Dear Drs Bader:

I am pleased to inform you of the 2013 recipient(s) of the Principal Wallace Freedom of Opportunity Award:

| Name and Home Location | Program |
|---|---------------------------------|
| Ms Susan Solomon Mading, South Sudan | Bachelor of Arts (Hons.) |

Please note, the recipient's personal information listed above is considered private and confidential. Public dissemination of this information requires specific consent from the recipient. Requests to obtain recipient's consent to release their personal information can be directed to the Admission Awards Team by phone at 613-533-6000 x. 71660 or via email at bursary@queensu.ca.

The entering class of 2017 continues the tradition of academic excellence that attracts the brightest young minds, with the greatest potential. Already the qualifications and achievements of these young students demonstrate the exceptional qualities required to be leaders and scholars in the ever evolving global community.

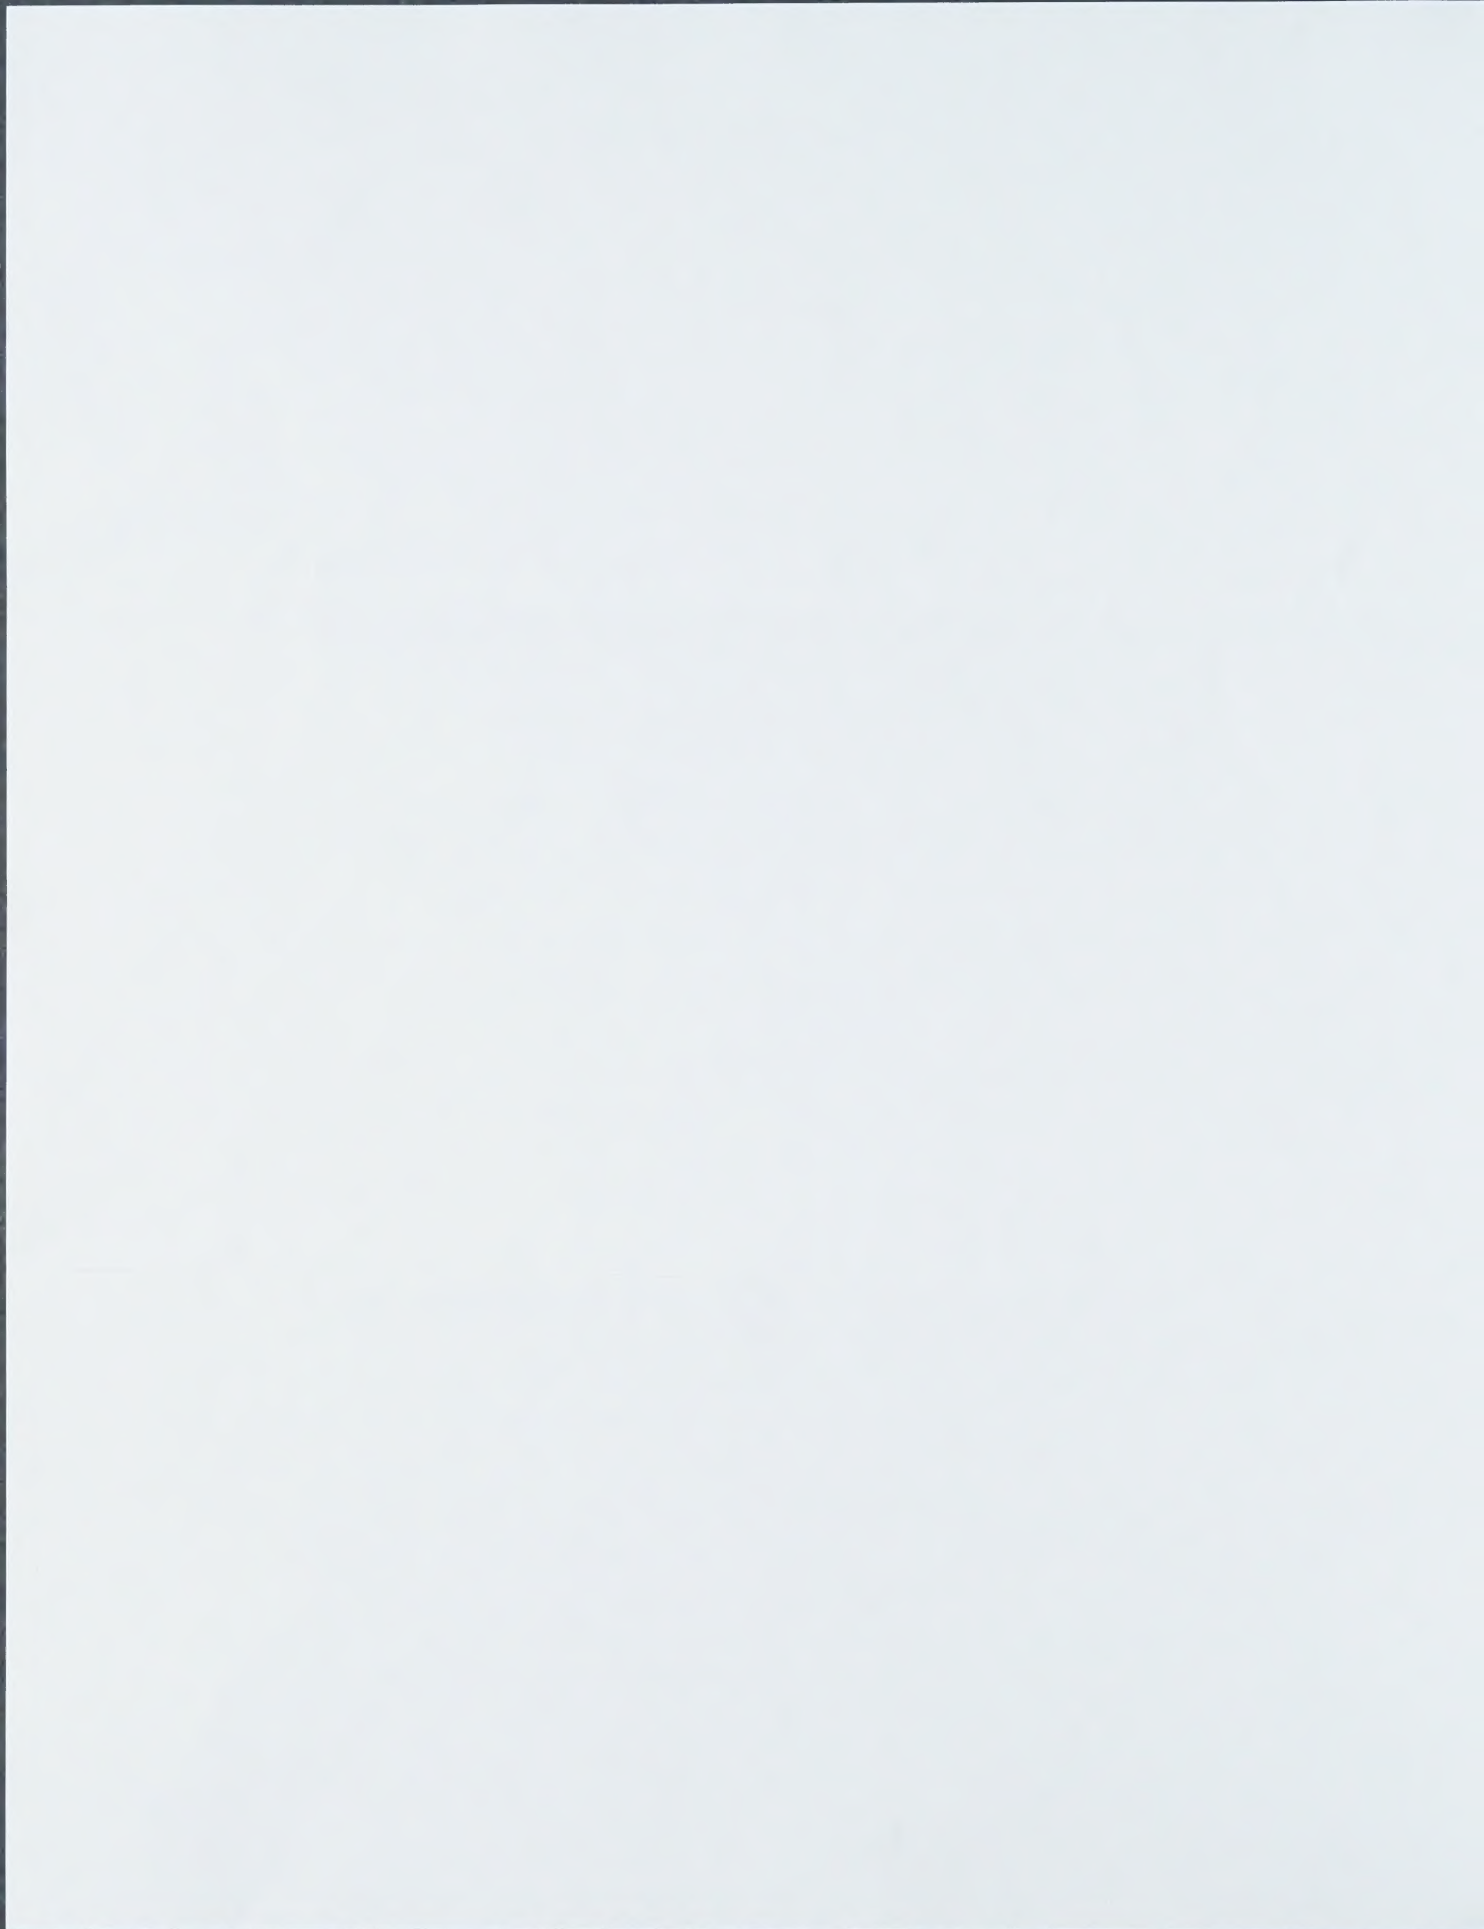

The Principal Wallace Freedom of Opportunity Award provides Queen's the opportunity to attract and support young scholars of the highest calibre, regardless of their financial circumstances. Funding for student awards supports accessibility for students and enhances the diversity of the student population to enrich the Queen's experience for all.

On behalf of Queen's University we sincerely appreciate your continued support of student financial assistance.

Yours truly,

Teresa Alm
Associate University Registrar
(Student Awards)

Established in January 2013 by Drs. Alfred and Isabel Bader in recognition of Robert Charles Wallace, Queen's 11th Principal (1936 -1951), a just and fair man who opened the way to a Queen's education for Alfred Bader. Awarded on the basis of academic achievement to international students entering the first year of any first entry undergraduate degree program. Preference will be given to a refugee student. If no refugee students are identified upon admission, then the funds will be granted to international students demonstrating the greatest financial need who are from developing countries. If granted upon admission then the award is renewable for three subsequent years provided the student remains in good academic standing in a full-time course load.
