Flourish for the Chancellor

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

God save our gracious Queen,

Long live our noble Queen,

God Save the Queen:

Send her victorious,

Happy and glorious,

Long to reign over us;

God Save the Queen.

INVOCATION

The Reverend B. Yealland

University Chaplain

H Y M N

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

HONORARY GRADUAND

ALFRED BADER

Born in Vienna in 1924, Alfred Bader was in England at the outbreak of war in 1939 and so was one of those young people interned as an enemy alien and later shipped off to an internment camp in Canada. Through the intervention of a number of Canadians, young students were released from these camps, and late in 1941 Alfred Bader registered at Queen's. By 1945 he had earned a B.Sc. in Engineering Chemistry, followed by a B.A. in History in 1946 and an M.Sc. in Chemistry in 1947. He went on to do graduate work in Chemistry at Harvard obtaining an M.A. there in 1948 and a Ph.D. in 1949.

Dr. Bader worked for a few years as a research chemist but beginning in 1954 he devoted himself to the development of his own company, Aldrich Chemicals, which he had founded in 1951. Today this Company has become one of the leading suppliers of fine organic chemicals in the world.

In England where Dr. Bader's interest in Chemistry began, he also began to pursue what has become a life-long interest in art and in the Bible. Indeed throughout his career he has combined his two central passions of chemistry and religious art. The front cover of his firm's catalogue of chemicals always consists of an excellent reproduction of an Old Master painting with an accompanying description written by Dr. Bader.

Over the years Alfred Bader has maintained a deep loyalty to this university and has been one of its most enthusiastic promoters. He has taken a special interest in the Agnes Etherington Art Centre, to which he has donated many important paintings. He has endowed Queen's with two scholarships, one in Chemistry and one in Art History and a Prize in Jewish Studies. Since 1976, he has been a member of the Board of Trustees.

DR. FRED COOKE

A scientist of broad interests, a researcher of international note, Fred Cooke stands out among Canadian biologists as the creator of a unique long-term research program in the arctic. During his tenure at Queen's University he has combined the rigours of an old-world training in genetics with his extensive experience as a field ornithologist. The result is one of the world's most productive research efforts in the field of avian population ecology and genetics which has revolutionized the theory and practice of the entire field of population biology. His writings can be found in a wide array of journals, from natural history magazines to journals specializing in theoretical biology; from the organ of the Hudson's Bay Company to the Journal of Biochemical Genetics. Several books carry chapters written by Fred Cooke. Many of his former students are now playing major roles in the structure of modern biology in Canada and elsewhere. His lectures are sought after at conferences the world over and his influence is rapidly spreading. It is especially noteworthy that his research has mainly taken place in the arctic, the frontier of Canadian endeavour, where research means logistic and political élan as well as intellectual insight, theoretical creativity and rigorous methodology. His success in bringing together and managing an effective team of colleagues, co-workers, students and associates with a minimum of friction says much for his personality—he is not only an outstanding researcher, he is an outstanding person.

DR. RICHARD NORMAN HENRIKSEN

Richard Norman Henriksen, a native of Saint John, N.B., alumnus of McGill University and of the University of Manchester and Professor of Physics at Queen's University since 1965, is an astrophysicist of note. Through his theoretical work he has contributed widely in such areas as cosmology, general relativity and star formation. His main interest, however, is in the origin and workings of distant sources of radiation outside our galaxy. Working from observations and with deep physical insight and mathematical dexterity he has contributed to our understanding of these stellar objects. Particularly noteworthy are his contributions through numerous published papers and invited lectures on pulsars — radio sources broadcasting pulses at regular intervals — and most recently on radio jets which are highly ordered luminous jet-like structures projecting out from the centres of galaxies.

Professor Henriksen is a vigorous and prominent member of the astronomy community. His vision and energy contributed to the foundation of the Canadian Institute for Theoretical Astrophysics, and he was the Institute's first Senior Visiting Fellow and Chairman of its governing council. He also served the scientific community in Canada by various duties with NSERC.

HONORARY GRADUAND

GRACE DOREEN HARTMAN

Born and educated in Toronto, Grace Hartman has been active in public service unions since 1954 when she began work as a secretary with the Township of North York. She was elected President of Local 373 of the old National Union of Public Employees in 1959, and re-elected to that position for the next eight years. When the Canadian Union of Public Employees was formed in 1963, Mrs. Hartman was elected to the National executive board as a regional vice-president for Ontario, and in 1965 was elected one of the five general vice-presidents.

In 1967, at the Third National Convention of CUPE, Mrs. Hartman was elected National Secretary-Treasurer and again re-elected in 1969, 1971 and 1973. In 1975 she made labour history by becoming National President of CUPE, the first woman ever to be elected to the presidency of a major Canadian union. She remained President for the next eight years, being re-elected three times and in 1983 was named President Emeritus.

Grace Hartman is the Canadian member on the executive board of Public Service International, a global network of public service unions. She is the first woman to be on the board in that organization's 75-year history and served as Vice-President from 1981-85. She is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Institute for Research on Public Policy. In 1984 Mrs. Hartman was given the Y.W.C.A. Woman of Distinction Award and in 1985 a Governor-General's "Persons Award."

THE ACADEMIC HOOD

The hood as an academical vestment is distinctly British and is worn by graduates of English speaking universities all over the world. In its original form it was the upper part of the cowl worn by the Monks and Friars of the middle ages. The hood covered the head during inclement weather and in the draughty cloisters when taking exercise. If not needed for this purpose it could be pulled off and allowed to hang behind over the tippet. The tippet was the lower part, a short cape, reaching to the elbow and forming a very welcome article of clothing in the monasteries and hostels which were still unglazed at the end of the 15th century. Indeed, it would appear that glass was not in general use until 1650, for three years later an order was issued to all students at Oxford to "keep his chamber windows in repair after they have once been glazed by the college". The cowl still forms part of the dress of the religious orders, but the hood, separated from the tippet now denotes a graduate of some British or American University or similar institution while the tippet is worn by certain dignitaries of both the Roman and the Anglican church. A smaller type is also used to distinguish Diocesan Readers.

the 1980s, the number of people in the population aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 to 14.5%.

There are a number of reasons why the number of people aged 65 and over has increased. One of the main reasons is that people are living longer. The life expectancy at birth in the United Kingdom has increased from 72.5 years in 1950 to 77.5 years in 1990.

Another reason is that the number of people aged 65 and over has increased because of the increase in the number of people aged 65 and over who are still in the population. This is because people are living longer and are therefore still in the population for a longer period of time.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has led to a number of changes in the way that society is organized. One of the main changes is that there has been a shift in the focus of public policy from the young to the old.

Another change is that there has been a shift in the way that people are organized into families. In the past, most people lived in large families with many children. Now, most people live in small families with few children.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has also led to a number of changes in the way that people are organized into communities. In the past, most people lived in rural communities. Now, most people live in urban communities.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has also led to a number of changes in the way that people are organized into societies. In the past, most people lived in societies where the young were the main source of labor. Now, most people live in societies where the old are the main source of labor.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has also led to a number of changes in the way that people are organized into nations. In the past, most people lived in nations where the young were the main source of labor. Now, most people live in nations where the old are the main source of labor.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has also led to a number of changes in the way that people are organized into the world. In the past, most people lived in a world where the young were the main source of labor. Now, most people live in a world where the old are the main source of labor.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has also led to a number of changes in the way that people are organized into the universe. In the past, most people lived in a universe where the young were the main source of labor. Now, most people live in a universe where the old are the main source of labor.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over has also led to a number of changes in the way that people are organized into the galaxy. In the past, most people lived in a galaxy where the young were the main source of labor. Now, most people live in a galaxy where the old are the main source of labor.

INVOCATION

The Reverend B. Yealland

University Chaplain

H Y M N

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

HONORARY GRADUAND

ALFRED BADER

Born in Vienna in 1924, Alfred Bader was in England at the outbreak of war in 1939 and so was one of those young people interned as an enemy alien and later shipped off to an internment camp in Canada. Through the intervention of a number of Canadians, young students were released from these camps, and late in 1941 Alfred Bader registered at Queen's. By 1945 he had earned a B.Sc. in Engineering Chemistry, followed by a B.A. in History in 1946 and an M.Sc. in Chemistry in 1947. He went on to do graduate work in Chemistry at Harvard obtaining an M.A. there in 1948 and a Ph.D. in 1949.

Dr. Bader worked for a few years as a research chemist but beginning in 1954 he devoted himself to the development of his own company, Aldrich Chemicals, which he had founded in 1951. Today this Company has become one of the leading suppliers of fine organic chemicals in the world.

In England where Dr. Bader's interest in Chemistry began, he also began to pursue what has become a life-long interest in art and in the Bible. Indeed throughout his career he has combined his two central passions of chemistry and religious art. The front cover of his firm's catalogue of chemicals always consists of an excellent reproduction of an Old Master painting with an accompanying description written by Dr. Bader.

Over the years Alfred Bader has maintained a deep loyalty to this university and has been one of its most enthusiastic promoters. He has taken a special interest in the Agnes Etherington Art Centre, to which he has donated many important paintings. He has endowed Queen's with two scholarships, one in Chemistry and one in Art History and a Prize in Jewish Studies. Since 1976, he has been a member of the Board of Trustees.

DR. FRED COOKE

A scientist of broad interests, a researcher of international note, Fred Cooke stands out among Canadian biologists as the creator of a unique long-term research program in the arctic. During his tenure at Queen's University he has combined the rigours of an old-world training in genetics with his extensive experience as a field ornithologist. The result is one of the world's most productive research efforts in the field of avian population ecology and genetics which has revolutionized the theory and practice of the entire field of population biology. His writings can be found in a wide array of journals, from natural history magazines to journals specializing in theoretical biology; from the organ of the Hudson's Bay Company to the Journal of Biochemical Genetics. Several books carry chapters written by Fred Cooke. Many of his former students are now playing major roles in the structure of modern biology in Canada and elsewhere. His lectures are sought after at conferences the world over and his influence is rapidly spreading. It is especially noteworthy that his research has mainly taken place in the arctic, the frontier of Canadian endeavour, where research means logistic and political élan as well as intellectual insight, theoretical creativity and rigorous methodology. His success in bringing together and managing an effective team of colleagues, co-workers, students and associates with a minimum of friction says much for his personality — he is not only an outstanding researcher, he is an outstanding person.

DR. RICHARD NORMAN HENRIKSEN

Richard Norman Henriksen, a native of Saint John, N.B., alumnus of McGill University and of the University of Manchester and Professor of Physics at Queen's University since 1965, is an astrophysicist of note. Through his theoretical work he has contributed widely in such areas as cosmology, general relativity and star formation. His main interest, however, is in the origin and workings of distant sources of radiation outside our galaxy. Working from observations and with deep physical insight and mathematical dexterity he has contributed to our understanding of these stellar objects. Particularly noteworthy are his contributions through numerous published papers and invited lectures on pulsars — radio sources broadcasting pulses at regular intervals — and most recently on radio jets which are highly ordered luminous jet-like structures projecting out from the centres of galaxies.

Professor Henriksen is a vigorous and prominent member of the astronomy community. His vision and energy contributed to the foundation of the Canadian Institute for Theoretical Astrophysics, and he was the Institute's first Senior Visiting Fellow and Chairman of its governing council. He also served the scientific community in Canada by various duties with NSERC.

HONORARY GRADUAND

GRACE DOREEN HARTMAN

Born and educated in Toronto, Grace Hartman has been active in public service unions since 1954 when she began work as a secretary with the Township of North York. She was elected President of Local 373 of the old National Union of Public Employees in 1959, and re-elected to that position for the next eight years. When the Canadian Union of Public Employees was formed in 1963, Mrs. Hartman was elected to the National executive board as a regional vice-president for Ontario, and in 1965 was elected one of the five general vice-presidents.

In 1967, at the Third National Convention of CUPE, Mrs. Hartman was elected National Secretary-Treasurer and again re-elected in 1969, 1971 and 1973. In 1975 she made labour history by becoming National President of CUPE, the first woman ever to be elected to the presidency of a major Canadian union. She remained President for the next eight years, being re-elected three times and in 1983 was named President Emeritus.

Grace Hartman is the Canadian member on the executive board of Public Service International, a global network of public service unions. She is the first woman to be on the board in that organization's 75-year history and served as Vice-President from 1981-85. She is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Institute for Research on Public Policy. In 1984 Mrs. Hartman was given the Y.W.C.A. Woman of Distinction Award and in 1985 a Governor-General's "Persons Award."

THE ACADEMIC HOOD

The hood as an academical vestment is distinctly British and is worn by graduates of English speaking universities all over the world. In its original form it was the upper part of the cowl worn by the Monks and Friars of the middle ages. The hood covered the head during inclement weather and in the draughty cloisters when taking exercise. If not needed for this purpose it could be pulled off and allowed to hang behind over the tippet. The tippet was the lower part, a short cape, reaching to the elbow and forming a very welcome article of clothing in the monasteries and hostels which were still unglazed at the end of the 15th century. Indeed, it would appear that glass was not in general use until 1650, for three years later an order was issued to all students at Oxford to "keep his chamber windows in repair after they have once been glazed by the college". The cowl still forms part of the dress of the religious orders, but the hood, separated from the tippet now denotes a graduate of some British or American University or similar institution while the tippet is worn by certain dignitaries of both the Roman and the Anglican church. A smaller type is also used to distinguish Diocesan Readers.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

God save our gracious Queen,
Long live our noble Queen,
God Save the Queen:
Send her victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us;
God Save the Queen.

INVOCATION

The Reverend B. Yealland

University Chaplain

H Y M N

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

HONORARY GRADUAND

ALFRED BADER

Born in Vienna in 1924, Alfred Bader was in England at the outbreak of war in 1939 and so was one of those young people interned as an enemy alien and later shipped off to an internment camp in Canada. Through the intervention of a number of Canadians, young students were released from these camps, and late in 1941 Alfred Bader registered at Queen's. By 1945 he had earned a B.Sc. in Engineering Chemistry, followed by a B.A. in History in 1946 and an M.Sc. in Chemistry in 1947. He went on to do graduate work in Chemistry at Harvard obtaining an M.A. there in 1948 and a Ph.D. in 1949.

Dr. Bader worked for a few years as a research chemist but beginning in 1954 he devoted himself to the development of his own company, Aldrich Chemicals, which he had founded in 1951. Today this Company has become one of the leading suppliers of fine organic chemicals in the world.

In England where Dr. Bader's interest in Chemistry began, he also began to pursue what has become a life-long interest in art and in the Bible. Indeed throughout his career he has combined his two central passions of chemistry and religious art. The front cover of his firm's catalogue of chemicals always consists of an excellent reproduction of an Old Master painting with an accompanying description written by Dr. Bader.

Over the years Alfred Bader has maintained a deep loyalty to this university and has been one of its most enthusiastic promoters. He has taken a special interest in the Agnes Etherington Art Centre, to which he has donated many important paintings. He has endowed Queen's with two scholarships, one in Chemistry and one in Art History and a Prize in Jewish Studies. Since 1976, he has been a member of the Board of Trustees.

DR. FRED COOKE

A scientist of broad interests, a researcher of international note, Fred Cooke stands out among Canadian biologists as the creator of a unique long-term research program in the arctic. During his tenure at Queen's University he has combined the rigours of an old-world training in genetics with his extensive experience as a field ornithologist. The result is one of the world's most productive research efforts in the field of avian population ecology and genetics which has revolutionized the theory and practice of the entire field of population biology. His writings can be found in a wide array of journals, from natural history magazines to journals specializing in theoretical biology; from the organ of the Hudson's Bay Company to the Journal of Biochemical Genetics. Several books carry chapters written by Fred Cooke. Many of his former students are now playing major roles in the structure of modern biology in Canada and elsewhere. His lectures are sought after at conferences the world over and his influence is rapidly spreading. It is especially noteworthy that his research has mainly taken place in the arctic, the frontier of Canadian endeavour, where research means logistic and political élan as well as intellectual insight, theoretical creativity and rigorous methodology. His success in bringing together and managing an effective team of colleagues, co-workers, students and associates with a minimum of friction says much for his personality — he is not only an outstanding researcher, he is an outstanding person.

DR. RICHARD NORMAN HENRIKSEN

Richard Norman Henriksen, a native of Saint John, N.B., alumnus of McGill University and of the University of Manchester and Professor of Physics at Queen's University since 1965, is an astrophysicist of note. Through his theoretical work he has contributed widely in such areas as cosmology, general relativity and star formation. His main interest, however, is in the origin and workings of distant sources of radiation outside our galaxy. Working from observations and with deep physical insight and mathematical dexterity he has contributed to our understanding of these stellar objects. Particularly noteworthy are his contributions through numerous published papers and invited lectures on pulsars — radio sources broadcasting pulses at regular intervals — and most recently on radio jets which are highly ordered luminous jet-like structures projecting out from the centres of galaxies.

Professor Henriksen is a vigorous and prominent member of the astronomy community. His vision and energy contributed to the foundation of the Canadian Institute for Theoretical Astrophysics, and he was the Institute's first Senior Visiting Fellow and Chairman of its governing council. He also served the scientific community in Canada by various duties with NSERC.

HONORARY GRADUAND

GRACE DOREEN HARTMAN

Born and educated in Toronto, Grace Hartman has been active in public service unions since 1954 when she began work as a secretary with the Township of North York. She was elected President of Local 373 of the old National Union of Public Employees in 1959, and re-elected to that position for the next eight years. When the Canadian Union of Public Employees was formed in 1963, Mrs. Hartman was elected to the National executive board as a regional vice-president for Ontario, and in 1965 was elected one of the five general vice-presidents.

In 1967, at the Third National Convention of CUPE, Mrs. Hartman was elected National Secretary-Treasurer and again re-elected in 1969, 1971 and 1973. In 1975 she made labour history by becoming National President of CUPE, the first woman ever to be elected to the presidency of a major Canadian union. She remained President for the next eight years, being re-elected three times and in 1983 was named President Emeritus.

Grace Hartman is the Canadian member on the executive board of Public Service International, a global network of public service unions. She is the first woman to be on the board in that organization's 75-year history and served as Vice-President from 1981-85. She is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Institute for Research on Public Policy. In 1984 Mrs. Hartman was given the Y.W.C.A. Woman of Distinction Award and in 1985 a Governor-General's "Persons Award."

THE ACADEMIC HOOD

The hood as an academical vestment is distinctly British and is worn by graduates of English speaking universities all over the world. In its original form it was the upper part of the cowl worn by the Monks and Friars of the middle ages. The hood covered the head during inclement weather and in the draughty cloisters when taking exercise. If not needed for this purpose it could be pulled off and allowed to hang behind over the tippet. The tippet was the lower part, a short cape, reaching to the elbow and forming a very welcome article of clothing in the monasteries and hostels which were still unglazed at the end of the 15th century. Indeed, it would appear that glass was not in general use until 1650, for three years later an order was issued to all students at Oxford to "keep his chamber windows in repair after they have once been glazed by the college". The cowl still forms part of the dress of the religious orders, but the hood, separated from the tippet now denotes a graduate of some British or American University or similar institution while the tippet is worn by certain dignitaries of both the Roman and the Anglican church. A smaller type is also used to distinguish Diocesan Readers.
