Dear Drs Bader,

Thank you for supporting student assistance at Queen's University! Your support ensures that Queen's can recruit and accept the best, most promising students from all corners of Canada and the world. At the same time, you are helping to remove barriers and make post-secondary education more financially accessible for students. We often hear from our students that it is absolutely life-changing to receive an award. Thank you for creating these powerful opportunities.

I am pleased to share with you the grateful 2017-2018 recipients of the following funds:

The Alfred Bader Scholarship in Art History
The Isabel Bader Award for Costume in Drama
The Herbert and Stella Overton Award in Music
The Isabel Bader Bursary in Textile Conservation
The Alfred Bader Graduate Fellowship in the Humanities
The Judith Brown Bursary

Please see the attached for a detailed listing, and accept my sincere thanks on behalf of these students.

The Alfred Bader Graduate Fellowship in the Humanities

Established in May 2014 by Dr. Alfred Bader and awarded on the basis of academic excellence to funding-eligible Ph.D. level students enrolled in a graduate program in the Humanities in the School of Graduate Studies. Preference will be given to incoming PhD students in a graduate program in the Humanities. Consideration will be given to newly admitted doctoral students in other graduate programs in the Faculty of Arts and Science whose planned research falls under the general category of 'the Humanities'.

2017-20187 Recipient

Jennifer Rutkair

Year of Study: 1st Year, Doctor of Philosophy
Area of Study: Art History
Faculty/School: School of Graduate Studies
Hometown: Winnipeg, Manitoba

My research interests include the role of archives, specifically photographic, as a culture domain. I find the collective memory or storehouse of a nation, and as a power-knowledge nexus in the production of visual culture for a consumer society that fixes the value of a photograph on its representative content and as goods to be consumed.

This award alleviates some financial stress for me, allowing me to reduce my part-time work commitments and reallocate that time to research and writing.

I am grateful for creating this award and your generous donations to Queen's University. The funds from this award will all me to have an enhanced research and writing schedule. I hope to repay your generosity by one day paying it forward to another student.
