Dear Carl,

Bob Wandler has just given me your gift, Cantor's Dilemma, and I can't wait to get home to start reading it.

I believe it is almost time to wish you all the very best for your 70th birthday. Fifty years to go.

Best wishes.

As always,

Dear Alfred,

Thank you for your letter of May 7. It was very thoughtful of you to send me the Loschmidt material with which I was totally unfamiliar.

On June 21, I am giving the annual "Wiener Kreis Vorlesung" in Vienna; perhaps I can mention Loschmidt briefly in that context.

Cordially,

Carl Djerassi

A Chemist Helping Chemists

Dear Carl:

Does it happen to you sometimes that you plan to do something and just forget?

That happened to me last summer, when I saw you at the Loschmidt Symposium and said to myself: Carl will be interested in Loschmidt's essay on birth control. But then I just forgot.

Now, almost a year later, here is a copy of the original text and the typescript. Imagine what Loschmidt would have said about your pill!

Best wishes, as always,

Dear Carl:

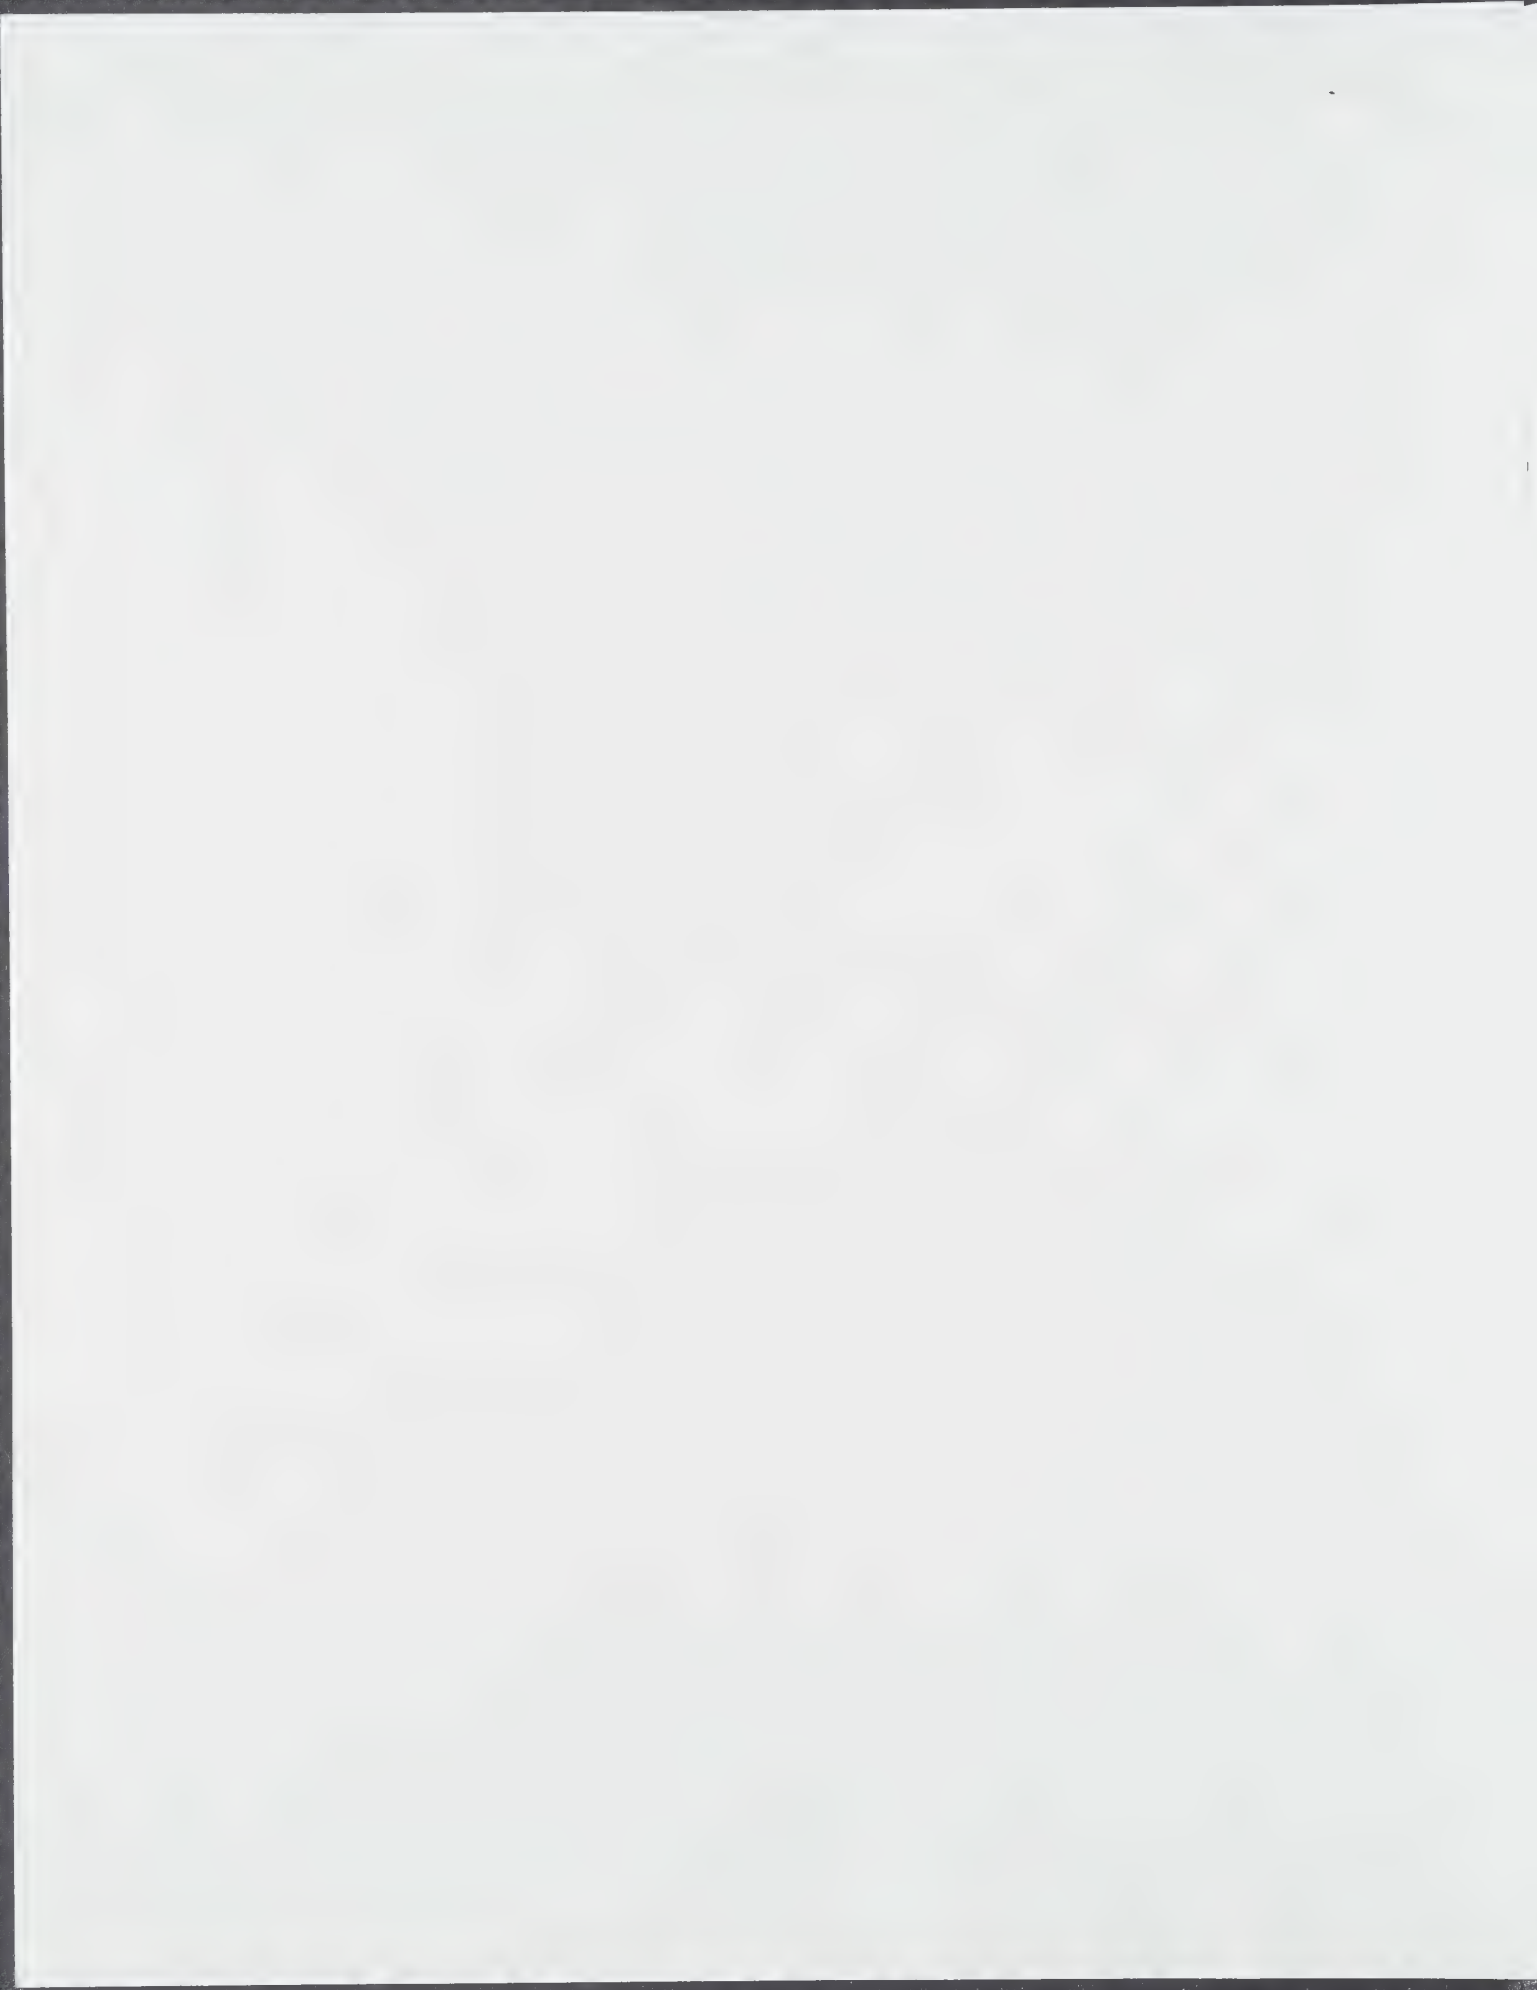

During my last visit to Vienna, I received a report about the Sperlgymnasium published in 1934, the last such report to be published before the war.

I remember how amazed I was when I first visited you at your home in California, and you told me that you didn't remember any of your friends in your class. The enclosed list will refresh your memory. I believe that your best friends were, in fact, Richard Abrahamowicz and Franz Wasservogel.

With all good wishes from house to house, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

AB/cw

Dear Alfred:

I am, of course, extremely pleased and honored to have been selected as the 1997 recipient of the famous Bader Award in Bioorganic/Bioinorganic Chemistry. Your own personal sponsorship of this award in such a burgeoning, dynamic field is further testimony to your deep chemical instincts and understanding of where new knowledge will blossom. Of course, I have often enjoyed those opportunities to visit with you when you have come through Stanford.

I am truly delighted that you will present this award during the ACS meeting in San Francisco this next April. I look forward to seeing Isabel again at that time.

Sincerely yours,

James P. Collman
Professor of Chemistry
