Dear Dr. Baber,

How very kind of you to send me via Jean-Michel Nassery a copy of your catalogue - I much look forward to reading it.
I was sorry not to have been able to come to you lectures on 5th December but had they were given with your customary aplomb.

I hope you and Isabel are well
please remember me to her

Kind regards

and thank you again

Dear Dr. Bader:

Thanks so much for your prompt and generous response to our request for financial support that enables UWM students to attend the ISC at Herstmonceux this coming year.

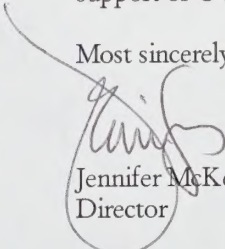

This program is a particularly wonderful one and has generated increased interest among our undergraduates. Those who have attended truly value the experience. This fall, our student, Mr. Ron Tusler, is confirmed and his course selections have been reserved. Ron is from Neenah, Wisconsin; he is an excellent student; and is tremendously enthusiastic about Herstmonceux. Without your help, he certainly would not be able to go.

We have also received confirmation that three spaces are reserved for UWM students in the coming "winter term" (or as we refer to it, Spring semester). Our deadline for applications is October 17th and we will provide specifics to ISC immediately upon our selection of participants, right after that date. We know that this program is very popular and greatly appreciate your caution to us to reserve early! Just yesterday, we received confirmation of our three reservations from Jo Brown, Dr. Bevan's assistant.

During our conversation, you briefly mentioned a recent interaction between students—I am aware of the incident. While this program provides an opportunity for wonderful exchanges among the faculty and students, occasionally world events can spark controversy. A display of excessive nationalism may be somewhat more understandable during a controversial "war", about which even the best of neighbors (both here and abroad) disagreed. One hopes that such events allow the exploration of differing opinions in a way that ultimately leads to greater tolerance and understanding among the participants. In the end, that may be the best possible goal and outcome for any travel or study abroad experience!

Please know that your commitment to helping UWM students participate in this terrific program is very deeply appreciated. Thank you again for your continued support of UWM!

Most sincerely,

Jennifer McKenzie-Flynn
Director
