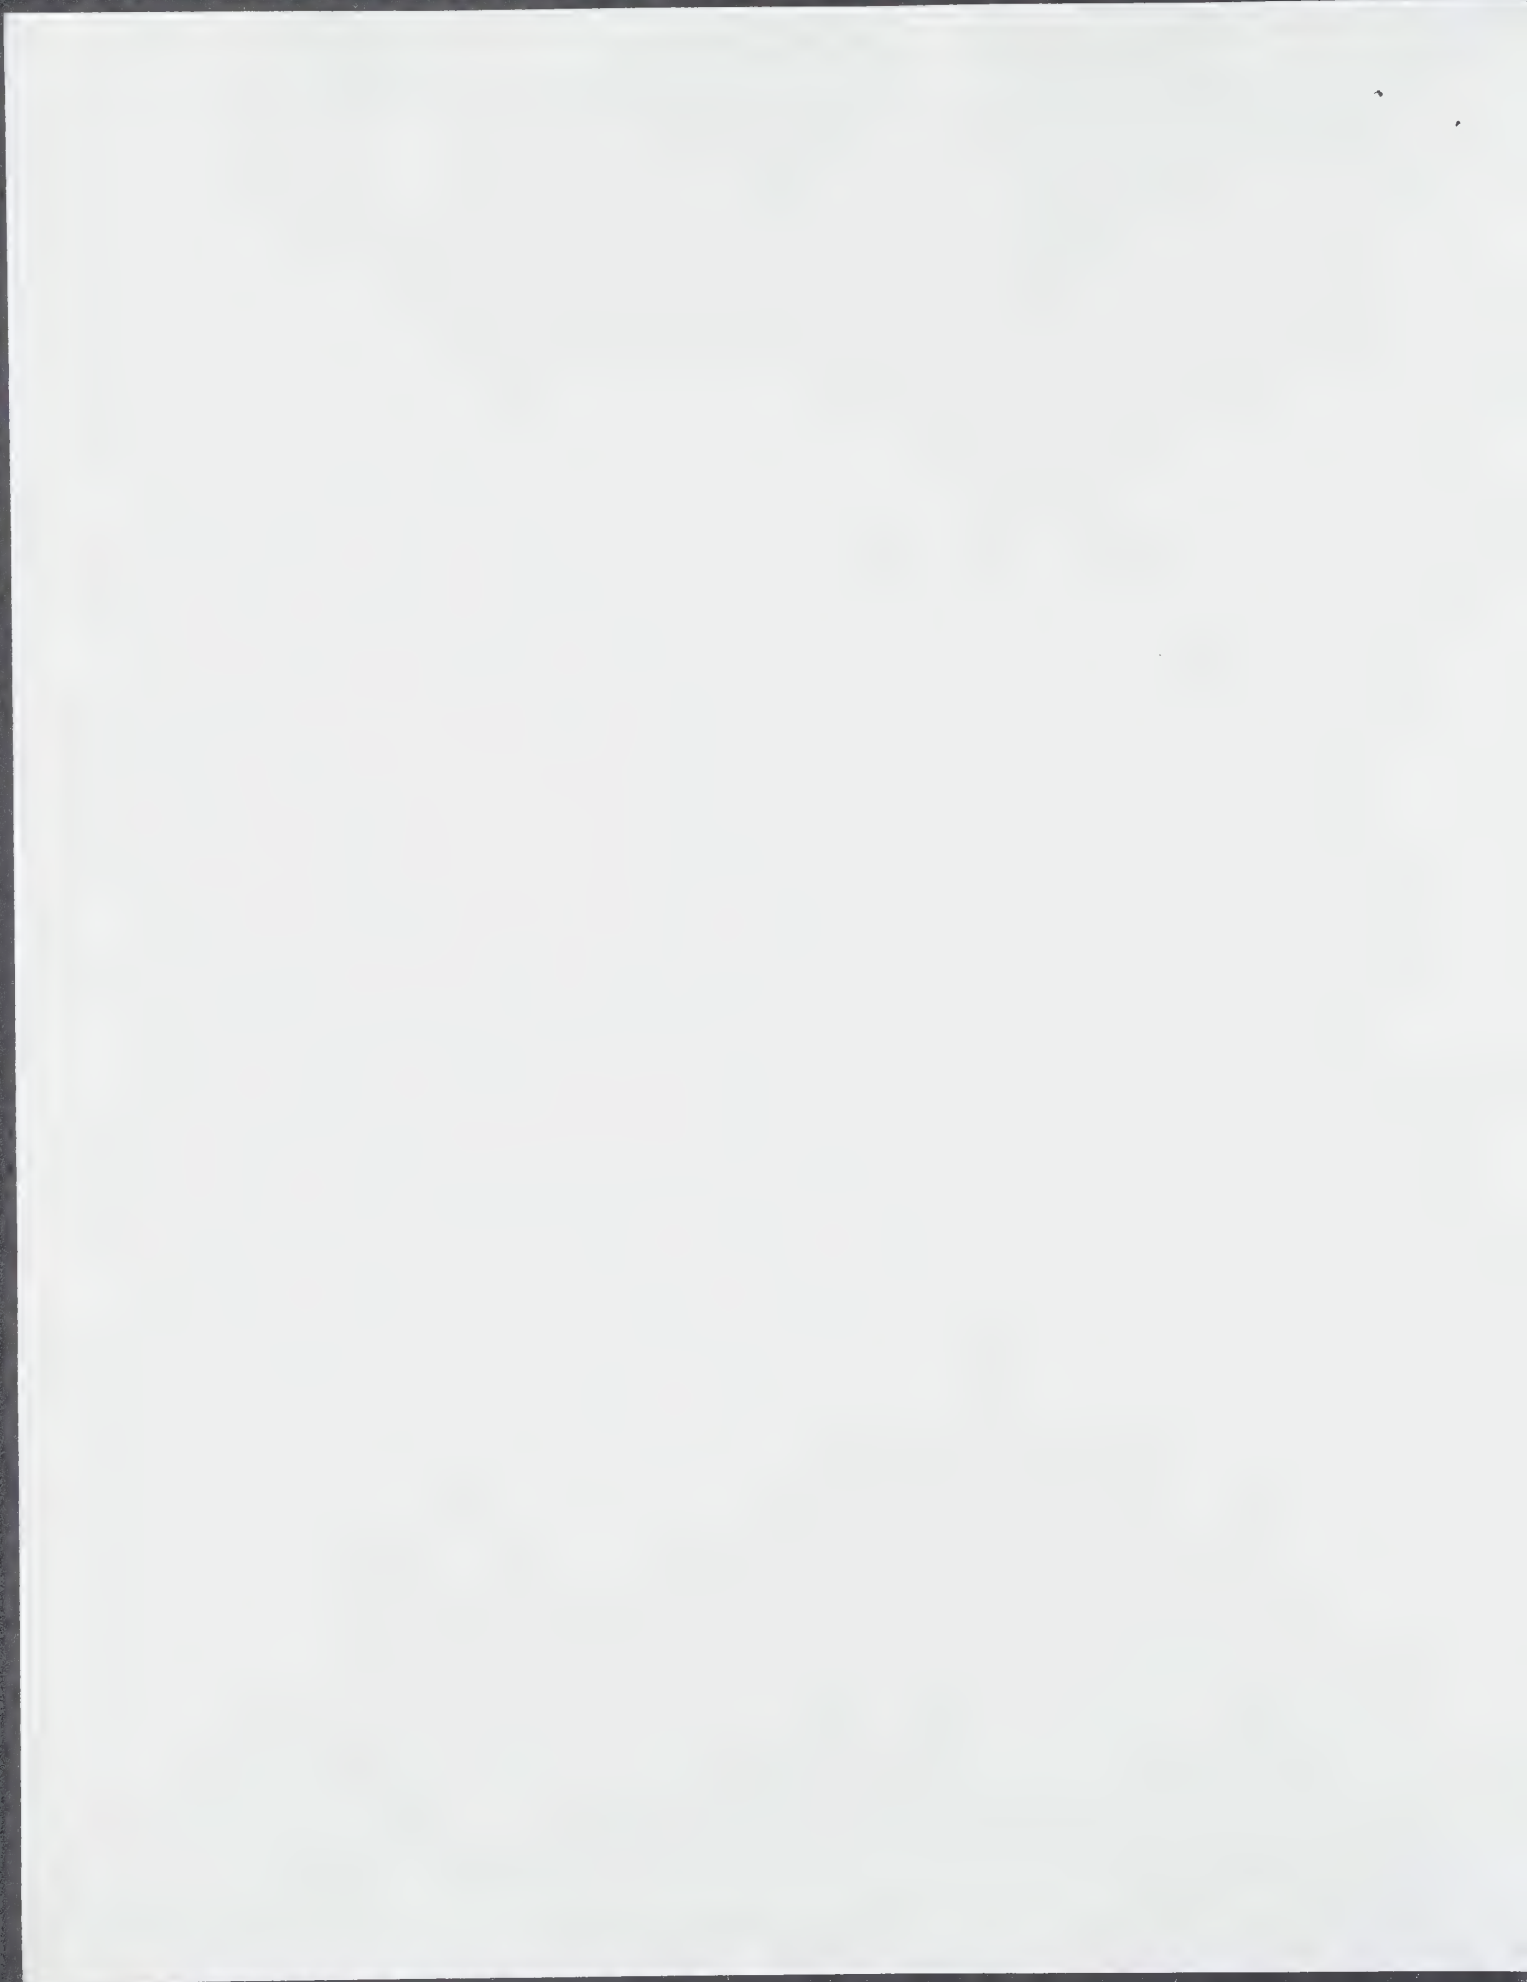

Please stop wasting the University's money and just give all of these thank you letters to Judith Brown, who will hand them to us with a smile when next she sees us.

My whole life has been guided by my education at a great Scottish university which taught me to be careful with money.

With best regards I remain

Yours sincerely,

Alfred Bader

Dear Alfred,

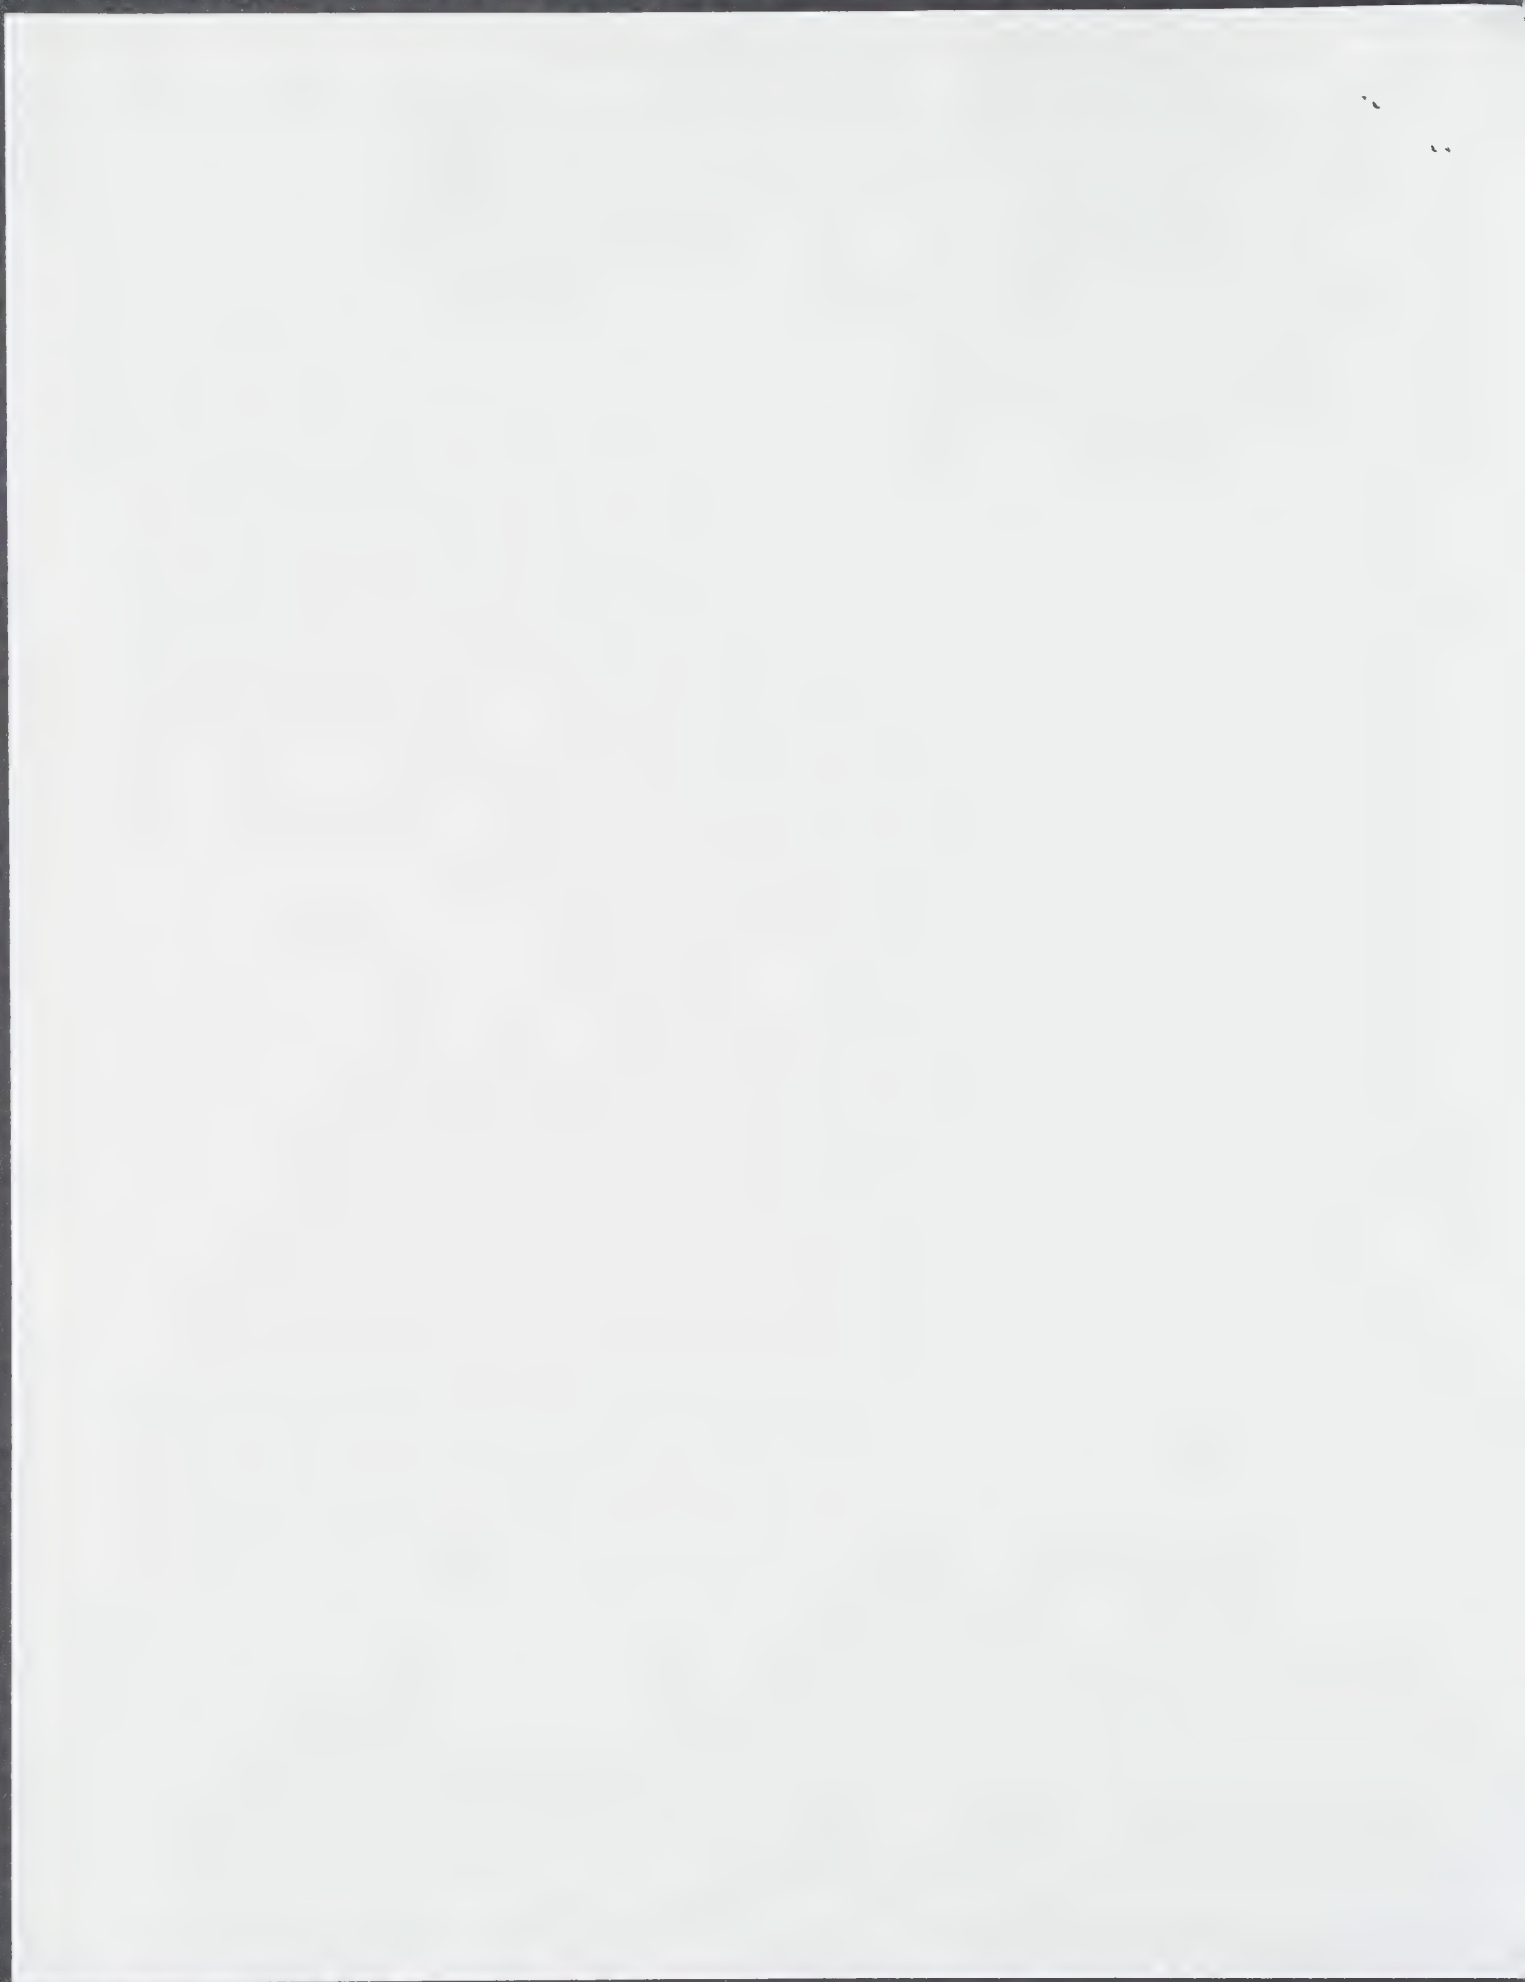

It was so wonderful to see you and Isabel at the ISC last week – such a beautiful part of the world! I am glad that I finally have a glimpse of what I have heard discussed so often, and that I was able to hear first-hand how much the experience means to the students who spend time there.

I wanted to let you know what the Financial Services folks wrote me back when I asked them the question about the transfer for 2004 from the Abeyance Account to the ISC deficit. Here is their email:

“Hi Judith

The ISC deficit for 2002/03 was transferred to the Abeyance account effective May 2003 ($1.1M)

The ISC deficit for 2003/04 was transferred to the Abeyance account effective January 2005 ($0.1M)

The ISC deficit for 2004/05 has not been transferred yet (I will process effective to the date when the when amount is finalized) to be consistent with 2003/04

For the next report I will include the fiscal year detail so that the report is clearer."

So, it looks like all is in order... we have to wait until the end of the summer to find out the amount for 2005, which is consistent with previous years. I should have thought of that when we first spoke.

I also wanted to pass along a request from the Business Office, relating to future gifts, should you want to make any, to the AEAC for the purpose of covering the costs of art appraisal.

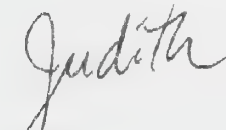

It seems that gifts for appraisals are not eligible for a charitable receipt. This caused the Business Office some difficulty when processing the earlier donation you sent along to cover the appraisal costs of the Michiel Sweerts, because the language of the cover letter was very specific.

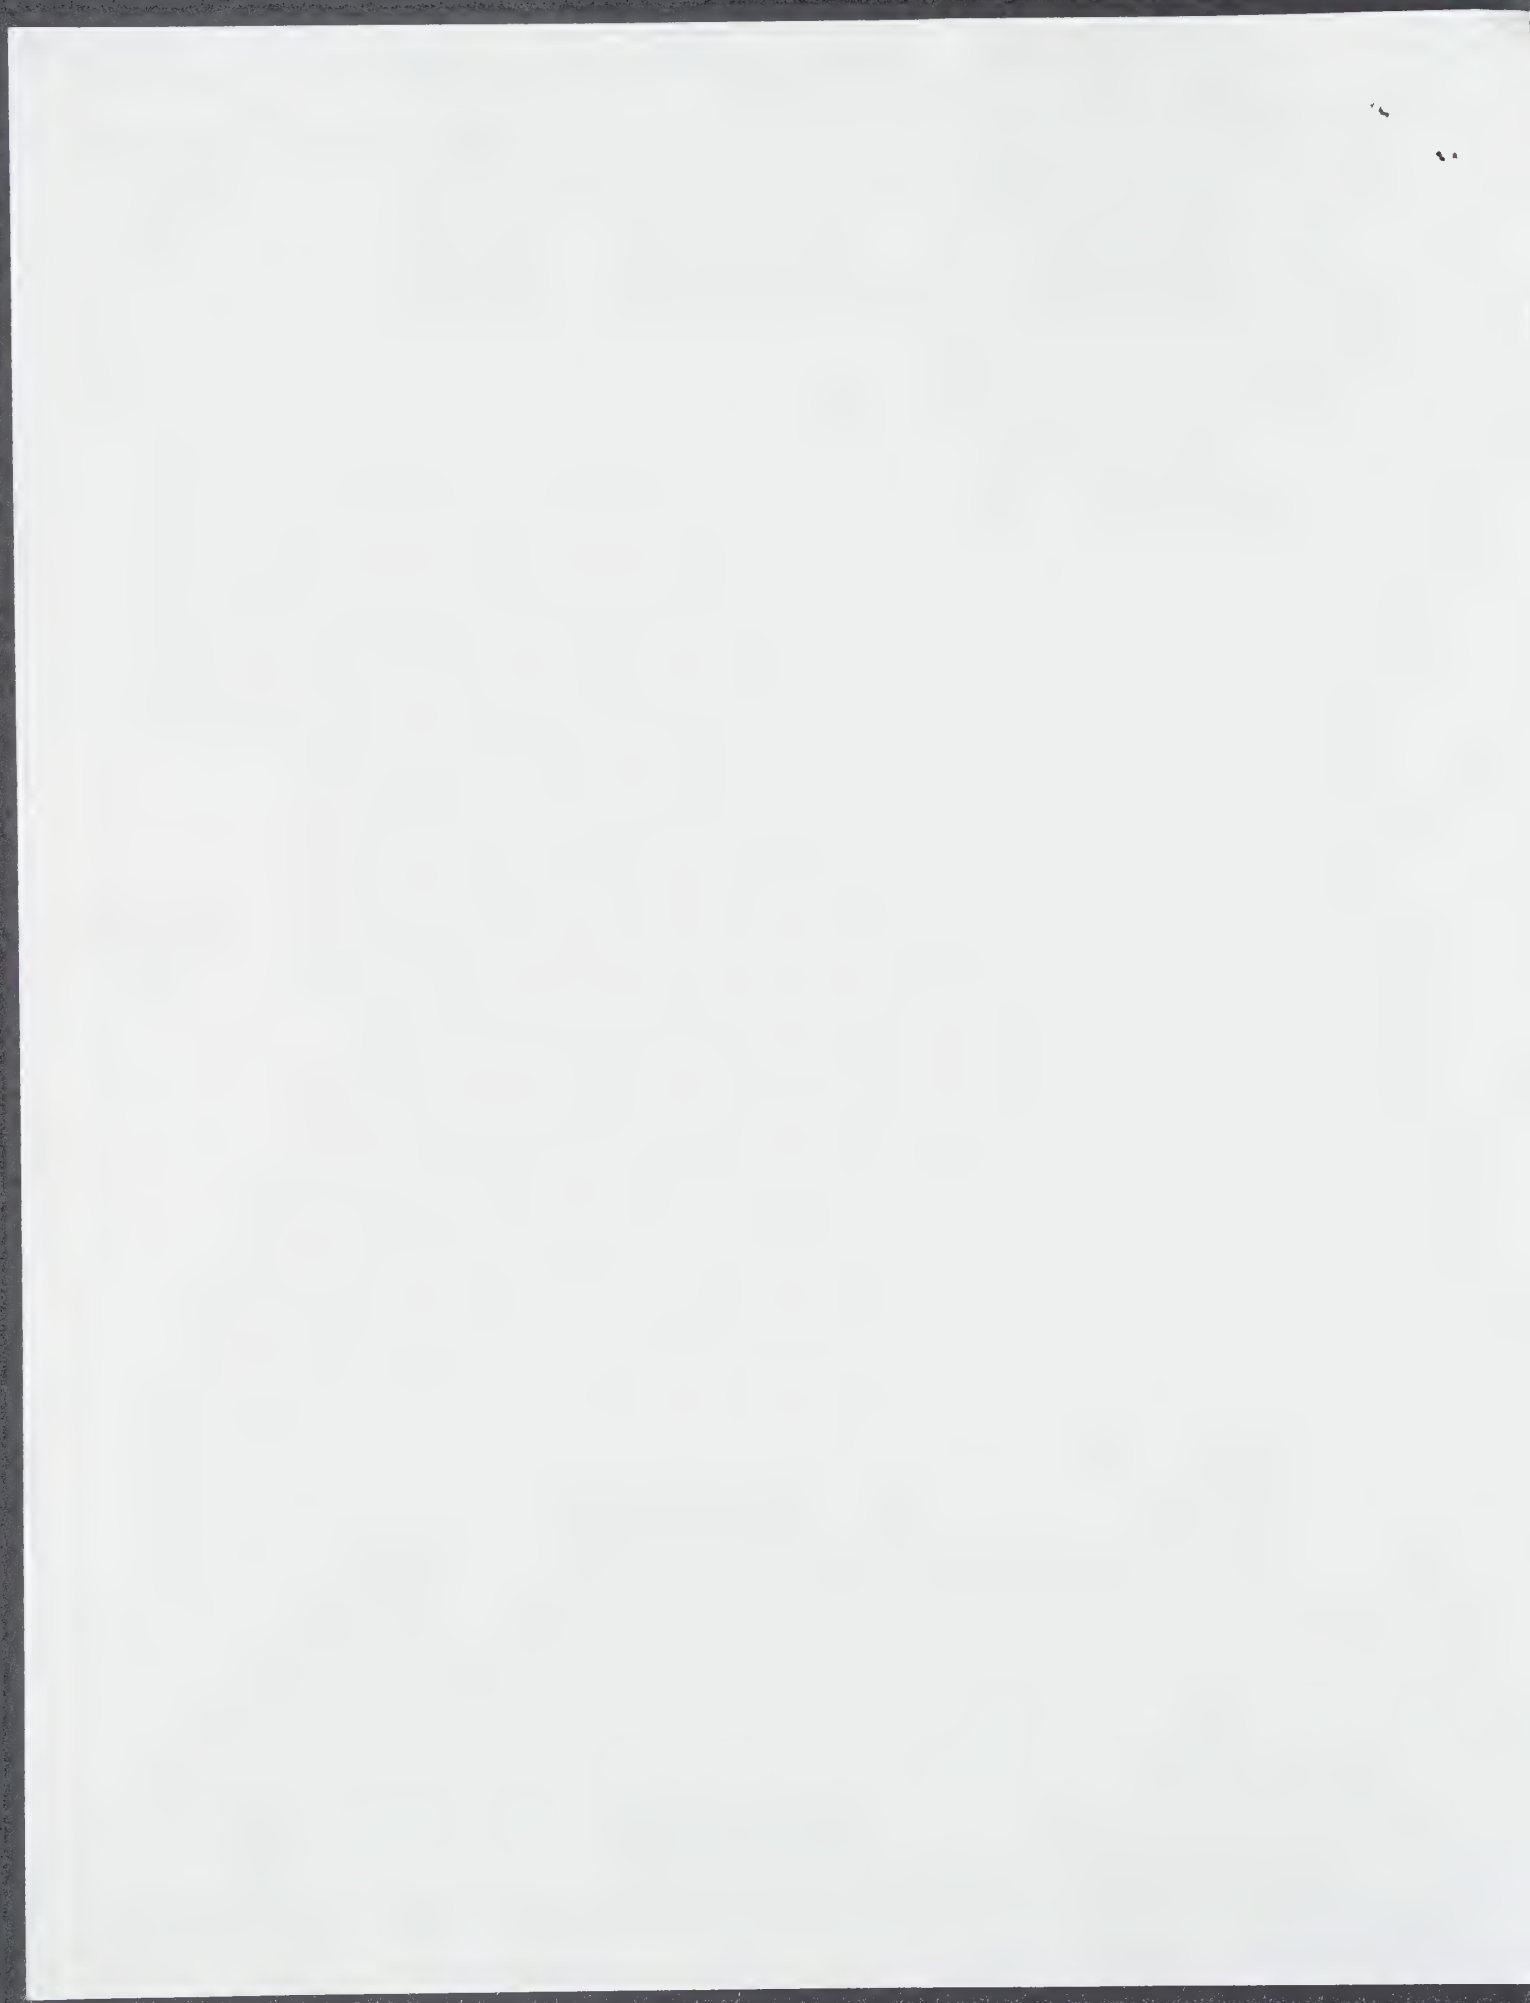

Here is a suggestion that Janet Brooke came up with, that will work fine from a receipting perspective: you can make "an unrestricted gift to the AEAC appraisal account, number 892-106, in support of this aspect of the Art Centre's operations."

On another note, I hope we'll discuss your plans for Homecoming some time soon; I've just received my first request for your time -- the incoming Dean of Law, Bill Flanagan, who created the Law in Business course that has been delivered in the spring session at the ISC, is eager to meet you. I've told him that you set your own agenda for your visits, and that I'll get back to him once we've had a chance to discuss.

At any rate, I'm looking forward to hearing from you at your leisure.

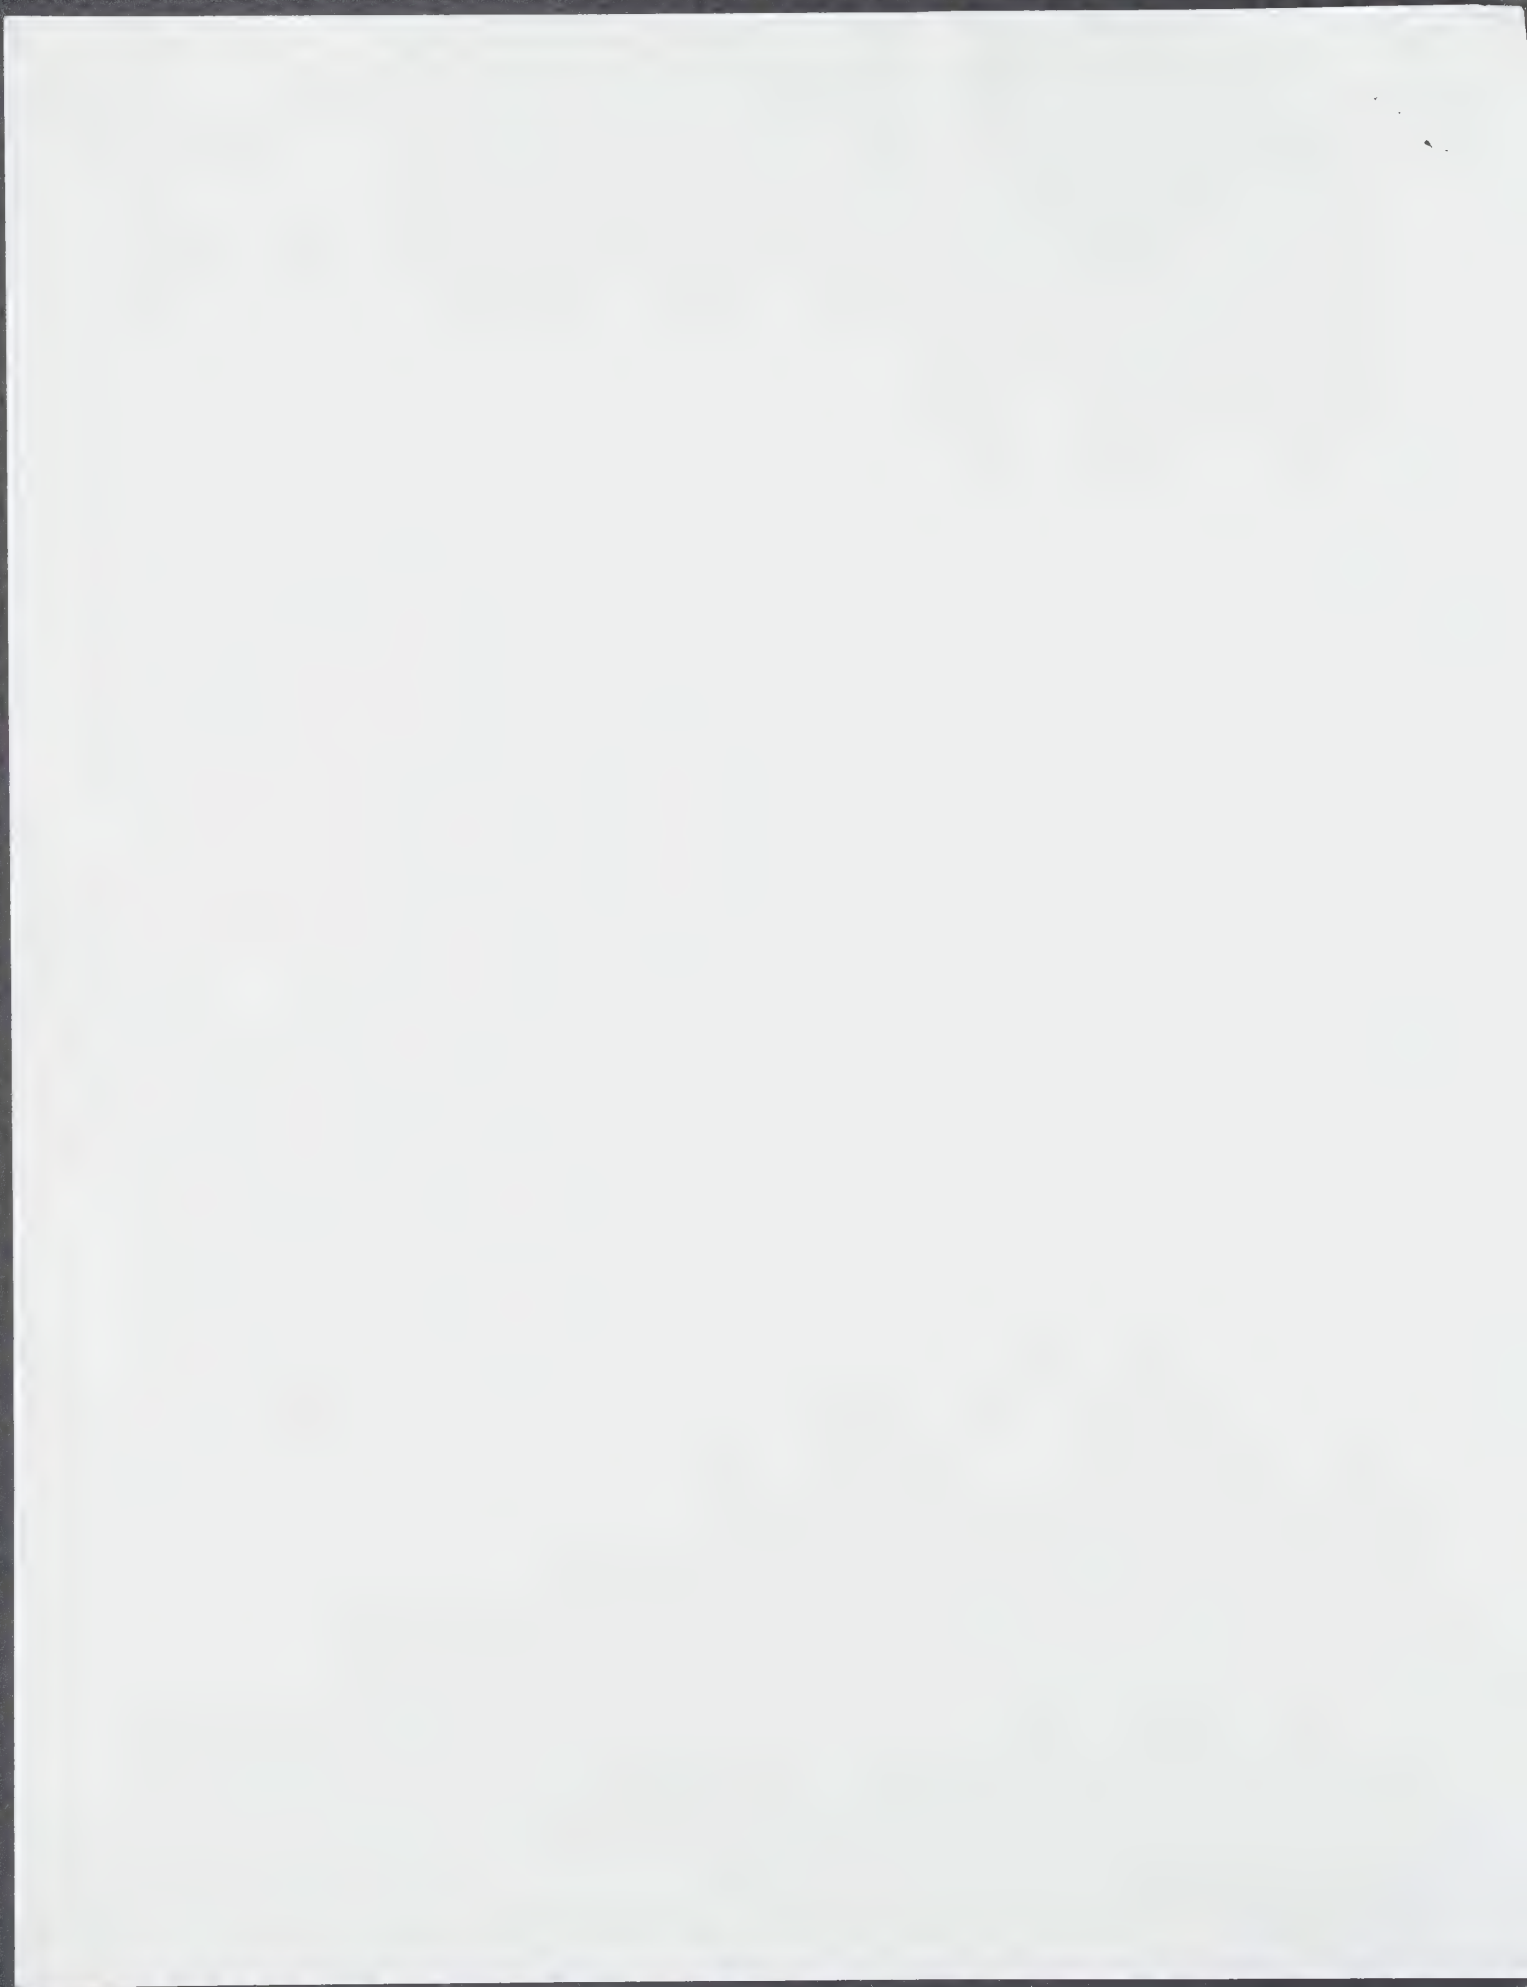

My love to Isabel,

Judith

PS I haven't forgotten about Isabel's books (now in Tim Fort's hands) and also about the reference in the Stewardship Report to the awards not being given out. I'll let you know what I find out from Tim.

Dear Alfred,

I woke up to frightening news out of London this morning... I hope you and Isabel and your friends are all OK.

Yesterday, David Bevan was on campus and he and I talked about the plans for the ISC Homecoming in more detail.

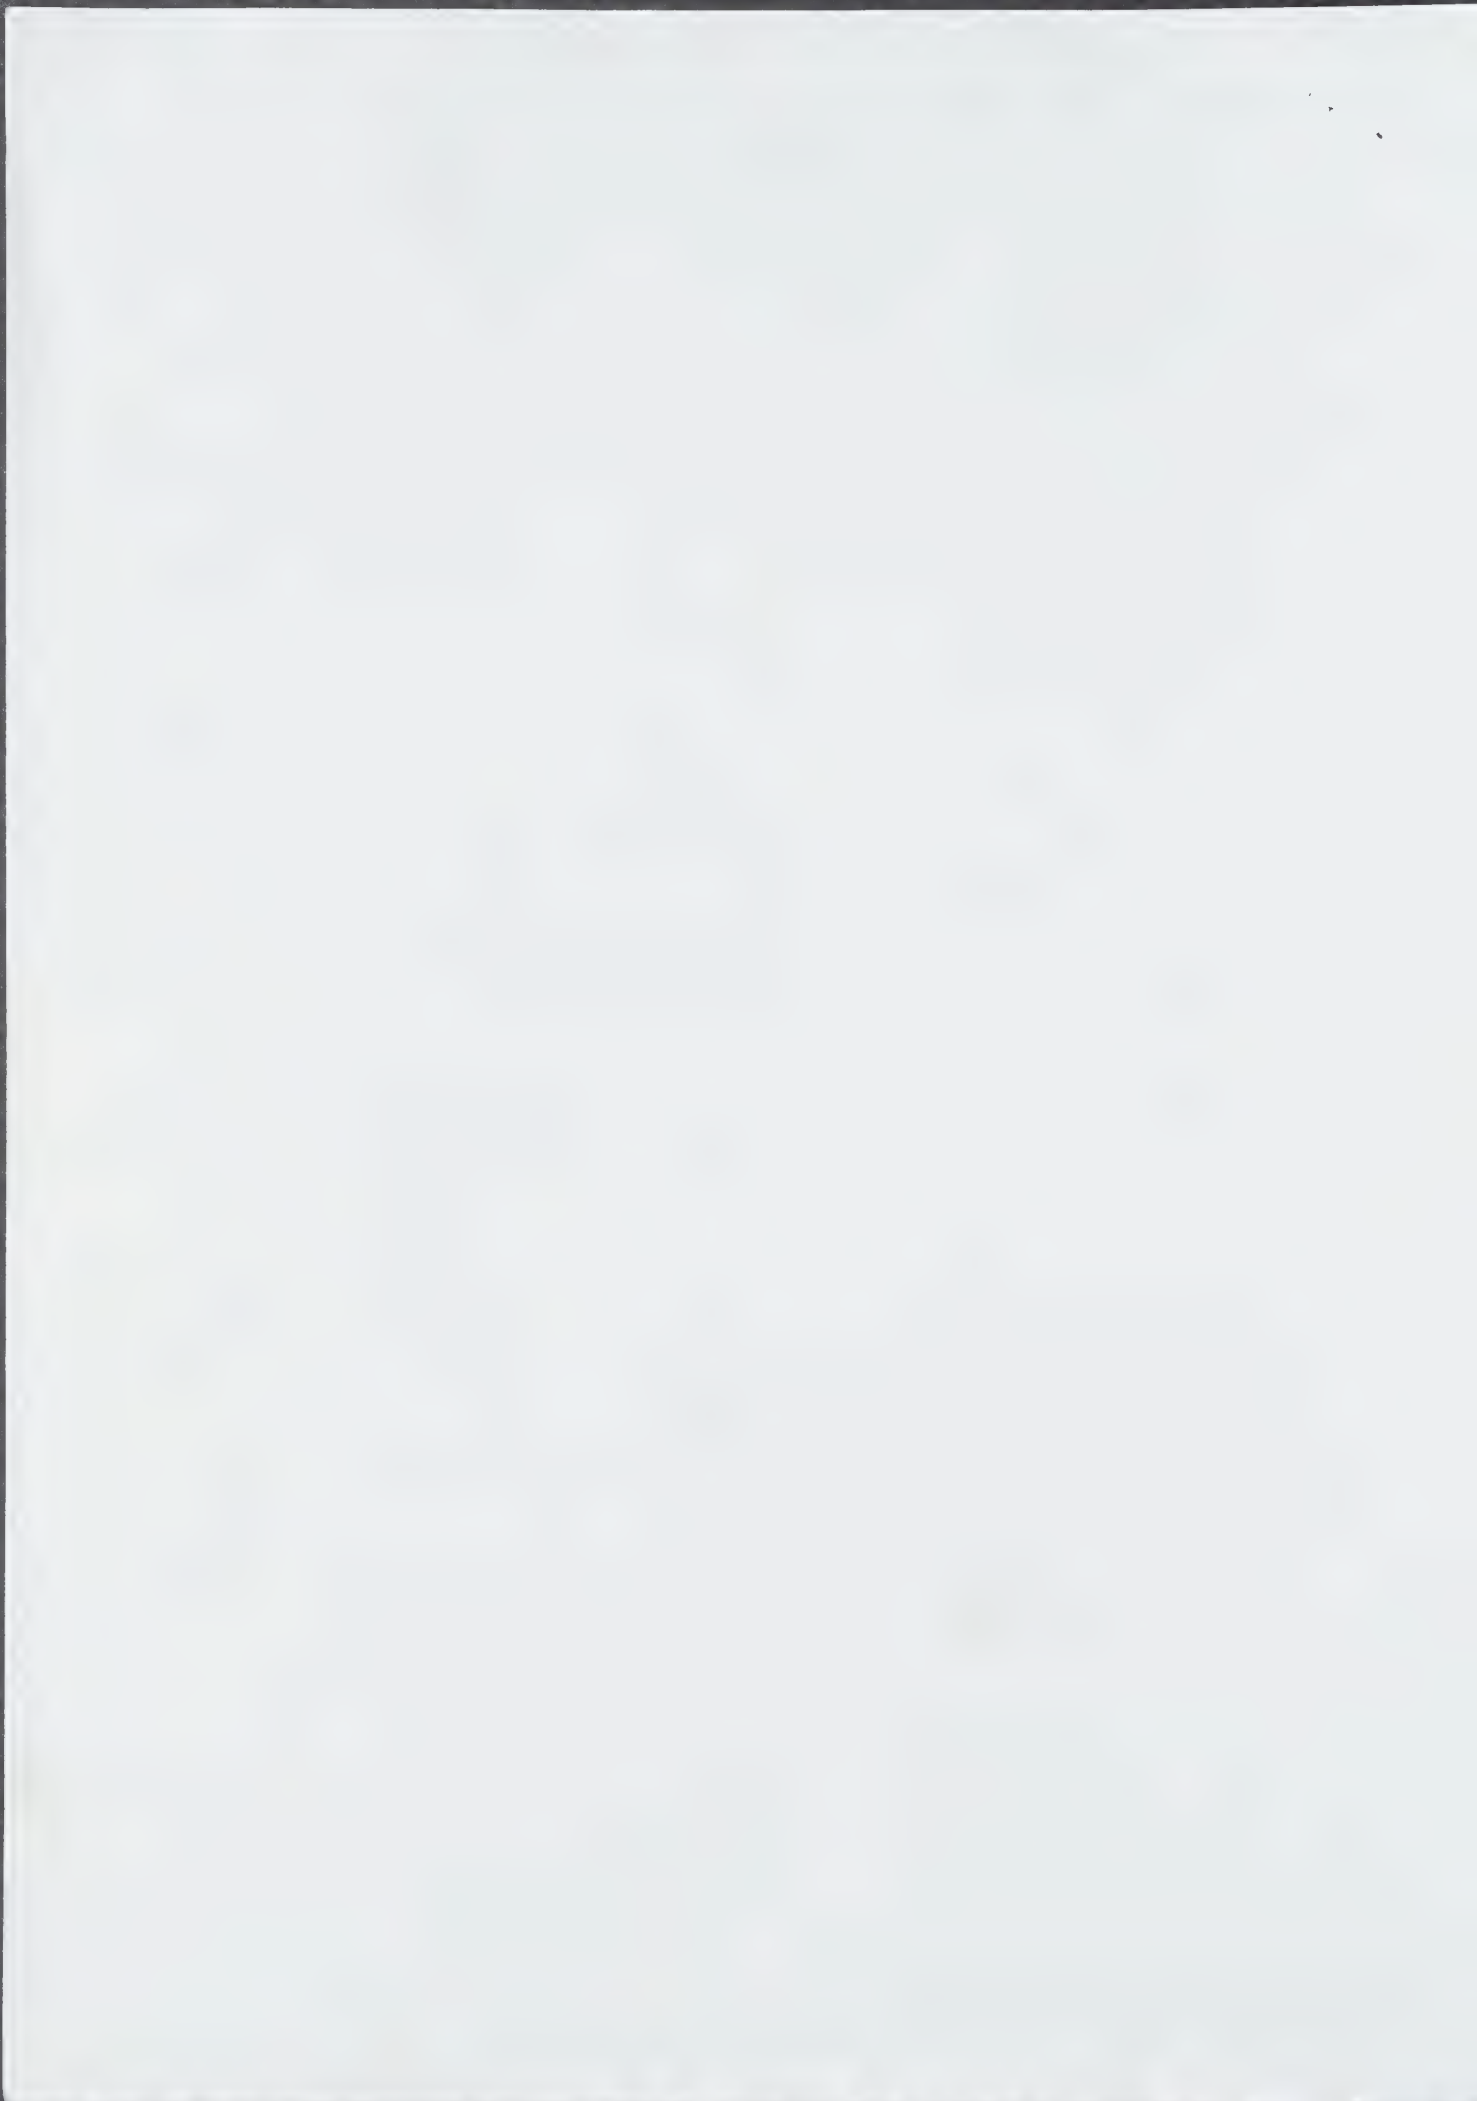

From our conversation, I learned that you are scheduled to speak at the Castle the afternoon of Saturday July 30, which means that my earlier suggestion for afternoon tea with the Principal and me is clearly not a good time for you and Isabel.

So, I wonder about earlier in the day.... could you manage a late-morning get-together instead? David mentioned that there are three speakers, and that he could schedule your talk for the last of the three, if that would help.

Thank you for letting me know, and I will let the Principal know accordingly.

Take very best care, Judith

Dear Alfred,

I hope that you received the information about Malcolm Peat that you requested, and also the very good news about Victor Snieckus.

The time for the ISC Homecoming celebrations is fast approaching, and I wanted to ask you and Isabel a question/favour in that regard...

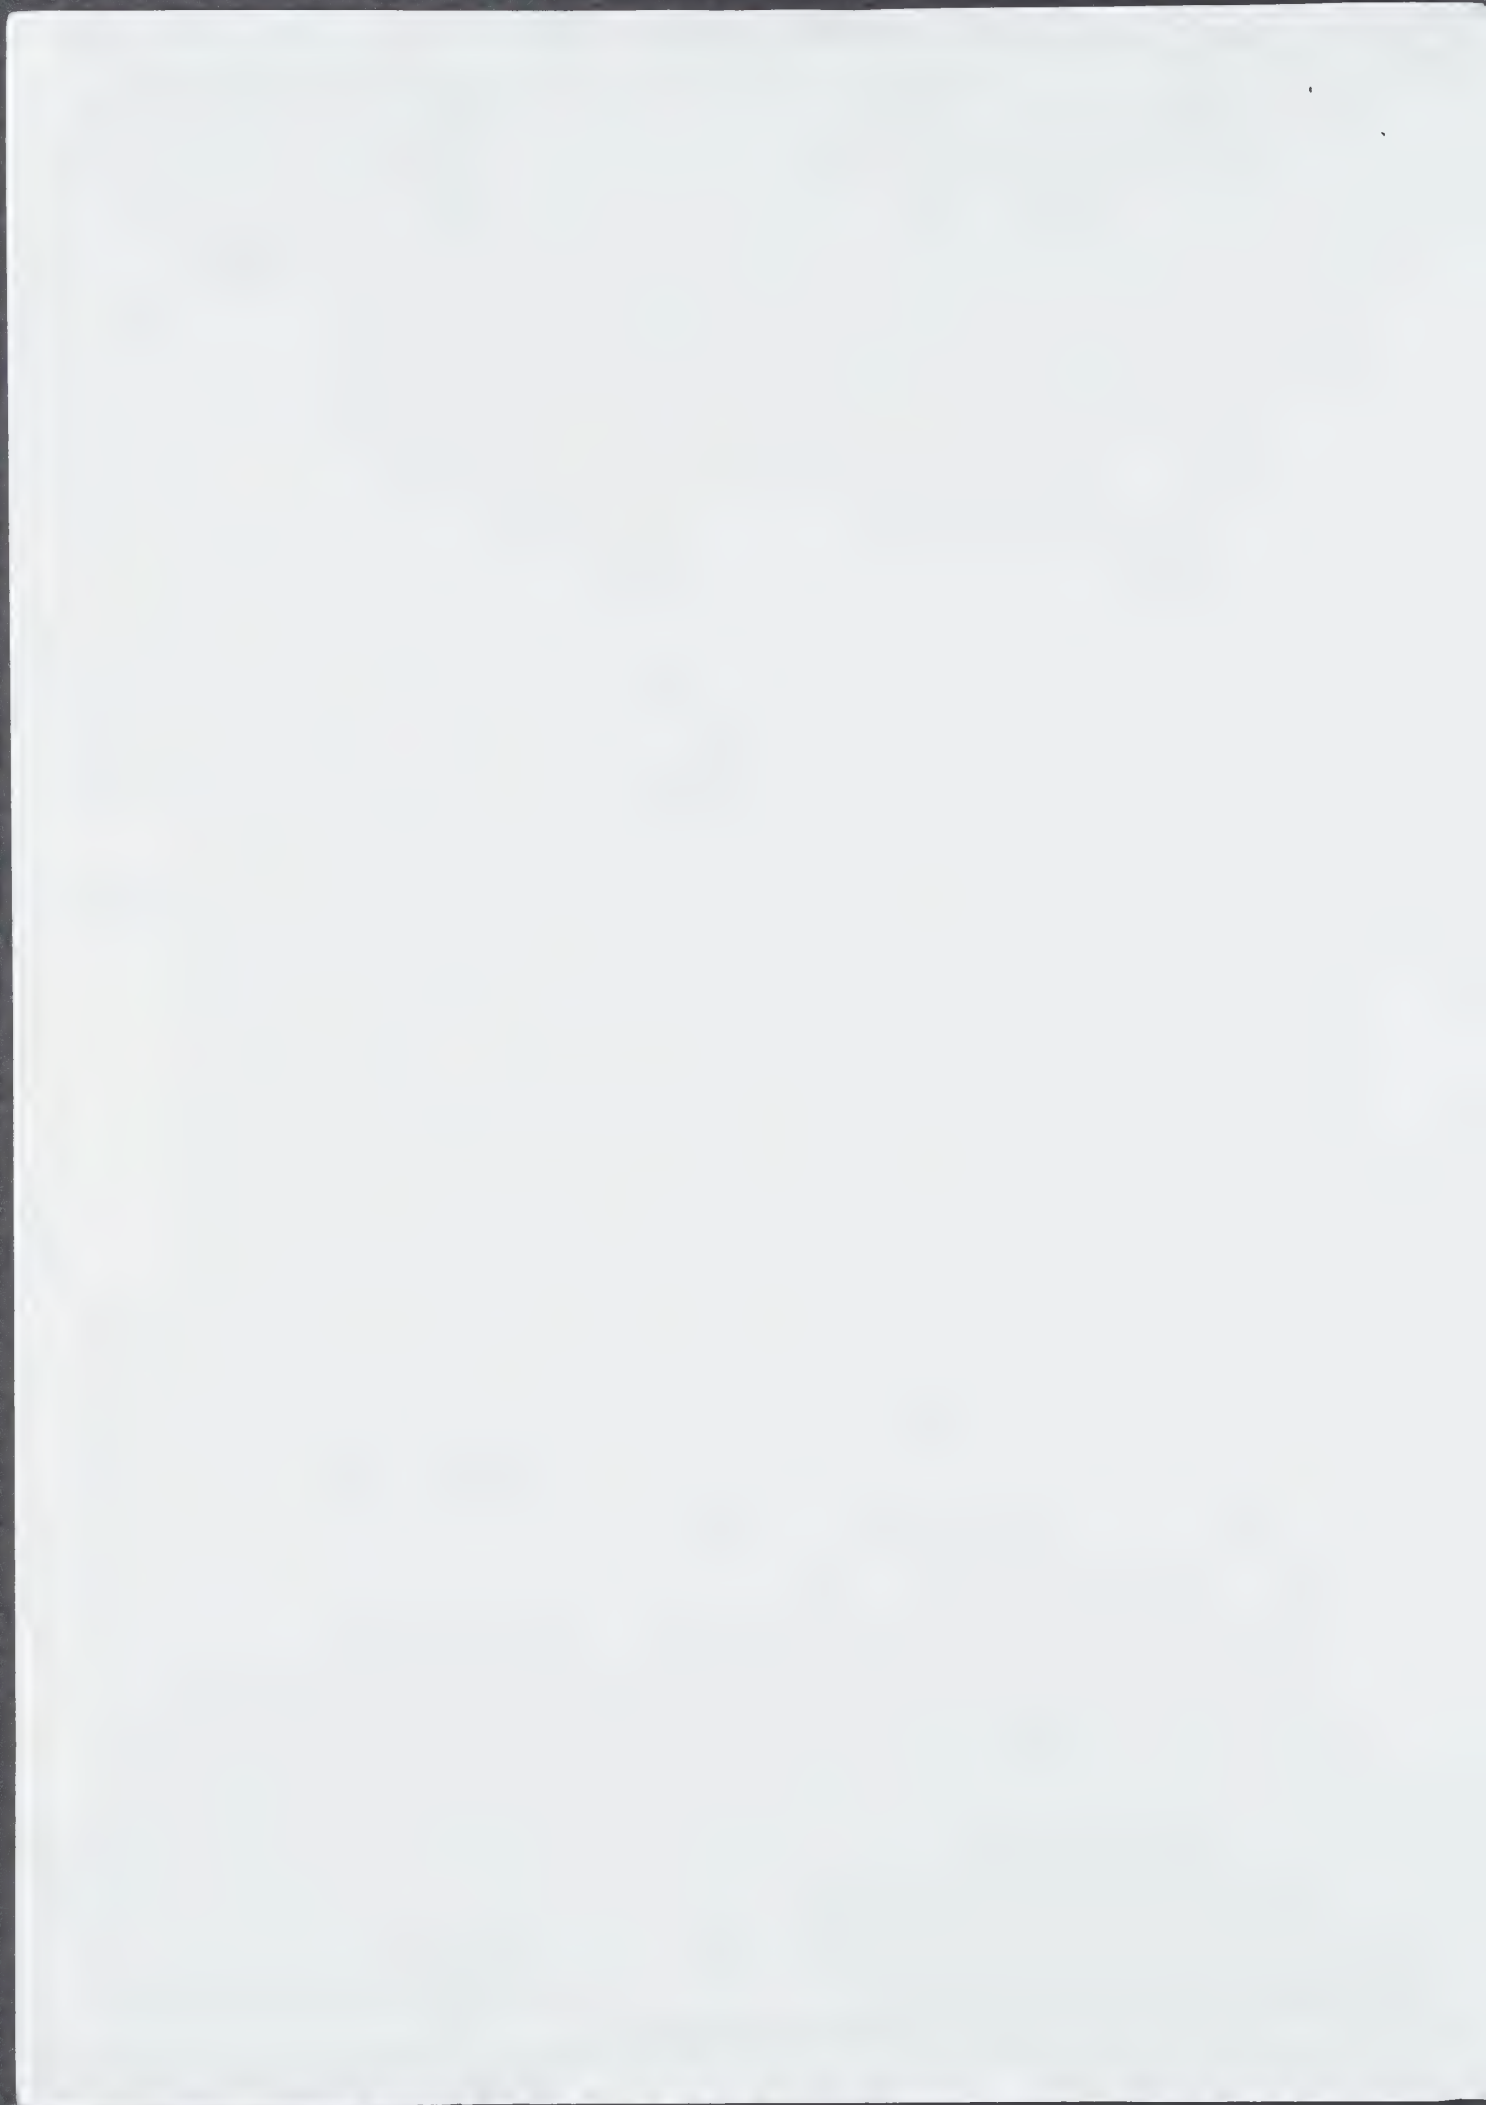

As you know, the Principal will be attending the festivities, and I wondered if she and I might come to Bexhill for tea during one of the days of the visit – ideally Saturday, July 30. There will be much about which to update you and Isabel, and I will take careful notes!

Thank you for letting me know. The Principal is now on vacation, but I will update her when I hear from you.

I continue to check regularly with the Donald Gordon Centre about a room for Homecoming. They are still full, but I will keep checking in with them and we'll move you there if at all possible, closer to the time.

The Toronto Branch provided me with some more recent information about your speaking engagement at their Quarterly Breakfast meeting. The breakfast has been moved from the Toronto Club to the Albany Club, which is located at 91 King Street East. This is about a 10-minute walk from the Royal York; the Branch will arrange for a taxi to pick you up.

The rest of the arrangements will remain the same. Doors will open at 7am, and breakfast will be served by 7:30am. You will be introduced and start speaking around 8am, for 25-30 minutes to or so. After that, there is a Question & Answer period for 15 minutes or so. People usually leave at around 8:45am or so to get to work.

The Branch has a couple of questions for you –

- 1) Would you like them to provide a moderator for you, or will you take the questions on your own?
- 2) Will you require a projection screen or any other equipment? NO

Finally, the Branch normally makes a donation to a charity in the name of their guest speaker. Previous speakers have requested that the Branch direct the donation to a Queen's fund; could you give them some direction in this regard?

Yes
Yes

Thank you, Alfred. I am so looking forward to my visit – my first to England in 30 years!

Take best care, and all the best to Isabel.

I will find out from the Branch and let you know -- although with Canada Day as a holiday here, I'm taking an extra long weekend and won't be back in the office until Monday - July 4 holiday!

At any rate, I'll get back to you very soon, thanks, Judith

One of Queen's University's most generous benefactors, Alfred Bader rejoices in the ABC's of his life, art, Bible and chemistry. His gifts to Queen's reflect his passion for these areas. He and his wife Isabel have contributed to academic excellence through Chairs in Art History and Chemistry, fellowships, scholarships, prizes and bursaries in many disciplines. Their gifts of old master paintings, including a Rembrandt, have made the Queen's collection the finest university collection in Canada. In a crowning philanthropic gesture, the couple purchased Herstmonceux, a 15th century English castle, for Queen's. Their vision for the castle has become a reality; it has been renovated – also with generous support from the Baders – and is now the International Study Centre.

Dear Judith,

I am rather concerned about one cheque which I sent to Queen's a long time ago and which has not cleared the bank. This is my cheque #4585 of July 23rd for $17,096 for the two Czech students who are now at the Castle.

A number of cheques sent long after, for instance, my cheque of September 24th for the Middle East Children's Association for $34,650 has cleared through my bank.

Please check and I hope that the July cheque has not gotten lost.

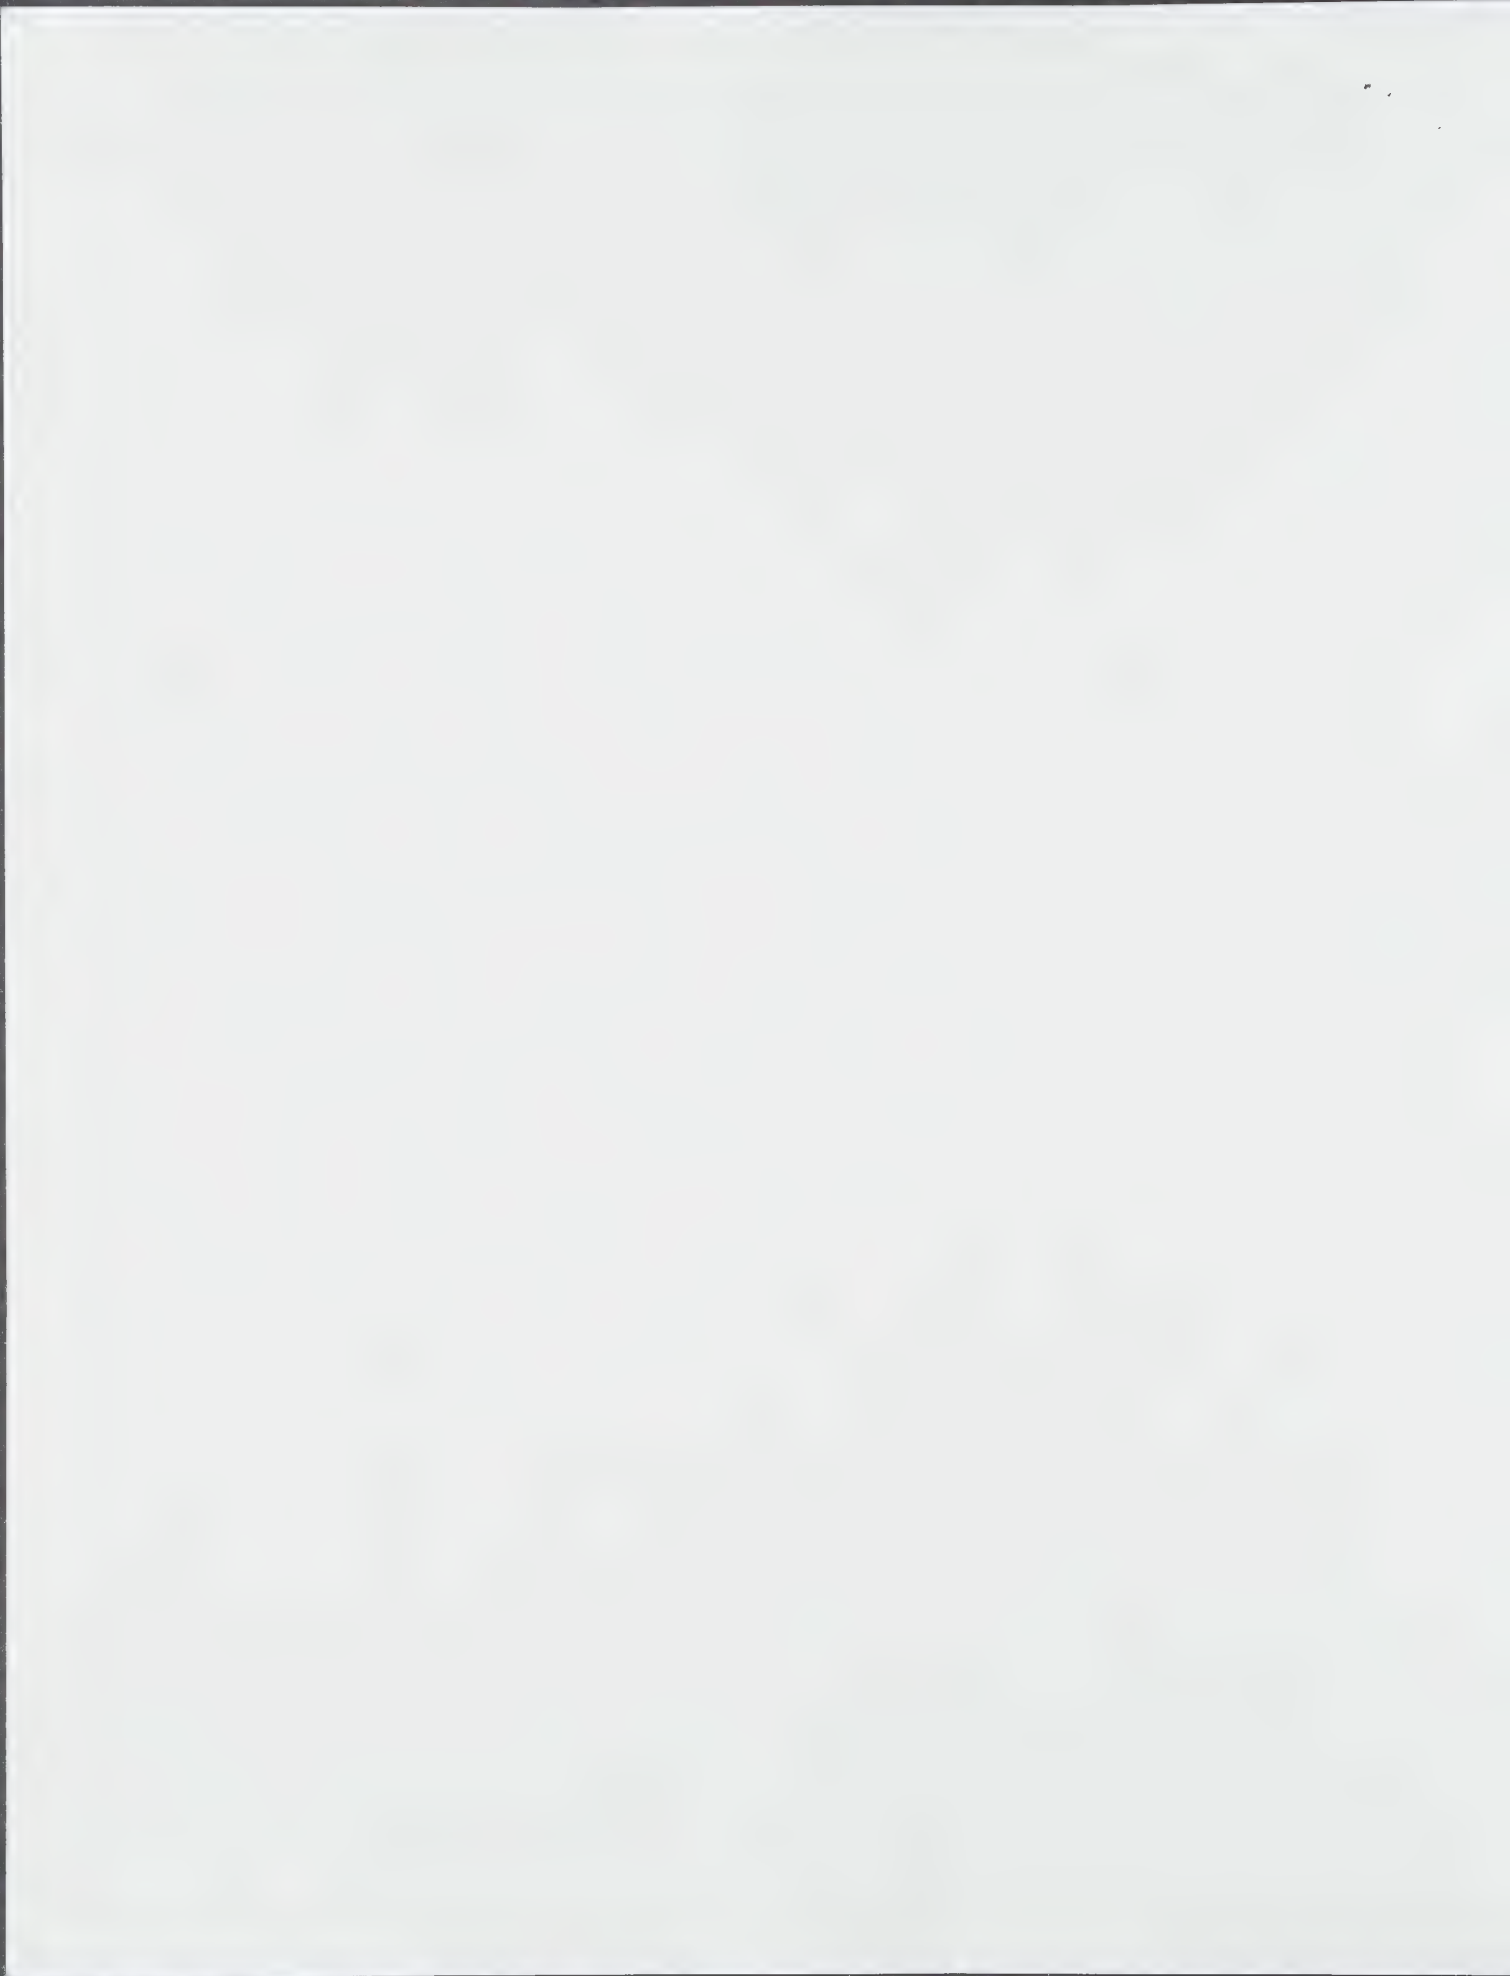

Today I am giving Queen's University 20,000 shares of Sigma-Aldrich and the proceeds of $1,120,000 US should be put into the Abeyance Account.

With thanks for all your help and with best wishes I remain

Yours sincerely,

Dear Alfred,

Thank you for your fax, and for this most recent gift of securities to Queen's.
As instructed, the proceeds will be placed in the Abeyance Account.

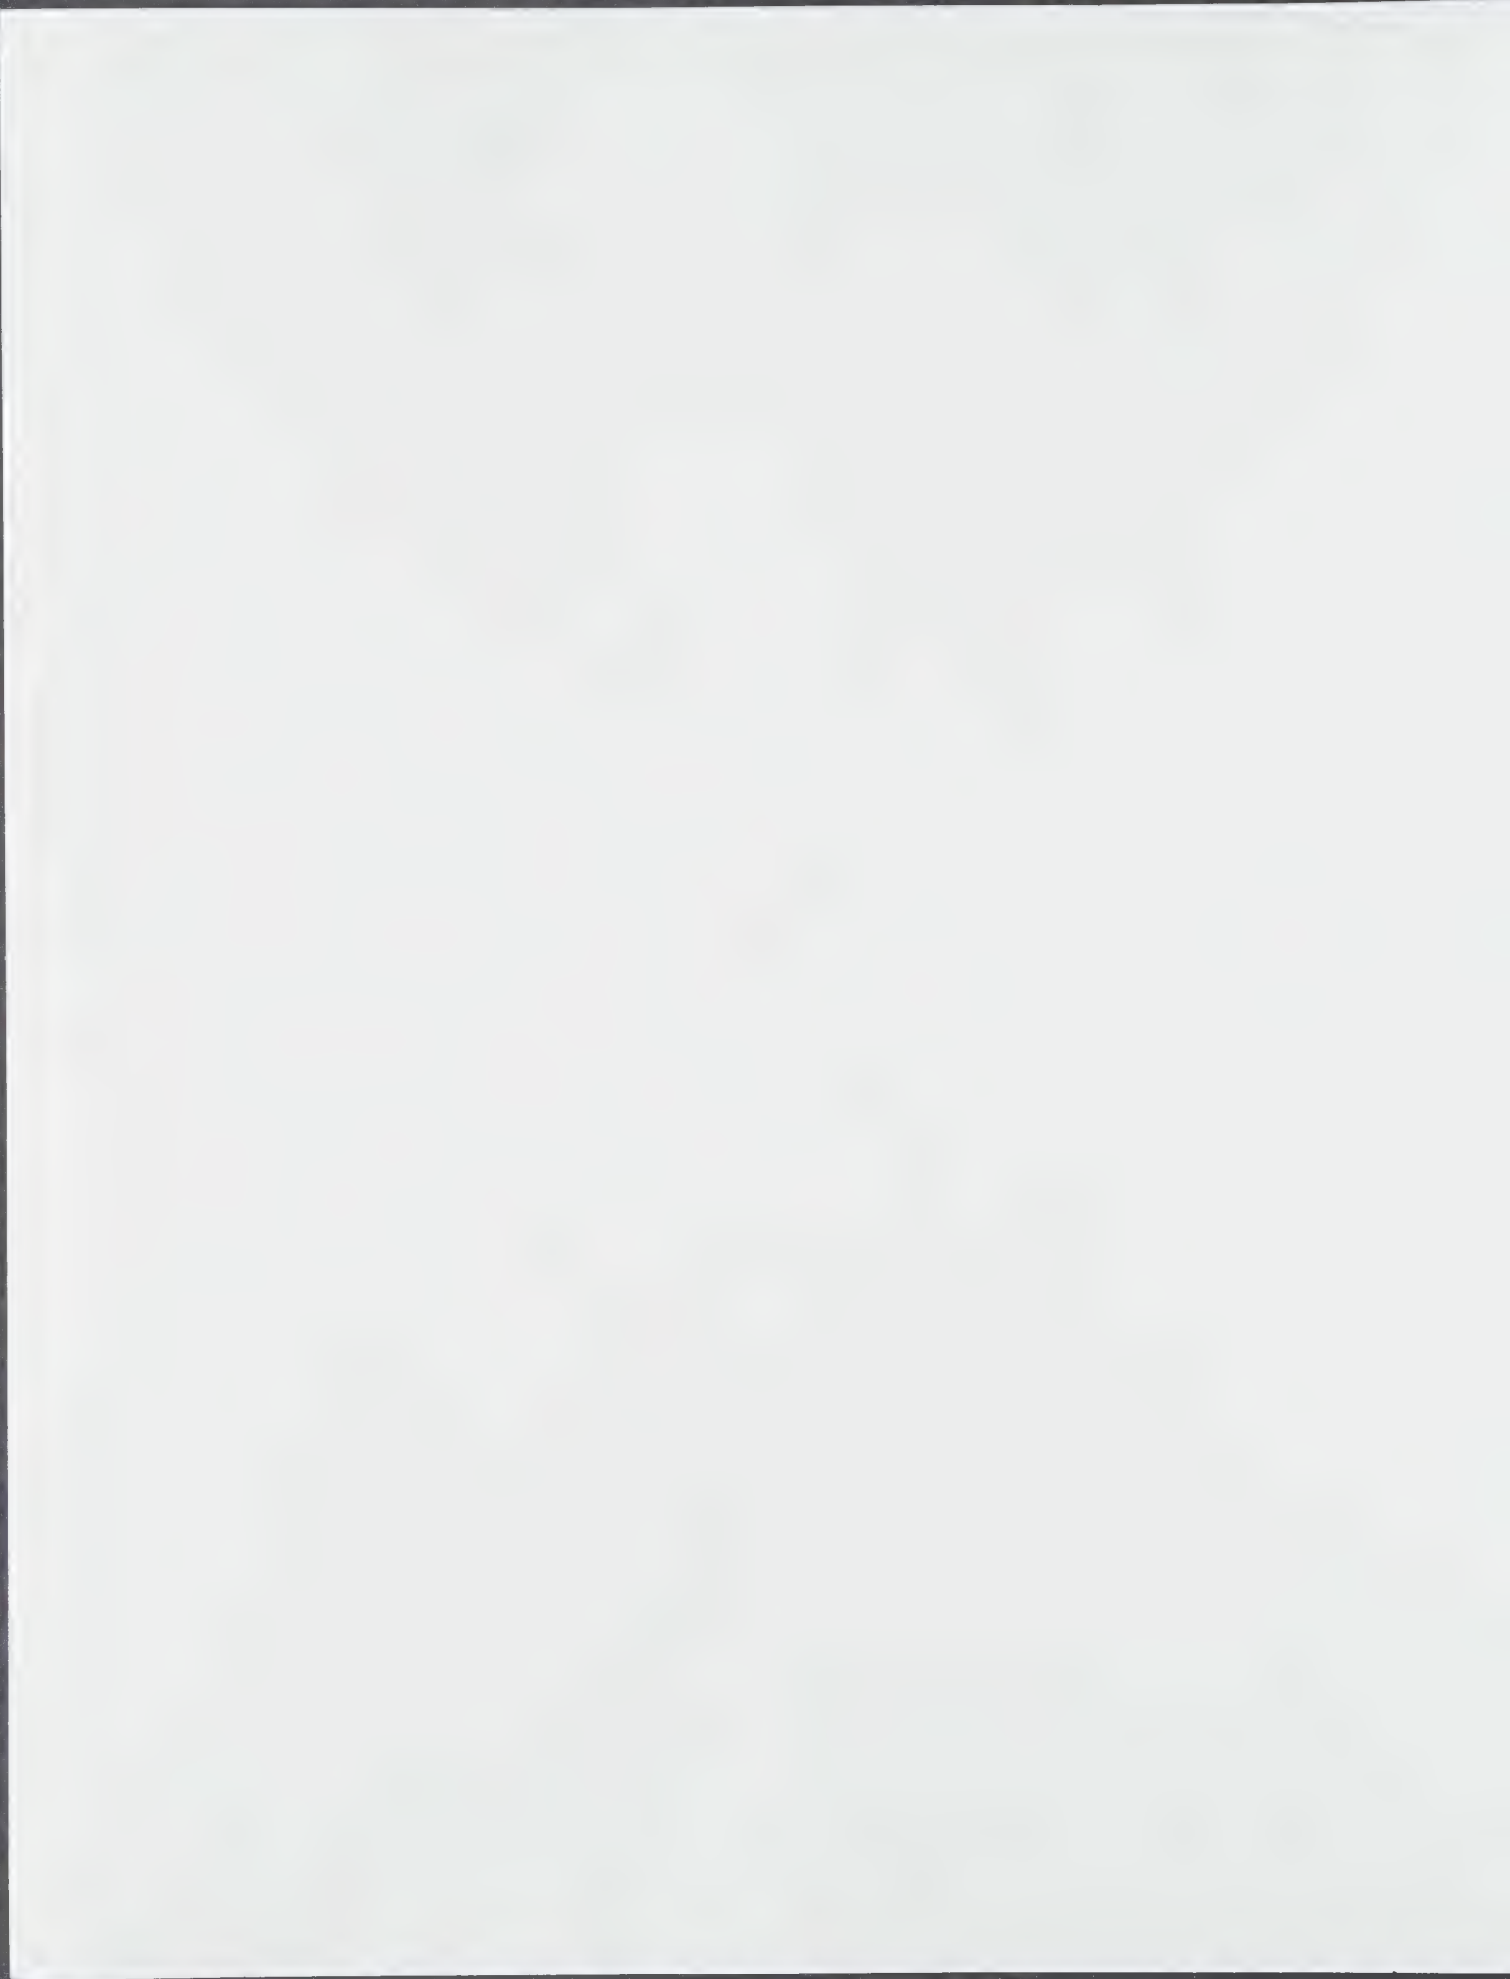

I am trying to locate information on cheque # 4585. I can find no record of it in my files here, and I see that it has not been booked on our system for receipting purposes. As soon as I figure out where it has ended up, I will be in touch.

With a July 23rd date, would I be right in thinking that this cheque would have been written in England and given to someone at the ISC? Thanks for letting me know.

Meanwhile, I am faxing you what is likely to be the final, or close to it! schedule for your visit.

Dear Alfred,

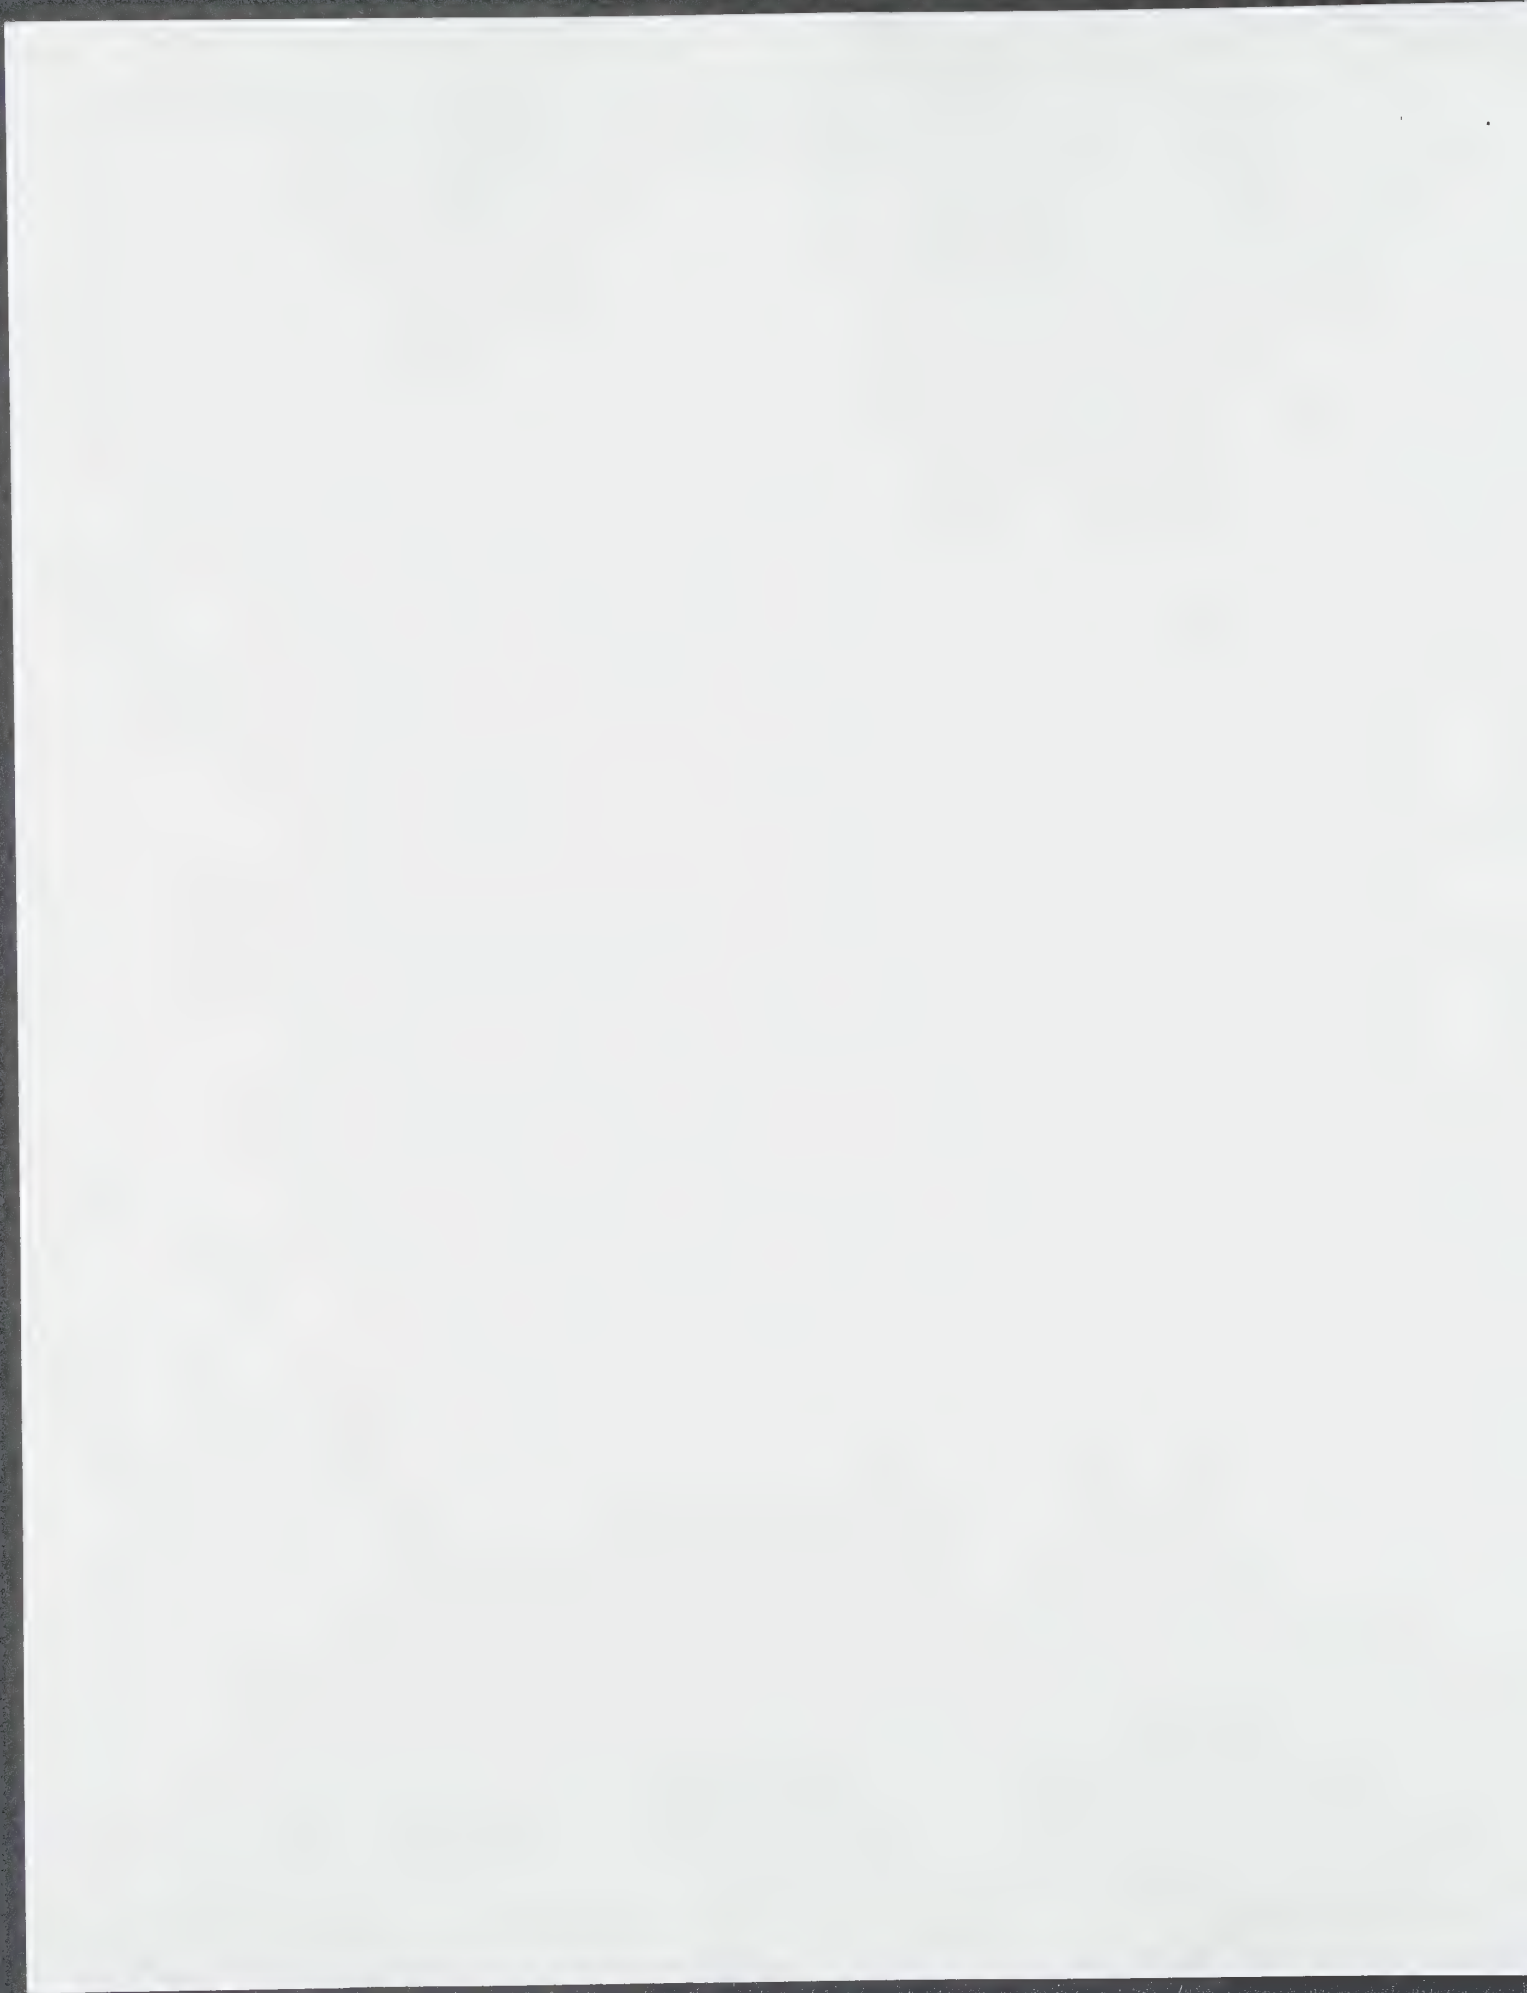

I am so very sorry to hear about Isabel's fall; is she in the hospital or at home? I hope you will pass along my very best wishes for a speedy recovery. These things always leave one badly shaken.

I understand from Ann that you will be calling today, and I hope we will be able to connect. However, in case I am not at my desk, I thought I would fax the latest version of the schedule so that you can have a look and see how things are shaping up.

I will send the invitations for Crandall, Carly and Vivien to Marion's address - thank you for providing that.

I look forward to talking with you when you've had a chance to review the schedule ~

Dear Alfred,

Thank you for your fax of October 8th. I will fax you an updated version of the schedule for your review, and will appreciate your feedback on it when you're able.

The Principal and Mrs. Leggett will be delighted to receive Carly and Vivien (do you happen to know Vivien's address?) at dinner. The other address I would appreciate having is Crandall Overton's, if you know it.

Unfortunately, Don Macnamara is involved at a Royal Military College event on Saturday, which, he has confirmed, will obligate him right up until supper. If the best thing is to keep Sunday morning for visiting with Isabel's family, then perhaps I should suggest to Don that he connect with you at the Reception Sunday afternoon.

I have also removed Rosetta Elkin from Friday evening's dinner. Is there another arrangement you'd like to make for Friday evening? Thanks for letting me know. Also, do you suppose that we should be sending a dinner invitation to Rabbi Elkin?

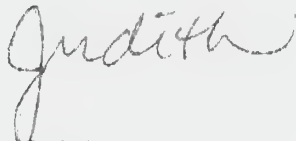

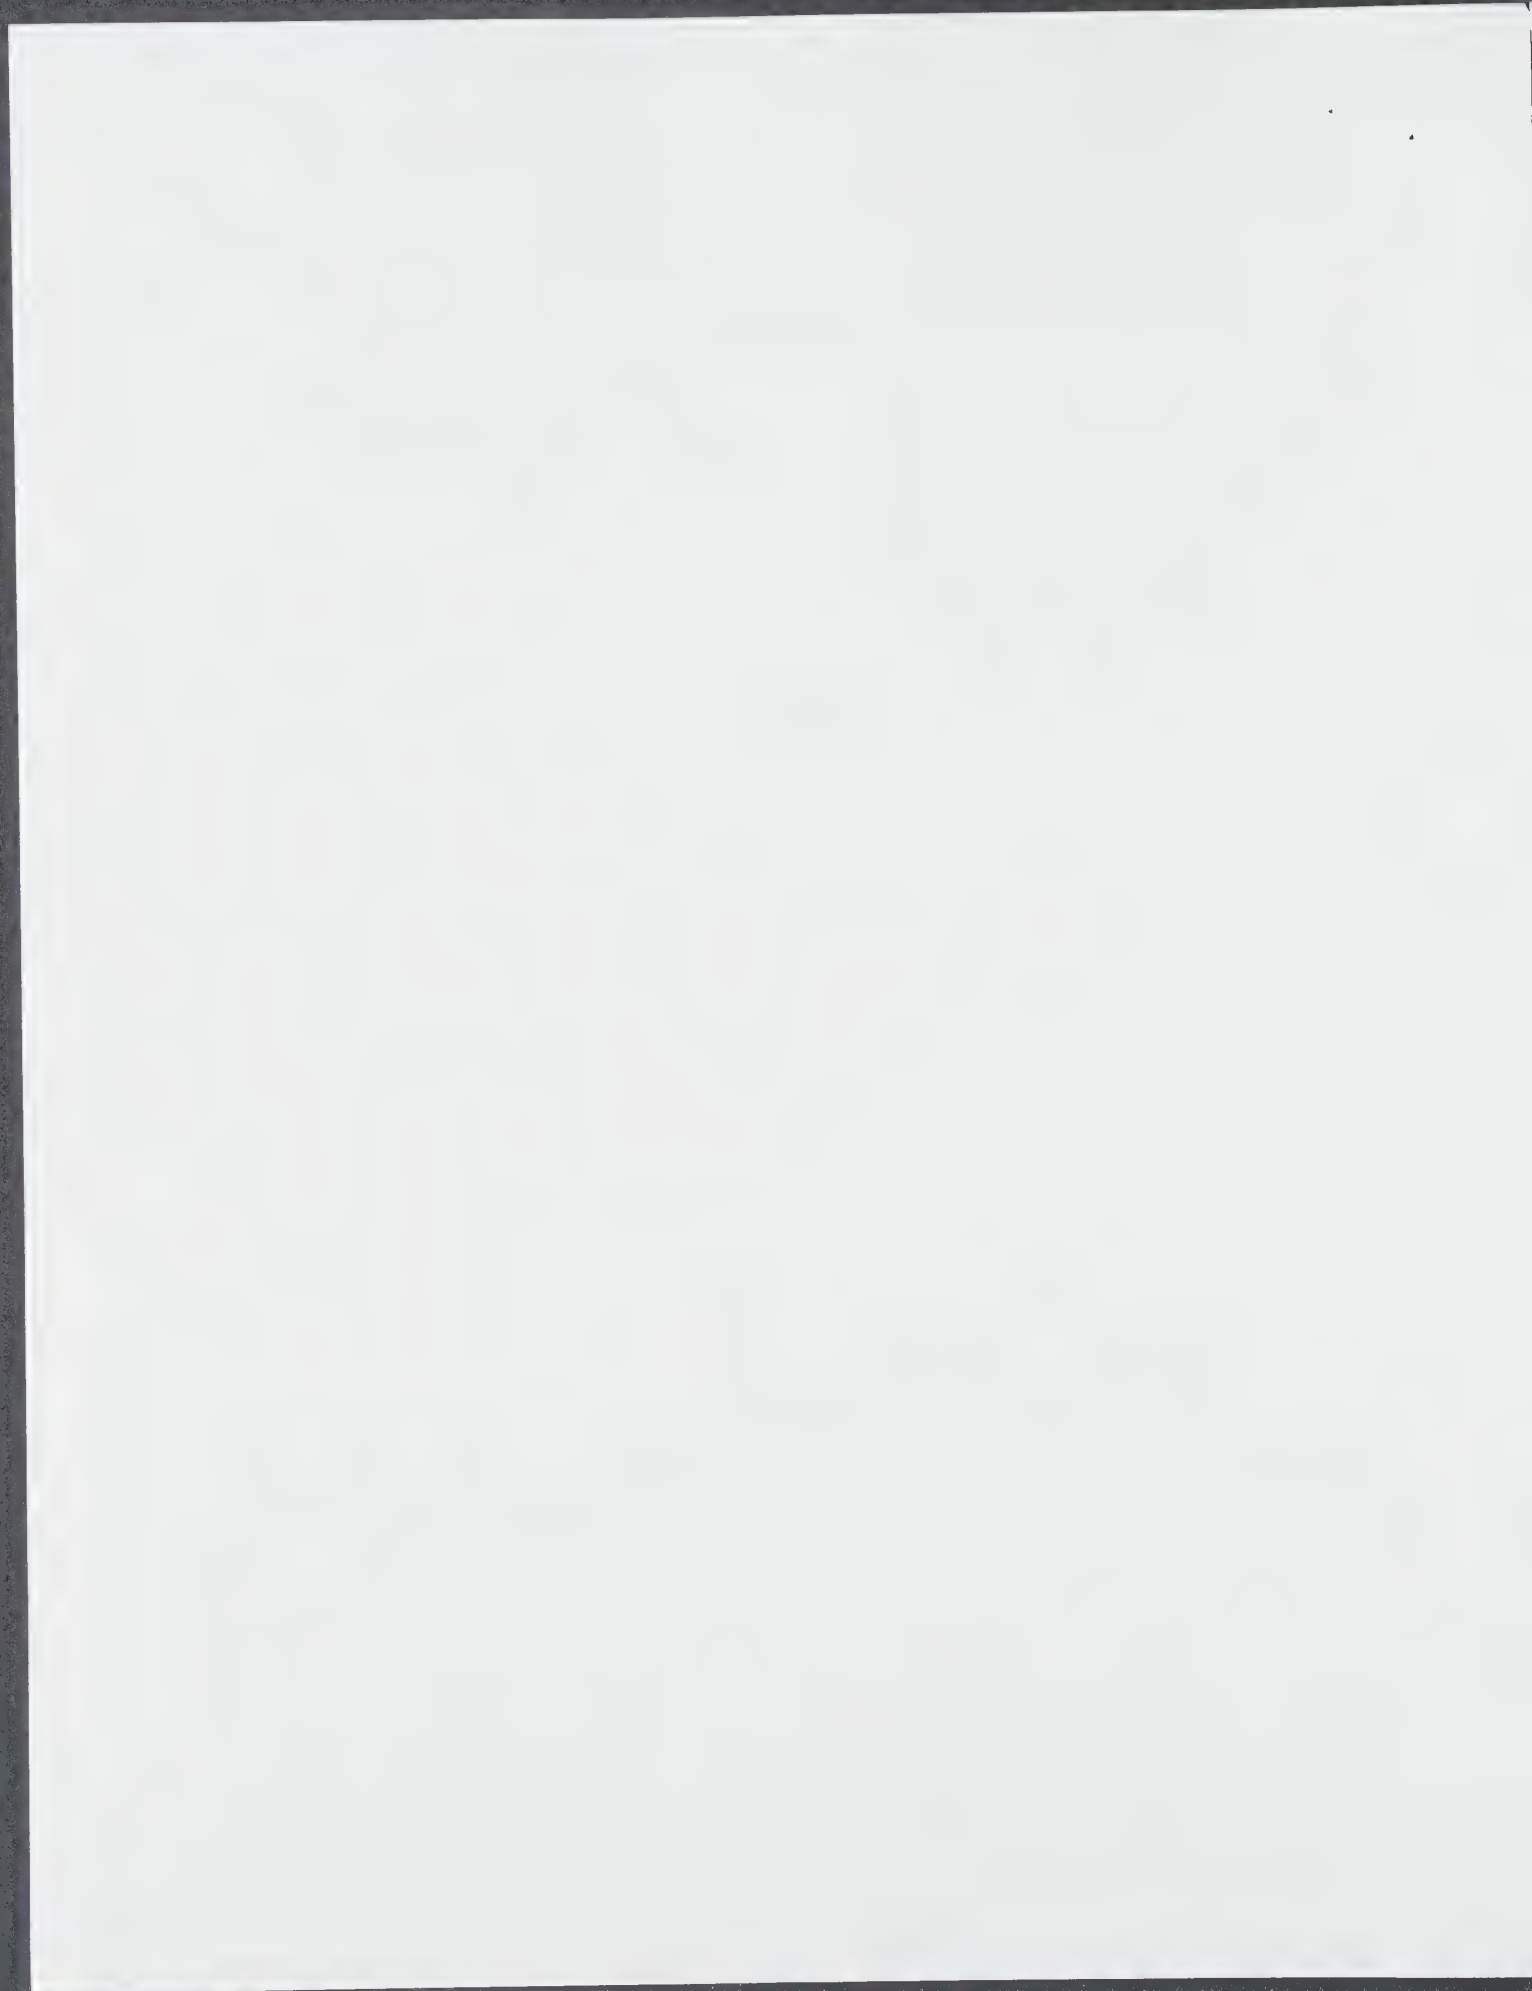

The other change you'll notice on the schedule is a Press Conference which the Agnes is organizing. Janet Brooke wonders if you would be willing to be interviewed at 11:30am on Friday morning. The Press will be at the Gallery for a "pre-Exhibition" tour. Again, thanks for letting me know.

I look forward to talking with you when you've had a chance to review the schedule ~

Dear Alfred,

I received your phone message and I am sending you a package with the following:

- Some issues of the Review
- Isabel's receipts (duplicates)
- Endowed Fund Reports for the fiscal 2002-2003 year, for your review prior to your visit here at the end of October.

I am faxing you, along with this letter, two other documents. One is the Fund Report for the Conservation Fund which you had requested on the phone, and the other is a brief paragraph for which I am asking your approval. The paragraph will be part of a permanent display that the University is putting together to highlight the history of philanthropy. There are references to important contributors in the life of Queen's, and we would like to include the photo of you and Isabel, and the accompanying text.

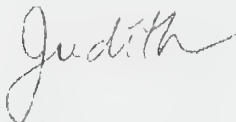

I am sending the text double-spaced to allow room for changes. Once I hear back from you, I'll forward the text to its author, and once the display is completed, I'll send a copy to you. I think you'll like it!

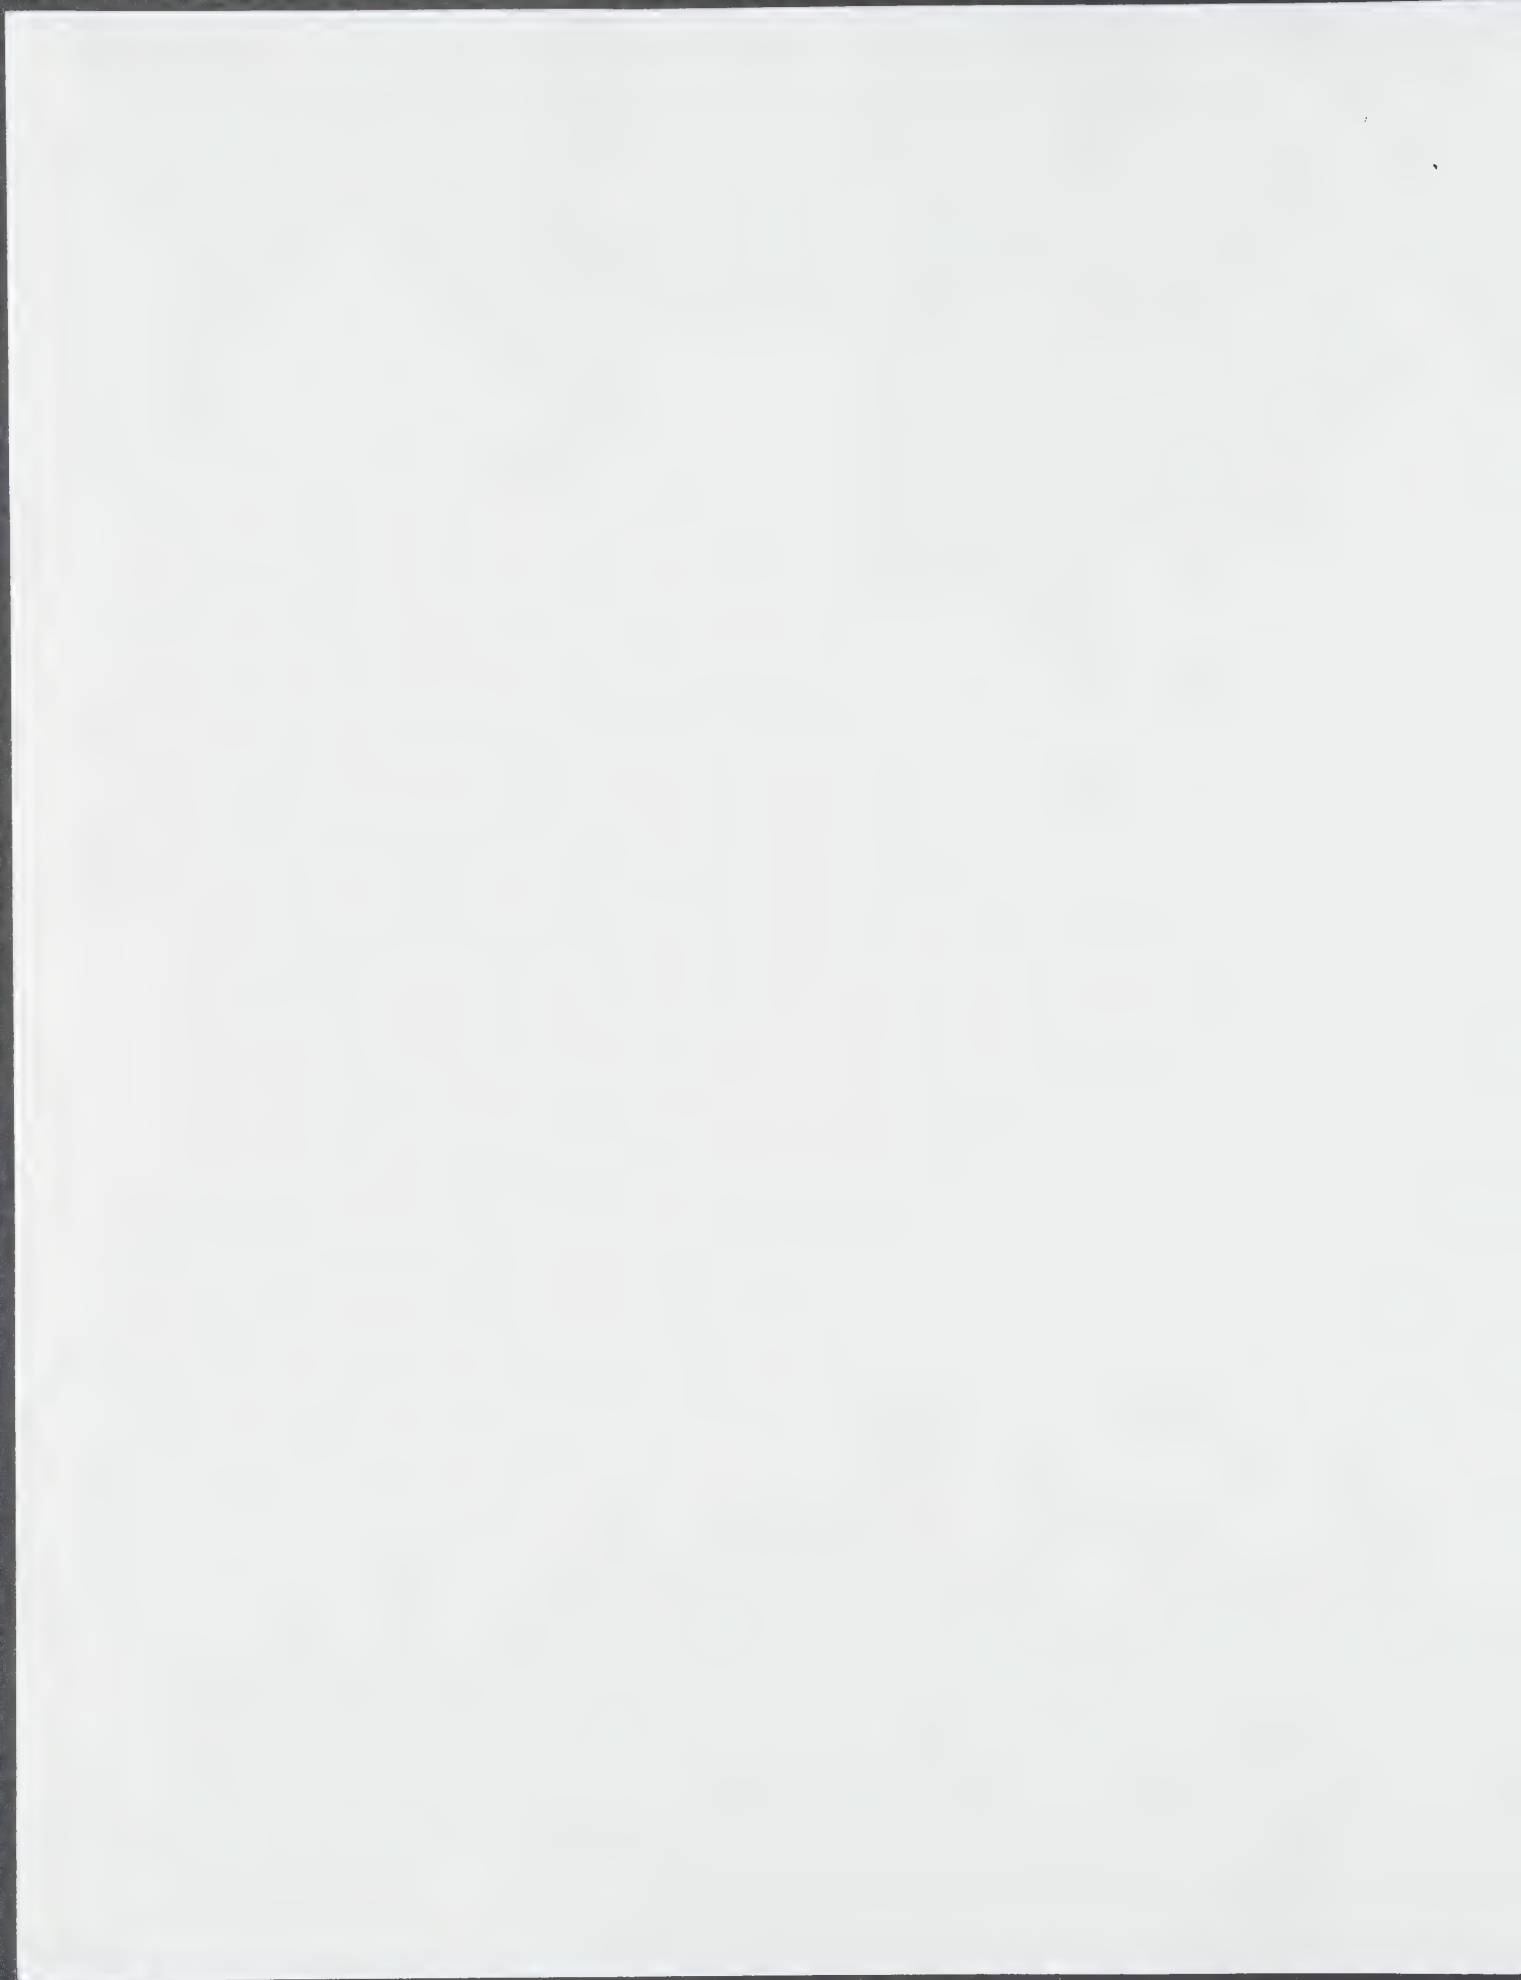

I am working on details for your upcoming visit, and hope to fax you a draft very soon.

Take best care,

that Queen's uses to calculate what it refers to as "benefits" is generally between 16.5% and 18%. "Benefits" are things like medical coverage, life insurance, etc. They represent costs to the university over and

"Office Overhead", for things like computer equipment, office supplies, phone, etc runs at a rate of about 17%. As you can imagine, though, this figure varies

"Overhead" is assessed on contract funds for researchers at a rate of 30%.

To Judith Brown

Queen's tradition of diversity was experienced first-hand by one of our most distinguished alumni and generous donors, Dr. Alfred Bader. As a Jewish teenager escaping Hitler, he came to England in 1938, and in 1940 was sent by Britain to an internment camp near Montreal, Quebec. There the young Austrian native continued his studies and, once released, applied to several well-known Canadian universities. Queen's was the only one to offer him admission.

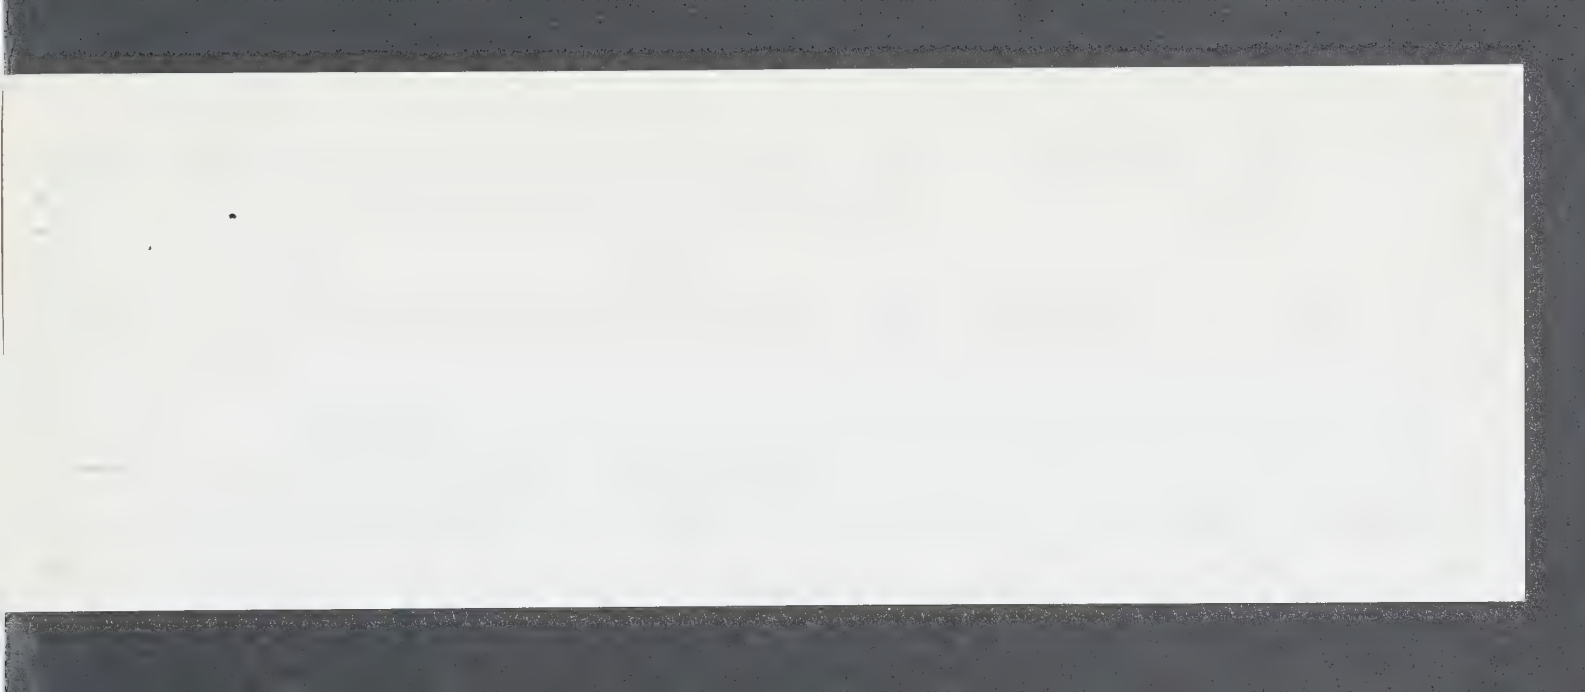

"I was a free man, I had been welcomed into a Canadian family and had been accepted by a prestigious Canadian university," writes Dr. Bader in his 1995 autobiography, Adventures of a Chemist Collector. "I was determined to do my best. ...Two years in the camp, education without distraction, followed by four years at Queen's, was a great beginning for a successful life." Indeed it was. After receiving degrees in engineering chemistry and history at Queen's, Dr. Bader went on to graduate studies at Harvard, formed his own international chemical company, and became a world-renowned philanthropist and art collector. Among his many gifts to Queen's, in 1993, was the 15th century Herstmonceux Castle in England, which today houses the University's International Study Centre (see page XX).

Dear Judith,

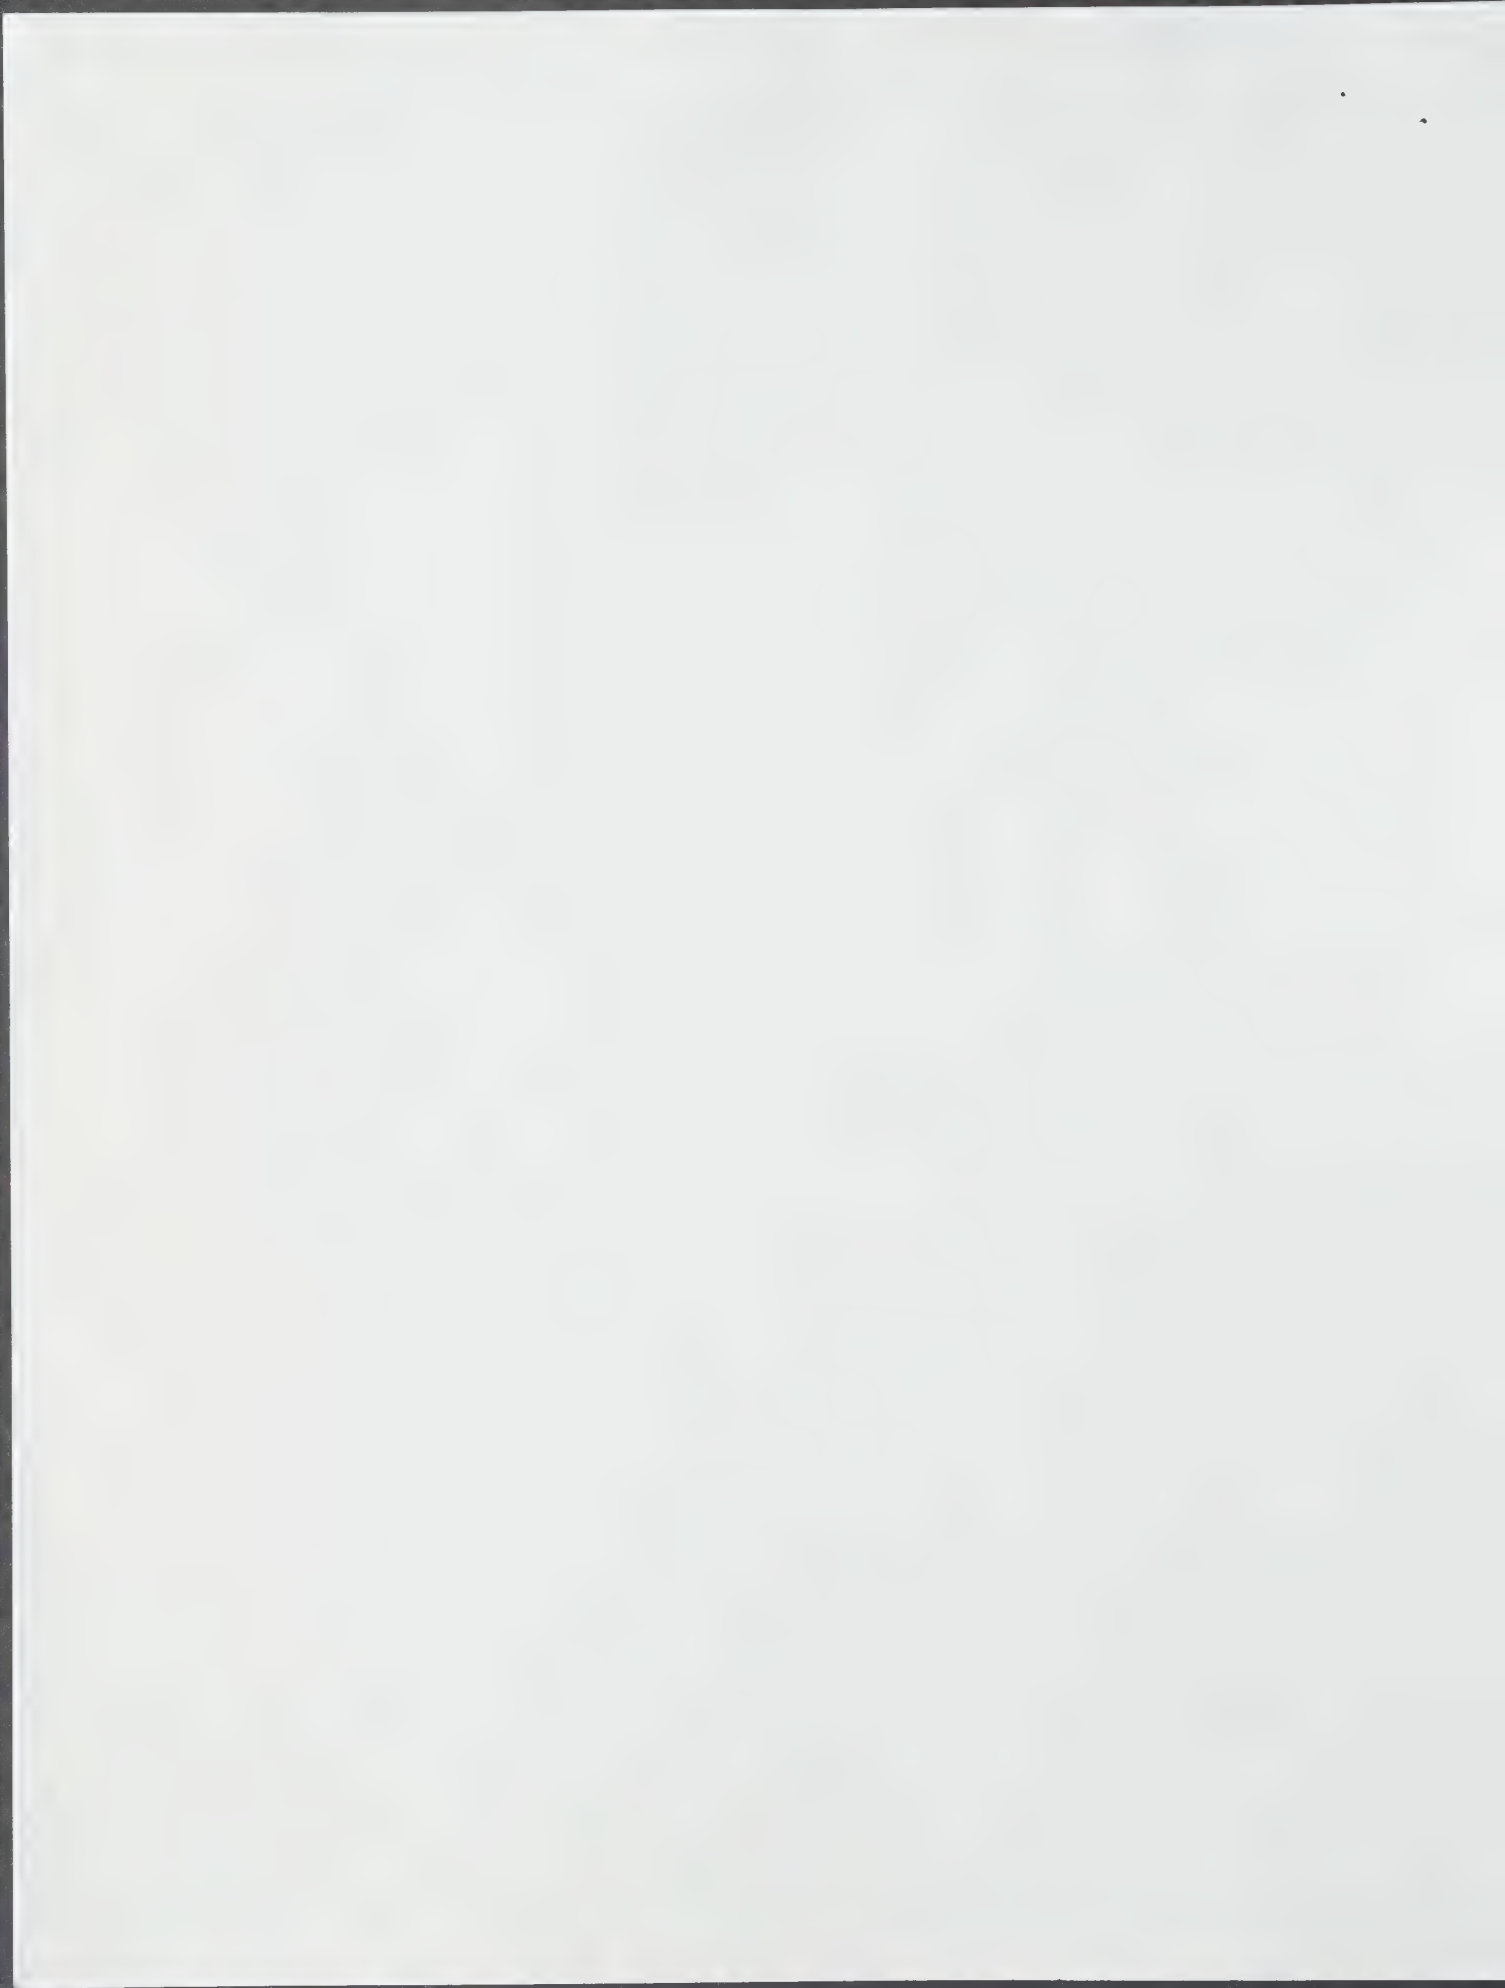

In response to your fax of today, I did receive the second acknowledgement for the gift to the Art Centre. The first one mailed on October 31st must have gone astray.

My next gift to Queen's will, I hope, be for US $50,000 to pay for the Bader Curator at the Art Centre. I had hoped that that person would be chosen last year, but the choice takes a long time. That cheque will come as soon as David McTavish tells me of the choice. The Abeyance Account is for larger gifts such as, for instance, a Chair in Southern Baroque Art.

With all good wishes I remain

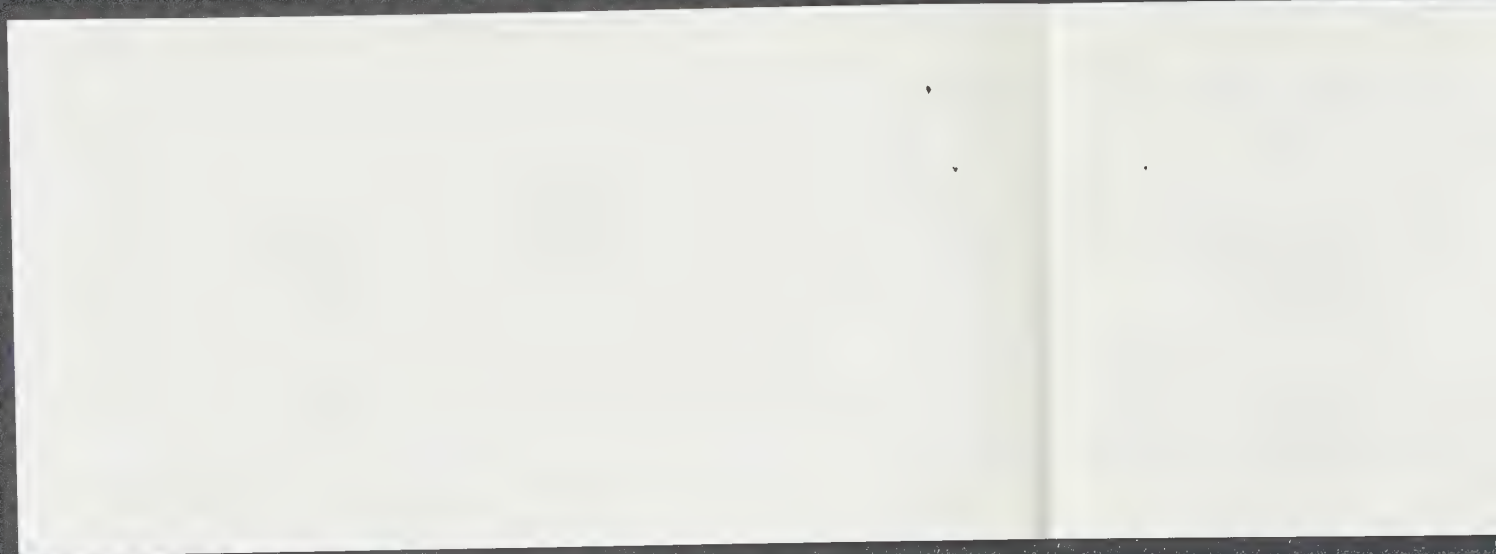

Yours sincerely,

Alfred Bader

Dear Alfred and Isabel,

I am writing this note to you in hopes that you enjoyed a good trip overseas and have returned home with happy memories. Sarah was at our Christmas party earlier this week... she looks wonderful!

I wish you both all the very best of the holiday season, and a happy and joyous new year.

Your Stewardship report, which I anticipate sending to you in early February, is now underway.

Blessings to you both,

Judith

PS The opportunity to get to know you a little better has been a real highlight for me this past year :)

Dear Judith,

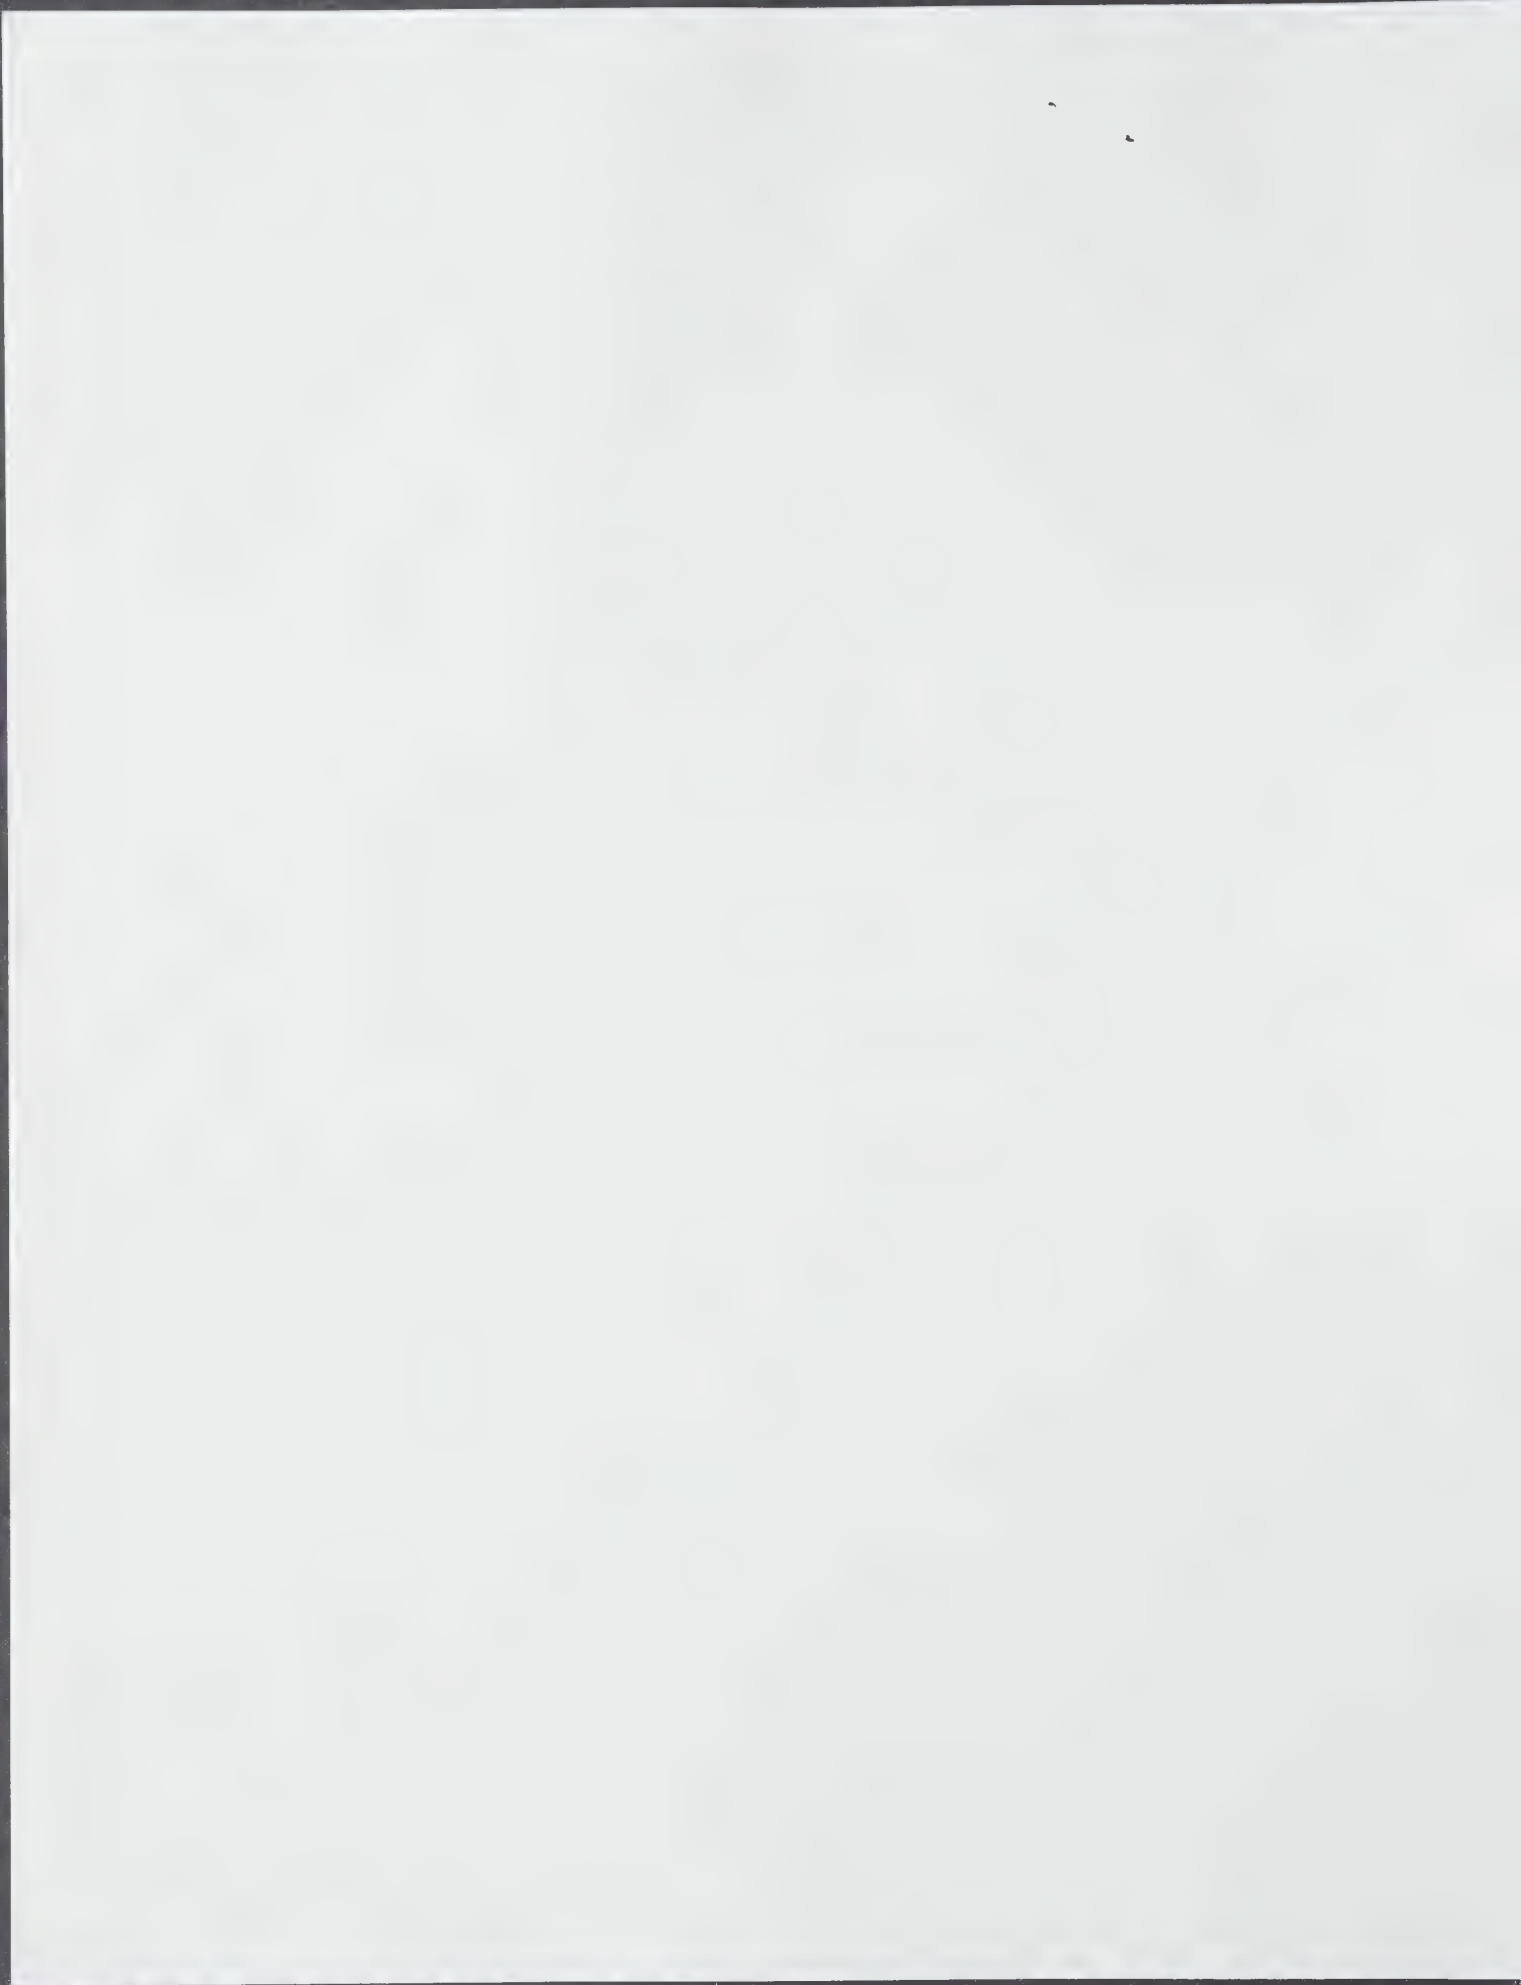

In response to your fax of today, use whatever photographs you would like wherever they might be of interest.

Of course we would also like to have some copies.

I am so glad that you sent the Campaign Launch package by ground rather than by air. It arrived safely and I always cringe when I see that my own University spends many dollars sending us material by air.

With best wishes as always,

Alfred Bader

FAX #: 1-613-533-6599

Dear Judith,

Many thanks for your detailed fax of yesterday.

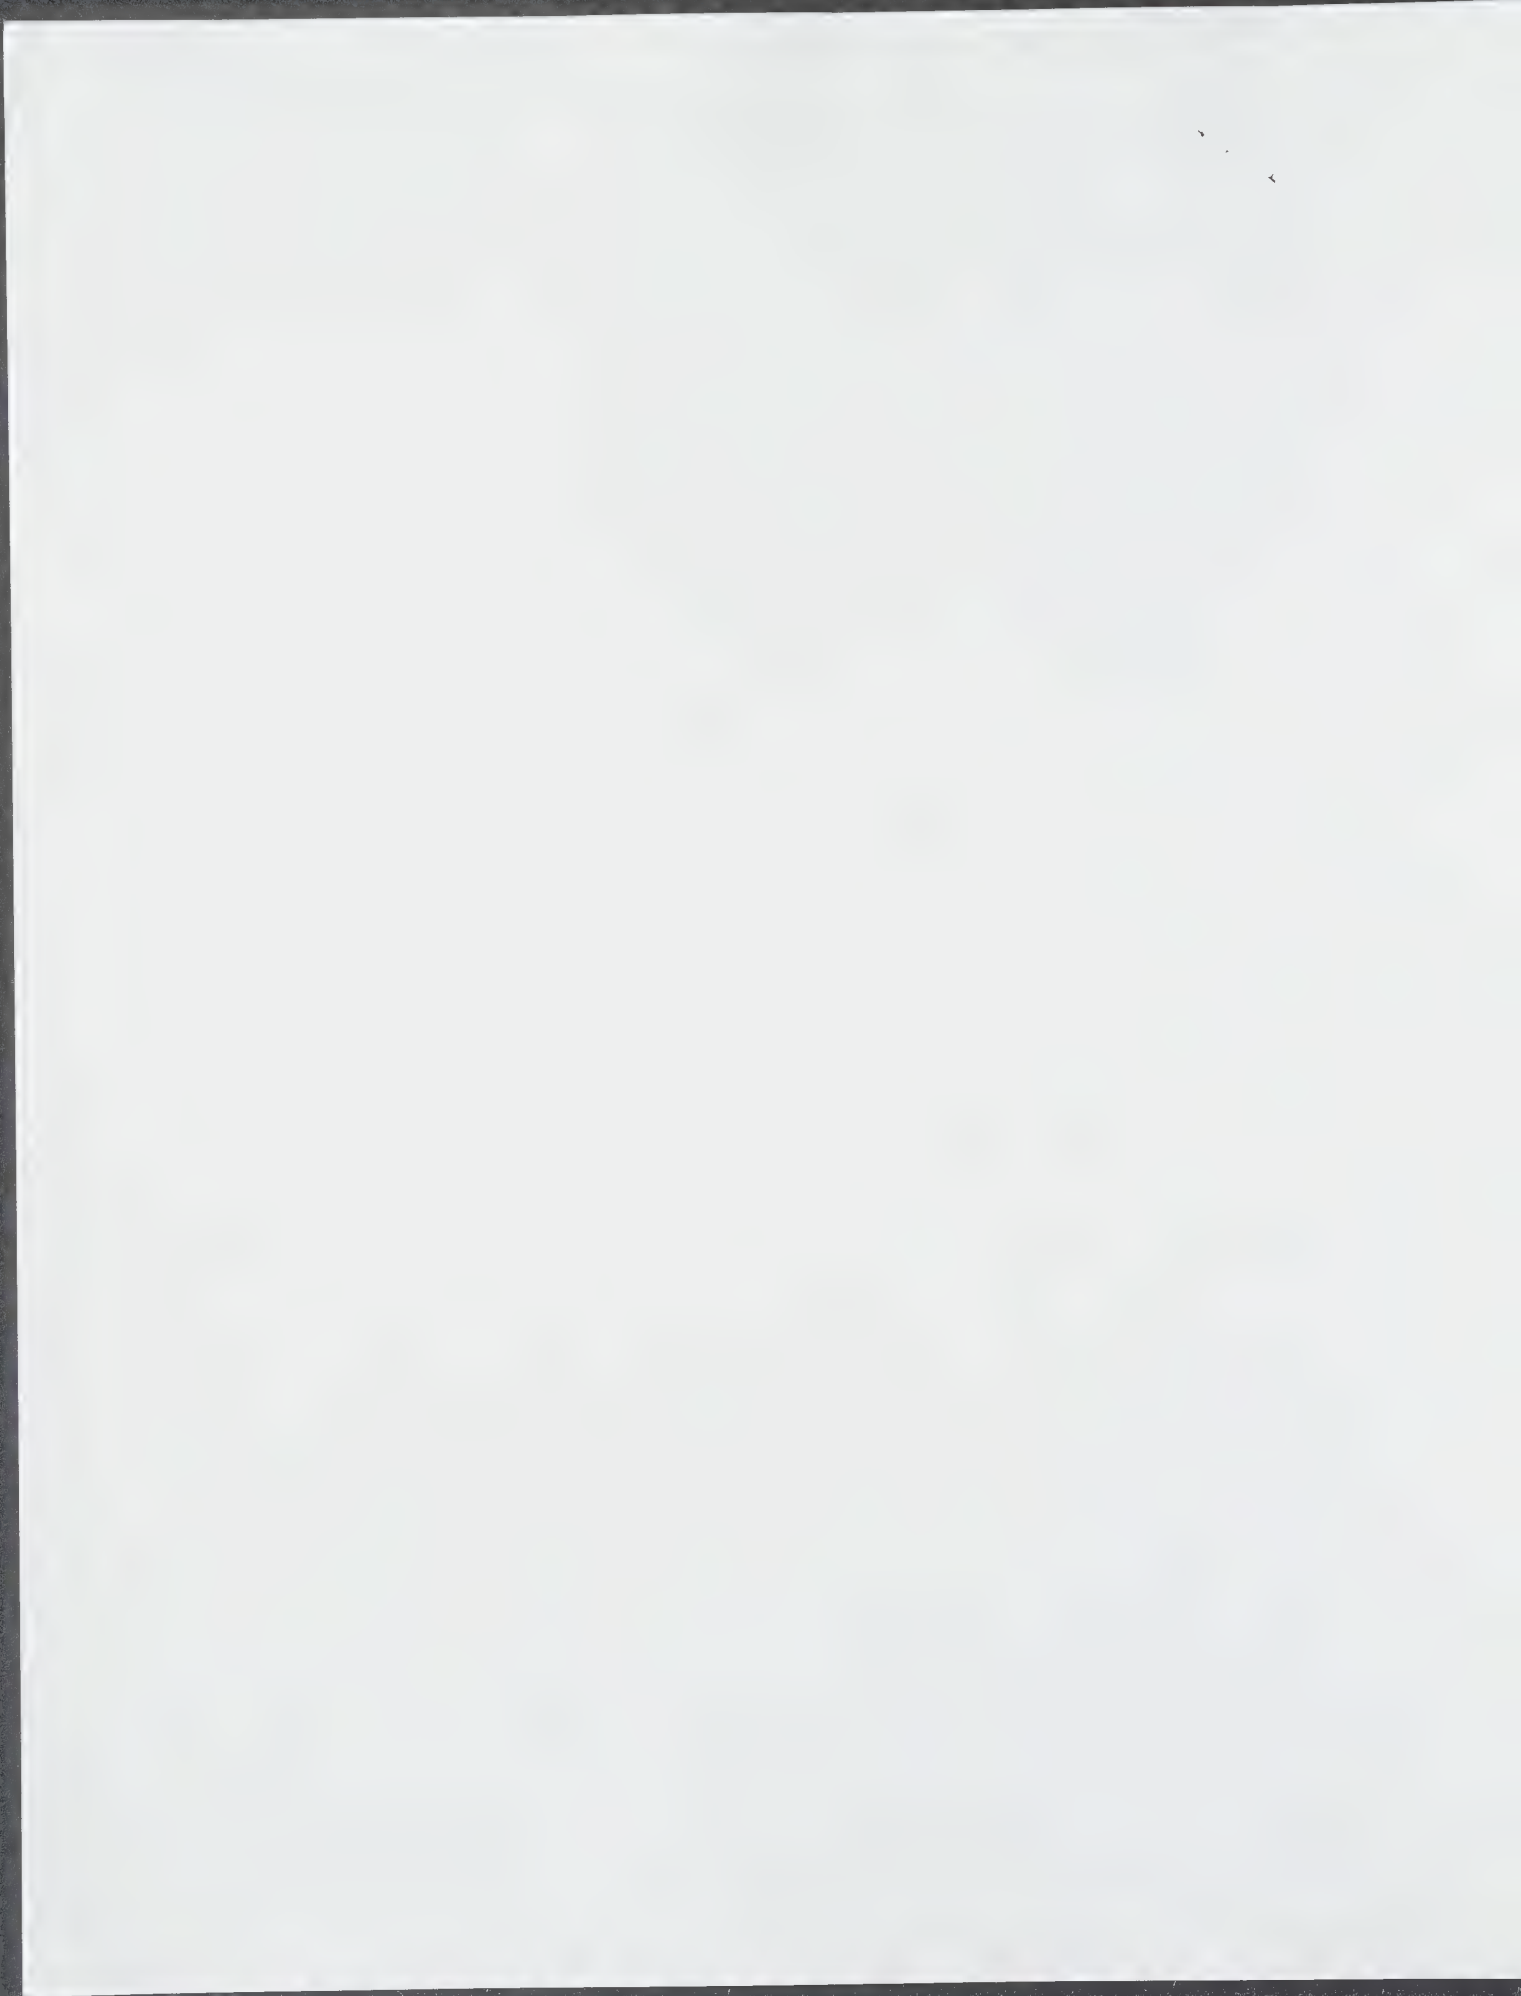

I had to smile when I saw John Bannister's letter of 1959 detailing my gifts for the Martin Wolff scholarship.

In those early days, my total salary was $400 a month, and that explains my only giving $100 a year until I had given the entire $1,000 left to me in Martin Wolff's will. All is clear on that front now.

I believe I am correct when I say that what happened with the Music Scholarship is not clear to any of us, but it does not really matter, as long as it will be handled correctly from now on. Hence, please do not have anyone go to any more trouble. Let's check up again next year to make certain that it is now being handled correctly.

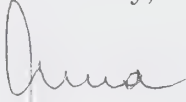

As far as the receipts are concerned, as long as these are dated this year I will be able to use them for next year's tax return.

We will be in England from this Friday until December 22nd and of course plan to be at the Castle several times and also meet with Sarah Dalton.

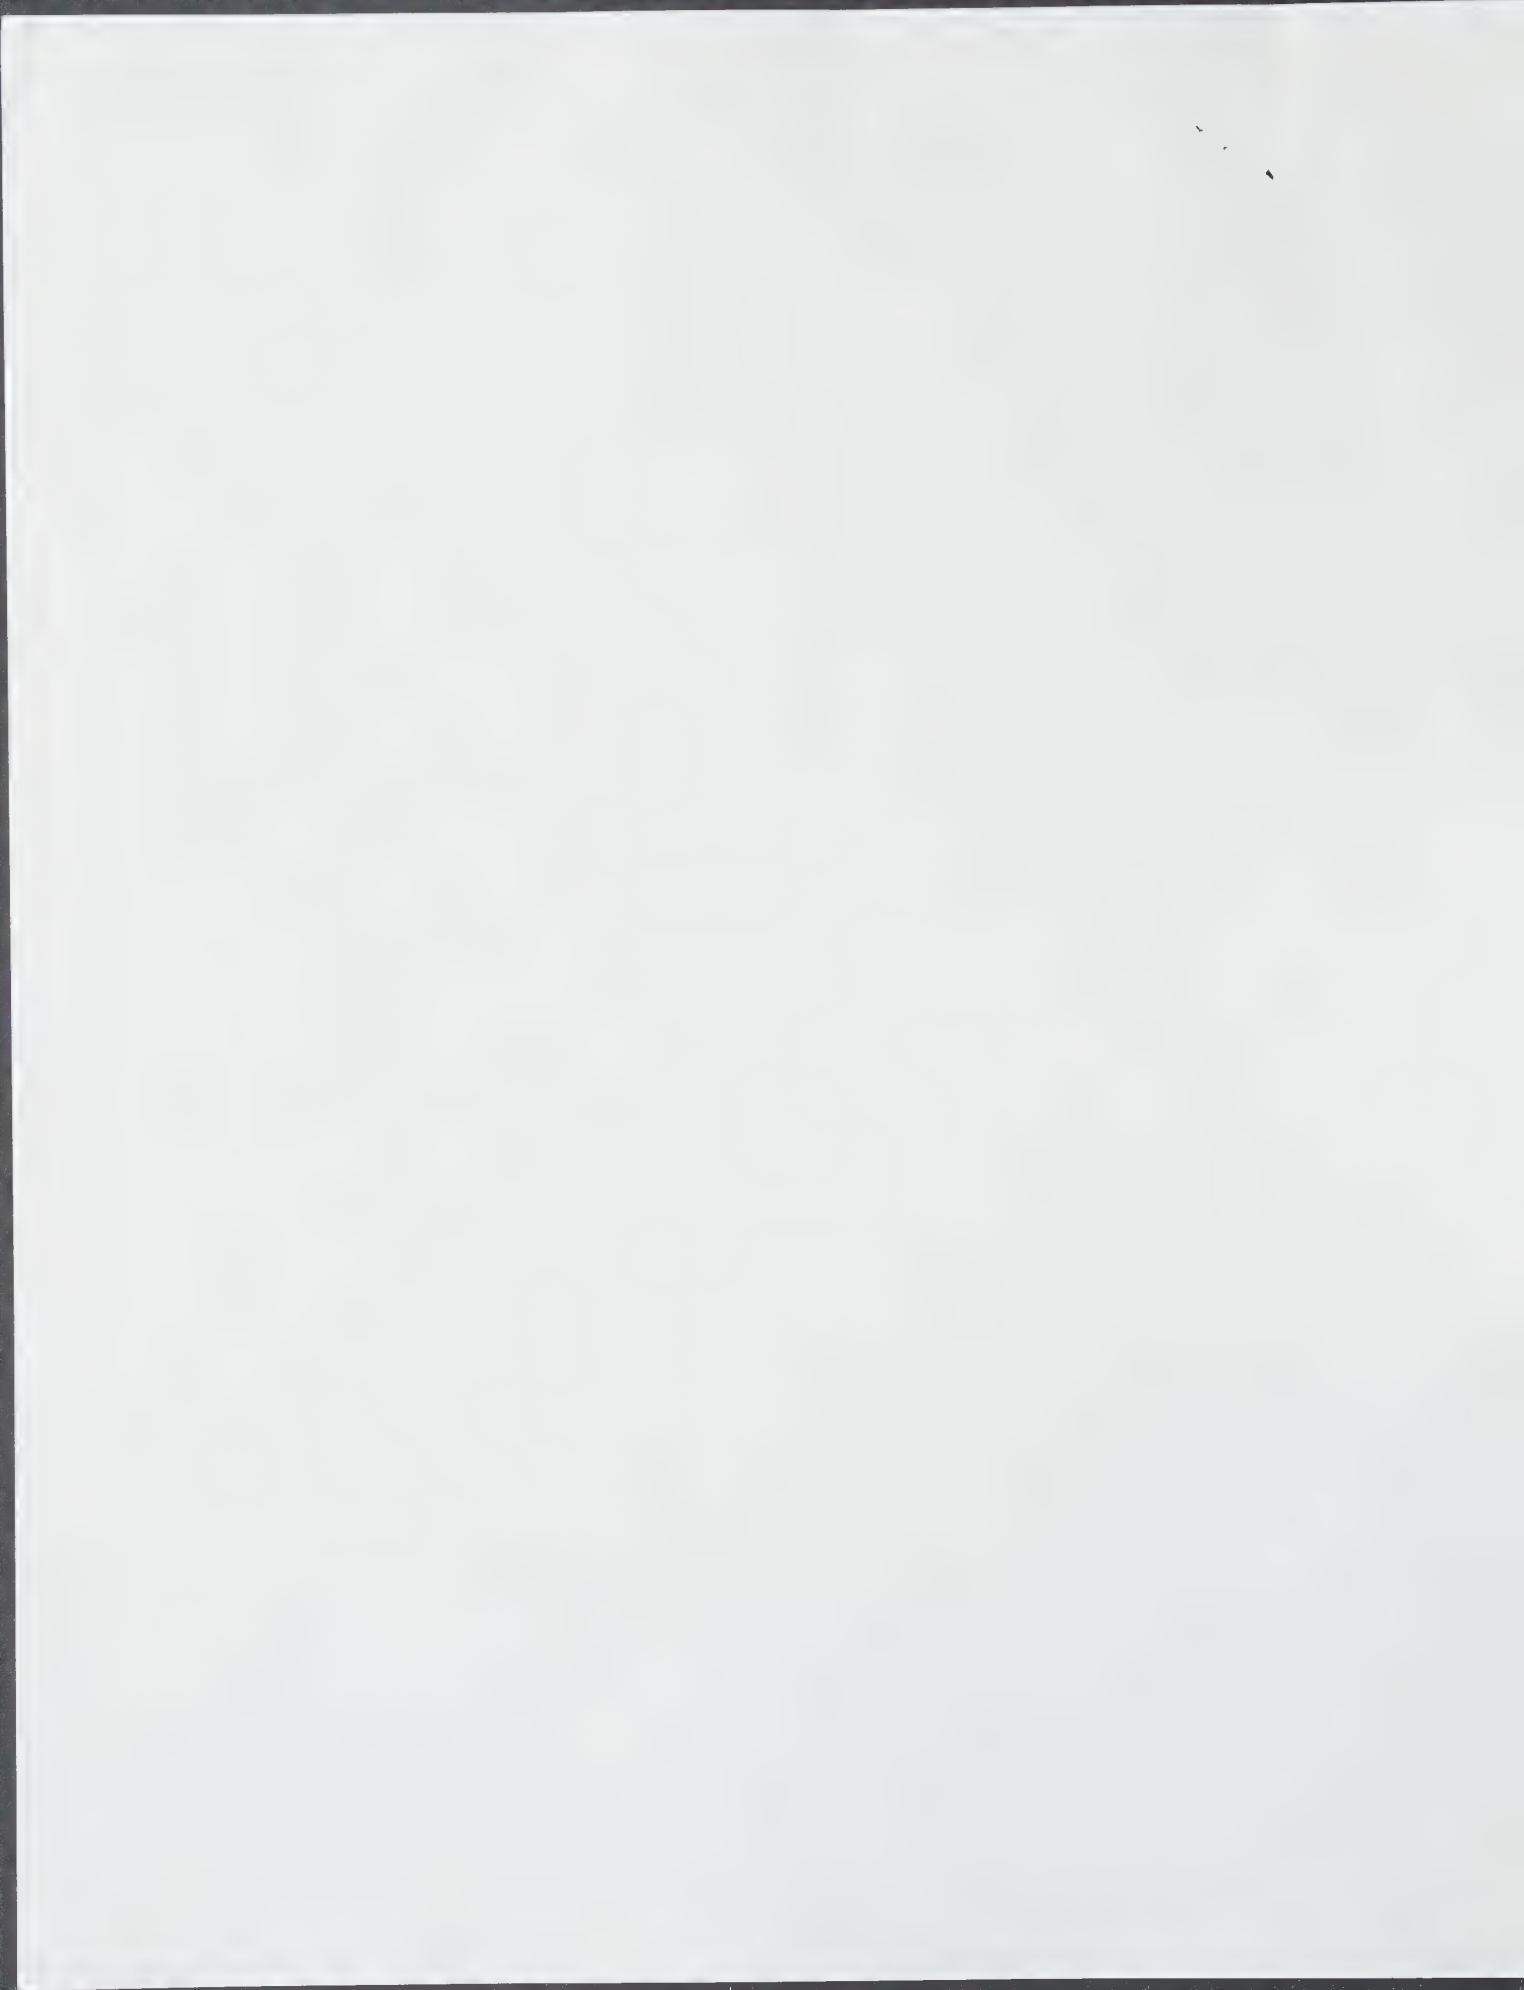

With best regards and many thanks, also from Isabel, I remain

Yours sincerely,

Dear Alfred and Isabel,

Thank you for your fax of today.

I'd like to get you your answers before you leave on November 2, and have booked a meeting with Teresa tomorrow morning so that I can better understand what happened with the two awards.

I will fax you tomorrow afternoon with a full update:

I have also called the University Secretariat to ask them to find documentation of your first gift in support of the Martin Wolff Memorial Fund. They promise to let me know by tomorrow.

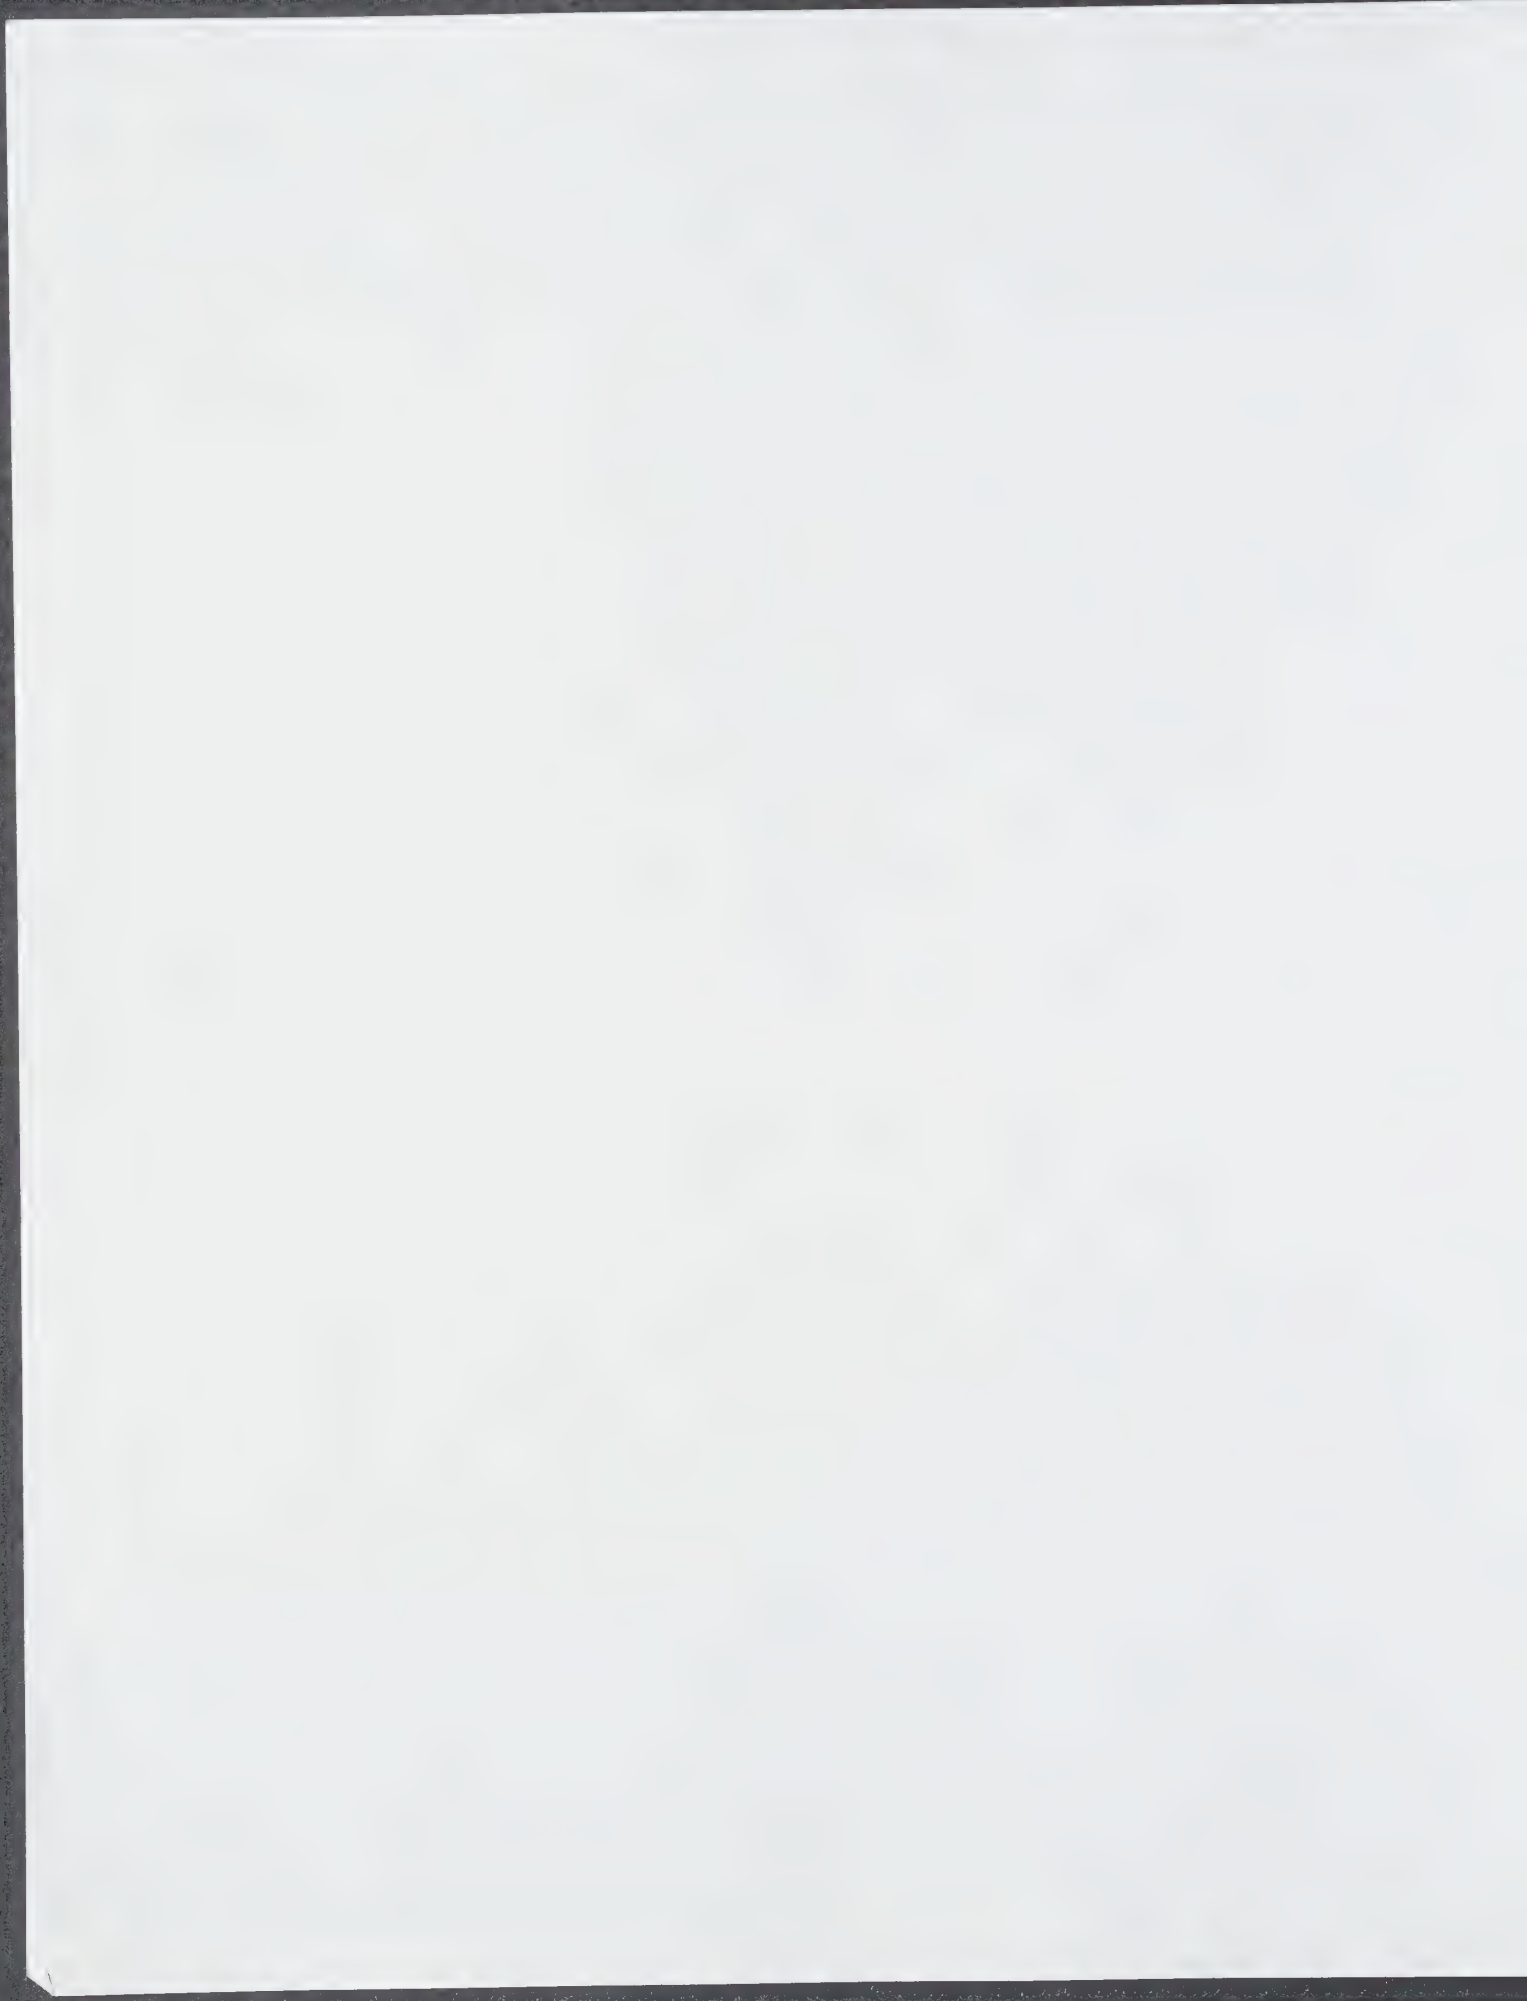

Finally, I have just reviewed the receipt/acknowledgement for your gift in support of students who are not from Ontario.... So I can confirm that that receipt will be mailed from the Business Office before week's end. I called David McTavish re the US $ 3,250 and will follow up with the Business Office about that one too.

My apologies for these very long delays. I'll be back in touch tomorrow before day's end.

Thank you for your patience,

Judith

Dear Judith,

H. D. Woods, who started in Science '44, and probably ended in Science '47, sent me a very interesting letter about Herstmonceux and the Middle East. Unfortunately, he sent me a lot of material but not his address. Could you send this to me, as I would like to reply.
